KNOW YE that We, reposing trust and confidence in your integrity, knowledge, and ability, do hereby nominate, constitute, and appoint you, the said the Right Honourable Sir THADDEUS PEARCEY McCARTHY, WHAKAARI TE RANGITAKUKU METEKINGI, and MARCUS JOHN QUENTIN POOLE to be a Commission to inquire into the structure and operation of the Maori Land Court and the Maori Appellate Court (in these presents referred to as the Maori Courts), and to report on what changes are necessary or desirable to secure the just, humane, prompt, efficient, and economical disposal of the business of the Maori Courts and to ensure the ready access of the Maori people and other claimants to those Courts for the determination of their rights now and in the future:

And, in particular, to inquire and report on:

1. Whether or not any part of the jurisdiction of either of the Maori Courts could be better exercised by some other Court or Tribunal, and whether or not the subject-matter of any part of that jurisdiction could be better dealt with otherwise than by a judicial body:

2. The qualifications for, the methods of appointment of, and the promotion of, Judges of the Maori Courts:

7. The relationship between the Maori Courts and their staff with persons who attend the Courts (whether as applicants, parties, witnesses, or otherwise), and whether and to what extent changes in the facilities and administrative procedures of the Courts are necessary or desirable to improve that relationship and better meet the convenience of such persons:

8. The desirability or otherwise of parties being represented by counsel in every case or in any class of cases before either of the Maori Courts:

9. Any associated matters that may be thought by you to be relevant to the general objects of the inquiry:

And We hereby appoint you the said the Right Honourable Sir Thaddeus Pearcey McCarthy to be the Chairman of the said Commission:

And for the better enabling you to carry these presents into effect you are hereby authorised and empowered to make and conduct any inquiry or investigation under these presents in such manner and at such time and place as you think expedient, with power to adjourn from time to time and place to place as you think fit, and so that these presents shall continue in force and any such inquiry may at any time and place be resumed although not regularly adjourned from time to time or from place to place:

And you are hereby strictly charged and directed that you shall not at any time publish or otherwise disclose, save to His Excellency the Governor-General, in pursuance of these presents or by His Excellency's direction, the contents of any report so made or to be made by you or any evidence or information obtained by you in the exercise of the powers hereby conferred on you, except such evidence or information as is received in the course of a sitting open to the public:

And it is hereby declared that the powers hereby conferred shall be exercisable notwithstanding the absence at any time of any one or any two of the members hereby appointed so long as the Chairman or a member deputed by the Chairman to act in his stead, and two other members, are present and concur in the exercise of the powers:

And We do further ordain that you have liberty to report your proceedings and findings under this Our Commission from time to time if you shall judge it expedient to do so:

And using all due diligence, you are required to report to His Excellency the Governor-General in writing under your hands, not later than the 31st day of December 1979, your findings and opinions on the matters aforesaid, together with such recommendations as you think fit to make in respect thereof:

And, lastly, it is hereby declared that these presents are issued under the authority of the Letters Patent of His Late Majesty King George the Fifth, dated the 11th day of May 1917, and under the authority of and subject to the provisions of the Commissions of Inquiry Act 1908, and with the advice and consent of the Executive Council of New Zealand.

PURSUANT to section 29 (11) of the Commerce Act 1975, public notice is hereby given of Decision No. 30 of the Commerce Commission, dated 2 August 1978.

This decision relates to an application by the New Zealand Woolbrokers' Association for approval of a collective pricing agreement registered with the commission as No. 5. The agreement covers the issue by the association to its members of a scale of fees and charges for woolbroking services including receiving, warehousing, weighing, lotting, cataloguing, rehandling, insuring, selling and delivering of wool.

In this decision the issue of such a scale is approved subject to the following conditions:

- (i) That, where the maximum amounts allowed to be charged under the scale of fees and charges issued in terms of this approval are subject to control under any statute or regulations, the said scale of fees and charges, and any alteration to the scale of fees and charges, must comply with any relevant provisions of such control legislation.
- (ii) That, where the maximum amounts allowed to be charged under any scale of fees and charges issued in terms of this approval are not subject to control under any statute or regulations, other than this condition, the said fees and charges and any alteration to the scale of fees and charges must be submitted for approval by the Commerce Commission.
- (iii) That any scale of fees and charges issued in terms of the approval be clearly headed to show that the prescribed fees and charges are the maximum which may be charged.
- (iv) That the Association inform its members that they are free to charge lower fees without the risk of incurring sanctions of any kind, such information to be attached to or continued in any scale of fees and charges issued to members in terms of the approval.
- (v) That the Association, at the first opportunity, alter its rules to comply with the terms of this decision and, in the meantime, forthwith inform its members that the rules and current scale of fees and charges are to be read as being subject to this decision.

The "normal" refers to the present site of the instruments. Standard period for normals is 1941-1970. No normals are available for stations with only short records.

*Indicates that the sunshine recorder is not located at the station but is in the near vicinity.

A rain day is a day with rainfall equal to or greater than 0.1 mm.

Where the extremes of temperature and rainfall have occurred more than once during the month, the date of the first occurrence is given.

NOTES ON THE WEATHER FOR JUNE 1978

General—Pressures were appreciably below normal over the northern half of the North Island, and slightly above in the south of the South Island during June. Winds were predominantly easterly over the whole of New Zealand throughout the month. In the Wellington area there were 17 consecutive days with southerly winds, and nearly 80 percent of the time during the month winds were from this direction, more than double the June average. Cloudy conditions prevailed in most areas east of the main ranges with sunshine well below normal. This was the first month this year with temperatures considerably below normal over the majority of the country. Conditions were unusually dry on the West Coast. Most farmers reported average grass growth, except in some areas where severe frosts had retarded growth. Stock condition on the whole was good, apart from districts where hay and feed were in short supply.

Rainfall—Rainfall was above normal in most districts east of the main ranges and especially high on the Coromandel Peninsula, Hawke's Bay, Wairarapa, the Kaikoura coast, and parts of Canterbury. In Buller, Westland, Fiordland, and parts of inland Southland the rainfall was well below normal. Milford Sound recorded only 30 mm for the month, and this is the lowest total for any month since the station began in 1930, the lowest prior to this (44 mm) occurred in May 1970.

On the 21st and 22nd torrential rain along the northeast coast of the North Island caused a large washout on the Auckland/Whangarei railway line near Wellsford, and roads were blocked by slips in the area. "Chiltern" rainfall station on the Coromandel Peninsula recorded a 24-hour fall up to 9 a.m. on the 22nd of 153 mm, and 70 mm in the previous 24 hours.

Road and rail services were blocked by debris and land slips when a combination of heavy seas and rain occurred on the 23rd/24th in the Kaikoura area.

Temperatures—Temperatures were below normal over the major part of New Zealand, the only areas slightly above normal being Northland, parts of Auckland, and Nelson. Some districts in Canterbury, Otago, and Southland were below normal by more than 2°C, and in the North Island they were below by ½°C in many areas. The coldest spell during the month was from the 26th to the 30th. On the 29th maximum temperatures were below normal by as much as 5° to 8°C on the east coast of the country.

Sunshine—Sunshine hours for the month were below normal over the whole country apart from parts of Taranaki, Southland, and the West Coast. Wanganui recorded only 63 hours for the month, which was the lowest recorded in any month since the station began in 1937. Kaikoura also recorded their lowest ever. Hokitika had 24 hours more than normal, and this was the highest recorded in June since 1967. Many stations on the east coast had 60-80 percent of their normal sunshine hours.

WEATHER SEQUENCE JUNE 1978

The cold front that had been moving over the South Island at the end of May continued to move northwards, and by the 1st was lying across central New Zealand. Most areas of the North Island recorded light to moderate rainfalls during the passage of this front. A ridge of high pressure extended onto the South Island late on the 1st with a depression forming in the northwest Tasman Sea. Temperatures were higher than normal along the east coast of the North Island at the beginning of the month. By the 2nd an anticyclone had become established over the country, and this persisted until the 6th, bringing fine weather to most of New Zealand, with only a few areas reporting isolated showers. The depression in the Tasman Sea moved slowly southwest during this period, and on the 7th had begun to move east towards New Zealand.

On the 7th the main centre of the depression had moved south-east and by the 8th was lying just to the west of the South Island. A cold front associated with this depression crossed onto the North Island early on the 8th and also moved south-east. Later on the 8th the situation became complex, with a large low-pressure area in the Tasman Sea developing three main centres moving eastwards towards New Zealand. As the cold front and the depressions crossed the country from the 8th-10th many areas recorded moderate to heavy rainfalls. The heaviest falls during this period occurred in Northland, Wellington, Nelson, parts of Marlborough, Buller, and Westland. Some areas had 24 hour falls of more than 50 mm. Temperatures were above normal over most of the North Island.

Pressures were low to the north-east of New Zealand and to the south of the country, and higher in the Tasman Sea on the 11th. A weak ridge of high pressure extended onto the South Island but moved rapidly south-east on the 12th. A cold front associated with a depression moving to the south of the country moved onto the South Island on the 12th. Showers were reported in many areas of the country as this front moved northwards. A depression that had formed over the Australian continent moved slowly east and by the 13th was situated in the north Tasman Sea. Pressures were high over New Zealand until the evening of the 15th when the depression in the Tasman Sea moved towards the North Island.

A warm front ahead of the depression moved onto the Northland region early on the 16th and moderate rainfalls were recorded in areas north of Auckland. Later on the 16th a cold front associated with the depression also crossed onto the North Island bringing heavy rain to the Northland region. 24-hour falls in excess of 80 mm were recorded in some areas. Early on the 18th the depression had moved onto the North Island and was moving slowly east, another low pressure area had also developed in the north Tasman Sea, and pressures had become high over the South Island.

With the passage of the depression across the country heavy rain was recorded in many areas as far south as Kaikoura. The heaviest falls occurred in Northland, Auckland, Bay of Plenty, Poverty Bay, Hawke's Bay and on the north-east coast of the South Island. Temperatures were colder than usual on the east coasts of both the North and South Islands.

The depression in the north Tasman Sea had moved eastwards, and pressures remained high over the South Island on the 20th. By the evening of the 20th the depression and associated fronts had moved further onto Northland, and the ridge of high pressure extended northwards to cover the lower half of the North Island. As the depression moved slowly south-east across the country from the 21st-25th, further depressions formed on a cold front in the Tasman Sea and the ridge of high pressure weakened and also moved eastwards away from New Zealand. Pressures remained low over the country until early on the 28th with an anticyclone centred near Tasmania. During the passage of the complex low pressure system across New Zealand, many areas recorded moderate to heavy rain. In the 24-hour period up to 9 a.m. on the 22nd more than 100 mm was measured in the Coromandel area, and in excess of 50 mm the following day. The heaviest falls throughout the period occurred in parts of Northland, Auckland, Waikato, Bay of Plenty, Poverty Bay, Hawke's Bay, Wellington, Wairarapa and the Kaikoura coast. The only areas with dry conditions were Westland and Fiordland.

A strong southerly airflow became established over New Zealand as the anticyclone near Tasmania moved onto the country, and this persisted until the end of the month. Many areas on the east coast of both the North and South Islands recorded some rain, and temperatures were colder than usual in these regions.

J. S. HICKMAN, Director.

STATUTORY FUNCTIONS AND RESPONSIBILITIES OF NEW ZEALAND GOVERNMENT DEPARTMENTS

Prepared by State Services Commission.
Published by Government Printing Office.

A publication bringing together for the first time in some detail the individual statutory functions and responsibilities of the 35 Government departments (not including, however, legislation passed during the 1978 Parliamentary session) together with the acts administered by each department and an index of the public general acts of New Zealand. It should prove a valuable reference work for members of the law profession, libraries, schools, interest groups and other members of the public.

We would appreciate receiving advance orders for the first edition, which is scheduled to appear later this year.

Approximate cost $6.00-$7.00 per copy.
