Decision No. 12/82

BRO. 12/82

Before the Broadcasting Tribunal

IN THE MATTER of the Broadcasting Act 1976, and IN THE MATTER of an application by MASSEY UNIVERSITY STUDENTS ASSOCIATION INC. for a short-term broadcasting authorisation for a frequency modulation sound-radio broadcasting station:

B. H. Slane, Chairman; Lionel R. Sceats, Member, Murray J. Henshall, Deputy Member.

REASONS FOR DECISION

THE applicant applied to broadcast for a period starting on 24 April 1982 and finishing on 8 May 1982 for 6 hours daily from 7 p.m. to 1 a.m. and on weekends for 18 hours daily from 7 a.m. until 1 a.m. the following morning. (The applicant had already received an AM authorisation for the same period. The applicant wished to broadcast AM during weekdays and broadcast FM in the weekends and weekday evenings.) The proposed programme would be album oriented rock music, student news and information and the promotion of student activities. No advertising was proposed for the FM broadcasts.

The purpose of the broadcast was stated to be:

- (i) To promote Massey University capping 1982.
- (ii) To provide student orientated entertainment and information in the form of stereo music, and campus and student news.
- (iii) To provide a working broadcasting environment from which students can learn various aspects, including AM and FM of the broadcasting industry.
- (iv) To provide information on activities at Palmerston North Teachers College and Palmerston North Technical Institute.

It was expected that the advertising revenue from the AM broadcast would cover the cost of FM broadcasting. It was also said that the students had a desire for some FM broadcasting and a trial would be suited to Radio Massey.

The Registrar asked the applicant to explain the difference between the programme format for the FM broadcasting which had been stated to be entirely different. In response the applicant emphasised that the intention was to promote Massey University capping and to provide student news and information. These purposes were the same for AM and FM broadcasts. But they said that the AM format would consist of mainly album orientated rock, playing alternative music that appealed to mainly a young age group 14-34 years of age. For FM it was considered that they could not restrict their music to merely album oriented rock and they proposed to play an extremely wide variety of music to cater for all different styles of people and their tastes. If their authorisation was approved they would see more than just the student population tuning in to FM, which would justify and warrant their wider selection of music.

The programme format would be comprised of 2-hour shows compared with the 3-hour AM shows and featuring such music as rock, jazz, classical blues, new wave, sea and reggae with additional shows featuring new releases and New Zealand bands. The other 20 percent of their air time would be devoted to the objectives stated above in conjunction with interviews with band members and other interesting and influential people from around the Manawatu, live tapes of local bands, talkback shows and local current events.

The Broadcasting Corporation took no objection to the application but made two observations: that no interference with television was anticipated, and that the 15-mile radius coverage was considered suspect although Palmerston North should receive coverage. ~~The Corporation also asked about audio-limiters.~~

On 14 April the station manager for Manawatu Radio Co. Ltd. telephoned his objection and confirmed the details by letter.

The grounds for objection were:

- "1. The proposed FM broadcast is for 'an extremely wide variety of music' with 'more than just the student population tuning in'. In our view this goes well beyond the purposes for which short-term warrants have been granted for student radio stations up until now.
- "2. This company has given the Tribunal notice of its intention to be interested in an FM warrant application for this area at the appropriate time and to grant an FM application at this stage, in our view, pre-empt the situation.
- "3. Concern has already been expressed by our company that the short-term warrant applications by the Massey University Students Association this year have been longer in duration than required to cover orientation and capping. The earlier short-term warrant has been monitored and the broadcasts—especially the commercials—have gone well beyond the student-oriented activity. As a result, our company has decided to object to the extra short-term warrant sought by the Massey University Students Association and this late application for FM broadcasts has accelerated our views in this respect."

The company was prepared to be heard in support of its objection.

The Tribunal considered the application and the objections and the comments received and decided to waive the 2-month period required for the lodging of such application and to grant the application. There appeared to be no need for an oral hearing having regard to the nature and period of broadcast and the reasons for objection.

The application was to broadcast for a fortnight. The Tribunal had considered previously some questions in relation to student association short-term authorisations which were set out in a decision 3/81. The grant of the application would be consistent with the decision given in respect of those applications.

The Tribunal has conducted an inquiry into FM broadcasting and produced a report to the Minister of Broadcasting. That report has substantially been adopted by the Government and short-term broadcasting authorisations for FM purposes were contemplated in the report. That recommendation was specifically endorsed and incorporated in the direction of the Minister of Broadcasting to the Tribunal.

The FM broadcasts are non-commercial and although the applicant has stated some wider purpose the authorisation will only be issued on the basis of the station providing an entertainment and information service to students during capping and other campus activities. So long as the station fulfills that purpose the information broadcast will tend to confine the audience generally to those involved in or interested in student activities. It is unlikely that a station oriented to a student audience of this kind will attract a mass audience. Indeed the style and the information directed to a student audience is likely to prove much less appealing to those outside the student environment and would be positively off-putting to those whose education is much more limited.

There is no evidence that FM broadcasts of this kind attract a significantly large audience and this broadcast would be an opportunity to assess any such audience. The short nature of the authorisation gives an opportunity for an appraisal of the decision at a later stage in respect of any further applications. Although the applicant would be entitled to apply for a series of authorisations under legislation (which was passed in contemplation of student broadcasting requirements) the grant of this application does not prevent a consideration of any future application on its merits.

With regard to the specific objections of the private warrant holder, we have dealt with the first one.

We consider the submission that 2XS has indicated an interest in FM broadcasting in the future, as a ground for denying any short-term broadcasting authorisations for FM in the area is completely misfounded. First it presumes that only that company has a right to be considered in relation to the broadcasting of programmes in the FM mode. Secondly it ignores the direction from the Minister of Broadcasting and the report of the Tribunal on the introduction of FM broadcasting. Thirdly, there has been nothing to prevent Station 2XS applying for a short-term broadcasting authorisation if it wished to provide an FM service for any specific community purpose on a non-commercial basis.

With regard to the third objection we refer to the place of student broadcasting in our decision referred to above. We do not believe we need to expand on that, but we remain willing to consider on their merits any objections that might be raised to grants of short-term broadcasting authorisations, particularly where some objection can be taken on the grounds of past performance of the station.

We do, however, remind objectors who see a competitive situation arising that their espousal of the virtues of competition should be borne in mind beyond the date of the grant of their own warrant applications.

No argument was put forward that the grant of the application would do any harm to the existing warrant holders. Indeed the indication is given that this particular application is not being objected to on the third ground for any particular reason other than the policy decision of the warrant holder in the area to start objecting to student applications in future.

In all the circumstances the Tribunal considers it is in the public interest after taking all factors into account that this authorisation be approved for a period of 2 weeks.

For the Tribunal:

B. H. SLANE, Chairman.

Dated the 23rd day of July 1982.

Decision No. 11/82

BRO 18/82

Before the Broadcasting Tribunal

IN THE MATTER of the Broadcasting Act 1976, and IN THE MATTER of an application by AUCKLAND UNIVERSITY STUDENTS' ASSOCIATION INC. for a short term broadcasting authorisation:

B. H. Slane, Chairman, Lionel R. Sceats, member.

Counsel:

A. Dormer—for the Applicant.

B. Hudson—for the Broadcasting Corporation of New Zealand.

B. G. Impey—for the Independent Broadcasters' Association Inc.

REASONS FOR DECISION

THE applicant applied for a short term broadcasting authorisation to permit broadcasts during the second term at the University from 30 May to 14 August 1982 and during the third term from 5 September to 27 November 1982.

It was proposed that the station (known as Radio B) would broadcast from 1600 hours until 0100 hours on the following morning on weekdays and from 0700 to 0100 hours on the following day on Saturdays and Sundays.

The total maximum hours of broadcasts for the 2 periods stated above would be 891 and 972 respectively—a total of 1863 hours. The proposed station would be used to provide information to staff and students of the University, to promote the activities of clubs and societies and welfare and other services available to students, to promote cultural events that have relevance to the audience, to provide a progressive and alternative music programme, to feature and promote original New Zealand music, to provide specialist music programmes such as jazz, blues, reggae and ethnic music, and to provide an outlet for advertisers who offer products or services of relevance to the audience.

The station has broadcast previously under short term authorisations.

An advertised public sitting was held at the request of Radio I Ltd. which proposed to object to the application. Part of the objection was on technical grounds which we will refer to later.

The principal objection was on a matter of principle that the authorisation would establish broadcasting over periods extending over the greater part of the year with a significant commercial content.

Radio I Ltd. subsequently withdrew its objection and did not appear at the hearing.

However the Independent Broadcasters Association appeared as an objector but did not formally oppose the grant. In effect Mr Impey appeared on behalf of other private warrant holders who he said supported student radio as a training ground and had supported Radio B in practical ways. The IBA wanted policy to be laid down by the Tribunal rather than to prevent Radio B from going to air. It was concerned about a series of short term authorisations and suggested the station should apply for a full time warrant rather than use a backdoor method. He submitted that there was a blurring of aims and suggested that consideration should be given to the FM mode.

Evidence was given in support of the application by Michael Brady, a former station manager, who traced the history of student radio which had developed to the stage where the station had broadcast for the whole of the first term carrying advertisements. He said that the present thinking of the station was that having provided a service which had met with an enthusiastic response from both students and the relatively small but clearly identifiable wide audience, it saw itself as being more than a fringe attempt at commercial radio operated for the amusement of the participants. He saw it as a valuable service to be extended and improved.

Mr Brady said the staff was voluntary and only managers and assistant managers received an honorarium of $20 per week during authorisations. The maximum period any staff member was likely to be with the station was 4 years and managers held office for no longer than 2 years. The transitional nature of staff and changes in personnel led to the evolution of new ideas and new formats and also created a degree of uncertainty as to the future directions of the station, so the Auckland University Student's Association was not in a position to give undertakings or commitments relating to the nature or size of its operation for more than a year in advance. The flexibility permitted by the short term authorisation procedure was ideally suited to the station's operation because it permitted change in development but allowed the Tribunal to review the station's operations from year to year. Mr Brady outlined the information services provided, the alternative music played and the promotion of New Zealand artists and labels.

He claimed that as a non-profit making and essentially non-commercial venture Radio B was not in the ratings game. It could afford to take risks with locally produced or alternative music which the majority of listeners in the age group might dislike. Listeners to Radio B expected a mixed bag and they were not put off by what they didn't like. Commercial stations could not afford to take the risk of playing music which may cause their listeners to turn to another station. Having identified their audience they must cater to its taste or risk alienating it. The music Radio B played could not be integrated into existing commercial station programme formats. Surveys had showed that there was a demand and the station produced a large number of letters and petitions to the Tribunal which had arisen out of a series of announcements on air about the forthcoming hearing.

He said that the advertising was primarily directed to students and was in the nature of a service to listeners and advertisers more than a commercial operation. He cited the Auckland Savings Bank extensively advertising its campus branch on the station. Other advertisers were suppliers and retailers who offered a student discount and those who provided service of special interest to the students such as speed reading and speed typing courses. The station also advertised concerts by band groups "who play our type of music". The advertising budget of $20,000 was minuscule compared with Radio I and Hauraki. The advertising content had been consistently held well below the 4 minutes per hour permitted by previous authorisations.

Mr Brady said that Radio B provided a training ground for radio from which commercial radio stations had greatly benefited.

With regard to technical considerations he said that the Hobson Bay transmitter operated at 250w and the station had voluntarily offered to reduce its power to 100w on receipt of any complaints from Hauraki or Radio I which could be substantiated. No complaints had been received from them or from any member of the public. He understood that no complaint had been lodged with the Post Office.

In cross-examination Mr Brady said he could see a time in the future when a warrant application might be made but the Association could not support and run a full time station as the students are engaged in full time study at the same time. The station had chosen 1404 kHz having had this assigned to them by the Post Office on a previous application. The aim of the station was to provide for students and music for a student audience. It was directed to students and others listened because they liked the music which was a vital ingredient of the station. The programme material was directed to Auckland University and Auckland Technical Institute students. The station did not carry any national advertising.

Evidence was also given along similar lines by Mr Andrew Dickens the present station manager.

For the applicant, Mr Dormer amended the application to provide for a series of 28 days, namely—for the first term, 30 May to 27 June, 28 June to 26 July and 27 to 14 August; in respect of the second period from 15 September to 1 October, from 2 October to 29 October and from 30 October to 27 November.

The Tribunal had an opportunity to read some of the letters that had been sent to the station and the Tribunal. While such letter writing can be orchestrated and petitions need to be taken with a certain amount of reserve, it was obvious from reading the letters that the feelings towards the station were strong and reasoned. The reader could be pardoned for thinking that both commercial and non-commercial operators in Auckland should be alarmed at the disillusionment that occurs among some thinking young adults about the lack of stimulation in the music presented in mass appeal commercial formats.

Contrary to the original submission made by Radio I Ltd, the Tribunal has previously considered the implications for broadcasting of extensive broadcasting by student radio stations. (Decision 3/81).

The Tribunal accepts the evidence put forward by the applicant. The Tribunal is satisfied after hearing this evidence that the application ought to be granted in the public interest. Not only is the service desirable, it is filling the needs of a section of the community and the impact on other stations is not such as to outweigh those considerations. Indeed no evidence of any possible commercial impact was produced other than by the applicant who referred to the station receiving recognition of its existence in a McNair survey which was not produced to the Tribunal.

The audience for such a station will be self-limiting providing the station continues properly to serve its student audience. In a previous decision (3/81) we said:

"Let it first be said that the Tribunal has encouraged student radio and has been disappointed that the provisions made in the Act which arose out of their own submissions for a more permanent form of authorisation or warrant have never been used by the student unions. We are not clear why. It is unfortunate that a number of applications have to be considered from some of the universities every year when it should only be necessary to consider one from each.

"It also needs to be said that the Tribunal does not regard such stations as general broadcasting stations providing a service to a young audience. Every application has to be treated on its merits and the student association applications are invariably put forward to provide a service to students. Any wider purpose invites the examination of the application on a commercial basis akin to a warrant application. It would have to be decided the extent to which the station should be in competition with those holding existing warrants which carry continuous transmission responsibilities and obligations to provide a number of other services to the community. "University student association stations provide a worthwhile service to students. We do not consider that broadcasting by these stations should necessarily be confined only to periods such as orientation and we believe it would be better for such stations to have a more flexible approach as to hours of broadcast and the maximum number of hours per annum to develop services and provide for the needs of the university students without the need for several formal premeditated applications each year."

The evidence in this case points to the Students Association in Auckland conducting a station which is providing a good service to a specialist audience in accordance with its resources which would not justify an application for a full time commercial warrant. It is clear that the invitation from the Independent Broadcasters Association to make such an application is by no means an indication that it would meet with the support of the commercial operators in that city. It is rather an effort to try and have the proposals of the broadcasters at Auckland University adjudged on a full commercial warrant basis. The nature of their broadcasts and the limitations they place on themselves mean that their purpose is to broadcast to their own audience at specific times to suit that audience and not as a general broadcasting station.

The short term broadcasting procedure as provided for in the 1979 Amendment Act provides an ideal situation for the control and licensing of a student station. It gives an opportunity once a year for a hearing such as the present one to take place, for the personnel who change from time to time to be notified and for the station to remain sensitive to criticism and complaints.

The Tribunal considers the procedure exactly appropriate to the type of operation conducted.

We must say that it may well be that in serving their particular audience they will have some impact on other stations in the area. We have referred to this in previous decisions.

We have to remind private operators that the prime consideration of the Tribunal in such matters must be the interests of the public and not the commercial and fiscal interests of the proprietors of commercial radio stations.

That they may lose some small part of their audience follows from the authorisation of any broadcasting concurrent with the broadcasting from warranted stations. That some enterprising students might partly fill a gap in commercial radio services in Auckland should be a matter of congratulation for the system, not the basis of an attempt to stultify student broadcasting or to confine it to a self-financing training scheme for commercial radio.

The application has been granted for the purpose of providing an entertainment and information service to students of Auckland University. Advertising is limited to 4 minutes per hour.

The Registrar was directed to issue accordingly with the following conditions:

- (a) The holder of this authorisation shall comply with the requirements of the Act and all regulations issued thereunder.
- (b) Unless otherwise approved in writing by the Tribunal the holder of this authorisation shall comply with all rules issued by the Tribunal.
- (c) The holder of this authorisation is required to reduce power or cease transmissions at the direction of the Post Office at any time should harmful interference result from transmissions.
- (d) The holder of this authorisation shall maintain a programme log and an advertising schedule and shall keep copies of any scripts used. The log, schedule and scripts to be available to the Tribunal if so called upon within 6 months.

- (e) The holder of this authorisation shall, unless exempted by the Tribunal, conform to and maintain the technical standards and rules as formulated by the Corporation in consultation with the Independent Broadcasters Association Inc. including the furnishing of such technical returns as may from time to time be required by these rules and standards.
- (f) An audited statement of receipts and expenditure is to be forwarded to the Registrar within 3 months of the completion of broadcasting.
- (g) Advertising will be permitted to a maximum of 4 minutes per hour and shall be directed to the university student audience. If required by the Tribunal a list of advertisers and amount paid for advertising shall be supplied within 1 month of the request therefor.
- (h) The necessary licence to operate a broadcasting station is to be obtained from the Post Office.
- (i) Programming material may also be directed to students of the Auckland Technical Institute.

Subject to the above, the station shall be operated in accordance with the application relating to the authorisation. Dated the 23rd day of July 1982.

For the Tribunal:

B. H. SLANE, Chairman.

Notwithstanding condition (e) the warrant holder may continue to provide the same services and basic format of its programmes as it was providing as at 11 June 1982.

Decision No. 13/82

BRO. 28/82

Before the Broadcasting Tribunal

IN THE MATTER of the Broadcasting Act 1976, and IN THE MATTER of an application by HAURAKI ENTERPRISES LIMITED, to amend sound radio warrant MF43 (1XA):

B. H. Slane, Chairman; Lionel R. Sceats, Member.

Hearing: Auckland, 26 July 1982.

Counsel: P. J. Dew for the Applicant.

ORAL DECISION

The 26th day of July 1982.

The applicant warrant holder had two conditions imposed on it at the time of the renewal of its warrant which were set out in Decision 11/80, they were—

- (e) The warrant holder shall not substantially depart from the basic format and content of its programmes or the type or extent of services intended to be provided at the time of the grant of the warrant without the prior consent of the Broadcasting Tribunal and subject to any conditions which the Tribunal might impose in the public interest.
- (f) Notwithstanding condition (e) the station may continue to provide the same services and basic format of its programmes as it was providing at the 30th day of June 1980, provided it lodges an application for such variations from its obligations as it considers necessary for the consideration of the Tribunal by 31 October 1980 and until the Tribunal has ruled on such application.

An appeal was subsequently lodged and was finally disposed of by judgment of the High Court on 11 March 1982. (M. No. 402/80.)

The applicant has now applied for the deletion of clause (f) and the substitution of a new clause:

"Notwithstanding condition (e) the station may continue to provide the same services and basic format of its programme as it was providing as at 11 June 1982."

This clause follows the pattern of an application in similar circumstances by Radio I Ltd. which was granted by the Tribunal in Decision 5/82. In that case the words "programmes" was used instead of "programme" and the word "warrant holder" rather than "station".

Mr Dew has indicated that he has no objection to his application being slightly amended in those two respects. There is some advantage in there being a consistency of wording.

The Tribunal has heard the evidence of the existing services and programmes provided by Hauraki Enterprises Ltd. in June this year (the time the application was made) and considers it desirable, indeed necessary, that the condition of the warrant be brought up to date. There is no opposition to the application and we do not think it is necessary for the Tribunal to discuss the matter in any detail.

The Tribunal, therefore, grants the application with the amendment of "station" to "warrant holder", and "programme" to "programmes" so that the clause will read—

NOTES TO THE ACCOUNTS

1. Statement of accounting policies—The general accounting principles recommended by the New Zealand Society of Accountants for the measurement and reporting of profit and financial position on an historical cost method have been adopted in the preparation of these financial statements.

The following particular accounting policies which materially affect the measurement of profit and the financial position have been consistently applied.

(a) Government stock—Discounts and premiums on certain Government stocks are amortised from the date of purchase so that stocks will attain their redemption values by maturity date. The current year's discount and premium amortisation is reflected in the profit statement.

(b) Personal loans—The Bank's policy is to add interest to the advance at the commencement of the loan. The 'rule of 78' method of accounting for income is used to apportion the income between accounting periods. The effect of this method is that income earned over the term of the loan represents a level rate of return on the declining loan balance outstanding. The personal loan investment is net of unearned interest.

(c) Depreciation—Fixed assets are depreciated on the straight-line method at rates which will write off the cost over their estimated useful lives. The principal rates are:

Buildings ..	..	3 percent to 5 percent
Furniture and fittings ..	..	10 percent to 20 percent
Computer equipment ..	..	20 percent to 25 percent

(d) Taxation—The charge for income tax is the amount of the tax liability in respect of the accounting profit for the year and includes both current and deferred tax.

The liability for deferred taxation arises from items of income and expenditure being included in taxation calculations in periods different from those in which they are dealt with in the financial accounts. The significant timing differences relate to accrued interest income, discounts earned and premiums paid on Government stock and depreciation.

2. Investments—Government stocks are recorded at cost adjusted by the discount or premium amortised to date. Stocks are generally held until maturity date and therefore, differences in the following bases of valuation have little financial effect on the Bank. Statutory ratio requirements are based on the nominal value of stocks. Local authority stocks are recorded at cost.

FISHING METHODS AND DEVICES OF THE MAORI

By Elsdon Best

National Museum Bulletin No. 12

264 p. $15.95 plus $1.50 p & p

Another in the series of the Best publications, it has been reprinted without revision so that the basic studies may be accessible in the original style.

This particular bulletin still remains the only comprehensive account of most aspects of Maori fishing. The descriptions of methods employed in fishing given here are still quite basic for any future studies in this field since no first-hand observations can now be made. The detailed fishing methods outlined are accompanied by descriptions of the artifacts used, together with associated chants, magic formulae, special observances, and fishing lore.

FOREST LORE OF THE MAORI

By Elsdon Best

DOMINION MUSEUM BULLETIN No. 14

421 p. 1977. $17.95 plus $1.50 p & p

Printed without textual alteration, the work provides an important basis for any study of old-time Maori economics and perhaps more important of his attitude to what was a major part of his environment. It will be more of general interest today than when first written, since it stresses so fully the uses made by the Maori people of their natural resources, and supplies basic materials for further studies in ethnobotany and ethnozoology. The reverence which the old time Maori showed towards natural resources mirrors the modern concern for ecological principles.
