THIS notice revokes the Standard Grade for the Export of Nectarines and Peaches Notice 1977 (No. 1629; Ag. 12/2/14), published in the New Zealand Gazette, Thursday, 3 February 1977.

PURSUANT to the New Zealand Grown Fruit and Vegetables Regulations 1975*, the Director-General of Agriculture and Fisheries hereby gives notice that the Standard Grade for the Export of Nectarines and Peaches shall be set out in this notice.

NOTICE

1. Title—(1) This notice may be cited as the Standard Grade for the Export of Nectarines and Peaches Notice 1984.

(2) This notice shall come into force on the day after the date of its notification in the New Zealand Gazette.

2. Interpretation—Unless the context otherwise requires, terms and expressions used in this notice shall have the same meaning as in the New Zealand Grown Fruit and Vegetables Regulations 1975*. Certain of these terms and expressions as applicable to fruit are defined in the First Schedule to this notice.

3. Application of Notice—This notice determines the standard grade for the export of nectarines and peaches from New Zealand.

4. Title and Grade—The grade mark assigned to this standard grade shall be 'Fancy' (hereinafter referred to as 'the grade').

NOTE—Consignments to European markets may have to meet specific OECD grade requirements. Refer to Second Schedule for further information.

5. Definition of Produce—This grade applies to nectarines and peaches grown from varieties of Prunus persica (L) Batsch to be supplied fresh to the consumer.

6. Provisions Concerning Quality—The purpose of this standard is to define the quality requirements for nectarines and peaches at the dispatching stage, after preparation and packaging.

(a) The nectarines and peaches must be;

- free from pests and diseases and meet any quarantine and other legal requirements of the importing country.
- intact, whole fruit.
- sound.
- clean.
- reasonably well formed—typical of variety and not more than slightly misshapen.
- free from abnormal external moisture; and
- free of foreign smell or taste.

(b) The nectarines and peaches must have been carefully picked and of a similar degree of maturity and colouring in the same line of produce. They must have matured sufficiently to complete the ripening process and be able to withstand handling, storage and transport to meet the market requirements at the place of destination.

(c) The nectarines and peaches must be of good quality and have characteristics typical of the particular variety and be free of defects which—

- (i) May significantly impair the general appearance or keeping quality of the fruit; or
- (ii) Are likely to make the fruit unattractive to the purchaser.

(d) The flesh must be sound, but each nectarine or peach is permitted a slight defect of shape, development or colouring and skin defects of a superficial nature such as light russet and that caused by limb or leaf rub and hail provided on size counts—

- (i) 28 and larger, the aggregate area of one or more defects does not exceed 1 square centimetre, and defects of an elongated nature do not exceed 2 centimetres in length.
- (ii) 30 and smaller, the aggregate area of one or more defects does not exceed 0.5 square centimetres and defects of an elongated nature do not exceed 1 centimetre in length.

(e) Colouring Criteria—for coloured strains the surface area of each fruit is required to display blushed or red colouration to the minimum percentage as follows:

Nectarine 30 percent Peach 20 percent

7. Provisions Concerning Sizing—Sizing is determined by the maximum diameter of the equatorial section. The minimum size allowed for export is:

Nectarines 55 mm diameter
Peaches 55 mm diameter

The difference in diameter of nectarines or peaches in the same package shall not exceed 5 mm.

8. Provisions Concerning Presentation—

(a) Uniformity

The contents of each package must be uniform; each package must contain only nectarines or peaches of the same origin, variety, quality, degree of ripeness and size.

The visible part of each package must be representative of the entire contents.

(b) Packaging

The nectarines or peaches must be packed in such a way as to ensure that they are suitably protected.

The materials, and particularly the paper used inside the package, must be new, clean and of a quality such as to avoid causing any external or internal damage to the produce. The use of materials and particularly of paper or stamps bearing trade specifications is allowed provided that the printing or labelling has been done with a non-toxic ink or glue.

Packages must be free of all foreign matter.

9. Provisions Concerning Marking—Each package must bear the following particulars in letters grouped on the same side, legibly and indelibly marked and visible from the outside:

- Identification—registered mark of grower or packing establishment and exporter's identification;
 - Nature or produce—kind and variety;
 - Country of origin—New Zealand;
 - Packing date code—registering the date of packing;
 - Commercial Specification—grade, count or size.
- Labels, if used must not be less than 40 square centimetres.

FIRST SCHEDULE

DEFINITION OF TERMS

'Clean' means free from dirt, dust, insect stains or other foreign substance or material;

'Count' means the number of fruit contained in any package;

'Mature', in relation to fruit, means that the fruit will properly complete the ripening process and is suitable for export;

'To pack' means to arrange fruit regularly and compactly in a package so that they are not loose or compressed to an extent likely to cause damage to the fruit during handling or transport;

'Sound' means free from decay, rots, overmaturity, breakdown, freezing injury, damage and similar defects which may cause rapid loss of condition or rapid decay;

'Storage defects' means decay, storage scald, fungal rots, wilt, or other injury to fruit as a result of storage.

SECOND SCHEDULE

GRADE REQUIREMENTS FOR EUROPEAN MARKETS

1. Some European countries are members of the OEDC Scheme for the International Standardisation of Fruit and Vegetables and as such NZMAF is required to supply an OECD Control Certificate stating that the produce conforms to the OECD schemes grade standards.

2. Before exporting nectarines or peaches to a European country, exporters should check with a Regional Ministry of Agriculture and Fisheries office to ascertain if the importing country requires a control certificate, and obtain a copy of the OECD grade standards.

Notwithstanding clause 2 of this Schedule it is the responsibility of the exporter to ensure that produce exported meets the legal requirements of the importing country and the specifications of the importer.

THIRD SCHEDULE

GENERAL INFORMATION

1. In order to certify produce fit for export a certifying officer may require information from the exporter to the effect that the property on which the fruit was produced has been registered for export. It is the responsibility of the exporter to obtain this information from the Executive Officer of the N.Z. Stonefruit Export Council.

2. To assist with the interpretation of 'sound' fruit that has not been exported within 18 days of harvest will be considered unsound.

3. Growers and Exporters must ensure that fruit is kept under optimum storage conditions between harvest and dispatch.

Decision No. 23/84

Com. 5/83

Before the Broadcasting Tribunal

IN THE MATTER of the Broadcasting Act 1976, and IN THE MATTER of a complaint by ANTONY JON SIMPSON:

WARRANT HOLDER—BROADCASTING CORPORATION OF NEW ZEALAND (TV2):

Chairman: B. H. Slane.

Members: Lionel R. Sceat, and Ann E. Wilson.

Co-opted Members: Gordon C. Ell and Brian W. Stephenson.

DECISION

Mr Simpson's complaint alleges "editorialising" and a lack of balance in an item on the Eyewitness News programme on TV2 on 21 April 1983. The Broadcasting Corporation of New Zealand ("the Corporation") is the warrant holder. This complaint was held in abeyance for some time, as it appeared that someone was contemplating litigation arising out of the same programme. The Tribunal has since been told that no litigation will now ensue. We therefore proceed to deal with the complaint.

The Item

Because of the general nature of the complaint, it is necessary to describe the item at some length. It was about alleged espionage by diplomatic missions of the Soviet Union. It did not contain new material of any great substance. Essentially, it provided a local angle on an overseas news report that, 2 weeks before, France had expelled 47 Soviet diplomats "for spying".

It started by referring to the French expulsions and then reviewed the history of the USSR's diplomatic presence in New Zealand in recent years. Apart from the reporter, only 2 people appeared in the programme—the Minister in Charge of the Security Intelligence Service, Mr Robert Muldoon (as he then was) and the former permanent Head of Security Intelligence Service, Sir William Gilbert. The script referred to the expulsion of the Soviet Ambassador to New Zealand, Mr Sofinsky, following a report from the SIS that Mr Sofinsky had been involved in giving a large sum of money to the Socialist Unity Party ("the SUP") in Auckland in December 1979. The item traversed earlier expulsions of Soviet diplomats from New Zealand, in 1962. It referred to the Soviet diplomatic connection with incidents which led to a charge being brought under the Official Secrets Act against former Secretary of Industries and Commerce Dr William Sutch. (The item did not mention that Dr Sutch was acquitted.) It also said that 3 current members of the Soviet Embassy staff in Wellington at the time of the broadcast were "almost certainly" KGB agents.

In the interviews, Mr Muldoon expressed his view that the SUP and other groups were still getting money from Russia but he said at two points in the interview that there was "no hard evidence" that this was so. Sir William Gilbert said that "a good proportion" of Soviet diplomatic staff abroad worked directly or indirectly for the KGB and that the same sort of thing was happening here. He said they were not interested in military secrets here "because we have virtually none". He said that Soviet agents in New Zealand made a close study of the leading political, diplomatic and civil service personalities and were very interested in documentation. He suggested that this last interest was directed towards equipping people with false passports. He cited the arrest of Peter and Helen Kroger by the British MI5 in 1958, saying that both the Krogers had false New Zealand passports.

The reporter's script repeated the SUP's earlier denial that it had received a large amount of money from Soviet diplomats in New Zealand. No SUP representative appeared on the programme and the script did not say whether one had been invited to appear. It did, however, say that the programme had put some questions to a Soviet Embassy representative who had declined to answer them.

The rest of the reporter's script seemed to be directed towards showing a connection between the promotion of a pro-Soviet viewpoint and the views of various organisations and/or people in New Zealand. We say "seemed" because some sentences in the script were constructed rather loosely. Even with the aid of a transcript we had difficulty in working out what the reporter meant in some places and a viewer simply hearing the script read on air would have at least as much difficulty. The script did, however, say clearly that an article in the SUP newspaper attributed to the Novesti Press Agency was written by the Soviet diplomat stationed in Wellington. The reporter put this as a fact in support of his contention that a Moscow influence is apparent in the SUP's views on foreign policy. He continued:

"The SUP has gone on since that article to sponsor the formation in New Zealand of a New Zealand Council for World Peace. FOL President, Jim Knox, has spoken at a Council for World Peace conference here. The affiliation of the Council is obvious, when one takes note of its Chairman, a former Labour MP, Gerald O'Brien."

The item then reproduced a short quote from Mr O'Brien in the SUP newspaper. Mr O'Brien was quoted as asking people to "understand the aggressive intent of the American President and his advisers and made comparisons with the statements of President Breshnev".

The Eyewitness reporter went on to say:

"It's easy to over-rate the influence of the SUP. After all, even this book shop that the Party runs in Auckland is pretty small business. It is however true that Party members have gained for themselves a large number of influential trade union posts."

In a brief extract of an interview, Sir William Gilbert then said that [this SUP presence] was "partly trouble-making in the unions" and was also aimed at creating a favourable climate towards the Soviet viewpoint.

In conclusion, the reporter commented that the Sofinsky affair had strained relations between New Zealand and the Soviet Union and that, if relations were to improve, it seemed that the KGB would have to go.

A transcript of the item is appended to this decision.

The complaint

Mr Simpson's complaint ran to some length. What he had to say falls conveniently under two headings:

1. Lack of balance—Mr Simpson drew attention to s. 24, paragraphs (d) and (e) of the Broadcasting Act 1976 which imposed a duty to gather and present news in an accurate and impartial way and to make reasonable efforts to present significant points of view (either in the same programme or in other programmes within the period of current interest) when controversial issues are discussed. He said that the 2 persons interviewed had "remarkably congruent" views and no attempt seemed to have been made to present anyone from the SUP. "This was a very unbalanced programme, in terms of those who participated in it", he said. Mr Simpson thought that there might have even been scope for objective comment from someone, as he put it, "academically qualified to remark upon the pattern or significance of the allegations".
2. "Editorialising"—Mr Simpson saw this aspect as being the more serious one. He argued that, because of the high degree of reliance which people place on the media for information, the reporter's role should be circumscribed strictly. He said:

"Their role should be confined to the provision of linking information or to that of interlocutor. The participants in the programme should be allowed as far as possible to speak for themselves. Of course, there is a fine line between objectivity in some circumstances and editorialising. This was not one of those circumstances. The journalist in question went well over that line and took a clear position by repeatedly stating opinions which can be ascribed to nobody but himself."

Mr Simpson then gave a number of examples in support of his view that the item contained "editorialising". First, he said that the mention of the charge against Dr Sutch in the context would lead any reasonable person to the inference that Dr Sutch was involved in espionage. (We here condense Mr Simpson's words.) In the interests of objectivity, he said, it should have been mentioned that Dr Sutch was acquitted: Mr Simpson argued:

"All relevant facts must be put forward and if it [is] relevant to mention the arrest it is relevant to mention the acquittal. Otherwise editorialising takes place."

Second, Mr Simpson said that the reporter drew a connection between the policies of the Soviet government, the SUP and a large section of the trade union movement. Mr Simpson described this as "the grossest editorialising" in a highly political and controversial matter. He also said it was based on wrong facts concerning the relationship between the FOL and the International Confederation of Free Trade Unions. He did not offer an alternative view of this relationship.

In his third category of criticism Mr Simpson raised a number of matters:

(a) He objected to the word "sponsored", as used to describe the SUP's role in the formation of a New Zealand Council for World Peace. He said it was "an inaccurate statement" but again he did not offer an alternative view or claim any special knowledge of the matter.

(b) He objected that the reporter's script seemed to predicate a link from the SUP to the New Zealand Council for World Peace then to the President of the FOL and, through Mr Gerald O'Brien, to the Labour Party, a suggestion which Mr Simpson described as "bizarre".

(c) Mr Simpson thought that the term "large number", as applied to trade union posts held by SUP members, was factually incorrect, whether considered solely in terms of numbers, or in terms of the influence of the office held.

(d) He said that the statement that Mr Sofinsky had been "caught" handing money to an SUP official was contradicted by Mr Muldoon's statement that there was "no hard evidence" of Soviet financing of the SUP.

The Corporation's response

The Corporation made submissions in reply to Mr Simpson's complaint. It also made available an undated memorandum from Mr Paul France, Northern Editor of Current Affairs, to the Controller of News, Current Affairs and Sport, dealing with Mr Simpson's complaint. On behalf of the Corporation, Mr Barry Hudson put the contents of the memorandum forward for the Tribunal's consideration.

Mr Hudson's submissions can be summarised as follows:

- (a) The purpose of the item was to examine the actions of the KGB in New Zealand, in the light of the then recent expulsions. The outcome of the Sutch trial was incidental to the point being made that Dr Sutch was involved with a reputed KGB agent.
- (b) The 2 persons who appeared had, between them, been directly involved in the administration of the Security Intelligence Service for 26 years. It is hard to see who would be qualified academically to comment, given the nature of the subject.
- (c) Mr Simpson had misquoted the story in saying that a statement that there was no hard evidence of Soviet financing of the SUP was in "flat contradiction" of the statement that Mr Sofinsky had been caught handing money over. The lack of "hard evidence" referred to continuing financing, and not to the Sofinsky incident.
- (d) The claim in the item that a Moscow influence is apparent in the SUP's attitude to foreign policy is supported by an accurate summary of an article in the SUP's own newspaper.
- (e) The facts (i) that Mr Knox addressed the Council for World Peace and (ii) that Mr O'Brien is a former Labour MP, are matters of public record.

Mr Hudson conceded that the statement that "Party members have gained for themselves a large number of influential trade union posts" was open to criticism. He said the accuracy of the word "large" depends on what one regards as influential unions, and that this was not clear from the context.

Mr France's memo supported some of the submissions made by Mr Hudson. He submitted that the range of opinion presented was adequate, given the aim of the item and he said he was at a loss to understand where the journalist adopted an editorial stance. He considered that Mr Simpson's allegations were harsh.

Mr France made his own summary of the item in the course of defending most of the contents of it. He acknowledged that it could be said that Dr Sutch's acquittal should have been mentioned to set the record absolutely straight but he reiterated that the Sutch case was referred to only incidentally to the item's main purpose of examining Soviet activity.

Mr France also addressed himself to the complaint that the item appeared to draw a link between a number of organisations and public personalities. He said:

"There is plenty of evidence to support the assertion that the SUP sponsored the formation of the Council for Peace. The report that the President of the FOL had addressed a conference illustrated merely the status of the Council. The reference to Mr O'Brien merely quoted him as Chairman of the Council and in no way connected the Council with the Labour Party. Note Mr O'Brien is described as a former Labour MP."

Mr France did not offer any evidence of the alleged sponsorship nor did he suggest what "sponsorship" might mean in the context of the item.

Decision

- (a) Range of viewpoints—The duty to allow expression of a range of viewpoints is imposed by the Broadcasting Act 1976, s. 24 (1) (e) which states that the Corporation shall have regard to . . .

"(e) The principle that when controversial issues of public importance are discussed, reasonable efforts are made to present significant points of view either in the same programme or in other programmes within the period of current interest."

The Broadcasting Rules Committee's Television Programme Rule 5.1 (g) emphasises that this is an area in which a rigid approach is unhelpful. Fairness in all the circumstances is the over-riding concern:

"Rule 5.1 (g) No set formula can be advanced for the allocation of time to interested parties on controversial public issues. Services should aim to present all significant sides in as fair a way as possible and this can be done only by judging every case on its merits. That a particular person represents a majority or a minority faction should not have an over-riding effect on any decision on allocation of air-time. These decisions should be based on such considerations as the integrity of the person concerned, on previous allotments of air-time to all factions, and on the merit and news value of such a person's view."

We are told that the Soviet Embassy declined to appear. That was their decision to make. Their choice does not mean that statements adverse to them in the programme had to be muted, as long as those statements were within the bounds of fairness. In considering whether the SUP should have been invited to appear, we take into account that much of the item re-covered old ground. There was some new material but it was in the nature of peripheral detail, rather than substantial new allegations. In the circumstances, was it essential in the interests of fairness to interview someone to re-state old denials? Or was it sufficient to acknowledge those denials in the script? While one could argue that the programme would have been better balanced with a contribution from an SUP spokesperson, we think there is room for disagreement among detached, professional journalists as to whether it was essential to a fair presentation to invite someone to appear in person. In those circumstances we think it was within the programme editor's discretion to make do with an acknowledgment of the SUP's denial in the script. This did not give rise to such an imbalance that one could say s. 24 (1) (e) or Programme Rule 5.1 (g) was breached. The Tribunal does not uphold that aspect of the complaint.

- (b) "Editorialising"—Mr Simpson seems to use the word "editorialising" in a wide meaning which encompasses a failure to properly support an assertion of fact with evidence. Thus he says:

"The connection drawn between the policies of the Soviet government, the SUP and a larger section of the trade union movement is a highly political and controversial matter and it is the grossest editorialising coming from the commentary of [the reporter] particularly when it is clear that it is also a series of inferences based on wrong facts concerning the nature of the relationship between the FOL and the ICTFU."

We think this was more a case of a failure properly to support assertions of fact than of expressing an editorial opinion. In this area, the Tribunal considers that one part of the item was open to serious criticism. We refer to the passage in which, after mentioning to the article in the SUP newspaper and the formation of a New Zealand Council for World Peace, the reporter went on to say:

"The affiliation of the Council is obvious, when one takes note of its Chairman, a former Labour MP, Gerald O'Brien."

We must say that we do not find the "affiliation" of the Council at all obvious. In his submission, Mr Hudson says that it is a matter of public record that Mr O'Brien is a former Labour MP. That is true, but the sentence says more than that. Mr France's defence of the same sentence does not stand up either. He says:

"The reference to Mr O'Brien merely quoted him as Chairman of the Council and in no way connected the Council with the Labour Party. (The Tribunal's emphasis.) Note Mr O'Brien is described as a 'former Labour MP'."

We think the sentence is easily capable of the very meaning which Mr France denies that it carries. Reasonable people, on hearing the statement, would reasonably take it as a suggestion that there is some sort of connection between the Council for World Peace and the Labour Party. The Tribunal accepts that no such meaning was intended but the programme must be judged by what it said, not by what it meant to say or what its authors thought it said. It must be tested by the meaning that it would convey to the ordinary viewer. In relation to this sentence, the Tribunal upholds the complaint.

In a part of his complaint quoted earlier in this decision, Mr Simpson argued for a narrow role for reporters. He felt that they should be confined to providing linking information or to the role of "interlocutor". The Tribunal does not consider that the role is so limited. A reporter is not confined to a colourless recital of hard, primary facts. He or she is entitled to draw inferences from the published views of people or of organisations, if such inferences are there to be taken. Without the scope to do this, reporters could not provide much insight into political, industrial or economic affairs, to name just three examples. If there are similarities between the views of different people or organisations, it is open to a reporter to point to them but any suggestion of a causal connection should be properly supported. If the inferences drawn are too far-fetched and reflect adversely on someone, that can be a matter for a valid complaint on the grounds of unfairness.

Mr Simpson himself acknowledged that there is sometimes a fine line in this area. We do not consider that the item contained any further breach in this respect, beyond what the Corporation has already acknowledged. Mr Hudson accepted that the reference to "a large number of influential trade union posts" was open to criticism and Mr France conceded, rightly, we think, that to set the record straight the reference to the charge against Dr Sutch should have been accompanied by a mention that he was acquitted. In those respects the complaint is upheld.

Mr Simpson also complained that the item contradicted itself—that the statement that Mr Sokinsky had been caught handing money over was contradicted by Mr Muldoon's statement that there was no hard evidence. The Tribunal agrees with Mr Hudson's commission that Mr Simpson had simply misunderstood the item on this point. The lack of hard evidence was in relation to continued financing, and not to the Sofinsky incident.

We consider that the other criticisms of the programme are of an artistic or journalistic nature and are not matters on which the Tribunal ought to adjudicate.

Part of the script which said:

"It is difficult to disentangle the SUP's pro-Moscow philosophies—and those of traditional left wing trade union politics."

The Tribunal admits that it is unable to be sure what that statement in the script means and, equally, what Mr Simpson meant in his complaint against it. In those circumstances the Tribunal will exercise its discretion not to deal with that part of the complaint.

To summarise, the complaint is upheld in part, i.e., in respect of the sentence referring to Mr O'Brien. It is also upheld in respect of the failure to note Dr Sutch's acquittal and the reference to "large" number of influential trade union posts. The Tribunal in its discretion declines to decide one other aspect and in all other respects the complaint is not upheld.

Presentation of complaints

The Tribunal has grappled in this case with a confusing complaint about a confusing item. We have appended the text of the complaint to this decision. The Tribunal's procedures are relatively informal and a letter is the usual means of putting a complaint in front of us. We do not wish to make the procedure onerous but we do feel constrained to say that it is on the complainant to make out a case with reasonable clarity and conciseness. If complainants fail to do this, the Tribunal will not start from a presumption that the broadcasters were wrong, nor will it re-write the complainant's case. Where the complaint is not sufficiently clear, one option is for the Tribunal to decline to determine the complaint, under the discretion conferred by the proviso in s. 67(1)(b) of the Act.

Co-opted members

Mr Gordon Ell and Mr Brian Stephenson were co-opted as persons whose qualifications or experience would be of assistance to the Tribunal in dealing with the complaint. They took part in the deliberations of the Tribunal but the decision is that of the permanent members.

Dated the 7th day of November 1984.

Decision No. 21/84

Reference No.: Bro. 63/84, 64/84 and 65/84

Before the Broadcasting Tribunal

IN THE MATTER of the Broadcasting Act 1962, and IN THE MATTER of applications by the Broadcasting Corporation of New Zealand to amend warrants AM-56, 61 and 62 (Stations 3ZE, 4ZW and 4ZG):

Members: Lionel R. Sceats and Ann E. Wilson.

Hearing: 19 September 1984 at Wellington.

Counsel: B. Hudson for the Broadcasting Corporation of New Zealand.

DECISION

ON 30 March 1984, the Broadcasting Corporation filed applications with the Tribunal for amendments to the warrants they hold for stations 3ZE Ashburton, 4ZW Oamaru and 4ZG Gore. The purpose of the applications was to have some of the warrant conditions relating to local programme origination deferred until 15 March 1985.

Ashburton—3ZE

The precise amendment applied for in respect of this warrant was:

"(Condition 3). The station will produce daily Monday to Saturday in each week, 5 hours of local origination by the end of the first 12 months of operation, 6 hours of local origination by the end of the second full year of operation and 8 hours of local origination by the end of 4 years of operation."

By the addition of the following proviso:

"Provided that the 8 hours of local origination are not required to be implemented until 15 March 1985."

The warrant for this station was issued on 30 November 1979. The requirement for 5 hours local origination was therefore operative by the end of November 1980. The requirement of 6 hours by the end of November 1981 and the requirement of 8 hours by the end of November 1983.

As was stated in the application, at the end of November 1983, the station was not operating in the terms of its warrant as it was not producing local origination for 8 hours a day, Monday to Saturday each week. They were, and still are, operating a programme that Monday to Friday includes local origination from 6 a.m. until 1 p.m. daily. That is, 7 hours per day. On Saturdays the local origination is 6 a.m. until 6 p.m.—12 hours per day. There is no local origination on Sunday, and this is not required by the warrant.

The warrant conditions require total weekly origination of 48 hours. The station is presently broadcasting 47 hours. However, the warrant condition requires a different spread of local origination from that currently produced by station 3ZE.

The amendment requested is based on the financial situation which the station presently finds itself in and the station manager's belief that the viability of the station would be jeopardized if the warrant condition was complied with now. Although only one additional hour of local origination is required it would have to be on a week day and 4 hours of local origination presently broadcast on Saturday would have to be transferred to week day times. The rearrangement would put severe financial pressure on the station, and Mr Peter Hope, 3ZE's station manager, who gave evidence for the Corporation, estimated that the cost of the station of such an extra hour would be in excess of $20,000.

Mr Hope stated his belief that the station had achieved the objectives planned for it in terms of both programme and community involvement but he said the financial growth had not been achieved and for this reason further local origination would be very difficult. The average inventory fill on the station's commercial schedules currently exceeds 30 percent of the time available but for previous years the figure would struggle to be above 20 percent. The severe drought conditions experienced on the East Coast of the South Island in 1981 and 1982 have led to depressed economic conditions which account for this. Mr Hope said he expected to have sufficient community support next year to be able to consider the extension for 1 hour.

It is clear from the evidence given that the viability of this station would be jeopardized if rearrangement of their locally originated programmes was required at this stage. It would not be in the public interest to jeopardize the existence of this mini station. The application to have the extension of locally originated hours deferred until 15 March 1985 is therefore granted.

However, the Tribunal expressed its concern that the station was operating in breach of its warrant from the end of November 1983. It was 4 months before an application for relief from the condition was even filed with the Tribunal. The Tribunal notes that the deferment now granted, as applied for, is only until 15 March 1985.

Oamaru—4ZW

At the commencement of this application Mr Hudson applied to the Tribunal to amend the amendment applied for. The new amendment requested was to amend Condition 3 by the deletion of the last 8 words and the substitution therefore of "Monday to Friday in each week and 7 hours of local origination on Saturday by the end of the fourth year of operation".

And by the addition of the following proviso:

"Provided that the 8 hours of local origination are not required to be implemented until 15 March 1985."

The new Condition 3 would then read:

The station will produce daily Monday to Saturday in each week, 5 hours of local origination by the end of the first 12 months of operation, 6 hours by the end of the second full year of operation and 8 hours of local origination Monday to Friday in each week and 7 hours of local origination on Saturday by the end of the fourth year of operation."

"Provided that the 8 hours of local origination are not required to be implemented until 15 March 1985."

Therefore the Corporation is applying to have the requirement for 8 hours local origination on week days deferred until 15 March 1985 but asking that local origination on Saturdays be permanently limited to 7 hours.

This warrant was also issued on 30 November 1979. Therefore, its 5 hours of local origination was required to be effective from the end of 1980 and the 6 hours from the end of 1981. Station 4ZW should have been producing 8 hours of local origination daily Monday to Saturday by 30 November 1983. In fact its programme then, and now, included 7 hours per day of local origination, being 6 a.m. until 1 p.m. Monday to Saturday.

The station manager, Mr R. F. J. Woodward, gave evidence to the effect that extending the hours before next year would mean more staff and more costs which were not tenable at present. His estimate was that complying with the warrant condition would cost the station another $30,000.

The basic reasons given in this application were the same as those for Ashburton. The severe draught conditions in 1981 and 1982 have led to depressed economic conditions which mean the station is having difficulty selling its advertising. Mr Woodward's evidence was that they have been able to sell considerably less than 50 percent of the overall time available.

The reason for the alteration to the originally requested amendment is that on Saturdays after the locally originated programme ends 4ZW joins the commercial network (4ZB). This includes the Scoreboard programme which starts at 1 p.m. It has been very well received in the local community and Mr Woodward's view is that to have local origination between the hours of 1 p.m. and 2 p.m. on Saturday would be unacceptable to listeners. He stated that the Scoreboard programme includes 4 segments provided by his station.

Mr R. Rayner, on behalf of Radio Otago forwarded written comments to the Tribunal in respect of this application. The letter included the proposal that an additional hour of local origination on Saturday could be produced by 4ZW having 1 hour of local sports results and news after the ZB Scoreboard programme. Mr Woodward's comment on this was that it would be financially impractical. He said the 4 inserts in the Dunedin programme already cost the station a great deal. He also felt that there was insufficient local activity to generate a full hour of sports results. He felt the community was reasonably well covered by the inserts in Scoreboard.

Mr Woodward however agreed with a number of the comments made by Mr R. Rayner about the amount of local origination there should be in an area of this size. It is his belief, as well as Mr Rayner's, that the area should have at least 8 hours of local origination per day. However, it is Mr Woodward's definite opinion that it is financially impossible to achieve this at present. He hopes that such extensions will be possible next year, although, he was extremely reluctant to make any commitment to so doing.

The applicant has established that refusal to grant this amendment will jeopardize the existence of this mini station. That is not in the public interest. The amendment is therefore granted. Again the Tribunal expresses its concern that station 4ZW Oamaru has operated in breach of its warrant from the end of November 1983 until it filed its application at the end of March 1984. The amendment that is granted, is deferment of warrant requirements until 15 March 1985 only.

Gore—4ZG

The situation with the Gore application is slightly different from the other two. The amendment applied for warrant AM-62 is as follows:

"(Condition 4) The music programme between 1030 and 1630 hours on days when Sports Round-up is not broadcast shall be musically an alternative to 4ZA and 4YZ".

by the addition of the following proviso:

"Provided that this condition shall not be required to be implemented until 15 March 1985."

That condition, as it now stands, requires 4ZG to produce a music programme between the hours of 10.30 a.m. and 4.30 p.m., which is an alternative to 4ZA. In fact the station is repeating 4ZA from 12 noon until 6 p.m. It is also broadcasting locally originated programmes between the hours of 6 a.m. and 12 noon and this complies with condition (3) of its warrant.

This station, which is known as Radio Hokonui, broadcast under short term authorisations for periods totalling 2½ years. Their existing warrant was issued on 9 December 1983 and of course runs for a period of 5 years.

Under the short term authorisations Radio Hokonui repeated the 4ZA and the Invercargill programme from, firstly, 11 a.m. until 6 p.m., and then from October 1983, from 12 noon until 6 p.m. Mr L. D. Eccles, the station manager of Radio Hokonui, appeared for the Corporation. He said that it had not been appreciated by the Corporation that the full time warrant would be different from the short term authorisation.

The difference lies in condition (4) which requires the musical alternative to 4ZA. Mr Eccles said that this came as a surprise to the Corporation because considerable changes had taken place since the development of the original programming concept. He said that when the original application was submitted to the Tribunal, some 3 years ago, technological advances had outpaced the equipment which was proposed for the alternative programme concept. Indeed he said, that the technology for the music programme was out of date at the time of the application, and is now obsolete.

He explained that Radio New Zealand is developing new technology for this purpose but it is presently only in a formative stage.

Mr Eccles stated in his evidence that the Corporation did not wish to proceed along the original lines. During the hearing he clarified this to explain that it was not that the Corporation did not wish to produce the alternative music programme so much as they were presently unable to do so. As soon as the appropriate technology was available the Corporation would broadcast an alternative music programme.

Mr Eccles explained that should the Corporation be required to broadcast an alternative music programme at this stage considerable financial pressure would be applied to Radio Hokonui. He said that the station has returned an operating surplus since its inception, but it has not been as great as originally anticipated. The same problems as were outlined when the amendment applications for Oamaru and Ashburton were made, applied to this station. The climatic conditions have contributed to a difficult economic situation. Mr Eccles estimated that to broadcast the required programme would cost Radio Hokonui in the vicinity of $20,000 per year and he felt that this could not be justified financially at the present time.

This mini station provides a community facility which is well received. It has largely achieved what it has set out to do and has been accepted in the local community. The applicant has established that refusal to grant this amendment would jeopardize the existence of the station and this is not in the public interest. The amendment is therefore granted.

However, the Tribunal repeats its concern that station 4ZG Gore has operated in breach of its warrant, in fact since the warrant was issued on 9 December last year. The amendment that is granted, as applied for, is deferment of warrant conditions until 15 March 1985 only.

Decision No. 22/84

BRO. 104-105/84

Before the Broadcasting Tribunal

IN THE MATTER of the Broadcasting Act 1976, and IN THE MATTER of applications for short term broadcasting authorisations at New Plymouth.

- (1) Peak FM Ltd.
- (2) Energy Enterprises Ltd.:

Chairman: B. H. Slane.

Members: Lionel R. Sceats and Ann E. Wilson.

REASONS FOR DECISION

BOTH applicants applied for short term broadcasting authorisations to broadcast of FM stereo during the latter part of 1984 and the beginning of 1985.

Both applications were granted but for shorter periods than applied for.

Energy Enterprises Ltd. has asked for the reasons for the decision to be given.

The Tribunal considers it necessary to give the reasons for the decisions on both applications.

The Applications

1. Peak FM Ltd.—The applicant sought to transmit, from New Plymouth, an FM stereo programme from 5 October to 1 November and from 23 November to 20 December 1984. The hours were to be 6 a.m. to 10 p.m. Sunday to Wednesday and 6 a.m. to 1 a.m. Thursday to Saturday. The maximum hours for which permission was sought to broadcast were 968.

The programme was to be targeted to an audience in the 20-50-year-old age bracket with possibly more emphasis towards the younger listeners. In the later evening party type music would be broadcast and it proposed to have news, current affairs and weather for 6 minutes an hour and commercials for a similar period. The applicant said it would provide concerts, local artists and groups, new releases and request programmes and a top 20 of requests. News would be broadcast from Radio Pacific. It budgeted for a revenue of $34,000 to produce after expenses a net profit of $2,000. Its advertising was proposed to be for 6 minutes per hour.

2. Energy Enterprise Ltd.—The second applicant applied to broadcast continuously from 17 November 1984 to 2 February 1985. The maximum number of hours sought were 1,880.

It was proposed to carry advertising to a maximum of 6 minutes per hour. The programme would be directed towards a 15-34-year-old audience with a youth oriented contemporary rock format which the applicant said would provide a listening alternative to the existing commercial radio station introducing different artists and styles of music.

The applicants had some elements in common. Both were testing themselves with a view to making applications for full time private commercial FM warrant.

Both applications had some deficiencies. There was rivalry between the applicants. Both applications were opposed by the Broadcasting Corporation of New Zealand, the operator of 2ZP, the permanent commercial AM station in New Plymouth.

The Peak FM application at first was more seriously deficient. It appeared that A. P. MacDonald had been advising them and that he proved to be unreliable and not to have the background of experience which he had held out to the company. He was dropped from the application.

The Energy Enterprises application was dated 17 August 1984. The company was not in fact incorporated until 21 August 1984.

Objection

Peak FM Ltd.—Radio New Zealand considered the expectation of grossing $80,000 for a 28-day period to be optimistic and budgeting expectations for the commercial content were high and unrealistic. It also claimed that the programming philosophy was absent from the application and that the directors in a meeting had admitted they would not be able to maintain the news, current affairs, weather commitment of 6 minutes.

The Corporation pointed out that a short term broadcasting authorisation from 5 October to 1 November and 23 November to 20 December would cover period of major commercial earning for Radio Taranaki.

The Corporation pointed out that it had been demonstrated to the Tribunal in other markets the effect which another operator could have in fragmenting audience and effecting the revenue potential for existing stations. A large proportion of the revenue would be at the expense of Radio New Zealand. The Corporation said the application was an attempt to capitalise on the buoyancy of the pre-Christmas market.

Energy Enterprises Ltd.—Peak FM Ltd. objected claiming it was formed 3 years earlier but had not felt able to make an application for a short term broadcasting authorisation then. We did not place great reliance on some of the matters raised but noted the point that it would be difficult for two short term stations to survive over this period if both applications were granted as applied for.

The application was also objected to by the Corporation which described it as a reasonably well prepared application but pointed out the unfair economic effect such applications had on the full time operator in the area which provided a year-round public service and looked to the Christmas season to boost its revenue and to achieve financial targets. It suggested that the Tribunal might limit the period of the broadcast or require part of the period to be non-commercial with a maximum 6-week commercial period. It drew attention to the purpose of the station "to test the need and viability of a full time FM station".

It also raised some technical matters and some deficiencies in this application also.

We do not need to refer to the technical matters because we believe they have now been satisfactorily dealt with.

In reply Energy Enterprises claimed that short term stations in Horowhenua and Nelson had been permitted by the Tribunal and that the programme was targeted at a different audience. They said that they had asked for a maximum of 6 minutes per hour advertising and that this would have minimal adverse effect on the Taranaki station 2ZP. It claimed that 11 weeks was the minimum economic period for a FM summer station supplying full audience services and that any reduction would result in a reduction in services.

The company accepted that in testing the viability of a permanent FM station it was not presupposing an authorisation would give the company any rights or advantages.

Decision

It is not necessary to traverse a lot of the minor matters that were raised in relation to each application. It is clear however that neither applicant seemed to understand the purport of previous decisions of the Tribunal and the rulings made in particular short term applications which had a bearing on this decision.

Applicants should not consider that they are entitled to come into a market and run a station for a short time over a buoyant period and withdraw from the market sufficient advertising to make their venture viable. Nor should potential warrant applicants consider that they have a right to move into an area and try themselves out on a basis that it will be at no cost to them.

There is no doubt that there is an element of "warming up" the area for the warrant application and to claim as a merit in their application the conduct of a short term authorisation. In a decision as long ago as March 1979 in respect of the BCNZ's application for an authorisation at Levin (Decision 1/79) and in respect of applications by Radio Rhema we have traversed a number of issues arising from this type of application.

The Tribunal considers such of the factors under section 80 of the Act as may be applicable.

The Tribunal referred to some of the issues in granting authorisations which were referred to in submissions but without reference to the reasons given. The reasons were relevant but we quote only one passage from Decision No. 20/83 (Radio Kapiti Ltd. and Fifeshire Music Co. Ltd.):

"The Tribunal is concerned that stations can appear for short periods in these circumstances and then start to spread their broadcast time from the immediate holiday period which might be regarded as the week before Christmas and continuing through until the end of January and move into the more lucrative November/December pre-Christmas advertising.

The Tribunal has taken a generous view as to the activities of short-term stations over the holiday periods but it must have regard to the revenue of stations which are required to provide a year round service.

While it has been accepted that the activities of the stations over the holiday period will have some impact on the local station this was much less if they broadcast only from just before Christmas through to a date in January."

In the case of the present applicants, we did not consider that we would be entitled to refuse outright the opportunity of some broadcasting to provide that additional element of radio over the holiday period. We did not consider that the greater merits of the Energy Enterprises application were not such as to justify it being granted an authorisation and to deny such an authorisation to Peak FM Ltd.

It should be said that the Tribunal has formed an opinion quite clearly that a principal purpose of the applications is to do some FM broadcasting in an area where it might be expected to bring some audience support and indeed assist an application for a full time warrant.

We consider the objections of the BCNZ proved to be justified on a number of grounds and in particular on the grounds of the damage which could be done to their revenue by this brief and inexperienced incursion into the marketplace. If such applicants wish to have the experience they should regard the experience to some extent as a part of the cost of their warrant application, but such short term activity is not an essential part of any application and gives no priority or territorial rights to any applicant.

In pure terms of service to the people of the area the Energy Enterprises application was longer than could be justified for a short term authorisation. The Tribunal looks for a particular purpose for such authorisations and the holiday period has traditionally provided one, as have particular areas which are not adequately covered at all by commercial radio, special events, centenaries, gatherings of particular groups, weekend fund raising efforts and the like. In this case the reason for the lengthy broadcast primarily appeared to be to provide the revenue for the broadcast itself.

These broadcasts do little to promote FM radio because the standards achieved in both signal strength and programming seldom accord with the standards which might be expected from a permanent station for the programming that might finally be decided upon as appropriate for any other station which might be licensed for the area. FM is firmly established by permanent warrant holders and experimental broadcasts from temporary sites add nothing to available knowledge.

The Tribunal was faced with 2 applications, one of which presented a slightly better case than the other (in relation to programming) but which was for an excessive period.

The Tribunal decided that it would not prefer 1 applicant to the other and would give them both a period of 28 days and let them select the period, provided it was not early enough to interfere significantly with the pre-Christmas trading of 2ZP.

Footnote

When the application was granted in a limited form Energy Enterprises Ltd., which was represented by Palmerston North solicitors, approached the Member of Parliament for New Plymouth, A. P. D. Friedlander, with a long letter stating its case and the injustice it felt it had suffered from the Tribunal's decision. Mr Friedlander quite properly limited his representations to the Tribunal to asking what procedure could be followed to obtain a reconsideration of the decision.

Quite often Members of Parliament are asked to support such applications with a letter of support. (Mr Friedlander's letter of support for Peak FM applying for a permanent warrant was attached to this application with other letter of support.) We see no objection to that. But we take this opportunity to indicate to applicants that it is not appropriate to involve Members of Parliament in the merits of their particular applications before the Tribunal to secure reconsideration of a decision or to influence an original decision.

It could be thought by another party that some political pressure was brought to bear on the Tribunal because the approach was made by a Member of Parliament. In this case the applicant was aware through its solicitors of what avenues were open to it and the solicitors sought these reasons for the decision.

If the Tribunal is to deal with matters in a judicially independent way it is desirable that applicants do not resort to what could be regarded by other parties as political pressure although, as we emphasise, no such pressure was brought to bear by Mr Friedlander. For that matter on no occasion has any Member of Parliament brought any pressure to bear on the Tribunal.

Authorisations

The applicants were told that each may broadcast for a maximum period of 28 days for the hours each chose. Maximum advertising 6 minutes each clock hour. As a result authorisations were issued for—

Peak FM—17 December 1984 to 13 January 1985.

Energy Enterprises—29 December 1984 to 26 January 1985.

Dated the 8th day of November 1984.

Decision No. 20/84

Reference No. BRO. 96/84

Before the Broadcasting Tribunal

IN THE MATTER of the Broadcasting Act 1976, and IN THE MATTER of an application for an amendment to AM warrant No. 37 by the Broadcasting Corporation of New Zealand:

Members: Lionel R. Sceats and Ann E. Wilson.

Hearing: 19 September 1984 at Wellington.

Counsel: B. Hudson for the Broadcasting Corporation of New Zealand.

DECISION

THE Broadcasting Corporation operates a community based station out of Nelson known as 2ZN. It made an application to the Tribunal for amendments to the warrant for that station. The amendments applied for were as follows:

"Whether relay stations may or shall be established: No."

By deleting that particular and substituting the following:

"Whether relay stations may or shall be established: Yes."

A second amendment was applied for in the section headed 'other matters or conditions'. The amendment requested was:

"(4) A relay station shall be established at Golden Bay (Motupipi River Mouth) NZMS1 S8-236834 (400 w, 1269 kHz)".

As stated in the application the effect of the amendments will be to improve reception of the Nelson based community station, 2ZN, in the area around Takaka in Golden Bay. The particulars in the application stated the facts to be that the area around Takaka and Golden Bay, while receiving Wellington radio stations more or less adequately, has always lacked adequate reception of the Nelson based station. There is a demand for a relay station from the local community for three main reasons:

- The residents feel a sense of isolation from news of provincial community with which it has most in common, i.e. Nelson.
- In times of civil defence emergencies and natural disasters it is cut off from the source of warning and emergency information, and
- In holiday periods the large number of visitors cannot be serviced with local news, information and advertising of goods and services.

Although Radio New Zealand is aware of the deficiency and has plans to improve the situation, it has not been able to accord the project priority over a number of other urgent extensions throughout the country. The Golden Bay Promotion Association has made extensive efforts to rally community support and has succeeded in organising sufficient funds to make a proposal to the Corporation for sharing the capital cost in the establishment of a relay station. Agreement has been reached between the Corporation and the Golden Bay Promotion Association and this has led to this application.

Evidence was given by John Smith of Nelson, the station manager of 2ZN. He expanded on the reasons outlined in the amendment application and specifically emphasised the civil emergency difficulties and the community support that has arisen following the short term warrants obtained by Radio Nelson and operated during the 1981/1982, 1982/1983 and 1983/1984 Christmas and summer holiday periods. These short term warrants were received very well and were in fact commercially viable.

Mr Smith outline the good working liaison the station has with the Golden Bay Promotion Association and informed the Tribunal that for the first 2 years of operation of the proposed relay station 2ZN would not employ anyone on a full-time basis but would use the services of the Golden Bay Promotion Association to obtain the necessary information for broadcast.

The Chairman of the Golden Bay Promotion Association, K. B. Barry, also gave evidence before the Tribunal. He explained the way in which the combined committee of the Golden Bay Promotion Association, the Takaka Lions Club and the Golden Bay Jaycees had conducted their fund raising for the cost of erecting a mast and establishing the repeater station at Golden Bay by telephone appeal. Mr Barry said that he thought almost everyone in Golden Bay was associated in some way with the Golden Bay Promotion Association and all were in favour of the repeater station. He confirmed that even with the repeater there will be a few people in the district who will still receive a poor, or even no. signal. However, these people have been contacted and although they hope to receive better signals with a repeater they do not expect to.

D. J. Gatland, the Corporation's Supervising Engineer responsible for medium and high frequency radio coverage planning, also gave evidence. He outlined the proposed transmission system and confirmed that planning permission had been obtained and Ministry of Transport approval obtained for the proposed mast. In his view the radio transmission system proposed will economically provide reliable radio coverage for the target area and incorporation of the latest advances in transmitter technology will allow community involvement in the provision of the transmission facilities to contribute significantly to the viability of the project. Mr Gatland also confirmed that although the Golden Bay Promotion Association are contributing to the establishment costs, the maintenance will be a charge on the Corporation.

A large number of letters in support of the proposal were forwarded to the Tribunal. These included letters from various MPs, a number of local companies, the Golden Bay Returned Services Association, the Golden Bay County Council, Nelson Bays United Council, various service clubs in the district, 2 school principals and assorted residents. All letters supported the proposal.

The Tribunal gave its oral decision immediately after the hearing. It has been clearly demonstrated that the Golden Bay area receives inadequate reception of the Nelson Station and that they could have severe consequences for the local residents in times of civil emergency or natural disaster. Apparently this area is highly susceptible to flooding and Golden Bay is on the earthquake fault line running down from Wellington. The Golden Bay Promotion Association has produced clear evidence of the support of local residents for the repeater station. Not only have written submissions been made but a substantial financial commitment has been obtained to enable the proposal to go ahead.

The applicant has clearly established that the proposed amendments are in the public interest and accordingly those amendments are granted.

Dated this 31st day of October 1984.

(ii) Losses associated with dealings in securities have been allocated to revenue during the current year.

(iii) The charge for income tax is the amount of tax liability in respect of the accounting profit for the current year. Taxation charges which are expected to be payable in accounting periods subsequent to the 1984/85 financial year are included under the heading "Provision for Deferred Taxation".

Deferred taxation arises out of timing differences resulting from differing treatment for accounting and taxation purposes of Government stock transactions and interest income.

(b) Investments

- (i) The bank's one-fifth shareholding in Northern Trustee Computerbank Limited as at the company's 31 May 1983 balance date has been treated on an equity basis.
- (ii) New Zealand Government Securities have been valued on a purchase yield basis.
- (iii) Other investments have been recorded at cost less a provision for doubtful debts of $140,000 (1983 $140,000).

(c) Fixed Assets and Depreciation

- (i) Land is recorded at the higher of original cost or the 1981 Government Valuation.
- (ii) Buildings are now being revalued annually and are recorded at a value which is 90 percent of the Registered Valuer's valuation.
- (iii) Maximum rates of depreciation as approved by the Commissioner of Inland Revenue have been used, except for assets which have been revalued, to which the approved rates have been applied.
- (iv) The cost of lease goodwill has been spread evenly over the terms of the leases.

Changes in Accounting Policies:

Buildings, which were previously disclosed at cost, are now being revalued annualised as noted in the particular accounting policy 1 (c) (ii). The effect of this change in the current year has been to reduce the net profit after taxation by $23,632, being depreciation on the revalued amount. The revaluation of buildings has increased the reported value of the bank's assets and reserves by $2,630,000.

With this exception, there have been no changes in the above accounting policies which have been applied on bases consistent with those used in previous years.

AUDITOR'S REPORT

WE have obtained all the information and explanations that we have required. In our opinion proper accounting records have been kept by the bank so far as appears from our examination of these records.

In our opinion the accompanying Statement of Changes in Financial Position, Profit Statement and Balance Sheet together with the notes thereto give, using the historical cost method modified by the revaluation of certain assets, a true and fair view of the changes in financial position and the results of the business of the bank for the year ended 31 March 1984 and the financial position as at that date.
