Industries Development Commission Notice No. 1977/4: General Textile Industry Reference

1. The Commission gave notice of this reference in the New Zealand Gazette No. 104, of 7 October 1976. The first paragraph of the notice which sets out the reference reads:

"In a letter of 7 September 1976, the Minister of Trade and Industry requested the Commission to co-ordinate and co-operate with the industry in the preparation of an industry development plan for the textile industry and in so doing to:

Inquire into and report on the present situation of the textile industry; the potential for the development of, and the objectives for, the textile industry during the next ten years; and

Recommend strategies for development and assistance over the next ten years.

For the purpose of the inquiry and report the textile industry is to be taken to consist of the industries making textiles-fibres, yarns and fabrics and textile products including clothing, and importers and distributors of textiles and textile products. The goods concerned are those classified in Section XI of the Customs Tariff of New Zealand, but when making its inquiry and report the Commission may take evidence on, and otherwise have regard to, any other material or product it considers relevant to the inquiry under reference, or exclude from its consideration any material or product it might consider not relevant to such inquiry.

During the course of this inquiry and within the general terms of this reference, the Commission may, at its discretion and on its own initiative, further this inquiry or any part thereof by such means as it thinks fit, including by one or more formal hearings or otherwise, and give such notification of its intentions as it thinks necessary."

2. In the same notice the Commission announced that a steering group had been set up to advise the Commission on procedural matters, including the setting up of working parties to consider relevant aspects of their particular sectors of the textile industry. The steering group comprises representatives of textile and garment manufacturers, including the woollen mills, wholesale distributors, retailers, the Federation of Labour, the Department of Trade and Industry, and the Customs Department. After consultation with the steering group, the Commission has decided to change its procedures because of the need to accelerate the pace of the inquiry.

It will substitute for working parties a series of public hearings to be held in April/May 1978 preceded by an initial inquiry to be held between November 1977 and January 1978. The consultative approach which has characterised the inquiry will be continued and there will be private discussions with interested parties either in confidential hearings or in other less formal meetings.

3. For the initial inquiry to be held between November 1977 and January 1978, the Commission requests submissions from interested parties on the questions set out in the Schedule to this notice. Submissions should deal with the questions in the context of the product groups with which the party is concerned and in the broader context of the whole reference. To assist in the preparation of these submissions, a list of assumptions common to all industry inquiries covering variables such as population, labour force, gross national product, balance of payments and terms of trade will be available from the Commission early in November.

4. Any person who intends to make such submissions should provide, in typewritten form, 12 copies of public submissions and twelve copies of confidential submissions to reach the Commission's office not later than 28 November 1977. The Commission will welcome submissions from individuals or companies as distinct from and in addition to those of industry or trade groups, even if the individual or company concerned is party to an industry or trade group submission.

5. There will be no public hearing in respect of this inquiry, the object of which is to enable the Commission to prepare a set of guidelines for submissions for the series of public hearings to be held in April/May 1978. The Commission will, instead, after examining the submissions, arrange whatever consultations it considers appropriate. The set of guidelines for the April/May hearings will be available from the Commission in January 1978.

6. The programme for the April/May 1978 hearings and the closing dates for submissions will be notified in the New Zealand Gazette of 17 November 1977 and in the principal newspapers.

Dated at Wellington this 27th day of October 1977.

J. E. CRANSHAW,

Secretary, Industries Development Commission.

P.O. Box 27046.

SCHEDULE

(1) Demand: What factors are expected to influence demand in New Zealand (apart from the basic common assumptions which will be notified later) over the next ten years? For example a trend toward reduction in the proportion of personal expenditure on clothing suggests that the growth in demand over the next ten years will not be the same as in the past ten years. Another example is a possible swing towards the use of natural fibres.

(2) Production: What factors should be taken into account in assessing the potential of the industry over the next ten years?

(3) Development: What is the desirable direction of development over the next ten years?

(4) Impediments: What are the impediments to development over the next ten years—legal, financial, economic, social, technological, and manpower? What is required to stimulate development over the next ten years? What type of long term action by industry itself and the Government should be considered?

(5) Rationalisation of production: Where should the emphasis be put on vertical integration and where on horizontal specialisation? For example should dyeing and finishing be in the hands of commission operators? Should there be expansion or contraction in any particular areas?

(6) Indigenous raw materials: Should a policy preference be given to products incorporating indigenous raw materials?

(7) Substitutability: What should be the general rules for deciding on the extent to which different fibres and/or fabric constructions are substitutes? For example, synthetics for wool and knitted fabrics for woven.

(8) Overseas investment: Is overseas investment desirable as an aid to marketing, research and development in existing industries and new industries? If so, to what extent and under what conditions of ownership?

(9) Regional development attitudes: What have been and are expected to be the effects of the geographic spread of productive capacity on the industry? Do you agree that in normal circumstances it must be the prerogative of industry to determine the place of establishment best suited to it? Do you agree with the policy on national pricing? What have been and are expected to be the effects of national delivered prices?

(10) Environmental controls: What have been and are expected to be the effects of environmental controls?

(11) Tariff structure: Should the classification variations from the Brussels Tariff Nomenclature be retained, amended or removed? Some variations are the 186 g/m² demarcation in fabrics containing discontinuous fibre; fabric containing any proportion of wool being regarded as predominantly of wool; and the special duty provisions for fabric assembled by sewing, gumming or otherwise.

(12) Other major considerations: Are there any other questions of general significance to the industry which should be included in the guidelines?

THE MAORI AS HE WAS

By Elsdon Best

295 p. 1974 reprint. $6.50

Fifty years of public demand since this book was first published resulted in the need for reprints in 1934 and 1952. The text has been reproduced unchanged but the originals of some of the figures could not be traced and these have been replaced with similar illustrations. There have been many advances in our knowledge of Maori life since this book first appeared. The work of numerous ethnologists, and more recently archaeologists, has critically examined many of the earlier concepts, confirming some, disproving others, and altering others to varying degrees. No one has yet produced a synthesis of the results of all this scholarship and there is still nothing as comprehensive as this book of Best's to give a general account of the Maori. This book was first published when Best was 68 and thus represents the accumulated knowledge of a lifetime. It has now become a classic introduction to Maori life. Its continued availability should help the reader to obtain a basic background to old time Maori life which can be extended by further reading.

The material presented on canoes, their materials, types, methods of construction, and associated artifacts make interesting reading for the layman as well as for scholars of the Maori. (Government Printer.)

MAORI STOREHOUSES AND KINDRED STRUCTURES

By Elsdon Best

116 p., illustrated. 1974 reprint. $6.50

By studying items pertaining to Maori technology it is hoped this will throw light upon many phases of the social life and customs hitherto unknown. METRICS FOR JOHN AND JANE CITIZEN

By James McGill Webb

INDUSTRIAL TRAINING SERVICE—DEPARTMENT OF LABOUR

48 p. 50c

As the name implies this book is written for use by the layman rather than the technician, the engineer, or the scientist. This book does not include conversion tables but rather relates to metric units and their use, comparisons of size and includes a wide range of metric information. How big is a litre? What is a kilopascal? When will I use a centimetre? What will I buy in kilograms? Why is New Zealand going metric? If these and similar questions are causing you concern this book will provide the answers.
