Decision No. 13/84

Com. 1/83

Before the Broadcasting Tribunal

IN the matter of the Broadcasting Act 1976 and in the matter of a complaint by CLIFFORD REGINALD TURNER:

WARRANT HOLDER: BROADCASTING CORPORATION OF NEW ZEALAND (Radio New Zealand 2ZB):

Chairman: B. H. Slane.

Co-opted Members: B. W. Stephenson and G. C. Ell.

DECISION

MR TURNER complained to the Broadcasting Corporation of New Zealand about an advertisement for Kenepuru Liquorland broadcast on 2ZB on 4 December 1982. (A transcript is attached to this decision.) He said that these broadcasts contravened advertising Rule 1.11.4 which reads:

"The advertisement for alcohol must not be broadcast from licensed premises, whether wholesale or retail."

The Board of the Corporation on 8 April 1983 wrote to Mr Turner advising him that the complaint was not upheld by the Corporation. The Corporation said a careful examination showed there was no mention of liquor being for sale or available and therefore there had been no breach of the rule.

The Corporation went on however to say that questions were raised during the discussion about the use of a personality in the promotion. While it was agreed that there had not been any breach of the rules, it was acknowledged that great care was needed when broadcasts from licensed premises were made and in the use of personalities.

The Corporation noted that the Director-General of Radio New Zealand had required any broadcasts from licensed premises to be first approved by the Controller of Programmes. The Corporation considered it was unwise to have used the personality and the Director-General had been made aware of the view.

Mr Turner referred the complaint to the Tribunal. He said the rule stood alone. He said that the rule made no mention of alcohol being for sale or being available; it simply dealt with "the advertisement for alcohol . . ." The Corporation conceded, he said, that an advertisement for the Kenepuru Liquorland was broadcast and all that is needed to be determined was whether or not that advertisement was for alcohol. Mr Turner argued that there must be an advertisement for something and that a listener "on the Clampham omnibus" would have decided that the something being advertised was alcoholic liquor.

The Corporation maintained its position that the advertisements were not for alcohol but were announcements of the opening of new premises.

The Tribunal has read a transcript of the commercials and notes that apart from the name of the Kenepuru Liquorland, there were no direct statements about the sale of liquor although there were references to "taste-ins" to "valuable products" being given away and "bargains" that were available.

There are several rules which can be summarised for the purpose of this decision as follows:

Rule 1.11.1 governs advertisements made on behalf of a wholesale or retail point of sale and which refer to the availability of liquor for sale for consumption on or off the advertiser's premises. Such advertisements are permitted provided they do not use brand names (other than the brand name incorporated in the name of the advertiser) and no specific prices or description of the quality are included in the advertisement. Such advertisements can also contain descriptions of the point of sale and the service and descriptions of the general range of alcoholic liquor available.

Rule 1.11.2 covers advertisements (other than those made under rule 1.11.1) by a manufacturer or seller of alcoholic liquor or whose name is associated with the making or selling of liquor. They must not, (a) refer to availability of liquor for sale, (b) include brand names (unless included in the advertiser's name), (c) describe the qualities of the liquor sold by the advertiser.

Rule 1.11.3 has no bearing on the present complaint.

Rule 1.11.4 set out above then follows.

Rule 1.11.5 has no relevance to the inquiry to the complaint.

Rule 1.11.6 states advertisements associated with alcohol must not be presented in association with or during programmes directed specifically at children or adolescents.

Within the rules therefore there are references to:

1. Advertisements on behalf of a point of sale which refer to the availability of alcoholic liquor for sale.

2. Advertisements that do not fall into one but which are made on behalf of (inter alia) a seller of alcoholic liquor.
3. A prohibition of the broadcasting of an "advertisement for alcohol" from licensed premises.
4. A prohibition on the presentation of advertisements "associated with alcohol" in certain circumstances.

The first question for the Tribunal to decide in this case, is whether or not this was "the advertisement for alcohol" contemplated by rule 1.11.4. (It is accepted that the advertisement was broadcast from licensed premises.)

The decision on the complaint therefore comes down to an interpretation of rules which are not well drafted. The use of phrases which variously "refer to the availability of alcoholic liquor for sale" (and the negative of that) as well as "the advertisement for alcohol" and "advertisements associated with alcohol" is confusing, to say the least.

What is "the advertisement for alcohol" referred to in the rule? Is it an advertisement which refers to the availability of alcoholic liquor for sale (1.11.1) or is it an advertisement on behalf of a company which is associated with the sale of alcoholic liquor without making any reference to its availability for sale (1.11.2)?

If it were to cover all advertisements under Rule 1.11.1 and 1.11.2 it is strangely worded as "for alcohol" not "associated with alcohol" as in Rule 1.11.6. Nevertheless it is possible, depending on the style of the advertisement, to conceive of an advertisement under 1.11.2 which might promote liquor in general enough to be an "advertisement for alcohol".

It is reasonable to assume that ordinarily an advertisement under rule 1.11.2 was intended not to be included since the advertisement is for the company, and may not include any description, brand names (not included in the name of the company) or prices.

It seems that the intention of the Rules Committee was to include only advertisements that fell within 1.11.1 as being inappropriate for broadcast from licensed premises. We are inclined to that as a reasonable interpretation of the rule. Whatever interpretation we arrive at necessarily will appear a legalistic one.

The question then arises whether this advertisement does in fact refer to the availability of alcoholic liquor for sale.

There are references to "taste-ins", various "bargains" that are available and "valuable products actually given away for only one cent" (as distinct from food available). Every advertisement mentions the name of the location as a "Liquorland" or "Liquorland Kenepuru".

We cannot believe that the ordinary listener would not understand that the advertisement of and made from a place with the name of Liquorland is actually not advertising the availability of liquor for sale. We conclude that it was therefore an advertisement which fell within Rule 1.11.1. In those circumstances it was an "advertisement for liquor" under rule 1.11.4 because it referred to the availability of liquor for sale on the premises.

The complaint is therefore upheld.

We should say that we believe that the rules as drafted by the Corporation are not easily followed or understood, nor is the reasoning behind them adequately explained.

We do not consider therefore that the breach by Radio New Zealand is a serious one.

We do not consider it necessary for any further action to ensue as a result of the upholding of this decision, except that it be circulated to those concerned with the acceptance of advertisements.

It would be appropriate for the Corporation to consider what it is endeavouring to achieve by the prohibition on advertising from the point of sale, particularly in the case of radio advertising and to make that intention clear in the rule or in an accompanying note.

Co-opted Members

The Tribunal co-opted Messrs Stephenson and Ell as persons whose qualifications or experience would be useful in the determination of the complaint. They took part in deliberations of the Tribunal but the decision is that of the permanent members.

Dated the 29th day of June 1984.

Decision No. 14/84

Bro. 60/84

Before the Broadcasting Tribunal

IN the matter of the Broadcasting Act 1976 and in the matter of an application by the BROADCASTING CORPORATION OF NEW ZEALAND for a sound radio warrant for Te Kuiti:

Chairman: B. H. Slane.

Co-opted Member: M. J. Henshall.

Hearing: At Te Kuiti—9 July 1984.

Counsel: G. R. Rowe for Broadcasting Corporation of New Zealand.

DECISION

The Application

The applicant proposes to establish a station with studios at Te Kuiti to serve Te Kuiti and Otorohanga from a 400 watt transmitter sited north of Te Kuiti.

The station would provide a 24-hour service. On weekdays 3 hours would be locally originated between 7 a.m. and 10 a.m. From 6 a.m. to 7 a.m. and from 10 a.m. to 12.30 p.m. the station would rebroadcast 1ZU Taumarunui.

From 12.30 to 2 p.m. it would rebroadcast the national programme and from 3 p.m. to 7 p.m. 1ZH Hamilton. From 7 p.m. to 5 a.m.

the station would rebroadcast the Radio New Zealand community network shows. From 5 a.m. to 6 a.m. the Earlybird Show a community network commercial programme would be broadcast.

On Saturdays the local originated hours would be from 8 a.m. to 10 a.m. There would be no local programming on Sundays, when the station would rebroadcast either 1ZH Hamilton or the national programme.

In support of the application the Corporation stated that the Taumarunui station provided a mix of programmes from other sources and from local origination for a population of about 12 000.

The Te Kuiti borough and district had about 7250 people and Otorohanga and district about 4750. The population therefore totalled about 12 000 within the area which could be covered by a good primary signal.

The main objective was to provide an adequate signal for the listeners of the area whose reception was unsatisfactory from both 1ZH Hamilton and the private commercial station 1XW. The FM signal from Mount Te Aroha provides adequate reception of an alternative FM music programme.

The long term objective of the corporation was the provision of 2 complementary programmes, one local commercial and one national and non-commercial, and in the medium term future they would be complemented by mass appeal and special music programmes on FM.

Evidence was given by G. H. Wykes, National Operations Manager for Radio New Zealand. He said the purpose was to extend coverage to an area which had experienced indifferent reception and to fulfil an important community role which should be available to rural communities not well served at present. Entertainment and local information were the main ingredients in the community role.

It was intended that the proposed service would generate sufficient income to just cover the additional cost involved. It was unlikely that the hours would be extended unless local support warranted the extension. Mr Wykes said the Corporation believed the proposal would provide an improved service to the area, was economically viable, provided for improved utilisation of existing technical facilities at Hamilton and Taumarunui, represented a local extension of existing services and made appropriate use of a suitable and available AM frequency.

D. J. Galland, supervising engineer for medium and high frequency radio coverage planning for the BCNZ, outlined the radio coverage from the existing FM stations, stating that the low field strengths provided stable though noisy reception during the day but at night the signals were affected by skywave co-channel interference from overseas, mainly Australian stations and heterodyne whistles from adjacent New Zealand channels.

He said the transmitter site chosen was approximately 7 kilometres north-northeast of Te Kuiti and 11 kilometres south-southwest of Otorohanga in the Mangapu Stream valley to the west of State Highway 1 and south of Hangatiki Caves road. The site was as far south as the service planning requirements for Otorohanga allow to ensure that rural coverage to the south of Te Kuiti is maximised. He produced a coverage map showing the expected field strengths of the new station and those for 1ZU and the Hamilton stations.

J. S. A. Stubbs, Station Manager of 1ZH and 1YW in Hamilton is responsible for the Corporation's operations in the greater Waikato area. Mr Stubbs said that most radio listeners in the Te Kuiti/Otorohanga area tuned to Hamilton stations which are being required to maintain a liaison with the region in community information, news, sport and advertising.

Mr Stubbs would take principal responsibility for the operation as the senior manager in the area but he would co-ordinate the activities relating to the station and input required from Taumarunui. Assistance would be given the station in the matter of sales, sporting coverage, news and staff relief from the Hamilton stations and farming matters would be serviced by the rural reporters in Hamilton.

During the period from 3 p.m. to 7 p.m. Monday to Friday, 1ZH would pay attention to requests for information to be broadcast pertaining to the north King Country area and this would also occur in the summer on Saturdays between 1 p.m. and 5 p.m. when more emphasis than currently would be placed on King Country sport. On Sunday there would be no relay from Taumarunui.

There would be 2 full-time staff as well as local part-time staff.

A. D. King, Station Manager of King Country Radio 1ZU Taumarunui, outlined the proposed programming which would be basically light popular music aimed to satisfy a 10-54 year old age spread. 1ZU's programmes when linked with Radio Waitomo, would include items of regional interest and the same would happen when the station joined with 1ZH Hamilton. There would be stronger support for regional sport in the area, particularly rugby coverage.

The station would be invaluable in providing commentaries on inter-club, inter-provincial and international matches played in the area as well as provide publicity for annual events such as A & P shows. The 6 a.m. to 7 a.m. period would include broadcast material of rural interest, featuring items concerning dairying activities in the north, with cattle, sheep and deer farming and the developing horticultural industry shared by both areas.

Submissions in support of the application were made by the Waitomo District Council on whose behalf Councillor T. C. C. O'Fee referring to the inadequate reception, welcomed a signal originating from Te Kuiti for a major part of the day as bringing a coherent King Country service to the people of the northern part of the region. He said the establishment of the station would assist Te Kuiti and Otorohanga business communities to meet the demands of modern marketing and general retailing techniques. The station would fulfil important Civil Defence needs and would assist in the development of a sub-regional identity compatible with the creation of the Waikato United Council areas.

He pointed out that the only community newspaper circulating in the Te Kuiti and Otorohanga areas was what he described as the "excellent Waitomo News" which is published twice weekly. However the newspaper was not printed for about 4 weeks over the Christmas/New Year period. The Council believed the establishment of a local radio station would be vital to the development of an effective industrial promotion strategy.

J. D. Stanbury, Recreation Officer for the Council, said he had found that the twice weekly newspaper was not sufficient to get through to the age groups in rural areas he hoped to involve when he became Recreation Officer in 1980. School holiday and recreation events were difficult to promote and preparing and distributing posters for shop windows had been time consuming. Cancellations had been difficult to communicate.

No station covered the area in total or with regular clarity and impromptu events had had to be turned away from the town because of the unavailability of an instant advertising medium.

Many of the visitors to the Waitomo village and its world famous caves were New Zealanders who could be further interested in the region if they knew of local places of interest, coming events and businesses while motoring in the region.

He believed businesses were reluctant to advertise on outside stations because of the lack of impact locally.

This was taken up by A. R. Johnston, a furnishing retailer, who pointed out that local people listened to the advertisements of competitors on Hamilton stations but the cost of those advertisements was too high for local businesses. He believed that people would listen to a local station and it would lead to the retention of the business in the town which would be of benefit to it. He estimated he would increase his expenditure of $18,000 on advertising each year by about $5,000-$7,000 if the time was available on a local station.

C. M. Loewenthal, a chartered accountant in public practice at Otorohanga, detailed his involvement in community affairs. He said that the twin towns of Otorohanga and Te Kuiti served by one newspaper had empathy for each other and a local station would encourage further useful joining of the 2 towns.

As chairman of the King Country Regional Development Council he said he was dismayed by the apparent disincentives to King Country growth such as the lack of a King Country identity because only 2 quasi Government authorities covered the King Country as such. The provision of a radio station for the northern area combined by the existing Taumarunui station would give the area a sense of its own identity.

He also referred to the removal of services in the area and the fact that more than 400 people attended a meeting concerned with the threatened closure of the Otorohanga Maternity Hospital and some other local issues. The establishment of a station would be a move against this disturbing trend.

Considerations

The Tribunal considered the application in the light of section 80 and is satisfied that the service is desirable in the public interest. It will improve the service to listeners in the area who have been underserved by radio. It will bring to the Waitomo district many of the benefits outlined by witnesses.

There was no evidence that there would be any economic effect on the establishment of any other station, including any services provided by the Corporation.

The needs of the locality will be served by providing a greater local input and providing a focal point for local activity.

The Broadcasting Corporation has experience of conducting such stations as this, notably in nearby Taumarunui. The Tribunal is satisfied that the applicant is likely to carry on the proposed service satisfactorily.

No survey information was provided in the evidence.

The proposal does not use the whole of the power potential of the frequency assigned but the Tribunal is satisfied both that this will be adequate for the objectives of the station and no more than is necessary to achieve those objectives.

The existence of the station will provide another local news service in addition to the radio, television and print services already provided in the area.

The Tribunal will make it a condition of the warrant that the station broadcast a locally originated programme not less than 3 hours daily on average each week on weekdays and 2 hours on Saturdays. There will be no requirement for local origination on public holidays. The station will be free to extend the broadcast hours for locally originated programmes.

Advertising will be limited to periods of local origination and when linked with 1ZU or 1ZH or the community station network.

No advertising will be permitted during links with the national programme. The warrant will set out the non-commercial hours and forbid advertising during those hours.

However, in order to make provision for special broadcasts which may be commercially warranted and locally justified, or because of international events covered by commercial radio, the warrant will contain a condition allowing the Corporation to vary those provisions for broadcasts provided notification is given to the Tribunal.

Any permanent changes to the commercial/non-commercial mix will require amendment to the warrant.

Decision

The application is granted.

The following conditions will apply:

1. The warrant will lapse if the station is not ready to broadcast within 18 months or such later date as the Tribunal may decide.
2. Advertisements shall not be broadcast after 6 a.m. on Sundays, on Christmas Day, on Good Friday and on Anzac Day. When Anzac Day does not fall on a Sunday, advertising is also permitted from 1300 hours to 2400 hours.
3. Subject to the exceptions set out in condition 4, advertising will not be permitted from 1230 hours to 1400 hours Monday to Friday and from 1000 hours to 1200 hours on Saturday.
4. Subject to condition 2, advertisements may be broadcast during periods totalling not more than 40 hours each year commencing from the date of the issue of the warrant but advertising shall not be broadcast while the National Programme is being relayed.
5. The warrant holder shall, unless exempted by the Tribunal, conform to and maintain the technical standards and rules as formulated by the Broadcasting Corporation of New Zealand in consultation with the Independent Broadcasters Association (N.Z.) Inc., including the furnishing of such technical returns as may from time to time be required by these rules and standards.
6. The warrant holder shall not substantially depart from the basic format and content of its proposed programmes or the type or the extent of the services intended to be provided at the time of the grant of the warrant without the prior consent of the Broadcasting Tribunal and subject to any conditions that the Tribunal might impose in the public interest.

The warrant will issue when the station is ready to commence broadcasting.

Hearing: Christchurch, 27 October 1983.

Appearance: W. J. Rutherford, Director, Radio Otago Ltd.

INTERIM DECISION

The applicants sought the consent of the Tribunal to become a network of broadcasting stations comprising any or all of Radio Foveaux, Otago Radio Dunedin, Otago Radio Central and Radio Avon for the broadcasting between all or any of the hours of 7 p.m. on any day and 6 a.m. on the following day of a programme including network advertising and whether originating from any one of the stations. The programme was to be predominantly a musical programme but to include material of all types, including news, current affairs and sports news.

In support of the applications the Tribunal was told that production of programmes of the highest quality require not only presenters of high calibre but other people of the same calibre involved in the preparation of the programme material. Such people required salaries and conditions of work commensurate with their abilities and Foveaux Radio Ltd. because of losses incurred, could not justify the expenditure of funds involved in the employment of such people between the hours of 7 p.m. and 6 a.m. particularly having regard to the limit of the amount of advertising obtainable during those hours.

This had weakened its competitive position.

The ability to network programmes with other stations could enable the 4 stations to arrange to employ people with the necessary talents.

In evidence P. L. Mortlock, chairman of Radio Avon Ltd., indicated the company did not have any fixed intention and it would require co-operation with the other stations.

The right to network was sought to give flexibility and to cover the situation where one station might have an announcer available for part of the hours or so that sickness in another station could be covered.

It was not envisaged that the programmes would originate from only one studio.

Mr Mortlock said that Radio Avon was subsidising the network news service to Foveaux Radio by providing the service at less than the cost of half a journalist. He was not seeking a continuous networking but thought that if, of the total hours, one-third were permitted to be networked, that would meet the situation. There was also difficulty in obtaining an upgraded line, 2 months notice being required, if it was needed permanently. The practicalities were that if it didn't have the line then it could not send the music.

The purpose was improved programming and no direct benefit in cost but just simply to attract a bigger audience share and to improve the inheritance factor for the following day's programmes. There was no intention to reduce staff.

T. H. Jenkins, chairman of Foveaux Radio Ltd., said that the upgrading of the line would cost $17,000 per annum which would negate any cost savings in employment costs. He said also it was to improve programme quality. The accrued losses of the station up to 31 March 1983 were $270,541. Although he thought the company was making a small profit, there was no room for complacency and Foveaux faced competition from the Gore station as well as the competition from 4ZA.

Mr Jenkins acknowledged that when applying for a warrant the station had said that it would provide a 24 hours a day, 7 days a week locally originated service.

The company had mainly given thought to networking possibilities in the summer holiday period with the station in Central Otago and by originating some of that programme in Invercargill to meet the needs of Southland people who were holidaying in Central Otago.

This would depend on the attitude of Radio Otago whose position was pivotal. The company was seeking the freedom to network between 7 p.m. and 6 a.m.

W. J. Rutherford, a director of Radio Otago Ltd., the holder of a warrant for Dunedin and for Central Otago with networking permitted between the 2 stations, made it clear that it was unlikely that 4XO (Dunedin) or 4XA (Central) would take programmes from other stations except when there were no suitable announcers or in some peculiar circumstances. Both stations intended to remain all Otago stations and the company was committed to that policy. They would be pleased to broadcast to others, particularly seeing the advantage to Foveaux because of the community of interest particularly during holiday periods. He also detailed the hours in which the newsroom is manned.

P. J. Don, Station Manager for Radio 2ZM, was formerly assistant commercial network manager for Radio New Zealand. He gave evidence for the Corporation. He outlined the history of the introduction of night network programming and the development of the "Tonight Show" and the "Allnighter".

These programmes are seen as an alternative to Radio New Zealand's other services and to other radio programming currently available. The "Allnighter" often contains sporting commentaries from Britain and Europe and both programmes provide popular music for the adult audience. A consistent feature for the "Tonight Show" was the high quality of the programme and the extensive features offered. Some stations joined the network at 7 p.m. and others at 8 p.m. and 9 p.m. Mr Don also detailed the research that was undertaken.

The Broadcasting Corporation's position was that it was not in the public interest that the applications be granted because the needs of the locality would not be met. Financial considerations were the basis of the application. Blaming Radio New Zealand competition was to make a scapegoat of the Corporation. Financial considerations were often the basis of reduction in services. There had been no surveys of public reaction and no indication that the proposed action would be successful in producing better programmes. The 3 stations had different circumstances and Radio Foveaux Ltd. was resiling from its statement of intention at the time of its application. The Tribunal had already rejected a regional approach when dismissing the Aotea application some years ago.

In reply Mr Burton pointed out that the purpose of the application was to provide flexibility and that there were no fixed intentions at present. The present condition was unsatisfactory as a basis from which to work for obtaining consent to networking. The station would be improving quality, not embarking on a cost-cutting exercise and the combined resources should be able to produce a good programme. It would be in the best interest of the public, it would improve the service to the public who would ultimately be offered the best of both worlds.

A submission was received from A. T. Cushen of Invercargill who pointed out that Radio Foveaux Ltd. offered a 24 hours a day locally based programme. He said the variety of programming would be greatly reduced.

He also said that the civil defence capability would be reduced but Mr Jenkins pointed out that an announcer or journalist would be on duty at the station during any networking. Mr Cushen spoke well of the community involvement of Radio Foveaux and said that involvement would be reduced if there were substantial networking.

The Tribunal has considered the applications. It has awaited any indication that a situation has arisen which would define the intentions of the companies for a specific proposal.

The Tribunal does not consider that the present applications make a case for consent to be granted in an open form or even one limited to a certain number of hours.

The Tribunal would however, entertain a proposal that was more specific and related to an actual intention.

The Tribunal could then decide whether any consent would be conditional or unconditional and whether or not the proposals are clearly for the benefit of the listener and in the public interest. The Tribunal has considered whether it should dismiss the applications for consent or whether it should adjourn the matters. It considers that the appropriate course is in the meantime, to adjourn the applications sine die. If, during the next year the stations wish to make an application that is based on an actual programme intention, they could seek a hearing or file affidavits and written submissions. In either case the matter can be dealt with at short notice and promptly. This would remove the necessity for commencing another application.

If no action has been taken within 12 months from the date of this decision the applications presently made will be dismissed.

The Tribunal does not think it appropriate at this stage to make any general observations on the applications or their desirability other than to say that it appeared that the applications were premature and that Radio Otago Ltd. at least appeared to have reservations about the proposals put forward at the instigation of Radio Avon Ltd. It would appear the parties need to agree on their own intentions and then to make a further approach to the Tribunal if they wish to pursue the matter.

LPG Fuel System Approvals—Concessional Fuel Cylinder Approvals

PURSUANT to regulation 90B of the Traffic Regulations 1976* (as inserted by the Traffic Regulations 1976, Amendment No. 7) and pursuant to the powers delegated to me by the Secretary for Transport, I, Robert Norman Abram, Chief Automotive Engineer, hereby approve the components listed in the First Schedule hereto for inclusion in any LPG automotive fuel system installed and operated in accordance with the requirements of New Zealand Standard NZS 5422, Part 1, 1980 (and any standard made in amendment thereto or in substitution therefor) subject to the conditions of approval set out in respect of any component in the said First Schedule.

FIRST SCHEDULE
LPG FUEL CYLINDERS

MOT Reference	Manufacturer	Country of Origin	Specification	Material	Inspection Authority	Working Pressure Rating (MPa)	Test Pressure (MPa)	Nominal Water Capacity (litres)
AF L03C 022	Manchester Co.	Tank USA	ASME 8/1	Steel	ASME	1.72 (250 psi)	(375 psi)	100 (26.6 US gal)

LPG fuel cylinders are approved subject to the following conditions—

- That they be permanently and clearly marked, on a suitably attached metal plate, with characters not less than 6 mm high if space permits but in any case not less than 3 mm high, displaying the following information:
 - The specification to which the cylinder was manufactured.
 - The manufacturer's name or mark and the serial number of the cylinder.
 - The date of the original cylinder inspection and the identification mark of the inspection authority who made the inspection.
 - The date of any periodic cylinder test and the identification mark of the cylinder testing station who made each test.
 - The cylinder test pressure.
 - The nominal water capacity of the cylinder.
 - The tare weight of the cylinder.
- That they be clearly marked or labelled to indicate that the cylinder is suitable for use with LPG.
- That they be provided with valve threads and fittings which provide the following functions—
 - Filling connection incorporating a non return valve.
 - Service valve incorporating an excess flow valve.
 - Contents gauge.
 - Safety valve.
 - A fixed liquid level indicator or an automatic fill shut off device which prevents the cylinder being filled beyond 85 percent of the total cylinder capacity.

Valves and fittings shall have a service pressure rating of at least that of the cylinder to which they are fitted and shall be dimensioned, threaded and marked in accordance with the requirements of section 2.3 of New Zealand Standard NZS 5422 "The use of LPG and CNG Fuels in Internal Combustion Engines—Part 1 LPG Fuel".

- That they be tested at periods not exceeding five years in accordance with the requirements of Australian Standard AS 2337-1980 and in accordance with the periodic test requirements laid down in the specification to which the cylinder was manufactured.
- That they be fitted to a motor vehicle in such a position that they will not be subject to the direct rays of the sun, either by fitting them within a suitable vehicle compartment, or by providing a suitable shield if the cylinders are fitted to the exterior of the vehicle.
- The terms of this approval do not allow the continued importation of such LPG fuel cylinders and it does not apply to cylinders which have not been installed in a motor vehicle by 31 December 1985.

NOTES: The effect of this notice is to allow the continued use of LPG fuel cylinders which are known to have been imported into New Zealand prior to the introduction of the Dangerous Goods (Class 2—Gases) Regulations 1980 and which were acceptable under the previous dangerous goods requirements, but whose working pressure rating would disqualify them for approval for general use under the Traffic Regulations 1976. They are approved subject to the additional proviso that they must not be exposed to direct sunlight (to reduce the possibility that solar radiation would raise the temperature of the contents of the cylinder such that the developed pressure of the cylinder contents exceeded the working pressure rating of the cylinder).

Dated at Wellington this 4th day of September 1984.

R. N. ABRAM, Chief Automotive Engineer.
