Industries Development Commission Notice No. 1979/9

INQUIRIES CONCERNING THE NEW ZEALAND INDUSTRIES ENGAGED IN THE MANUFACTURE OF CORDAGE OF TARIFF HEADINGS 59.04, 59.05 AND 59.06 AND BAGS OF TARIFF HEADINGS 60.05 AND 62.03.

1. In a letter of 29 June 1979, the Minister of Trade and Industry requested the Commission to undertake inquiries into cordage and bags as part of the General Textile Reference on the following basis:

- (a) Inquiry into Cordage—To inquire into and report by 30 November 1979 on the present situation and prospects of the New Zealand industries engaged in the manufacture of goods classified in headings 59.04, 59.05, and 59.06 (as detailed in Schedule I) of the New Zealand Customs Tariff and to recommend lines of development and the nature and extent of assistance, whether by means of protective devices or otherwise, it considers appropriate for these industries. When making its inquiry and report the Commission may take evidence on and otherwise have regard to any other material or product it considers relevant to the inquiry under reference, or exclude from its consideration any material or product it might consider not relevant to such inquiry.
- (b) Inquiry into Bags—To inquire into and report by 30 November 1979 on the present situation and prospects of the New Zealand industries engaged in the manufacture of sacks and bags of a kind used for the packing of goods of headings 60.05 and 62.03 (as detailed in Schedule I) of the New Zealand Customs Tariff and to recommend lines of development and the nature and extent of assistance, whether by means of protective devices or otherwise, it considers appropriate for these industries. The Commission is requested to take particular note of any need for a special Government policy relating to the packaging of primary products for export. When making its inquiry and report the Commission may take evidence on and otherwise have regard to any other material or product it considers relevant to the inquiry under reference, or exclude from its considerations any material or product it might consider not relevant to such inquiry.

2. The references follow agreement by the Minister of Trade and Industry with the Commission's view that although the General Textile Inquiry being carried out by the Commission embraces cordage and bags these products would be better dealt with separately with some variation of the original terms of reference.

3. The Commission requests submissions from interested parties on the questions set out in Schedule II hereof.

4. Any person who intends to make submissions should provide, in typewritten form, 14 copies of public submissions and 12 copies of confidential submissions to reach the Commission's office not later than 3 August 1979. The Commission will then appraise the submissions received and, not later than 7 September 1979, will distribute to parties a draft paper embodying the Commission's views on the present situation and prospects of the industries under reference and any policy considerations it sees desirable. As soon as possible after 3 August 1979 the Commission will advise all those who have submitted evidence of the names of the other parties who have also done so. It is suggested that each party then forward a copy of its public evidence to all the named parties.

5. Any comments the parties may wish to make on the Commission's draft paper should be lodged with the Commission in 14 copies by 24 September 1979 and copies sent simultaneously to the other parties.

6. For the purpose of taking evidence both as to the original submissions and such further submissions as may have been made in the light of the Commission's paper, the Commission will hold public hearings in the Hearing Room, Eighth Floor, Cumberland House, Upper Willis Street, Wellington, commencing at 10.30 a.m.:

(a) Cordage on Tuesday, 9 October 1979.

(b) Bags on Tuesday, 16 October 1979.

Should any hearing extend beyond the first day, the commencement time on subsequent days will be 10 a.m.

7. In preparing this evidence the "Notes for Information and Guidance of Interested Parties" prepared by the Tariff and Development Board may be of assistance. Copies of these notes may be obtained from the Commission's office.

Dated at Wellington this 12th day of July 1979.

J. R. JENNER, Secretary, Industries Development Commission.

P.O. Box 27-046, Wellington.

WEATHER NOTES FOR MAY 1979

General—During May pressures were near normal over New Zealand and higher than usual to the south of the country. North-west winds were slightly more frequent than usual over the north of the country, and there was a greater frequency of south-west winds in the south. Throughout most of New Zealand, May was a wet, cloudy month with cooler temperatures than normal.

Heavy hail in eastern areas of Bay of Plenty on the 15th damaged fruit crops, and smashed windows in some buildings at Thornton. It was reported that in some areas the hail accumulated into drifts 15 cm in depth.

Grass growth in most districts was good at the beginning of the month but cooler temperatures later slowed growth. Although the ground was very wet in most areas, stock condition was reported to be good.

Rainfall—The only areas with rainfall below normal for the month were Northland, Auckland, parts of Bay of Plenty, Poverty Bay, Hawke's Bay, inland Wairarapa, and Nelson. Some localities in Hawke's Bay and Nelson were below normal by more than 50 percent. The wettest areas were parts of Canterbury, Otago, and Southland, where more than double the usual monthly totals were recorded.

At New Plymouth widespread flooding occurred on the 13th when a severe thunderstorm in the morning was followed by torrential rain in the early evening. Between 6 p.m. and 7 p.m. nearly 41 mm were recorded.

On the 14th cars and buses were stranded on the Te Anau-Milford Road when the Southland region experienced heavy rain and snow. Between 30 and 45 cm of snow were reported to be lying on the road which was blocked by fallen trees. At Invercargill 48 mm of rain were recorded in 48 hours up to 9 a.m. on the 16th, and flooding closed the airport. The heaviest falls were between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. in the 14th. Some stations in Southland recorded between 50 and 100 mm in the 48 hour period.

Temperatures—Apart from Northland, Nelson, and parts of Auckland, Bay of Plenty, Taranaki, Manawatu, and Wairarapa, temperatures were generally below normal by almost 1°C. The first 2 weeks of the month were slightly warmer than usual, but from the 17th to 24th daytime maximum temperatures were below normal by 5°C or more in eastern districts of the North and South Islands.

Sunshine—The only districts with above normal sunshine hours were on the West Coast and parts of Northland and Bay of Plenty. Some areas in the northern half of the North Island were slightly below normal. The greatest departures were in the Wellington and Southland regions. At Kelburn, Wellington, only 84 hours were recorded and this is the lowest May total since 1942 (67 hours). Invercargill had 59 hours sunshine this being only 63 percent of their normal sunshine for the month.

WEATHER SEQUENCE

At the beginning of May a ridge of high pressure extended onto New Zealand from an anticyclone in the Tasman Sea. By the morning of the 2nd an anticyclone had become established over the country, and this persisted until the morning of the 4th. Some areas in both Islands had isolated showers, but the weather was mainly fine and warm in most districts. On the 4th a cold front moved onto the South Island bringing heavy rain to Fiordland and later to Westland as it moved northwards. Some parts of the West Coast had more than 150 mm of rain in 24 hours.

A depression formed to the west of the country on the 5th and moved slowly eastwards across the South Island. The situation became complex on the 6th when another depression also moved from the Tasman Sea onto the country. By the 7th pressures were low in the central Tasman Sea, and the cold fronts associated with the complex system moving over New Zealand brought heavy rain to many areas. The heaviest falls were in Canterbury, Marlborough, and Westland, where some areas had 24 hour falls of more than 100 mm, and Wellington, Manawatu, Taranaki, and Central Districts with falls of more than 50 mm in the same period. Temperatures were very warm on the east coast of the North Island but cooler than normal in parts of the South Island.

On the 9th a cold front associated with the depression in the Tasman Sea had moved onto the country. Heavy rain was recorded in Taranaki, and moderate falls in most districts of the North Island and the northern half of the South Island. Early on the 10th the depression had moved onto New Zealand, and many areas west of the main ranges recorded heavy rain. Most of the country had light to moderate falls apart from parts of Hawke's Bay and Wairarapa. On the 11th a further depression had developed off the Australian coast and was moving east towards New Zealand. During the morning of the 13th the cold front ahead of this depression had moved onto the North Island. As the depression crossed the country it was followed by a series of low pressure troughs until the morning of the 17th, when a ridge of high pressure extended onto the South Island from the Tasman Sea.

Most of the country experienced fine weather but cooler temperatures from the 17th to 19th. Some areas on the east coast of the North Island and Southland had some isolated showers. A weak cold front moved northwards over the country on the 20th, and light to moderate rain was reported in areas mainly east of the main ranges, other districts had only isolated showers.

A depression which had formed in the north Tasman Sea on the 21st moved slowly towards the North Island, and by the morning of the 23rd was lying to the north-west of Northland.

The ridge of high pressure persisted until the 24th and then began to weaken. The depression to the north-west moved slowly east, and only light rain was reported in Northland. A cold front moved onto Fiordland during the afternoon of the 25th, but only light to moderate rain was recorded in areas west of the main ranges as it crossed the country. Over most of New Zealand temperatures were considerably cooler than normal until the 25th.

Most of the country had fine weather on the 26th and 27th, but on the 28th a cold front associated with a depression moving to the south of the South Island brought heavy rain to Fiordland, Westland, Buller, Marlborough, Taranaki, and Central Districts. Twenty-four hour falls of more than 70 mm were recorded in Westland.

From the 30th to the end of the month an anticyclone moved across the country, and only isolated showers were reported in most districts. By the afternoon of the 31st a depression in the north Tasman Sea had begun to move towards New Zealand. Temperatures were cooler than normal in most districts at the end of the month.

NOTES TO THE ACCOUNTS

1. Statement of accounting policies—The general accounting principles as recommended by the New Zealand Society of Accountants for the measurement and reporting on profit on a historical cost basis have been followed by the bank. The following particular accounting principles which materially affect the measurement of profit and of the financial position have been consistently applied.

(a) Revenue—Interest has been accrued to 31 March 1979. Personal loan interest excludes unearned interest and has been apportioned by the Rule of 78.

(b) Depreciation—Fixed assets have been depreciated using the straight line method based on the economic life of the assets. The principle write-off periods are:

Buildings ..	40–50 years
Furniture and fittings ..	7–10 years
Office equipment ..	7–10 years
Motor vehicles ..	3 years to estimated residual value

(c) Taxation—(i) The charge for income tax in the revenue account is calculated on the reported profit for the year at the present rate of taxation. (ii) Deferred taxation arises from timing differences between accounting and taxation recognition of income and expenditure. These differences relate to depreciation and investment income.

(d) Stationery stock on hand—The stock on hand shown in the balance sheet represents bulk stationery supplies valued at cost less a provision for wastage.

(e) Investments—Investments are shown in the balance sheet at cost except for Government stock where it is the bank's policy to show the value at cost less any interest accrued contained in the purchase price and to amortise discounts, premiums, and exchange rate variations over the term of the investment on a straight line basis. In accordance with this policy the amortization debited to revenue for this financial year amounts to $6,082.

AUDITORS' REPORT

We have examined the balance sheet of the Eastern and Central Savings Bank as at 31 March 1979, and the related revenue account for the year then ended. Our examination was made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and accordingly included such tests of the accounting records and such other auditing procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances. In our opinion, the accompanying balance sheet with notes attached and revenue account present fairly the financial position of the Eastern and Central Savings Bank at 31 March 1979, and the results of its operations for the year then ended, in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles applied on the basis consistent with that of the preceding year.

The following particular accounting policies which significantly affect the measurement of the Bank's profit and financial position have been applied on a basis consistent with the previous year.

Depreciation—Depreciable fixed assets are depreciated on a straight line basis at rates estimated to write off the cost, less residual value, over the useful life of each class of asset. The principle rates in use are:

- Buildings 1 percent and 2½ percent.
- Office equipment, fixtures and fittings 10 percent and 20 percent.
- Computer equipment 12½ percent.

THE MAORI AS HE WAS

By Elsdon Best

295 p. Reprint. 1974.

$6.50

Fifty years of public demand since this book was first published resulted in the need for reprints in 1934 and 1952. The text has been reproduced unchanged but the originals of some of the figures could not be traced and these have been replaced with similar illustrations. There have been many advances in our knowledge of Maori life since this book first appeared. The work of numerous ethnologists, and more recently archaeologists, has critically examined many of the earlier concepts, confirming some, disproving others, and altering others to varying degrees. No one has yet produced a synthesis of the results of all this scholarship and there is still nothing as comprehensive as this book of Best's to give a general account of the Maori. This book was first published when Best was 68 and thus represents the accumulated knowledge of a lifetime. It has now become a classic introduction to Maori life. Its continued availability should help the reader to obtain a basic background to old time Maori life which can be extended by further reading.

MAORI STOREHOUSES AND KINDRED STRUCTURES

116 p. Illustrated. Reprint. 1974.

$6.50

As an authority on Maori culture, the author has compiled in this publication a comprehensive record on the use of the different storage structures, etc., used by the Maori in former times. 61 p.

MOA-HUNTER PERIOD OF MAORI CULTURE

ROGER DUFF—CANTERBURY MUSEUM BULLETIN No. 1

436 p. Third edition. 1977. $17.50

This book deals with the most important site yet investigated and in its discussions it traverses most of the New Zealand archaeological field.

A chance discovery in 1939 by a 13-year-old boy revealed the grave of a chief in the gravels of the Wairau boulder bank. The grave, goods, and bones of the ancient chief, prone in his gravel grave, with skull directed towards the setting sun, spoke with more authority regarding his race than the distorted memories of Maori tradition.

Although scholarly and technical, the book sustains throughout the drama of this archaeological discovery, and recreates from the evidence of bone and stone the life of our first Polynesians in the Moa-hunter period of Maori culture.
