Environmental Impact Report Notified—Proposed Rail Line Mission Bush to Mātoro

In August 1980 NZ Steel Ltd. produced an environmental impact report on the proposed expansion of the iron and steel production facilities at their Glenbrook plant. In auditing that report the Commission for the Environment recommended that the company prepare a further environmental impact report on the transport of concentrate which:

- (a) Fully evaluates the advantages and disadvantages of all practicable options for transporting the concentrate.
- (b) Gives consideration to the tangible as well as intangible costs and benefits of each option.
- (c) Assesses in detail the environmental implications of the proposed option.

NZ Steel Ltd. have prepared a report on "Transport of Ironsand Concentrate" which explores the advantages and disadvantages of transport options, as recommended in the audit. In this report the company concludes that the transport of ironsand concentrate by rail is the preferred option. The audit process will relate to the environmental implications of this choice and public submissions can take full account of the company's report as well as the Environmental Impact Report prepared by NZ Railways on the proposed rail line.

The Commission invites submissions from the public. These should be addressed to the Commission for the Environment, P.O. Box 10241, Wellington, and should reach the Commission by 18 February 1982.

Copies of the Environmental Impact Report may be obtained from the Manager, NZ Steel Ltd., Glenbrook; from the District Engineer, NZ Railways Department, Private Bag, Auckland; and from Second Floor of Auckland Main Railway Station at a cost of $10. Free copies of the transport report are also available.

Copies of both reports may also be seen at Waiuku Public Library and Pukekohe Public Library as well as at the main libraries of Auckland, Wellington, Christchurch and Dunedin and the seven University Institutions.

Dated this 10th day of December 1981.

K. W. PIDDINGTON,
Commissioner for the Environment.

Volumes I and II of Flora of New Zealand were concerned with native plants. The authors call volume III a "weed flora". The book is an identification manual, intended for agriculturists concerned with weed control, for botanists making vegetation surveys, and for anyone who needs to identify those weedy plants.

FOREST LORE OF THE MAORI

By Elsdon Best

DOMINION MUSEUM BULLETIN No. 14

421 p. 1977. $17.95 plus $1.25 p & p

Printed without textual alteration, the work provides an important basis for any study of old-time Maori economics and perhaps more important of his attitude to what was a major part of his environment. It will be more of general interest today than when first written, since it stresses so fully the uses made by the Maori people of their natural resources, and supplies basic materials for further studies in ethnobotany and ethnozoology. The reverence which the old time Maori showed towards natural resources mirrors the modern concern for ecological principles.

86 p. 1978. $3.25 plus 45c p & p

The present text replaces earlier editions of the bulletin. Important factors to consider when establishing a tomato-growing glasshouse, are lighting, soil type, site, water supply, shelter, and proximity to a market. These as well as general cultural practices are dealt with in this bulletin.

The text has, however, also been written with the general reader in mind.

LIVING LETTERS

STATE SERVICES COMMISSION

36 p. 1980 reprint. $1.75 plus 45c p & p

One of the aims in letter writing is to get ideas across to the reader clearly and briefly. But do letters always say what is meant? Even if they are clear to the writer, will the reader understand them easily? If you are still using the old clichés of "acknowledging receipt of", "according to our records", and "enclosed please find" it is almost certainly time to change your attitude to writing living letters.

MAORI RELIGION AND MYTHOLOGY PART 1

NATIONAL MUSEUM BULLETIN No. 10

An account of the theory of the universe and its creation, study of the origin of man, religious beliefs, rites, magic and folklore of the Maori people of New Zealand. First published in 1924, reprinted without textual alterations and retaining the original bulletin numbers. (Government Printer.)

MAORI AGRICULTURE

By Elsdon Best

NATIONAL MUSEUM BULLETIN No. 9

315 p. 1976. $13.50 plus $1.25 p & p

The only comprehensive study of Maori agriculture available, this bulletin adds a further volume to the series of Elsdon Best's works which the Government Printer undertook to reprint preserving the original text and bulletin numbers. I recommend this book and the series as a whole; to collectors, archaeologists, and to those studying the prehistoric economy of the Maori people. (Government Printer.)

THE MAORI AS HE WAS

By Elsdon Best

295 p. 1974 reprint. $6.50 plus 70c p & p

Fifty years of public demand since this book was first published resulted in the need for reprints in 1934 and 1952. The text has been reproduced unchanged but the originals of some of the figures could not be traced and these have been replaced with similar illustrations. There have been many advances in our knowledge of Maori life since this book first appeared. The work of numerous ethnologists, and more recently archaeologists, has critically examined many of the earlier concepts, confirming some, disproving others, and altering others to varying degrees. No one has yet produced a synthesis of the results of all this scholarship and there is still nothing as comprehensive as this book of Best's to give a general account of the Maori. This book was first published when Best was 68 and thus represents the accumulated knowledge of a lifetime. It has now become a classic introduction to Maori life. Its continued availability should help the reader to obtain a basic background to old time Maori life which can be extended by further reading.

THE MAORI CANOE

By Elsdon Best

NATIONAL MUSEUM BULLETIN No. 7

451 p. 1976. $17.50 plus $1.25 p & p

A reprinted edition without textual alterations and retaining the old Dominion Museum number. Another example of Elsdon Best's dedicated effort to preserve Maori culture. The material presented on canoes, their materials, types, methods of construction, and associated artifacts make interesting reading for the layman as well as for scholars of the Maori. (Government Printer.)
