IN the matter of the Indecent Publications Act 1963, and in the matter of an application by the New Zealand Police for a decision in respect of the following publication: Venus Shop Catalogue, published by the Venus Shop Ltd., Wellington.

Judge W. M. Willis (Chairman), Mesdames H. B. Dick, L. P. Nikera, Messrs J. V. B. McLinden, I. W. Malcolm.

Hearing: 1 May 1981.

Decision: 1 August 1981.

Appearances: Inspector D. L. Bates for the Legal Section, New Zealand Police.

Venus Shop Ltd. were represented by J. Billington.

DECISION

A copy of the Venus Shop Catalogue was submitted to the Tribunal (reference 25/80), followed by an updated printing (reference 26/80) for a decision as to its classification by the New Zealand Police, pursuant to section 22 of the Indecent Publications Act 1963. The catalogues came to the Tribunal as a result of a complaint being made to the New Zealand Police by an adult member of the public.

It was noted by the Tribunal that the publication under consideration is the Venus Shop Catalogue, a listing of sexual aids, apparel, and vibrators in a booklet, consisting of 32 pages. The purpose of the publication is to make the public aware of the devices available, together with prices, and if required, a mail order service is available.

Inspector D. L. Bates of the Legal Section, New Zealand Police, in his submission, remarks that the catalogue "is peculiar in that it is not a magazine in the common sense but an advertising booklet, cataloguing various erotic apparel and devices".

The Police have commented that "some of the photographs depict scantily clad females in contrived and degrading poses and it is a reasonable interpretation that some of the models are simulating masturbation", and list an assortment of unacceptable devices, i.e., whips, flags, artificial penes and vibrators.

The Police in their submission have made it clear that they are not seeking to prevent legitimate advertising by "sex shops", but contend that the publication lacks honesty of purpose and goes too far, and they submit that it be declared unconditionally indecent.

The Venus Shop Ltd., in its submission, made a general statement which indicated that "it is important to note that the shop at which these items were purchased is a shop that caters for the adult population and entry is restricted to those of 18 years and over". The Venus Shop stated that the "primary purpose of this publication is to advertise objects and apparel for sale on the shop's premises and further that a High Court jury in October 1980, acquitted this company on charges relating to the sale and exposing for sale of such devices in the same shop" and quoted R v Venus Shop Ltd. T. 46/80.

What has concerned the Tribunal is the fact that each catalogue shows photographs of semi-nude women posed in contrived and provocative positions. These photographs bear no relationship to the different illustrations in the text and it can only be assumed that they are included to enhance sales by appealing to the salacious and prurient. Without the photographs the Tribunal would consider an age restriction, but in their present form it considered that the public good requires that they be classified as indecent.

Before the Indecent Publications Tribunal

IN the matter of the Indecent Publications Act 1963, and in the matter of a reference to the Indecent Publications Tribunal by the Minister of Justice of the following publication:

How to Make Love to a Single Woman, published by Eric Weber Press, U.S.A.

Judge W. M. Willis (Chairman), Mrs H. B. Dick, Mr J. V. B. McLinden.

Hearing: 4 November 1980.

Appearances: No appearance of importer, Music World Ltd.

DECISION

THIS publication comes before the Tribunal by leave given by the Minister of Justice on 20 May 1980 to Music World Ltd., a Christchurch company.

The book is a hard back publication measuring 215 mm × 285 mm containing approximately 119 pages of printed text and black and white photographs.

The book appears to have been published in 1975 and the author has maintained his anonymity by the use of a pseudonym.

The publication came before the Tribunal as a bald reference, without the benefit of submission from either the Minister of Justice or by Music World Ltd., the importer. The absence of any submission has only helped to heighten the difficulty the Tribunal has had in coming to a decision about this publication.

Our difficulty has centred around the fact that the publication inculcates a sophisticated approach and attitude to sexual relationships with their female partners and the fact that the publication may have a deleterious effect on young readers.

The author's stated purposes in writing the book are best expressed in the following words taken from his introduction (page 3):

"But frankly, I've written this book for you guys. I want you to have the attitude and techniques you need to be a dynamite lover. And practice will make you perfect.

Remember, all the world loves a lover, but nobody loves him more than a single girl!"

Expressed loosely, the author advocates a 'live and let live' attitude to sex. It is a hedonistic and casual attitude towards sexual relations, and could be described as promiscuous (a term that has become rather old fashioned in our permissive society).

Within the bounds of its approach to sexual relations the book is well written, and it not only provides a guide to the physical techniques of lovemaking, but traverses the desirability of emotional considerations in sexual relationships.

The author appears to contend that although attitudes to lovemaking have become more liberal, there is still a broad etiquette to be followed if one wishes to be a 'successful' lover.

The author's advice concerning the niceties of male/female relationships may have some value to the mature reader. The Tribunal's concern as expressed already, has been to try and assess the effect of the author's advice, on young readers.

That is a matter that is relevant because of the provisions of section 11 (1) (e) of the Indecent Publications Act which we are bound to consider, namely:

"Whether any person is likely to be corrupted by reading the book . . ."

Insofar as the publication could be said to undermine (in an indirect fashion) our modern society's attitude to marriage through its advocacy of promiscuity and permissiveness, the book could be said to be corruptive, especially of younger readers.

While we apprehend the possibility that younger readers might be corrupted, we have had difficulty in assessing the likelihood of corruption arising because of the intangible nature of the danger with which we are dealing.

After reflecting on the values and standards present in modern New Zealand society we feel it would be an over-reaction to describe this publication as a threat to the place of marriage or responsible sexual relationships.

We think the publication is aimed at young men in their late teens through to their 20s, and it would have limited appeal to most other readers.

It is our view that many young men go through a stage in their lives when they have casual relationships (which could hardly be described as abnormal) with the opposite sex.

This book has been written to cater for that limited market and we predict the adolescent reader being interested in the philosophy expounded in the book, only as a passing phase in his development.

After due consideration we have decided that this book should not be excluded from the material available at present. However, we think because of the frank text and accompanying photographs, the publication is undesirable for open sale. For this reason we propose to classify the publication indecent in the hands of any person under the age of 16.

Dated at Wellington this 3rd day of August 1981.

Before the Indecent Publications Tribunal,

IN the matter of the Indecent Publications Act 1963, and in the matter of a reference to the Indecent Publications Tribunal by the Comptroller of Customs of the following publication:

Sexual Dimensions published by Ax Productions, Dayton, Ohio, U.S.A.

Judge W. M. Willis (Chairman), Mesdames H. B. Dick, L. P. Nikera, Messrs J. V. B. McLinden, I. W. Malcolm.

Hearing: 5 February 1981.

Decision: 6 August 1981.

Appearances: Mr P. F. M. Leloir for the Comptroller of Customs. Submissions from the importer, Waverley Publishing Co. Ltd.

DECISION

Sexual Dimension is a non-fiction, soft covered book, 114 pages long.

It appears to have been published in 1970 by Ax Productions in affiliation with an association called "Americans for Contemporary Sex Ethics".

The stated aim of the book in the foreword is to be "an attempt at a modern and thorough study of the relevance of genital size to sexual performance . . . because there seems to be a real need for the shedding of some academic light on what has been traditionally a subject obscured by ignorance, false modesty, pornographic mythology, scientific conservatism and a dearth of reliable data".

In the course of its chapters the book discusses such questions as facts and fantasy relating to both male and female genitalia, setting most of the information out with an interesting background of the legal, medical and historical context of the matters under discussion.

This is an unusual work, as recognised by both the importer, Waverley Publishing Co. Limited, and the Comptroller of Customs.

As the importer stated:

"This is a serious and informative publication, which details various facts and myths. The format of this publication, however, does not lend itself suitable for general and unrestricted distribution and we would therefore respectfully submit that an age restriction be applied."

Mr Leloir in his submissions on behalf of the Comptroller of Customs acknowledged the points made by the importer, and made a similar submission that although the publication was not directed to the arousal of a prurient interest, it was not suitable for young persons because of the explicitness of detail relating to sexual matters. The Tribunal accepts to a degree the submissions of both the importer and the Comptroller.

We think sex education is an important part of a teenager's attempt to comprehend and cope with the complexities of modern society. While we do not feel that this book has been directed at the education of young adults, its content, nevertheless, is largely factual, and it deals with difficult issues of sexuality which may be just as relevant to adolescents as to mature adults.

For this reason we direct that the book shall be indecent in the hands of persons under the age of 16.

Before the Indecent Publications Tribunal

IN the matter of the Indecent Publications Act 1963, and in the matter of an application by the Comptroller of Customs for a decision in respect of the following publication:

Penthouse Volume 11, Nos. 9 and 10 (May and June 1980) published by Penthouse International Ltd. of New York.

Judge W. M. Willis (Chairman), Mesdames H. B. Dick, L. P. Nikera, Messrs J. V. B. McLinden, I. W. Malcolm.

Hearing: 21 July 1981.

Decision: 6 August 1981.

Appearances: Mr P. E. Leloir for Comptroller of Customs. Written submissions for importers, B. Armstrong and J. Smythe.

DECISION

THESE issues of Penthouse were submitted following seizure in January 1981. Forfeiture was disputed by each importer. In decision No. 936 given in December 1979 the Tribunal made a two-year restriction order in respect of Penthouse declaring it to be indecent in the hands of persons under the age of 18 years. In the absence of an application to revoke or vary the restriction order the Tribunal doubts its jurisdiction to hold these two editions indecent. It should be made clear that but for the presence of the restriction order the Tribunal would have no doubt that they would hold it to be indecent. By decision 845 and in respect of Penthouse International Magazine Volume 5, No. 11, the then Tribunal held that it had power to declare a publication indecent notwithstanding a two-year restriction order classifying it as indecent in the hands of persons under the age of 18. In the present case the Comptroller has made no application to vary or revoke the two-year restriction order and as both importers made written submission, he did not feel inclined to consider the application for classification as one to vary or revoke. The Tribunal doubts its jurisdiction to classify these two copies as indecent and proposes to refer the matter to the High Court for guidance. It should be mentioned that Mr Armstrong has specifically raised the question of jurisdiction so that it becomes desirable to have the matter clarified.

Before the Indecent Publications Tribunal

IN the matter of an application by the Comptroller of Customs for a decision in respect of the following publications:

Gone From the Valley, author John Vergara, and Ship's Surgeon, author Richard Pierce, both published by Manor Books (Inc.), 432 Park Avenue South, New York.

Judge W. M. Willis (Chairman); Mesdames H. B. Dick, L. P. Nikera; Messrs J. V. B. McLinden, I. M. Malcolm.

Hearing: 21 July 1981.

Decision: 6 August 1981.

Appearances: Mr P. E. Leloir for Comptroller of Customs. Written submissions by importer, Shop Six.

DECISION

THESE single copies were imported and seized on 11 March 1981. Forfeiture has been disputed so that the matter has been referred to the Tribunal so that the books may be classified.

In respect of Gone From the Valley the Comptroller's submissions were brief. He said this was called the story of a small town girl who goes to New York. It is full of sexual episodes, some of them in explicit detail and often couched in crude language. While the Tribunal would not go so far as to say it was full of sexual episodes there are enough, all of which are in explicit detail and all of which are couched in crude language.

So far as Ship's Surgeon is concerned it is described by the Comptroller as a story of a newly qualified doctor who gets a job on a cruise ship. He goes on to say that the story is merely a collection of sexual episodes, many in explicit detail and some couched in crude language. Once again the Tribunal would not call it merely a collection of sexual episodes. There are, however, enough of them all being described in explicit detail and all couched in crude language.

His final submission was that both books have little literary merit to offset the heavy concentration on the lewd and prurient aspects of sex. He submitted that they should be classified as indecent because they are injurious to the public good.

The importer described the books as works of fiction which are worthy of neither praise nor condemnation. He says there is perhaps the occasional explicit sexual description but taken as a whole both books have a distinct lack of ability to arouse any strong feelings one way or the other. The Tribunal considers neither book of any literary value. The sexual episodes are, as already stated, couched in the coarsest of language which would have an appeal only for the lewd and prurient. It is the Tribunal's view that the books are injurious to the public good and should, therefore, be classified as indecent. They are so classified.

The seventh revised edition, augmented by the advisory committee on the teaching of Maori language.

DIRECTIONS FOR EDUCATIONAL DEVELOPMENT
A REPORT PREPARED BY THE ADVISORY COUNCIL ON EDUCATIONAL PLANNING

141 p. 1975. $2.50

This report marks the culmination of the activities of the Educational Development Conference. The Advisory Council has recommended the directions it considers New Zealand education should go in the next 5 or 10 years.

Five principal areas are identified as requiring attention. Education is seen as a lifelong activity, and emphasis is therefore placed on the "foundations"—early childhood education, the school curriculum and special provisions for special needs, and parent education.

Special attention is given also to the relationship between the school and the community, the need for close mutual support and co-operation, including understanding and respect for minority cultures.

A key to the quality of education is the people involved in it. Teacher education, the availability of advisory and ancillary staff, as well as resources for materials and research, have a chapter devoted to them.

Since education is seen as a lifelong activity, this is considered at some length. Facets such as accessibility, transfer of credits, and the role of existing institutions are discussed, together with ways in which continuing education could be provided for the whole community.

In discussing the administration and organisation of education the principle followed is the maximum devolution of authority and responsibility to the agencies and the community, as for instance, school committee and district level.

EFFECTIVE DISCUSSION

52 p. $1.15 plus 35c p & p

Although originally written for staff training purposes in the Public Service, this booklet became popular with outside organisations as a guide to the conduct of meetings. It describes planning and organising both large and small group discussions and contains many useful hints which will help the discussion leader to get the best out of his group, whether he is an old hand or a novice at leading discussions. Also included are lists of books for further reading and recommended films. (State Services Commission.)

New chapters include mountaineering, ski-ing, high climbing, ornithology, climatology and Maori history.

FETTERED FREEDOM—A SYMBIOTIC SOCIETY OF ANARCHY

By B. L. Dallard

DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE

162 p. 1980 $8.95 plus 70c p & p

In this book on penal sanctions Mr Dallard sets out the conclusions of a life time experience and a vast fund of knowledge. His historical survey of prisons and imprisonment of earlier times reveals the penal philosophy and the administrative practices which we now find appalling and intolerable. Mr Dallard's comments on the controversial topics of homosexual behaviour and of capital and corporal punishment, both now abolished, are revealing and provocative.

FISHING METHODS AND DEVICES OF THE MAORI

By Elsdon Best

264 p. $15.95 plus $1.25 p & p

Another in the series of the Best publications, it has been reprinted without revision so that the basic studies may be accessible in the original style.

This particular bulletin still remains the only comprehensive account of most aspects of Maori fishing. The descriptions of methods employed in fishing given here are still quite basic for any future studies in this field since no first-hand observations can now be made. The detailed fishing methods outlined are accompanied by descriptions of the artifacts used, together with associated chants, magic formulae, special observances, and fishing lore.
