The name implies this book is written for use by the layman rather than the technician, the engineer, or the scientist. This book does not include conversion tables but rather relates to metric units and their use, comparisons of units and includes a wide range of metric information. How much is a litre? What is a kilopascal? When will I use centimetre? What will I buy in kilograms? Why is New Zealand going metric? If these and similar questions are of concern to you this book will provide the answers.

MICROZONING FOR EARTHQUAKE EFFECTS IN WELLINGTON, NEW ZEALAND

T. L. Grant-Taylor, R. D. Adams, T. Hatherton, J. D. G. Northey, R. D. Northey, and W. R. Stephenson of the New Zealand Department of Scientific and Industrial Research

BULLETIN 213

$8.50

This report on earthquake microzoning is aimed at dividing the extensive areas of Wellington into smaller zones and is intended as a guide only to planning of future redevelopment. It is based on detailed studies of local geology and soil investigations which resulted in an Earthquake Microzone Map of Wellington. This map accompanies this publication. This report is the first of a series. Later it is the intention to microzone other areas in the same way.

MOA-HUNTER PERIOD OF MAORI CULTURE

ROGER DUFF—CANTERBURY MUSEUM BULLETIN No. 1

p. Third edition, 1977. $17.50

This book deals with the most important site yet investigated in its discussions it traverses most of the New Zealand archaeological field.

A chance discovery in 1939 by a 13-year-old boy revealed a grave of a chief in the gravels of the Wairau boulder bank. The grave, goods, and bones of the ancient chief, prone in this gravel grave, with skull directed towards the setting sun, spoke with more authority regarding his race than the reported memories of Maori tradition.

Although scholarly and technical, the book sustains throughout the drama of this archaeological discovery, and draws from the evidence of bone and stone the life of our Polynesian ancestors in the Moa-hunter period of Maori culture.
