(4) Any freight charges imposed by a retailer pursuant to the foregoing provisions of this clause shall be shown separately on the appropriate invoice.

PROVISION FOR SPECIAL PRICES WHERE EXTRAORDINARY CHARGES INCURRED

5. Notwithstanding anything in the foregoing provisions of this order and subject to such conditions, if any, as he thinks fit, the Secretary, on application by any retailer, may authorise special maximum prices for any cornsacks to which this order applies where special circumstances exist or, for any reason, extraordinary charges (freight or otherwise) are incurred by the retailer. *Industries Development Commission Notice No. 1976/7—
 Inquiry Concerning Protection for the New Zealand
 Industry Producing Galvanised Steel Sheet and Strip of Tariff Heading 73.12 and 73.13*

1. In a letter of 4 November 1976, the Minister of Trade and Industry requested that the commission inquire into and report on the present situation and prospects of, and recommend lines of, development and the nature and extent of assistance, whether by means of protective devices or otherwise, it considers appropriate for New Zealand industries in relation to galvanised steel sheet and strip of tariff headings 73.12 and 73.13, together with the associated pre- and post-painted sheeting products. The commission was asked to take special note of metallamine coil, which is included in tariff item 73.13.431. When making its inquiry and report the Commission may take evidence on, and otherwise have regard to, any other material or product it considers relevant to the inquiry under reference or exclude from its consideration any material or product it might consider not relevant to such inquiry.

2. The reference follows discussion between the Minister of Trade and Industry and the industry, which was concerned at the effect the continuing importation of metallamine coil would have on the New Zealand galvanised steel industry.

3. For the purpose of taking evidence the commission will hold a public hearing in the Hearing Room, Eighth Floor, Cumberland House, Upper Willis Street, Wellington, on Tuesday, 8 March 1977, commencing at 10.30 a.m.

4. Any person who intends to tender evidence should lodge, in typewritten form, 14 copies of public evidence and 12 copies of confidential evidence, to be presented under oath at the public hearing, at the commission's office no later than Friday, 18 February 1977. In preparing this evidence the "Notes for Information and Guidance of Interested Parties" prepared by the Tariff and Development Board may be of assistance. Copies of these notes may be obtained from the commission's office.

Decision of the Indecent Publications Tribunal

IN the matter of the Indecent Publications Act 1953, and in the matter of applications, pursuant to section 14 (5) of the said Act, by the Society for the Promotion of Community Standards Inc., and the Concerned Parents' Association, to be joined as parties to proceedings before the Tribunal in respect of the publication Forum:

BEFORE THE INDECENT PUBLICATIONS TRIBUNAL

Messrs L. M. Greig (Chairman), D. M. Wylie, and I. R. Cross.

Hearing: 16 August 1976.

Appearances: Mr P. D. McKenzie, for Society for Promotion of Community Standards Inc.; Mr. P. J. Cullen, for Secretary for Justice; Mr. P. J. Downey for Seven Seas Publishing Pty. Ltd.

DECISION OF THE TRIBUNAL

These two bodies have applied to be joined as parties on the reference to the tribunal of some issues of Forum.

The first of these appeared by counsel and made submission in open hearing on 16 August 1976. Since then further written submissions have been made by the Secretary and by counsel, appearing for the publishers, and in answer by the society.

The second applicant did not appear but made written submissions in support of its application.

The question is whether, in terms of section 14 (5) of the Act, the Tribunal is satisfied that either of these associations are "likely to be affected".

The phrase is clearly broad in scope and is intended to give general rights to other persons than those specifically mentioned in the subsection. It cannot be intended however that every person or member of the public can be joined as a party. Such a construction would be contrary to the reasoning implicit in the authorities cited to us, and many other authorities, and to the general design of the Act which, in our view, puts the public weal in the hands of the Secretary and the Comptroller of Customs.

To be affected a person must have an interest in the inquiry apart from any interest in common with the public.

The society suggests that it has such an interest but this arises because it is a group of members of the public who have particular views and aims and because they have been active in having these magazines referred to us.

The society itself cannot be affected by our decision on the magazines. Any effect must be on the members of it but each of them has no interest apart from their interest as members of the general public.

Its activity in respect of these particular magazines does not create any further interest or effect. On the contrary it has chosen to leave the matter in the hands of the Secretary rather than seek leave to appear as applicant. It has deliberately chosen a procedure which removes itself from express participation in the referral.

The association appears to be unincorporated and is not therefore a person but even if it was a person it is in the same position as the Society.

The tribunal is not satisfied that either association is likely to be affected and refuses the applications. They may not appear as parties to the proceedings and may not call evidence. The tribunal has not refused to receive representations in the past from persons who are not parties. It will, in this case, receive any written representations that either of these associations may wish to make in these proceedings.

30 September 1976.

LAURENCE M. GREIG, Chairman.

Decision of the Indecent Publications Tribunal

IN the matter of the Indecent Publications Act 1963, and in the matter of an application by Patrick Campbell, acting on behalf of Waverley Publishing Co. Ltd., for a decision in respect of the publication Expressions of Love Making, by Rennie Ellis, published by Pontiac Publishing Co., of Sydney.

BEFORE THE INDECENT PUBLICATIONS TRIBUNAL

Messrs L. M. Greig (Chairman), D. M. Wylie, I. R. Cross, and Mrs L. Edmond.

Hearing: 16 August 1976.

Appearances: No appearances, but written submissions from the applicant were received and considered.

DECISION OF THE TRIBUNAL

This is another publication consisting of photographs of sexual intercourse with a small amount of text.

It is serious in intention, though not didactic, natural and restrained in presentation with a straightforward text. The photographs depict basic variations of normal intercourse without any of the tasteless or debasing acrobatics which have marred other similar publications.

The publication therefore falls within the first category described in Decision 432-5 (New Zealand Gazette, No. 26, 23 March 1972, page 638). In that decision a publication in that category was given a restricted classification.

Having regard to the changing times and standards and the dominant effect of this publication the tribunal considers that a restricted classification in this case is not necessary.

The tribunal classifies this publication as not indecent.

Dated this 18th day of October 1976.

BEFORE THE INDECENT PUBLICATIONS TRIBUNAL

DECISION OF THE TRIBUNAL

These two paperback books are referred to the tribunal on proceedings disputing forfeiture after seizure by the Customs Department. A single copy of each book is in question. No suggestion has been made that these were imported for distribution.

The books have no literary merit and include numerous and repeated accounts of sexual encounters between males given in explicit detail.

Mr Maling, in full submissions to us, sought to support his claim that the books are not indecent on sociological and psychological grounds submitting that homosexual behaviour is both natural and desirable as a regulator of society. Whether this be so or not, and it is to be noted that the sexual behaviour described is criminal in New Zealand, descriptions of heterosexual or homosexual behaviour may be indecent because of their form and expression.

The content of these two books is clearly indecent and the tribunal can see no redeeming feature in them.

The tribunal classifies these two books as indecent.

Decision of the Indecent Publications Tribunal

IN the matter of the Indecent Publications Act 1963, and in the matter of an application by Norman George Sturt, acting on behalf of Hutchinson Publishing Group Ltd., for a decision in respect of the publication The Illustrated Manual of Sex Therapy, by Helen Singer Kaplan M.D. PH.D., published by Souvenir Press Ltd., of London.

BEFORE THE INDECENT PUBLICATIONS TRIBUNAL

Messrs L. M. Greig (Chairman), D. M. Wylie, I. R. Cross, and Miss W. M. Rolleston.

Hearing: 19 July 1976.

Appearances: No appearances.

DECISION OF THE TRIBUNAL

Helen Singer Kaplan, the author of this manual, is Clinical Associate Professor of Psychiatry at Cornell University College of Medicine. As might be expected, therefore, this manual is the work of a professional for the benefit of others in her profession and of persons experiencing sexual problems. The language is the language of the disciplines of medicine and psychiatry, and as a result the book is unlikely to have wide popular appeal.

Following a general review of the nature and the causes of sexual dysfunction, Dr Kaplan isolates six of the more common types of dysfunction and then describes in detail the various treatments which she has used. In each case, the treatment includes specific erotic tasks and exercises to be carried out by the patients. These are illustrated by line drawings which are presented in a sensitive and restrained manner.

The tribunal is of the opinion that this book represents a serious attempt to disseminate knowledge on the subject of the treatment of sexual problems and can see no reason to restrict its circulation.

The tribunal classifies this book as not indecent.

Decision of the Indecent Publications Tribunal

IN the matter of the Indecent Publications Act 1963, and in the matter of a reference by the Magistrates Court, Wellington, for a decision in respect of the publication A History of Underground Comics, by Mark James Estren, published by Straight Arrow Books, of San Francisco.

BEFORE THE INDECENT PUBLICATIONS TRIBUNAL

Messrs L. M. Greig (Chairman), D. M. Wylie, I. R. Cross, and Mrs L. Edmond.

Hearing: 16 August 1976.

Appearances: Mr P. E. Leloir for Comptroller of Customs; Mr A. Taylor for Huyser Bookshop Ltd.

DECISION OF THE TRIBUNAL

This is a copiously illustrated account of the development of the so-called "underground" comic in the United States. Although it deals principally with the 1960's and early 1970's the origins are traced back to before the war.

It is a serious treatment which has developed from a master's thesis in journalism at Columbia University; it explores its subject in many aspects. Although there is an inevitable degree of emphasis on sex and violence (reflecting the pattern of many of the comics dealt with) there is no attempt to indulge them for their own sake.

The submission by the Customs Department relied principally on the fact that many of the illustrations in the book had appeared in comics which have been ruled indecent by the Tribunal. Whatever may have been the cumulative effect of such illustrations in their original context they are here taken out of that context and presented on their own, often as a single drawing, not even part of a small sequence. They are no longer a "picture-story book likely to be read by children" but illustrations in a work which is discussing them in a serious manner, exploring their origins, their place in American society, and their role as a new form of graphic act of some cultural significance. Statements from a variety of sources both in the United States and in New Zealand were produced by the importer concerned in this case to support such a view of the work.

Although s. 11 (3) of the Act has required us to find many of the comics dealt with in this book indecent, it must now be dealt with on its own merits.

We do not consider, after taking into account the criteria in s. 11 (1) of the Act, that availability of the book would be injurious to the public good. We therefore find The History of Underground Comics to be not indecent.

Decision of the Indecent Publications Tribunal

IN the matter of the Indecent Publications Act 1963, and in the matter of an application by Norman George Sturt, acting on behalf of Hutchinson Publishing Group Ltd., for a decision in respect of the publication My Secret Garden (Women's Sexual Fantasies), compiled by Nancy Friday, published by Virago Ltd., in association with Quartet Books Ltd., of London.

BEFORE THE INDECENT PUBLICATIONS TRIBUNAL

Messrs L. M. Greig (Chairman), D. M. Wylie, I. R. Cross, and Miss W. M. Rolleston.

Hearing: 19 July 1976.

Appearances: No appearances.

DECISION OF THE TRIBUNAL

My Secret Garden describes the intimate fantasies that sexually arouse women. The author began by publishing a series of advertisements in British and American newspapers requesting material for such a study. From the "flood of letters" which followed she selected four hundred examples for closer study. These became personal statements, written or recorded, and are reproduced verbatim with a brief introduction and commentary for each.

Published first in 1973 in America, the book became a best seller. It is written in order to help women to achieve greater understanding of themselves, and uses sexual confessions for a serious social and psychological purpose. Women's feelings have been forced inwards through fear and prudery, asserts the author-editor, and this situation has led to gross distortions in the image women have of themselves and project on to others.

The tribunal regards this as an honestly conceived sociological study; it therefore classifies it as not indecent.
