Before the Indecent Publications Tribunal

In the matter of the Indecent Publications Act 1963, and in the matter of an application by the Comptroller of Customs for a decision in respect of the following publications:

Escort Vol. 2, No. 5, published by Paul Raymond Publications Ltd., London;

Men Only Vol. 47, No. 5, published by Paul Raymond Publications Ltd., London;

Judge W. M. Willis (Chairman), Mesdames H. B. Dick, L. P. Nikera; Messrs J. V. B. McLinden, I. W. Malcolm.

Hearing: 15 September 1982.

Decision: 28 October 1982.

Appearances: Mr McNeice for Comptroller of Customs. Written submissions from importer, M. J. Thomas.

DECISION

SINGLE copies of these magazines were privately imported and seized from Rotorua parcels post in July of this year. Forfeiture was disputed by the importer so that the publications are submitted to the Tribunal for classification prior to the commencement of condemnation proceedings.

Both magazines are published by the same company and are similar in style consisting as they do of pictures and text. The photographs are of nude and semi-nude females in most cases displaying genitalia in posed positions. The articles in the magazine are predominantly concerned with sex.

It was the submission of the Comptroller that both magazines should be classified as indecent. Mr Thomas made lengthy submissions at the end of which he suggested that the magazines should be classified as indecent in the hands of persons under the age of 18. Those submissions have been given full consideration but for various reasons they must be rejected.

Men Only has previously received consideration by this Tribunal and by Decision 876, Vol. 40, Nos. 11 and 12 and Vol. 41, No. 1, were considered indecent. Recently both Men Only and Escort were considered by the Tribunal and in Decision No. 1034 were classified as indecent. Mr Thomas has suggested that these publications are similar to Penthouse or Playboy. The Tribunal is not prepared to accept that submission simply because Playboy and Penthouse contain a larger number of serious articles which are almost entirely lacking in these 2 publications.

In the view of the Tribunal these publications must be classified as indecent.

Hearing: 15 September 1982.

Decision: 28 October 1982.

Appearances: Mr McNeice for Comptroller of Customs. No appearance of importer, Mr P. R. Mussen.

DECISION

A single copy of this magazine was privately imported and seized from Invercargill parcels post in July this year. Forfeiture has been disputed by the importer so that the publication is submitted to the Tribunal for classification prior to the commencement of condemnation proceedings.

The magazine consists of pictures and text. There are numerous coloured photographs of nude and semi-nude females mainly with genitalia exposed in posed positions. The text is plainly sexually orientated and it includes a classified section for swingers.

The Comptroller submitted that because of its content the publication should be considered as indecent. This magazine is not dissimilar to others recently before the Tribunal viz. Men Only, Escort, Golden Girls and Sexy M. It is predominantly concerned with the lewd aspects of sex. It has no literary or artistic merit. It lacks honesty of purpose and is plainly injurious to the public good. It is classified as indecent.

Judge W. M. Willis (Chairman), Mesdames N. B. Dick, L. P. Nikera, Messrs J. V. B. Malcolm:

Hearing: 2 December 1980.

Decision: 28 October 1982.

Appearances: Mr Leloir for Comptroller of Customs. No appearance of importer, Waverley Publishing Co. Ltd.

DECISION

A sample copy of this publication was imported commercially and seized at Auckland in August 1980. Forfeiture has been disputed so that the Tribunal has been asked to classify the publication. The submission of Mr Leloir is very succinct and in the Tribunal's view properly describes the contents of the book. The Comptroller said the book gives advice to young women about sex from the time they lose their virginity until they marry. The theme covers not only physical sex but also emotional matters, good manners and the like. There are sections in the book dealing with methods of intercourse, masturbation, contraception, what to look for in a lover, why have sex and the dangers of venereal disease. The Tribunal agrees with the Comptroller that it justifies a restricted classification so that it is classified as indecent in the hands of persons under the age of 16.

It will be noted that this matter came before the Tribunal on 2 December 1980. The delay in giving a decision is regretted. It so happens that the hearing in December 1980 concerned 52 publications and somehow or another this particular publication seems to have been overlooked when the time came for writing a decision.

Reference No. Ind 4/82

Before the Indecent Publications Tribunal

IN the matter of the Indecent Publications Act 1963, and in the matter of an application by the Comptroller of Customs for a decision in respect of the following publication:

Black Temptress, published by New English Library Ltd., London:

Hearing: 1 April 1982.

Decision: 28 October 1982.

Appearances: Mr Leloir for Comptroller of Customs. No appearance of importer, Wholesale Book Distributions.

DECISION

WE were informed by Mr Leloir that a single copy of this publication was imported by Wholesale Book Distributors and seized at Auckland in September 1981. As the importer disputed forfeiture the Customs Department referred the publication to the Tribunal for classification prior to the commencement of condemnation proceedings pursuant to the Customs Act 1966.

This publication is a paper back novel 24 pages in length, written by Leo Callan in 1980 (judging from the date of copyright).

The plot is set in the southern states of America. A banker wishes to obtain the right to a railhead through his town. He tries to secure this by trapping (through sexual indiscretions) a California railroad executive who comes to the south to examine suitable towns. The banker directs one of his female slave (the Black Temptress) to be caught in a compromising position with the railroad executive, so that the executive can be blackmailed into recommending the banker's town as being the most appropriate for the railhead.

However, as it happens, neither the banker nor his wife are entirely blameless citizens themselves, and their plan is undone when their own sexual perversions lead to their downfall and banishment from their local community.

The plot chosen by the author provides him with plenty of opportunity for extended descriptions of sexual matters.

Mr Leloir submitted that the story was merely a cheap collection of explicit sexual escapades set in crude language, and that as a result the publication was injurious to the public good and should be classified as indecent.

Relatively recently the same submission was made in respect of a publication entitled Generation of Blood, (Decision No. 973). In that case we were not prepared to accept the submission because of the historical setting of the book, and the fact that although there were descriptions of sexual acts they were not so frequent or explicit as to indicate the author merely used the plot as a vehicle to provide crude and prurient descriptions of sexual activity.

We feel that this book is different and we find it goes beyond a classification of pulp fiction. We think that the plot and the various descriptions of sex traversed in detail in the publication indicate that it lacks honesty of purpose as an historical novel.

We find, pursuant to section 11 (1) that the dominant effect of the book is to described prurient and perverted aspects of sex, and that persons are likely to be corrupted by reading the book.

Because of the publication's superficial nature we do not find it has any literary, artistic or social merit.

For all these reasons we declare Black Temptress to be indecent.

W. M. WILLIS, District Judge Chairman.

Before the Indecent Publications Tribunal

IN the matter of the Indecent Publications Act 1963, and in the matter of an application by the Comptroller of Customs for a decision in respect of the following publications:

Sexy M, published by Silaw Film GMBH, Deutschland,

Golden Girls GG Collection 1-8, 9-12, 13-16:

Judge W. M. Willis (Chairman), Mesdames N. B. Dick, L. P. Nikera, Messrs J. V. B. McLinden, I. W. Malcolm.

Hearing: 15 September 1982.

Decision: 28 October 1982.

Appearances: Mr McNeice for Comptroller of Customs. No appearance of importer, N. D. Burgess.

DECISION

THE above magazines were imported privately through parcels post and were seized at Dunedin in July 1982. Forfeiture was disputed by the importer so that reference has been made to this Tribunal for classification.

Golden Girls—Mr McNeice submitted that the 3 Golden Girls publications consisted of picture and a brief text. The pictures purport to be a sample selection of scenes from a new line of Golden Girl movies and they feature nude or semi-nude males and females in a variety of sexual acts some of a lesbian nature.

Sexy M—is a similar publication but has a text in German, French, English and Dutch. Once again nude males and females are depicted engaged in a variety of sexual acts.

The Waverley Publishing Company Limited v Comptroller of Customs 1980 1 NZIR 631 Jeffries J said at page 646:

“... However I think that a book or sound recording is likely to be indecent and injurious to the public good if:

- (1) It is predominantly concerned with the prurient and lewd aspects of sex; and
- (2) The exact subject-matter is described, depicted or expressed in a patently offensive manner so as to concentrate attention and reaction on the prurient and lewd aspects of sex; and
- (3) The work looked at in its entirety had negligible literary or artistic merit, and is otherwise not redeemed by its medical, legal, political, social or scientific character or importance.
- (4) The likelihood of corruption far outweighs possible benefit.
- (5) The sincerity of purpose which produced the item is gravely in question . . .”

In the Tribunal's view under each of these headings these publications must be considered indecent and they are classified accordingly.

Before the Indecent Publications Tribunal

IN the matter of the Indecent Publications Act 1963, and in the matter of an application by the Comptroller of Customs for a decision in respect of the following publications:

“1984” Nos. 9 and 10 and “1984” Nos. 11 to 23, published by Warren Publishing Company, New York:

Judge W. M. Willis (Chairman), Mesdames H. B. Dick, L. P. Nikera, Messrs J. V. B. McLinden, I. W. Malcolm.

Hearing: 21 July 1982.

Decision: 29 October 1982.

Appearances: Mr J. M. McNeice for Comptroller of Customs. Importer, Mr E. M. Lee in person.

DECISION

SINGLE copies of these publications were imported privately through parcels post and seized at Wellington on 30 April 1982. Forfeiture has been disputed so that they are referred for classification prior to condemnation proceedings.

According to submissions made on behalf of the Comptroller of Customs these are science fiction comic books consisting of approximately 60-70 pages of comic strips with a minimum amount of text. They depict horror, violence and sex and according to the submissions of the Comptroller “they would have considerable appeal to children”. The Tribunal thinks this is rather an unfortunate way of making the submission but in view of the manner in which some of the drawings are depicted children would doubtless be drawn towards them. It is suggested that the selling price would be $3-$4 each (within the range of children) while the advertising content appears to be aimed at children because of advertisements for such items as model kits, posters and battle jackets. Mr Lee appeared in person and could see no reason why the publications should be subject to these proceedings. He indicated that he would have no hesitation in allowing his children to read them. It is, the Tribunal thinks, necessary to explain to Mr Lee that its functions are determined by Statute and for his benefit certain portions of the Indecent Publications Act 1963 are cited. In section 2 “Indecency” is defined as including:

“describing, depicting, expressing, or otherwise dealing with matters of sex, horror, crime, cruelty, or violence in a manner that is injurious to the public good.”

Contrary to what the Tribunal suspects is the public's view of indecency, it is not limited to matters of sex.

Section 11 reads:

“Matters to be taken into consideration by Tribunal or Court—

(1) In classifying, or determining the character of any book or sound recording the Tribunal shall taken into consideration:

- (a) The dominant effect of the book or sound recording as a whole;

- (b) The literary or artistic merit, or the medical, legal, political, social, or scientific character or importance of the book or sound recording;
- (c) The persons, classes of persons, or age groups to or amongst whom the book or sound recording is or is intended or is likely to be published, heard, distributed, sold, exhibited played, given, sent or delivered;
- (d) The price at which the book or sound recording sells or is intended to be sold;
- (e) Whether any person is likely to be corrupted by reading the book or hearing the sound recording and whether other persons are likely to benefit therefrom;
- (f) Whether the book or the sound recording displays an honest purpose and an honest thread of thought or whether its content is merely camouflage designed to render acceptable any indecent parts of the book or sound recording.

(2) Notwithstanding the provisions of subsection (1) of this section, where the publication of any book or the distribution on any sound recording would be in the interests of art, literature, science, or learning and would be for the public good, the Tribunal shall not classify it as indecent.

(3) When the Tribunal decides that any picture-story book likely to be read by children as indecent in the hands of children under a specified age that picture-story book shall be deemed to be indecent in the hands of all persons.

(4) Where any Court is required to classify or determine the character of any document (other than a book) it shall take into consideration with such modifications as are necessary, the matters set out in subsections (1) and (2) of this section.”

In the view of the Tribunal these publications have no literary, artistic merit. The price is within the range of children. It appears to the Tribunal that they lack honesty of purpose, that no person is likely to benefit from them and that there is a likelihood of corruption. In any event, the Tribunal considers that these picture story books are likely to be read by children and therefore pursuant to section 11 (3) they must be considered indecent, notwithstanding the view that it might otherwise be inclined to impose an age restriction. They are all classified indecent.

Decision No. 1044

Reference No. Ind 4/82

Before the Indecent Publications Tribunal

IN the matter of the Indecent Publications Act 1963, and in the matter of an application by the Comptroller of Customs for a decision in respect of the following publication:

Ordeal, published by W. H. Allen and Co. Ltd., London:

Judge W. M. Willis (Chairman), Mesdames H. B. Dick, L. P. Nikera, Messrs J. V. B. McLinden, I. W. Malcolm.

Hearing: 1 April 1982.

Decision: 28 October 1982.

Appearances: Mr Leloir for Comptroller of Customs. No appearance of importer, Wholesale Book Distributors.

DECISION

WE were informed by Mr Leloir that a single copy of this paperback was imported by Wholesale Book Distributors and seized at Auckland in September 1981. As the importer has disputed forfeiture the Customs Department has referred the publication to the Tribunal for classification.

Ordeal is a paperback book 206 pages in length. It appears (from the date of copyright) to have been written in 1980, and was first published in its present form in Great Britain by W. H. Allen and Co. Ltd. in 1981.

The book is stated to be the autobiography of Linda Lovelace (of Deep Throat notoriety). Although an autobiography, Lovelace was assisted in writing the publication by a co-author, one Mike McGrady, who appears to be a well-known reporter in the United States.

The book is an extremely unpleasant narrative of Lovelace's life in the hands of her lover, who subsequently became her husband/business manager. Concern arises about the classification of the publication because the book contains many references to perverse sexual practices Lovelace says she carried out when she was acting under the duress of her then husband.

Although acknowledging that the book contained numerous sexual episodes couched in crude language, Mr Leloir submitted that the book was not without literary and social merit, and submitted therefore that an age restriction would be appropriate.

We must say that we can only feel sceptical about the accuracy of the autobiography. It is difficult to believe that Lovelace could have been acting under duress for the number of years described by her, especially when consideration is given to the opportunity she would have had to complain to the authorities, the press, members of the public, and others.

However, the book is stated to be an autobiography, and the Tribunal would be slow to rule such a publication indecent. An autobiography by its very nature is likely to contain matters of cultural and social interest, which in the years to come may be valuable to the historian and to the sociologist (as well as to the ordinary reader). Of course we accept that an autobiography could be presented in such a context that it could be declared injurious to the public good, but whether or not that boundary is crossed is always a question of fact.

Although aspects of this publication cause us concern we find that the dominant effect of the publication is to present the reader with an account of certain years of Lovelace's life. The text, in the circumstances, is relatively restrained in that although bizarre and perverse sexual behaviour is described, the narrative does not appear to dwell lasciviously on the various sexual activities.

Some credit for the absence of lengthy and lurid passages of sexual description may be due to Mr McGrady's involvement with the book. The co-author is described in the foreword to the book as "An award winning reporter and syndicated columnist for Newsday and the Los Angeles Times. His citations include the Overseas Press Club Award for the best interpretative reporting from Vietnam, and the Headliner Award for consistently outstanding column writing". Although we remain sceptical about the truth of the autobiography, we are prepared to accept that the publication could not simply be dismissed as a fabrication, on the evidence before the Tribunal.

The final matter is that we think that Mr Leloir is correct when he submitted that the publication is not without social merit. For obvious reasons we think the degree of social merit that might be attributed to a publication such as this must be limited.

However, there can be little doubt that Deep Throat shook the standards of the motion picture industry and became notorious overnight. Lovelace became a cult figure. In this book Lovelace described the lead up and background to the making of Deep Throat, and her distress and concern at her subsequent exploitation.

Because of the widespread effect of the film and Lovelace's association with it, we think that this book, in its connection with a cultural phenomenon, has a quality of what might perhaps be more accurately described as "social character" than "social merit". The former words are used in section 11 (1) (b) of the Act and for the reasons already described we feel they are applicable to the present publication.

For all the above reasons we are not prepared to preclude the circulation of Ordeal in New Zealand and we therefore propose to declare the publication indecent in the hands of persons under the age of 18.

W. M. WILLIS, District Judge Chairman.

NOTES TO THE ACCOUNTS

A. Statement of Accounting Policies—The general accounting principles recommended by the New Zealand Society of Accountants for the measurement and reporting of results on an historical cost basis, consistent with previous years, have been used in the preparation of the financial accounts.

The following particular principles have been applied:—

Note 1—Depreciation—Straight-line depreciation has been applied to the Bank's E.D.P. equipment to write it off over the period of its expected useful life. All other assets have been depreciated at the rates allowable by the Inland Revenue Department. The difference between these rates, and the straight-line method, is not considered to be material.

Note 2—Government Stock—It has been the Bank's policy to amortise total discounts and premiums on Government Stock Securities over the term of the investment on a straight-line basis and to show the value of the stock in the Balance Sheet at its cost price adjusted by amortised discount or premium to date. From the 1st April 1980 there has been an additional adjustment to recognise the accrued interest content as revenue in the purchase or disposal of stocks.

Note 3—Personal Loans—The Bank's policy is to add total interest due to the loan when advanced, and interest is brought into revenue on the basis of the "Rule of 78".

Note 4—Taxation—

- (a) The Provision for Income Tax charged in the Profit and Loss Account is the calculated tax liability in respect of the accounting profit after adjusting for permanent differences.
- (b) The Provision for Deferred Taxation arises from items of Income and expenditure being included in taxation calculations in periods different from those in which they are dealt with in the financial accounts.

B. Associate Company—The Bank's investment in Northern Trustee Computerbank Limited has been shown in the accounts according to the standard accounting practice adopted by the New Zealand Society of Accountants for an Associate Company.

The investment is made up as follows:	$
Debentures	33,000
Paid up shares	80,000
Share of accumulated profit, less dividends received, to year ended 31 March 1981	89,244
Plus share of profit for the year ended 31 May 1981	12,571

AUDITORS' REPORT

We report that we have examined the balance sheet of the Bay of Plenty Savings Bank as at 31 March 1982, and the profit and loss account for the year ended on that date, and have received all the information and explanations we have required.

In our opinion, the accompanying balance sheet and profit statement present fairly the financial position of the Bank as at 31 March 1982 and the results of the operations for the year ended on that date, and were in general conformity with generally accepted accounting principles applied on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year.

We have also examined the statement of changes in financial position which, in our opinion, gives a true and fair view of the changes in financial position of the Bank for the year ended 31 March 1982.

BEEKEEPING IN NEW ZEALAND

By T. S. Winter

Ministry of Agriculture and Fisheries Bulletin 267

155 p. 1980 reprint, $8.95 plus 85c p & p

Though fundamental successful beekeeping is the same the world over, the varying seasonal conditions and the variety of nectar sources in different areas mean that the beekeeper must study local conditions and adjust his methods accordingly. Three factors govern success in beekeeping—locality, management, and the right strain of bees. This excellent book covers all aspects of beekeeping in text, photographs, and illustrations.

This is a report of a working party set up by the Government in response to a proposal from the New Zealand Returned Services Association which sought the introduction of a compulsory national youth community service scheme, both within the schools and for a set period after leaving school.

FISHING METHODS AND DEVICES OF THE MAORI

By Elsdon Best

National Museum Bulletin No. 12

264 p. $15.95 plus $1.50 p & p

Another in the series of the Best publications, it has been reprinted without revision so that the basic studies may be accessible in the original style.

This particular bulletin still remains the only comprehensive account of most aspects of Maori fishing. The descriptions of methods employed in fishing given here are still quite basic for any future studies in this field since no first-hand observations can now be made. The detailed fishing methods outlined are accompanied by descriptions of the artifacts used, together with associated chants, magic formulae, special observances, and fishing lore.
