Decision No. 22/81

Com. 33/81

Before the Broadcasting Tribunal

IN the matter of the Broadcasting Act 1976, and in the matter of a complaint by John Daniel Barnett.

WARRANT HOLDER: Broadcasting Corporation of New Zealand—Television New Zealand Network 1

B. H. Slane, Chairman.
Lionel R. Sceats, Member.
Gordon C. Ell, Co-opted Member.
S. H. Gardiner, Co-opted Member.

Decision

Mr Barnett was interviewed for a current affairs television programme "Midweek" broadcast 7 January 1981. His complaint arose out of the arrangements prior to the interview, the events at the interview and the subsequent editing and presentation of the programme. The general grounds of complaint were:

- (a) That the programme shown was a biased and incorrect piece of reporting.
- (b) The complainant was deceived into taking part in the programme by deliberate misrepresentation of its nature and purpose and was then misrepresented in the programme.
- (c) The reporter approached the topic from a preconceived point of view and the interview constituted a biased and sensational treatment of topics which it was known the complainant did not wish to discuss and the resultant material was edited and presented to accord to this point of view.
- (d) The programme failed to meet normal journalistic standards of correct and fair reporting.
- (e) Commentary material in the programme is incorrect, and in several instances contained matter not put to the complainant, although a viewer might believe that the involvement of the complainant authenticated its accuracy.

On 12 May 1981 the Corporation declined to uphold the complaint noting a divergence of views between Mr Barnett and staff reports. It considered staff reports rebutted the complainant's allegations or provided reasonable justification for what transpired.

"An impression gained from viewing a tape was of a responsible approach by the interviewer and a performance by the complainant that showed a reasonable response even though it incorporated his objection to one aspect of the interview," the Corporation told Mr. Barnett.

The Tribunal heard evidence from Mr Barnett, Miss D. J. Shanahan the reporter, Mr G. E. Wilson, head of current affairs, Mr T. H. Carter, northern editor current affairs, and read a letter from the producer of the programme Mr B. O'Brien (now in Australia) and from one of the other participants. A tape of the programme was viewed.

At the hearing of the complaint (which lasted some 4 hours) the events which led up to the interview, the interview and the attitude to the participants were canvassed in considerable detail.

We do not intend to traverse all the evidence.

The Television Rules and Standards provide that in the preparation and presentation of programmes broadcasters are required:

- (a) To be trustful and accurate on points of fact.
- (e) To deal justly and fairly with any person taking part or referred to in any programme.
- (g) To show balance, impartiality and fairness in dealing with political matters, current affairs, and all questions of a controversial nature.

A television news and current affairs service has to take into account:

- (f) Great care must be taken in the editing of programme material to ensure that the extracts used are a true reflection and not a distortion of the original event or the overall views expressed.

Section 24 (1) Broadcasting Act 1976 requires the Corporation to have regard to—

- (d) The accurate and impartial gathering and presentation of news, according to recognised standards of objective journalism.

PREPARATION

We heard considerable evidence about the arrangements and discussions which led up to the actual interview. We cannot find that in the preparation for the programme Mr Barnett was unjustly dealt with. When the question was put to him he had to agree that he could not say that he believed there was an arrangement with the reporter not to ask certain questions. He in fact hoped and trusted that she would not canvass the matters which he did not wish to talk about.

It is quite likely that she conveyed that impression to him, but the questions were relevant even to the wider topic he believed the programme was being made about, and in the absence of an agreement to confine the interview to only some matters or to exclude certain matters then Mr Barnett, in our opinion, cannot complain that these questions were eventually put to him in the interview.

As to the interview we have, besides watching the programme, read a transcript.

While we must bear in mind that a different impression can be given of a programme by reading a transcript than by watching the programme, we had no difficulty finding the programme was flawed in a number of respects.

Some factors should be borne in mind. The programme was prepared under pressure and Mr Barnett was preoccupied. He was in the midst of producing a film at Queenstown. Both appeared to have been confused.

There is no doubt, also, that Mr Barnett would have been sensitive to some of the remarks made and the way the programme was put together, possibly because there have been other pressures and criticisms of him which would be unknown to the general viewing audience.

PRODUCTION

The objectionable features fall into the following categories:

1. In the following passage Mr Barnett is being interviewed by Miss Shanahan. He concludes a statement about the making of the film Yankee Zephyr.

"... it has promoted New Zealand in a way that has never been done before by any film that has taken place here."

Shanahan: "And that it may do but the Yankee Zephyr has raised other problems. One of the criticisms that has been made about Yankee Zephyr is for example, that when the initial auditions were done it was said that there were going to be 24 speaking parts . . ."

Barnett: "I'm not going to talk about that. We didn't agree to talk about this at all."

Shanahan: "Well I think its a fact that's been discussed . . ."

Barnett: "No I'm not going to talk about that. We will talk about the film industry."

Shanahan (V/O): "John Barnett refuses to discuss the problems he's had with local actors who at one stage threatened to blacklist him."

Barnett: "I want that clear. I am not talking about Actors Equity, I am talking about the film industry."

Shanahan: "The film industry—Actors Equity is part of the film industry."

Barnett: "No, Actors Equity is no more part . . . (pulls microphone off).

The film continued with a statement by another interviewee that the New Zealand actor was just being ripped off.

The Tribunal considers that there is no justification for the extended showing of this scene which appeared to have been left in the interview for its dramatic quality rather than for the information value. It would have been justifiable to have shown Mr Barnett initially refusing to answer the question but to have continued to the length shown was not fair to Mr Barnett.

In this respect the programme did not deal fairly with Mr Barnett.

2. On two occasions Mr Barnett is shown answering a question but the question itself is not stated and the passage beforehand, a spoken piece by Miss Shanahan, does not fairly lead into the answer. In one case Mr Barnett starts his answer with "That's not a rip off" when there is nothing in the preceding passage to indicate that there was an allegation of a rip off. The viewer could therefore assume that Mr Barnett was feeling guilty or had accepted that there was some implication in what Miss Shanahan had just finished saying that there was a rip off.

In another passage Miss Shanahan said "So if the industry is to survive should the big boys be allowed in unchecked or should we be trying to make films as the Australians have done that are successful without being American copies?"

Mr Barnett's answer begins with

"Well I object to them being referred to as New Zealand films because it sort of implies that they don't have a glossy level of production . . ."

In both these passages Mr Barnett is put in a defensive situation which is not logically in context with the preceding statements.

In these respects the programme was in breach of the editing rule.

3. There are statements of arguable accuracy which reflect on Mr Barnett and the production of Yankee Zephyr.

Miss Shanahan says at one stage, "It's the Yankee Zephyr film made in Queenstown last year that has made people sit up. It was New Zealand's biggest ever production—money was no problem but the key positions were taken by people from overseas. The film was kicked out of Australia because of problems with Actors Equity. There were 2 deaths on the set, 6 stop-work meetings and some walk outs."

As to the 2 deaths on the set, one person died as a result of a medical condition on the set, and the other person died in a river accident while seeking locations. We fail to see the relevance of mentioning these two events as evidence of a film beset with troubles.

Both deaths did not take place on the set although it could have been said that both took place while on location. The implication could be taken that the deaths were in some way due to mismanagement or lack of safety. This reference is gratuitous.

Mr Barnett denies that there were 6 stop-work meetings and some walk outs. He gave detailed evidence specifying the industrial incidents on location. No evidence was brought to support the programme's version, except Miss Shanahan's stating that she was satisfied that the statements were true. That of course does not necessarily make them facts.

The programme, in these respects, breached the standards for fairness and accuracy.

4. There are a number of statements in the report referring to the making of a film in New Zealand which viewers would reasonably understand to be a reference to the making of the Yankee Zephyr of which Mr Barnett was producer. Not all these statements appeared to have been put to him and yet the course of the programme could have suggested that he had failed to answer such basic criticisms.

In these respects the programme breached the standards for fairness.

5. Mr Barnett had requested a tape of the interview before giving the interview and understood that this would be made available to him. Miss Shanahan believed that she was merely to pass on the request. The Corporation's policy is not to supply a recording or transcript of the full interview but the Corporation did after some delay, provide a transcript of the finished programme.

We cannot find that the failure to supply the tape was unfair treatment.

We make the general observation that the programme was not of a high standard as was acknowledged by Mr Carter.

Mr Barnett objected that the Corporation found on the basis of reports of Television New Zealand's staff, as to all circumstances outlined in the complaint that they "provided either a total rebuttal of the complainant's allegations or reasonable justification for what transpired."

Mr Barnett objected that the Corporation could not properly deal with such matters which involved arguments about facts and incidents and the credibility of evidence without having given him a hearing.

We acknowledge the difficulties the Corporation has in dealing with credibility and merely comment that there will be occasions when the Corporation ought to consider a committee of the board meeting the complainant person to person and putting to him the responses of the staff of his complaints.

It is not for the Tribunal however to lay down the procedures of the Corporation but to deal with the outcome of the complaint by the Corporation.

That we do by making the following findings:

The complainant was not unfairly treated in the preparations leading up to the interview.

The programme itself breached the standards as set out in paragraphs 1, 2, 3 and 4 above. The programme in these respects failed to meet the standards of accurate and impartial presentation of news in accordance with the recognised standards of objective journalism.

In all other respects, Mr Barnett's allegations and complaints have not been proved.

The complaint is therefore upheld in part.

Co-opted Members—

Messrs Ell and Gardiner were co-opted as persons whose qualifications and experience were likely to be of assistance to the Tribunal in dealing with the complaint. They took part in the hearing and the deliberations of the Tribunal but the decision, in accordance with the Act, is that of the permanent members.

Dated this 15th day of October 1981.

For the Tribunal:

B. H. SLANE, Chairman.

The Standards Act 1965—Draft New Zealand Standard Specification Available for Comment

PURSUANT to subsection (3) of section 23 of the Standards Act 1965, notice is hereby given that the following draft New Zealand standard specification is being circulated.

Number and Title of Specification

DZ 5812 Industrial protective gloves. $5.

This draft standard provides safety requirements for the manufacture of industrial protective gloves and makes recommendations for the selection of gloves for protection against particular industrial hazards. It applies to 23 types of glove in the following five groups: Thread-sewn (including leather, asbestos, fabric, loop pile, and coated fabrics); PVC-coated; rubber; chain mail; and machine knit.

The Standard updates and will ultimately replace NZS 1988:1965 Industrial protective gloves and NZSR 9:1965 The use of industrial protective gloves.

All persons who may be affected by this publication and who desire to comment thereon, may obtain copies at the price shown, from the Standards Association of New Zealand, Wellington Trade Centre, 15-23 Sturdee Street (or Private Bag), Wellington.

NOTE—Payment must accompany all requests for drafts.

The closing date for receipt of comment is 12 February 1982.

Dated at Wellington this 22nd day of October 1981.

LIQUIDATION ALTERNATIVE

MANY accountants and solicitors still recommend liquidation of companies which have ceased trading. We do not know of any case where an alternative we can offer would not increase the return to shareholders by thousands of dollars. We will disclose this alternative to any genuine inquirer with a specific case to analyse but not otherwise.

QUILLARS LTD.

IN RECEIVERSHIP, IN LIQUIDATION

TAKE notice that the High Court did on 14 October 1981 dismiss a petition that this company be wound up by the Court. Thus my appointment in terms of a members' voluntary winding up was left to stand. However, at that time I did undertake to consult with creditors, through a committee, should certain circumstances arise.

Thus, for the purpose of electing such a committee, a meeting of creditors is called for 10 a.m. on Wednesday, 11 November 1981, in the Boardroom, N.Z. Founders Society, Wakefield House, The Terrace, Wellington.

Even though this meeting is an informal one, its procedures will be conducted in keeping with the provisions of the Companies Winding Up Rules 1956. That is, inter alia, attendance and voting will be governed by the submission of proofs of debt and where appropriate of proxies.

Any creditor who may wish to attend this meeting shall submit to the liquidator a proof of debt and where necessary a form of proxy duly completed in terms of the Companies Winding Up Rules 1956. These are to be in his hands by 6 November 1981.

This date of 6 November is also fixed as the day on or before which the creditors of the company are to prove their debts or claims and to establish any title they may have to priority under section 308 of the Companies Act 1955 or to be excluded from the benefit of any distribution made before the debts are proved or as the case may be, from objecting to the distribution.

SHADOW OF THE LAND
By Ian Wards

422 p. 1968.

$9

The title for this book was provided by Nopera Panakarero, a Kaitaia chief of much influence, who, in May 1840, believed that only the "shadow of the land" had gone to Queen Victoria whilst the substance remained with the Maoris. Less than a year later he revised this opinion convinced that only the "shadow" would be the Maori portion.

The author examines the British acquisition of New Zealand, the Maoris, trust in the Treaty of Waitangi, and their confidence that its terms would be honoured and explains it was only by accident that the Maoris were guaranteed the possession of their lands and ancient privileges.

It is under these circumstances that the book considers the use of military force in New Zealand, analyses the arguments surrounding the provision of troops and concludes that, beyond any reasonable doubt that there was never an attempt to govern by "moral suasion".

New Zealand followed the normal nineteenth century British pattern of territorial acquisition.

The book is an essential introduction to the Maori wars of a later date.
