Decision No. 968

Reference No. IND 12/80

Decision of the Indecent Publications Tribunal

IN the matter of the Indecent Publications Act 1963, and in the matter of an application by the Comptroller of Customs in respect of the following publications: Physique Pictorial, Volumes 27, 28, 29, 30, 31, 32, and 33, published by Athletic Model Guild, U.S.A.

BEFORE THE INDECENT PUBLICATIONS TRIBUNAL

Judge W. M. Willis (chairman).
 Mesdames L. Edmond, H. B. Dick, and L. P. Nikera.
 Mr J. V. B. McLinden.

Hearing: 22 July 1980.

Appearances: Mr P. E. F. M. Leloir for Comptroller of Customs. No appearance or submissions on behalf of Mr R. Prosser.

Decision

This application concerns seven consecutive issues of the publication Physique Pictorial, imported by Mr Prosser and seized at Auckland in May 1980. As Mr Prosser has disputed forfeiture, the Customs Department has referred the publications to the Tribunal for classification prior to the commencement of condemnation proceedings pursuant to the Customs Act 1966.

Book type and length: Each of these issues is a soft covered booklet, 31 pages long, and measuring 13 cm × 21 cm in size.

Each issue contains black and white photographs (and in some cases cartoons) of men, almost invariably in a naked state. Accompanying each picture is a commentary on the identity, physical description and background of the male portrayed. In some cases there are references to films which the model has made, and which are available on order from the publisher. There are also codings in the commentary which inform the reader if the film contains bondage or anal erotic material.

Finally, in most of the photographs, there are handwritten symbols. Although the significance of these is not explained in detail, the July 1975 issue (Vol. 27) gives the following explanations:

SYMBOLS ON THE PICTURES. We offer a sheet giving a partial explanation, but we might be sued for libel if we wrote out a complete interpretation. If you are interested, perhaps you will sometime contact a traveller who has been "educated". These represent subjective character analysis.

Mr Leloir submitted that the issues fell within the third category of the "Waverley" decisions (103/77), namely "Photographs . . . which appear to be deliberately unnatural or artificial, and occasionally ugly, grotesque or contrived". Mr Leloir further submitted that in the photographs there was considerable emphasis on the genital area, and the magazines were designed to arouse prurient interest. As well he referred to the fact that in decision No. 16 the Tribunal classified the February 1963 issue of Physique Pictorial as indecent.

We accept Mr Leloir's submissions. Without doubt there is undue emphasis on displaying the genital and anal area of the models. In many of the cases the photographs are in an artificial and contrived setting. Further, in some of the photographs the models are portrayed in states of bondage in circumstances that amount to the depiction of deviant and lewd aspects of sex.

It seems to the Tribunal that the issues possess no literary, artistic or social merit, that the likelihood of corruption outweighs the likelihood of persons benefiting from reading any of the issues, and that the dominant effect of the issues is to cater for those who have a predilection for male homosexuality. We find for the above reasons that the issues of Physique Pictorial deal with matters of sex in a manner that is injurious to the public good and for that reason it should be classified as indecent.

There is also another ground for imposing such a classification, in that the issues seem designed to appeal to male homosexuals. In decision No. 16/65, which concerned similar publications, the Tribunal had this to say:

We think there is evidence that they are of an indecent nature: the poses in which the males are depicted, the letterpress and the advertisements appear to be intended to attract homosexuals or to promote or encourage homosexuality . . . We have in previous decisions referred to the difficulty of assessing the standard of the community, but since in our view four of these magazines are designed to appeal to or to encourage homosexuality which in New Zealand is a criminal offence, we are bound to hold them indecent within the meaning of the statute.

Although Mr Leloir conceded at the hearing that New Zealand society may have become more tolerant of male homosexuality and of gay views in general, he pointed out the law has not changed. He is quite correct. The provisions of sections 140, 141, 142, and 146 of the Crimes Act, have remained unamended since 1965. We are therefore compelled to endorse what was said by the Tribunal in decision No. 16/65 and rule that insofar as Physique Pictorial is designed to encourage or promote an activity which is criminal in New Zealand, it should also be classified as indecent on that ground.

Dated this 6th day of October 1980.

Judge W. M. WILLIS, Chairman.

Although intended as a personal record for his family, Ensign Best's journal is a delightful account of his sojourn in Australia, Norfolk Island, and New Zealand. A random selection from the journal yields descriptions of hunting trips and picnics in New South Wales, viceregal balls in Sydney, a bachelor's party on Norfolk Island, pig hunting in the Wairarapa, the first race meeting in New Zealand, sailing on Auckland Harbour, the death and burial of Governor Hobson, and an expedition from Auckland to Taupo.
