PURSUANT to the Land and Income Tax Act 1954, the Commissioner of Inland Revenue hereby gives notice as follows:

(1) A return of land held as at noon on 31 March 1976 is required from every person and company, whether a taxpayer or not, being the owner of land in New Zealand within the meaning of the Land and Income Tax Act 1954, if the total unimproved value as at noon 31 March 1970 exceeded $60,000 and the land is not of the classes specified in paragraph (3) below.

(2) Land tax is dealt with by the Masterton Office of the Department and returns may be sent there or to any district office of the Inland Revenue Department, not later than 7 May 1976.

(3) Returns of land are not required for classes of land used solely or principally for the purpose of a business of—

- (a) Animal husbandry (including poultry-keeping, bee-keeping, and the breeding of horses); or

The Commerce Act 1975—Decision of the Commerce Commission

PUBLIC notice is hereby given that the Commerce Commission has heard and determined an appeal by The Golden Bay Cement Company Limited against a decision of the Secretary of Trade and Industry relating to the price of cement manufactured and sold by the appellant.

After very careful review of all the submissions and evidence, and after having regard to the relevant subsections of section 98 of the Act, the Commission considered that the appellant failed to establish its case for an increase in return on adjusted shareholders' funds beyond the present authorised rate for this company of 21.5 percent.

However, up-dated financial information requested by the Commission and tabled during proceedings demonstrated that on the basis of 21.5 percent return on adjusted funds, the appellant was entitled to recover an immediate increase of $1.63 per tonne. This increase was supported by the Department of Trade and Industry.

In addition, and despite the fact that upon the evidence the Commission held that it could not grant the appeal, it considered that in terms of the Commission's wide powers under section 101 (3) of the Act the appellant should receive some relief on other grounds.

The Commission accordingly resolved: (a) to approve a price increase of $1.63 per tonne on the appellant's present authorised maximum selling prices; (b) to further approve an additional price increase of $0.57 per tonne (both the above increases to be effective from 12 March 1976); (c) to dismiss the appeal in all other respects.

Copies of the full text of the Commission's decision are available at a cost of $2.50 per copy on application to the Executive Officer, P.O. Box 3781, Wellington.

I. N. CLARK, Executive Officer.

DECISION OF THE TRIBUNAL

This magazine is published monthly as the newsletter of an association called "Gay Liberation Front, Christchurch".

The issue is approximately 150 copies which are sent by mail to subscribing members of the association. It apparently has a somewhat wider circulation because, we were told, copies had been seen by persons outside the association.

The magazine before us bears the date February 1975 and is almost entirely taken up by an article entitled "An introduction to homosexual anal intercourse" written by P. R. H. Maling, the defendant in the Court proceedings.

The article deals in some detail with the technique, the pleasures, and the psychological benefits claimed by the author for this type of intercourse, which he states is far superior to any other kind of intercourse.

Mr Maling claims, in summary, that this is the ideal relationship, described by him as "cosmic love", creating a master and slave relationship between the participants.

Clearly the dominant effect of the magazine is approval of a form of deviant sexual behaviour which is criminal in New Zealand. Its criminality has, at least indirectly, received confirmation by the Parliamentary rejection of a Bill to change the law to allow homosexual acts in private.

We have given consideration, as we must, to the other matters set out in section 11 (1) of the Act. This is not one of these cases where the book or magazine is disqualified under most, if not all, paragraphs of that subsection. Indeed we do not doubt the honesty of the purpose of the author. The limited circulation among this particular group and the alleged possibility of some scientific importance all tend to a classification of not indecent.

However it is the dominant effect, and in particular the criminality of the sexual acts described, which in the end brings us to decide that it is injurious to the public good.

The Tribunal classifies this magazine as indecent.

LAURENCE M. GREIG, Chairman.

27 February 1976.

No. 852

Decision of the Indecent Publications Tribunal

IN the matter of the Indecent Publications Act 1963, and in the matter of an application by Patrick Michael McKee Wright on behalf of Penguin Books (New Zealand) Limited, of Auckland, in respect of the publication More Joy by Alex Comfort.

Date of Hearing: 16 October 1975.

No appearance of the applicant but written submissions were received and considered.

DECISION OF THE TRIBUNAL

More Joy, edited by Alex Comfort, is a companion to The Joy of Sex. Published by Penguin Books in 1975, it is a first Australian edition of the American publication of 1973. A large volume, hard covered and liberally illustrated, it is marketed at a price high enough to give it limited accessibility.

The editor's preface gives as the scope of More Joy "not more techniques or more elaborate ones (there are not many of these), but the two elements of development and of relation". This is expanded in the text into a full discussion of the implications for a relationship of physical experience; the range is wide—propriety, jealousy, dependence, role-playing, homosexuality, passivity are among many aspects covered.

The tone is similar to that used in The Joy of Sex, but the emphasis is less on elucidating methods of sexual experiment and more on consideration of the psychological and social implications of sexual experience.

The Tribunal considers that the same restriction should apply to this companion volume, since it similarly is directed towards the understanding of physical aspects of long-term partnerships. It therefore classified More Joy as indecent in the hands of persons under sixteen.

LAURENCE M. GREIG, Chairman.

27 February 1976.

Date of Hearing: 3 November 1975, at Wellington.

Appearances: Mr. J. B. Phelan for the Police; Mr. P. R. H. Maling appeared as author.

Subsequent written submissions were received on behalf of Mr M. S. Waghorne and were considered together with additional submissions from the Police and Mr Maling.

PLANTS IN NEW ZEALAND POISONOUS TO MAN

By JOSE STEWART. Revised by H. E. CONNOR

1975

This revised edition of Mrs Stewart's Book, which was first published in 1964, is a handy colourful guide to the 50 or more plants in New Zealand known or suspected to be toxic to man. The plants are listed in alphabetical order by their common names and each entry has a colour photograph identifying the poisonous part of the plant. The botanical name, a general description of the plant, the toxin, and the symptoms of poisoning are also given. Plants that are toxic, if eaten, and touch irritants are dealt with in separate sections.

A general instruction on what to do if poisoning occurs or is suspected is featured prominently at the beginning of the book for ready access in emergency.

The material in the booklet is useful, succinct, and attractively presented. Although it has wide appeal generally, it is particularly valuable to parents of the young and curious.
