Definition of "hand-made".

The concession applies to goods which the Collector is satisfied are hand-made.

(1) For goods to be regarded as "hand-made" they must not only be made:

- (a) by hand;
- (b) by tools held in the hand;
- (c) by machines powered by foot or hand; or
- (d) by any combination of the foregoing processes, but must also be made from:
- (e) unprocessed naturally occurring materials; or
- (f) "hand-made" materials.

(2) However, goods that have been "hand-made" within the definition above from machine made or processed materials of basic form, that is to say, materials in a form not pre-determined by its intended ultimate end-use (e.g. a rectangular sided block of stone, a billet of wood, a rectangular sheet of copper) will not normally be excluded from being "hand-made".

(3) Goods are not precluded from being regarded as "hand-made" by reason of use in the manufacture of:

- (a) mechanically powered tools, provided they are held in the hand (e.g. electric drill) – this does not cover a situation where the article being produced is held in the hand and worked on a machine tool fitted to bench, stand or other support; or
 (b) machines not held in the hand, provided they are hand or foot powered (e.g. treadle operated sewing machines and potters' wheels); or
 (c) machine-made materials and components of a minor nature that are essential to the assembly or normal operation of those goods but do not contribute to the decoration, artistry or character of the goods (e.g. sewing threads, plain button, plain fasteners, nails, screws, plain hinges, paint).

(4) Goods that have been produced by machine beyond a basic form (as defined above) and subsequently hand-worked or decorated, even to an extensive degree, will not be regarded as "hand-made".

(5) Goods made up by hand, in whole or part from machine made components, would not normally qualify as "hand-made".

(6) Goods held by hand against a cutting or grinding tool driven by a bench power driven machine whereby artistic or decorative effects are produced will not be regarded as "hand-made".

CONSERVING NEW ZEALAND HERITAGE

By P. H. C. Lucas

In 1969 Mr Lucas went on a study tour of national parks and allied areas in Canada and the United States. On his return to New Zealand he wrote this report as a suggested guideline for national parks and reserves administrators. Many of the problems experienced by older countries could be avoided by a careful study of their mistakes and with this in mind Mr Lucas has concluded each section with a summary of lessons for New Zealand. Not only of interest to the general public but also to park administrators and planners, tourist promoters, historians, and archaeologists.

DIRECTIONS FOR EDUCATIONAL DEVELOPMENT

A REPORT PREPARED BY THE ADVISORY COUNCIL ON EDUCATIONAL PLANNING

141 p. 1975. $2.25

This report marks the culmination of the activities of the Educational Development Conference. The Advisory Council has recommended the directions it considers New Zealand education should go in the next 5 or 10 years.

Five principal areas are identified as requiring attention.

Education is seen as a lifelong activity, and emphasis is therefore placed on the "foundations"—early childhood education, the school curriculum and special provisions for special needs, and parent education.

Special attention is given also to the relationship between the school and the community, the need for close mutual support and co-operation, including understanding and respect for minority cultures.

A key to the quality of education is the people involved in it. Teacher education, the availability of advisory and ancillary staff, as well as resources for materials and research, have a chapter devoted to them.

Since education is seen as a lifelong activity, this is considered at some length. Facets such as accessibility, transfer of credits, and the role of existing institutions are discussed, together with ways in which continuing education could be provided for the whole community.

In discussing the administration and organisation of education the principle followed is the maximum devolution of authority and responsibility to the agencies and the community, at for instance, school committee and district level.

DOMINION MUSEUM MONOGRAPHS

Elsdon Best (1856-1931), who was a member of the staff of the Dominion Museum from 1911 to 1931, made a notable contribution to the study of Maori ethnology. After a lifetime of experience, including many years in close contact with the Maoris of the Urewera, he spent the last 20 years of his life writing particularly of the social customs and beliefs of the Maori people. There is still a demand for the many monographs written by Elsdon Best and the following titles have been reprinted without alteration to the original text (National Museum):

No. 1. Some Aspects of Maori Myth and Religion.	43 p.	60
No. 2. Spiritual and Mental Concepts of the Maori.	57 p.	75
No. 3. The Astronomical Knowledge of the Maori.	80 p.	60
No. 4. The Maori Division of Time.	51 p.	60
No. 5. Polynesian Voyagers.	54 p.	80

ECONOMICS OF THE NEW ZEALAND MAORIBy Raymond Firth

519 p. 1972. $7

The Maori people are honourably known far outside the confines of their New Zealand home. Acknowledged to be one of the finest of the native races within the British Commonwealth they have long been celebrated for their splendid physical appearance, their proud bearing, their aristocratic spirit, their fluent oratory, and above all for their prowess in war. This book contains an account of the social and economic organisation of the Maori people before the organisation was transformed by contact with Western civilisation. It is a major scientific contribution to economic anthropology and has now become a standard work.

EDUCATIONAL PLANNING IN NEW ZEALAND

432 p. 1974. $6

This book contains the papers presented at a seminar on educational planning held at Victoria University of Wellington from 14 to 19 May 1972. This seminar was intended to lay the foundation for later seminars which would probe education problems in depth. Three main themes were chosen for the seminar, "Educational planning in its relation to national economic planning", "Planning the structure and content of education", and "Information and techniques for educational planning". Edited by W. L. Renwick and L. J. Ingham, this book will interest a wide range of people.

THE EFFECTS OF RACE AND SOCIO-ECONOMIC STATUS ON JUVENILE OFFENDING STATISTICS

31 p. 1975. $1

This report examines the extent to which the difference in European and non-European offending rates reflects variations in the socio-economic distributions of the two populations. The results indicate that, while a substantial proportion of the difference in offending rates for the two racial groups can be attributed to socio-economic factors, the larger part of this difference cannot be accounted for in this way. Both the theoretical and the practical implications of this finding are discussed. (Research Unit, Joint Committee on Young Offenders.)

EFFECTIVE DISCUSSION

52 p. 50c

Although originally written for staff training purposes in the Public Service, this booklet became popular with outside organisations as a guide to the conduct of meetings. It describes planning and organising both large and small group discussions and contains many useful hints which will help the discussion leader to get the best out of his group, whether he is an old hand or a novice at leading discussion. Also included are lists of books for further reading and recommended films. (State Services Commission.)
