Public Notice—Commerce Act 1975

1. Notice is hereby given that the Commerce Commission has received, on 8 October 1979, a report from the Examiner of Commercial Practices relating to the proposed takeover by L. D. Nathan & Co. Ltd. of McKenzies (N.Z.) Ltd. In his report the Examiner concludes with the following summary:

It is my view that the proposed takeover will have many effects contrary to the public interest. Examples of these effects have been illustrated in this report. All of them, however, stem from the basic fact that the proposal involves the elimination of competition between two companies which fulfil an important and unique role in retailing in New Zealand. The proposal contravenes one of the main purposes of the Commerce Act which is to promote the interests of consumers and the effective and efficient development of industry and commerce through the encouragement of competition. It is accordingly a proposal which, in my opinion is so obviously contrary to the public interest that the Commission must withhold its consent. Moreover, in my view the proposal is such that it is not possible to permit it to proceed subject to terms or conditions which would remedy effects which are likely to be contrary to the public interest. The essence of the proposal is to eliminate competition. Such an absolute effect cannot be modified by conditions.

I recommend that the Commission make an order, in terms of section 78 (4) (a) (i), prohibiting the proposed takeover of McKenzies (N.Z.) Ltd. by L. D. Nathan and Co. Ltd.

The Commission will conduct an inquiry into this matter as required by section 76.

2. Persons, who wish to take part in this inquiry and who may be granted leave to do so, pursuant to section 14, are asked to apply to the Executive Officer of the Commission in writing, giving their reasons, by 12 noon, Thursday, 18 October 1979.

3. Any application received in terms of paragraph 2 above will be considered by the Commission at a preliminary hearing, at 10.30 a.m., on Tuesday, 23 October 1979, at the Commission's offices, Sixth Floor, Chase NBA House, 163 The Terrace, Wellington.

4. The substantive hearing into this matter will commence at 10.30 a.m., on Wednesday, 14 November 1979. Written submissions from the parties will be required to be filed with the Commission by Wednesday, 6 November 1979.

D. J. KERR,

Executive Officer, Commerce Commission.

51. (1) Establishment—A committee, to be known as the Disciplinary Committee of the Association, shall be appointed by the council of the Association, and shall consist of a barrister of not less than seven years' practice who shall be chairman, and not less than two or more than seven members none of whom shall be a sitting chairman of an exchange, or a member of a local committee. The council may from time to time remove from office any member of the Disciplinary Committee or fill any vacancy in its membership or appoint any additional member within the limits set by this rule. No member who has attained the age of 70 years shall be eligible for appointment and a member of the Disciplinary Committee attaining that age shall retire from the Disciplinary Committee at the conclusion of the next annual meeting of the Association and shall not be eligible for reappointment.

(2) Quorum—Subject to the proviso to rule 52 (4) hereof, a quorum shall consist of the chairman and not less than two other members of the Disciplinary Committee.

(3) If the chairman, through absence or any other cause is unable to act, the executive may appoint a qualified person in his place for a period not exceeding six months. Such appointment may be renewed only by council.

(4) The chairman of the Disciplinary Committee shall appoint one member of the public (who shall not be a barrister or solicitor) residing in Wellington, to be the lay member of the Disciplinary Committee. Each such appointment shall be for a period of one year, but may be renewed.

The appointment shall be advised to the Securities Commission to whom the lay member shall report at least once in each year.

The lay member shall be entitled to receive all notices and reports sent to the Disciplinary Committee and to attend all its meetings. He may speak and take part in proceedings and deliberations on hearings and appeals, but shall not have a vote. His remuneration and expenses shall be as agreed with the chairman of the Disciplinary Committee and shall be paid by the Association.

The lay member shall have no obligation to attend hearings of the Disciplinary Committee which he considers do not involve the public interest.

52. (1) Functions—Without limiting or derogating from any other provisions of these rules the Disciplinary Committee shall have power to hear any charge made against any exchange or a member and referred to it by the council, the executive, or a local committee or the chairman thereof. The Disciplinary Committee may cause or require an investigating committee to conduct such further investigations as it deems appropriate on any matter before it.

(2) Appeals—Every appeal by a member from the decision of a local committee shall be heard and determined by the Disciplinary Committee and shall be by way of a complete rehearing of the charge unless the Disciplinary Committee shall otherwise decide.

(3) Members Concerned or Implicated—

(a) At the hearing of a charge against a member, no member of a Disciplinary Committee who is concerned or implicated in or whose firm is concerned or implicated in that charge shall be eligible to attend any meeting of the Disciplinary Committee called to enquire into the same;

(c) The lay member shall declare any interest he may have in the parties to or the matter of a hearing. In such case he shall not be eligible to attend that hearing and the chairman of the Disciplinary Committee shall appoint another lay member for that hearing only.

(4) Penalties—If after enquiry into any charge, the Disciplinary Committee is of the opinion that the exchange or the member has been guilty of misconduct or of any breach of these rules or the rules of an exchange, or of any act matter or thing detrimental to the well-being or proper conduct of the Association or exchanges generally it may, if it thinks fit, do one or more of the following things:

(a) In the case of an exchange:

- (i) cancel its membership of the Association;
- (ii) suspend its membership for a stated period;
- (iii) order it to pay to the Association a sum by way of penalty not exceeding $2,000;
- (iv) censure it.

(b) In the case of a member:

- (i) expel him from membership;
- (ii) suspend his membership for a stated period;
- (iii) order him to pay to the Association a sum by way of penalty not exceeding $5,000;
- (iv) censure him.

Provided that except with the consent of the member or exchange charged, no order shall be made expelling or suspending a member or an exchange unless at least four members of the Disciplinary Committee including the chairman are present and a majority vote in favour of the order.

(5) In any case where a member is fined the Disciplinary Committee shall set the time within which the fine shall be received by the Association.

(6) Publication of Name—The Disciplinary Committee shall state in every finding under clause (4) whether the statement to be circulated under Rule 68 shall identify the penalised exchange or member by name and whether the circulation of the statement shall be to members only or generally.

53. Serious Offences—Where a member is charged with having been convicted of a crime involving dishonesty as defined by section 2 of the Crimes Act 1961 or any statutory modification or re-enactment thereof—the charge shall not be heard by his local committee but shall be submitted by such local committee to the Disciplinary Committee for enquiry and action and for the purpose of this rule, proof of conviction may be given by a certificate containing the substance of the conviction purporting to be signed by the Registrar or other proper officer of any Court by which the offender was convicted.

54. (1) Procedure—The Disciplinary Committee shall give at least 10 days' notice in writing (or such lesser time than 10 days' as may be agreed upon by the parties concerned) to the exchange or member against whom a charge has been made, specifying the nature of such charge and the date, place and time of the meeting of the Disciplinary Committee called to consider that matter.

(2) At such meeting, the exchange or member concerned shall be given a reasonable opportunity of being heard in defence and shall be entitled to be represented by counsel if such exchange or member so desires.

(3) Except as otherwise provided in these rules, the Disciplinary Committee shall regulate its own procedures.

55. (1) Evidence—The Disciplinary Committee by notice in writing signed by its chairman or secretary may require any person to attend and give evidence before it at the hearing of a charge and to produce for inspection all books, documents and papers that are in his custody or under his control relating to the subject matter of any such hearing.

The Disciplinary Committee by notice in writing may require any investigating committee or member thereof to appear before it and to produce all evidence arising from and the reports of the results of any investigation.

(2) The Disciplinary Committee may require evidence to be given either orally or in writing and may require any evidence to be verified by statutory declaration.

(3) Every member commits a breach of these rules who without lawful justification refuses or fails to attend and give evidence when required to do so by the Disciplinary Committee as aforesaid or to answer truly and fully any question put to him by a member of the Disciplinary Committee or to produce to the Disciplinary Committee any book, document or paper required of him.

56. (1) Interim Suspension—At any time after a charge has been made against any member, the Disciplinary Committee may of its own motion and without the necessity of giving any prior notice to the member, make an order suspending his membership until the charge has been heard and disposed of. The Disciplinary Committee may in its discretion decide to give public notice of the fact of interim suspension.

(2) The member in respect of whom any interim suspension order is made under this Rule may at any time apply to the Disciplinary Committee for the revocation of the order and the Disciplinary Committee may, subject to Rule 54 (2) grant, on such terms as it thinks fit, or refuse any such application.

57. (1) Revocation of Suspension—A member who has been suspended may apply to the Disciplinary Committee for revocation of his suspension and the Disciplinary Committee may grant on such terms as it thinks fit, or refuse such application.

(2) The Disciplinary Committee may require as a condition of granting such application that the member pay, as well as his current year's subscription to his exchange, an additional amount not exceeding a year's subscription to the same exchange, together with the amount payable by a member to the fidelity guarantee fund during the period of the applicant's suspension. The additional amount payable, except that part due to the fidelity guarantee fund, shall be applied for the general purposes of the Association.

58. After the hearing of any charge or application, the Disciplinary Committee may make an order as to costs taking into account the costs and expenses of and incidental to any investigation or hearing before a local committee and the legal costs of the Association and of exchanges as it thinks fit.

59. Enforcement—If any member fails within any time stated in an order of the Disciplinary Committee to pay any sum ordered to be paid by way of penalty or costs or expenses, the Disciplinary Committee may suspend that member until the sum is paid.

60. The Disciplinary Committee shall forward to the Association a report of every hearing and of every penalty imposed by it.

61. Witnesses' Expenses—Every person (other than a member) giving evidence or attending to give evidence at a hearing by the Disciplinary Committee shall be entitled to tender of his proper travelling expenses before attending and every person (whether a member or not) giving evidence or so attending shall at the discretion of the Disciplinary Committee be paid such sum for his travelling and other expenses and loss of time as the Disciplinary Committee may determine. All witnesses' expenses shall be paid by the Association and shall be recoverable in terms of any order that the Disciplinary Committee may make in relation thereto.

62. (1) Partners and Employees of Members—The Disciplinary Committee shall have power to enquire into any charge made by the council, the executive or a local committee or the chairman thereof that a member is in partnership with a non-member who has been guilty of or employs a person who has been guilty of conduct which if committed by a member would justify the Disciplinary Committee imposing on him any of the penalties referred to in rule 52 (4) (b) hereof.

If the Disciplinary Committee shall find such charge proved it may order:

- (a) in the case of a non-member partner, that the partnership be dissolved;
  - (b) in the case of an employee, that such employee be dismissed;
- in each case within such time as the Disciplinary Committee shall specify.

(2) If any member fails to carry out an order of the Disciplinary Committee made under this rule, the Disciplinary Committee may suspend him until the order is complied with.

Local Committees

63. (1) Disciplinary Functions—Except as provided in Rule 53 hereof, the local committee may hear any charge made against its members and referred to it in writing by the Disciplinary Committee, the council, the executive, the chairman of an exchange, or the investigating committee established under Rule 63A or by any other person.

(2) A local committee may decline to hear a charge and instead refer the same to the Disciplinary Committee.

(3) Before hearing any charge referred to it by the Disciplinary Committee, the council or the executive, a local committee may obtain, and in all other cases referred to it, shall obtain, a report from the investigating committee.

(4) If after hearing any charge the local committee is of the opinion that the member has been guilty of misconduct or of any breach of these rules or the rules of his exchange, or, of any act, matter of thing detrimental to the well-being or proper conduct of the Association or of exchanges generally, it may, if it thinks fit, do one or more of the following things:

(2) Every allegation of an offence referred to an investigating committee shall be in writing and as received by the local committee. The local committee of its own volition may refer matters to the Investigating Committee.

(4) The Investigating Committee shall report to the local committee within the time set by that committee whether or not there is prima facie charge to be made.

(2) In any case where a local committee refuses an application for revocation of an interim suspension order the member concerned shall similarly be entitled to appeal to the Disciplinary Committee.

(3) Every appeal shall be in writing and shall be lodged with the Secretary of the Association not later than 10 days after the member charged has been given written notice of the decision of the Committee.

65. Applications of Disciplinary Committee Rules—The following rules relating to the Disciplinary Committee shall, mutatis mutandis and with the exceptions herein stated, apply to charges dealt with by local committees as if references therein to the Disciplinary Committee were references to local committees:

Exchange Rates

IN terms of section 25 (2) of the Reserve Bank of New Zealand Act 1964, the Reserve Bank today released outer limits for rates of exchange to be used in transactions involving the conversion of New Zealand currency into foreign currencies and foreign currencies into New Zealand currency when delivery of the foreign currency dealt in will be effected by telegraphic transfer. The following range of rates, for the main currencies used by New Zealand traders in settling foreign exchange transactions, will remain in force until replaced by a new schedule issued by the Reserve Bank. These rates do not apply to transactions for settlement after the expiration of two business days (forward transactions) or to transactions in which instruments are purchased which do not entitle the buyer to foreign currency balances in the foreign centre until the instruments have been delivered at the foreign centre. In the latter case interest at foreign centre rates may be deducted from the telegraphic transfer rate to compensate the purchaser for his loss during the transit period.

The "normal" refers to the present site of the instruments. Standard period for normals is 1941-1970. No normals are available for stations with only short records.

*Indicates that the sunshine recorder is not located at the station but is in the near vicinity.

A rain day is a day with rainfall equal to or greater than 0.1 mm.

Where the extremes of temperature and rainfall have occurred more than once during the month, the date of the first occurrence is given.

WEATHER NOTES FOR AUGUST 1979

General—August was the first month since February this year that pressures were below normal over the whole of New Zealand. There were significantly fewer easterly winds over the northern part of the country than in the previous two months. In the south of the country westerly winds were markedly lighter than usual. Most of New Zealand experienced cloudy, wet, cool conditions throughout the month.

The soil was reported to be very wet in many districts in the North Island and along the east coast of the South Island. Warmer, drier conditions and more sunshine will be needed to repair stock damage to pastures and to improve grass growth. Stock was generally reported to be in fairly good condition, but heavy rain and cold temperatures resulted in many lamb losses in the Wairarapa at the end of the month.

Rainfall—The only areas with rainfall totals below normal were parts of Northland, Bay of Plenty, Taranaki, Nelson, the West Coast and Southland. In Wairarapa and Canterbury some places had departures of between 50 and 100 percent above the monthly average.

A complex depression brought heavy rain to many areas on the 14th/15th. At Kaitiā more than 34 mm were recorded in 12 hours on the 14th, and at Kelburn, Wellington 47 mm fell in a period of 24 hours.

From the 21st to the 27th many districts in the North Island and parts of Canterbury experienced heavy rain as a depression moved slowly southwards across New Zealand. At Albert Park, Auckland, 45 mm were recorded in 48 hours from the 21st to the 23rd (30 mm of this in only 6 hours), and at Waingawa, Masterton, 55 mm occurred from the 24th to the 27th. Some airports were closed by heavy rain and low cloud on numerous occasions over a period of 4 days.

At Kelburn, Wellington, there were 23 days in the month with more than 0.1 mm of rain. This is the greatest number in any August since 1941 at this station.

Temperatures—After a mild June and July, the August temperatures were cooler than normal over most of New Zealand, except for parts of Auckland, Bay of Plenty, Taranaki, Nelson and Marlborough. The greatest departures were on the West Coast, Otago and Southland where temperatures were about 1°C below normal. Daytime maximum temperatures were considerably cooler in most areas.

There was one long cold spell from the 15th to the 22nd inclusive when daily mean temperatures ranged from 1°C to 2°C below normal.

Sunshine. The only areas with above normal sunshine were Poverty Bay, parts of Hawke's Bay and the West Coast. In Taranaki, Manawatu, Wellington, Canterbury and Otago there were 30 to 40 hours less sunshine than usual. At Palmerston North only 69 hours sunshine were recorded for the month, this being the lowest for any August since the station began in 1931.

WEATHER SEQUENCE

The depression and associated cold front that brought heavy rain to Northland and Auckland at the end of July continued to move southeast. Many areas reported falls in excess of 50 mm in 24 hours throughout the northern half of the North Island, and moderate to heavy rain was recorded as far south as Canterbury. By the 2nd the depression had moved to the east of New Zealand, and a depression that had formed near Tasmania was moving southeast towards the country. On the 3rd and 4th this latter depression moved across the South Island. Moderate to heavy rain was recorded in Westland and Fiordland and central districts of the North Island, with lighter falls over the rest of the country. Temperatures were above normal along the east coast of the country at the beginning of the month.

A ridge of high pressure extended onto New Zealand from an anticyclone moving east from the Australian continent on the 5th. The ridge persisted until the morning of the 6th, when a cold front moved onto the South Island. A depression had developed on a cold front in the Tasman Sea on the 7th, and this moved eastwards towards the North Island. Most of the country had moderate falls apart from some areas in Poverty Bay, Hawke's Bay, Westland and Fiordland. Late on the 9th a depression was lying to the east of New Zealand, and a complex trough of low pressure had become established in the south Tasman Sea. Temperatures were considerably colder than usual from the 7th to the 9th.

By the morning of the 11th the situation in the Tasman Sea had developed into a complex low pressure system, with multiple centres and cold fronts. The main centre developed in the north Tasman Sea and began to move towards the North Island on the 13th. The whole system did not move to the east of New Zealand until late on the 15th. During the passage of the various small depressions and cold fronts across the country, moderate to heavy rain was reported in most areas west of the main ranges. The heaviest falls occurred in Westland, Fiordland, Buller, Wellington, Wanganui and northern Wairarapa. Most of these areas had 24 hour falls of between 30 mm and 50 mm.

On the morning of the 16th an anticyclone centred off the Australian coast extended a ridge of high pressure onto New Zealand. Early on the 17th a cold front moved onto the South Island bringing heavy rain to Fiordland, and moderate falls to Southland and Westland, with lighter rain to most of the country as it moved northwards. The anticyclone near Australia moved into the Tasman Sea and crossed the South Island on the 19th and 20th. Pressures were low in the North Tasman Sea as a depression developed on the 20th. Temperatures became very cold along the east coast of the country on the 19th and 20th.

As the depression moved towards New Zealand a warm front crossed onto the Northland region early on the 21st. Twenty-four hour falls of more than 30 mm were recorded in Northland, Auckland and Bay of Plenty as the front moved south-east. By the morning of the 22nd the depression had started to move slowly southeast across the North Island. This depression became stationary on the 24th, and covered the whole of New Zealand until early on the 27th. The only areas that did not record rain during the passage of the depression were west of the main ranges in the South Island. The heaviest falls occurred in southern Wairarapa, Wellington, Manawatu, the Kaikoura coast and inland Canterbury. The heavy rain was accompanied by gale force winds, especially in areas exposed to the south.

An anticyclone moved onto the country early on the 28th and this persisted until the afternoon of the 30th. Some isolated areas in both Islands reported light showers, but the weather was mainly fine throughout most of the country during this period. Temperatures were about normal, but warmer than usual in Otago and Southland. A cold front associated with a depression moving to the south of the country brought heavy rain to Fiordland and Westland as it crossed the country on the 31st. Late on the 31st a depression that had developed in the north Tasman Sea had moved southeast towards New Zealand.
