The Standards Act 1965—Draft New Zealand Standard Specifications Available for Comment

PURSUANT to subsection (3) of section 23 of the Standards Act 1965, notice is hereby given that the following draft New Zealand standard specifications are being circulated.

Number and Title of Specification

DZ 3602 Code of practice for specifying timber and wood based products for use in buildings. $15.00

This is a draft revision of NZS 3602:1975. It has been prepared taking into account the concurrent revision of NZS 3631:1978 Classification and grading of New Zealand timbers (National Timber Grading Rules).

The present Standard is approved as a means of compliance with the relevant requirements of NZS 1900 and states how timber and wood-based products are to be specified for particular use in building so that they can be expected to give acceptable performance during the life of the building. To that end this draft revision covers the materials themselves and also certain aspects of design and construction that are relevant to their performance in use.

DZ 3631 Classification and grading of New Zealand timbers (National Timber Grading Rules). $15.00

This is a draft revision of NZS 3631:1978 prepared concurrently with the revision of NZS 3602:1975 Code of practice for specifying timber and wood based products for use in buildings.

This is the sixth revision of the National Grading Rules for New Zealand Building Timbers issued in 1938 as NZS 169. The revision is based on a draft produced by a New Zealand Forest Service working group which drew on departmental expertise in many fields including wood technology, current trade practices, specialty timbers and timber engineering. Some of the principal reasons for the revision are:

- to make provision for "new crop radiata pine"
- to make provision for other timbers such as eucalypts, blackwood and black walnut
- to bring NZS 3631 into line with current trade practices
- to simplify the document and eliminate internal inconsistencies.

All persons who may be affected by these publications and who desire to comment thereon, may obtain copies at the prices shown, from the Standards Association of New Zealand, Wellington Trade Centre, 181-187 Victoria Street (formerly known as 15-23 Sturdee Street) (or Private Bag), Wellington.

NOTE—Payment must accompany all requests for drafts.

The closing date for the receipt of comment is 2 May 1986.

Dated at Wellington this 10th day of February 1986.

DENYS R. M. PINFOLD,
Director, Standards Association of New Zealand.

BRO. 84/85, 90/85

Before the Broadcasting Tribunal

IN the matter of the Broadcasting Act 1976, and in the matter of applications by the BROADCASTING CORPORATION OF NEW ZEALAND in respect of IZM (AM-19/IZM):

Chairman: B. H. Slane.

Member: Robert Boyd-Bell.

Hearing: Auckland, 28 January 1986.

Counsel: M. J. O'Brien Q.C. and B. Hudson for the Broadcasting Corporation of New Zealand.
S. P. Bryers for Hauraki Enterprises Ltd.
A. C. Sorrell for Stereo FM Ltd.
B. H. Giles and P. J. Spring for Independent Broadcasters Association Inc.
B. G. Impey for Metropolitan FM Ltd.
J. D. Shale for Southern County Road Ltd.

APPLICATIONS FOR ADJOURNMENT—REASONS FOR DECISION
THE Broadcasting Corporation of New Zealand (BCNZ) applications were for—

(1) The recommercialisation of IZM by deleting the present condition which made the station non-commercial but with the right to limited sponsorship, and

(2) The conversion of the station from AM to FM.

Mr Sorrell had applied for a special sitting of the Tribunal for the purpose of considering an adjournment of the application, the grounds for which he set out in a letter. The Tribunal did not consider it necessary to convene specially to hear the application and dealt with the request for adjournment on 17 January 1986 in a minute which was issued to all parties.

When the hearing of the BCNZ applications was to commence, Mr Shale sought an adjournment. Applications for adjournment were also made by Mr Sorrell and Mr Impey and were supported by Mr Giles. The applications for adjournment were opposed by Mr O'Brien.

The Tribunal heard and considered the question of adjournment anew. After retiring to consider the arguments presented to the Tribunal, the requests for adjournment were declined but the Tribunal indicated that the reasons would be given in writing.

The arguments put to the Tribunal can be summarised briefly as follows:

Mr Shale

1. That the BCNZ applications had been set down pursuant to the notice from the Minister. (The Chairman informed Mr Shale that this was not correct.)

2. The Minister's notice was not a direction to the Tribunal and the Tribunal had misconstrued the legal effect of the notice and had failed to distinguish the notice (which publicised a statement of Government policy) from a direction in writing with which it must comply.

3. That in correspondence with the Registrar the applicant had been told there was no need to lodge an application and it had therefore been prejudiced.

4. Similar information had been given to others.

5. Thus priority had been gained over others by the present applicant. Nobody should be entitled to steal a march.

6. To proceed now would be in breach of the principles of natural justice.

7. Despite the Tribunal's statement in its minute that the parties would be aware of the application by the BCNZ, Mr Shale was unaware that the BCNZ intended to make such an application.

8. The notice indicates that the young adult programme is to be developed in conjunction with the Concert Programme, not as a prerequisite as stated by the applicant. The YC-FM application ought to have been considered.

9. There is only one frequency available at the present time and the assignment of that frequency would prejudice other applicants.

10. If the notification is a direction by the Minister, then it is defective because it interferes with the duty of the Tribunal to act judicially.

11. It is wrong to take the view that the matter has to be disposed of and to deal with this application by way of priority—

(a) Was not in accordance with natural justice;

(b) The Tribunal would not be acting judicially; and

(c) Would not enable all parties to have an equal opportunity.

He sought an adjournment of the application until all applications could be dealt with concurrently.

Mr Sorrell

Mr Sorrell's application was similar and was based on exactly the same grounds as set out in his letter to the Tribunal which is reproduced in the minute, with the exception that he no longer claimed difficulties created by the timing of the notice of hearing and the length of time available for the preparation of evidence.

He thought it was necessary that all the parties should make some comment on frequencies and that they would have to have knowledge of the frequency situation and his client believed there were an extremely limited number of frequencies available.

Mr Sorrell, unlike Mr Shale, argued that the Ministerial direction went beyond what could be considered a statement of general policy and consideration has been given to making an application to the High Court for a declaration to that effect in conjunction with an application for an injunction relating to this hearing.

He submitted that the lack of notice of the hearing and the brevity of the time given to prepare evidence in reply, was evidence that the directive had already impinged upon the Tribunal's freedom to act judicially.

He argued that the application should be adjourned for a period of time sufficient to enable publication of determinations regarding frequency and priorities for radio in Auckland.

Mr Impey

Mr Impey also applied for adjournment of the hearing on four grounds:

1. There was a haste in bringing on the hearing which prejudiced his client. It would not be possible to give the application full consideration and to do adequate research or analysis. The timetable was tight in respect of objectors.

2. A priority had been accorded to the BCNZ.

3. Frequency development on an unplanned basis was contrary to the previous development of FM broadcasting in New Zealand by the Tribunal which had not followed an ad hoc approach. There were good grounds for a planning type function.

4. The memorandum of 4 July (the news release) had been relied upon by the parties which should be able to rely on information from the Tribunal.

Mr Giles

Mr Giles for the IBA supported the applications for adjournment. He was concerned about fairness and equality. He submitted there were other significant interests in the applications and others should have been given the opportunity by the Tribunal calling for applications.

Mr Bryers

Mr Bryers did not ask to be heard on the question of adjournment.

Mr O'Brien

In opposition Mr O'Brien relied on the reasons set out in the Tribunal's minute.

He referred to the news release and pointed out that it was just that and did not purport to be anything more.

Mr O'Brien said there was nothing to prevent a concurrent hearing if anybody had bothered to apply. The only supervening factor had been the notice to the Tribunal and notice to the BCNZ that the BCNZ was directed to make an application for revocation of a condition and the substitution of an FM for an AM warrant. The BCNZ was obliged to follow that direction and the other parties knew of the direction since August 1985.

The necessary implication of a direction to the BCNZ to apply was that the application should be heard. There was no point in directing it to apply if the application was not to be heard.

Assuming a frequency was available, then in the absence of any other application at the same time the frequency was available for IZM.

He summarised the position by saying that the BCNZ has been directed to apply; that there were no other applications before the Tribunal; the hearing had been notified in the press and all the interested parties were able to file evidence in opposition and were present before the Tribunal. He submitted that nobody had been prejudiced in terms of the hearing.

With regard to Mr Shale's submission, Mr O'Brien said that there had been no indication of what rule of natural justice would be breached by the Tribunal proceeding. The Tribunal had given procedural latitude to objectors and there was support for the objectors at the hearing. The basic rules required the Tribunal to hear all parties. All the requirements for natural justice had been met.

With regard to the proviso to section 68, Mr Shale had appeared to put forward the proposition, said Mr O'Brien, that the news release indicated something of a judicial nature. Mr O'Brien submitted that the news release was no more than a statement of administrative intent. That document was not a judicial act and Ministerial notification does not all derogate from the duty to hear and consider the BCNZ's applications in accordance with the rules of natural justice.

With regard to Mr Impey's position as to prejudice, his clients had given full evidence; they may have wanted to do a survey but there was no prejudice in this instance and priority was not afforded to the BCNZ and the fact was that there was an application before the Tribunal and no other application.

(Mr Impey pointed out to the Tribunal that an application for a new FM warrant had been lodged. It was received on 19 December, after the Tribunal had advertised this matter for hearing. After that applications had been filed by Radio Rhema Inc for an FM warrant and by Hauraki Enterprises Ltd. for conversion to FM.)

Irrespective of that, Mr O'Brien submitted, the applicant is entitled to have it heard and determined and while there was a lack of substantial evidence on frequencies the statement given on 4 July 1985 had been given more status than was intended by the Tribunal.

There was no valid argument against the hearing proceeding.

Mr Shale

In reply Mr Shale said that if there were an inference that the application should be heard, the question was when it would be heard and the Tribunal should look at all applications at the same time. Everybody was told they would be heard at the same time.

Reasons

The Tribunal has never decided:

1. That it would have an investigation into frequencies. In fact it has no power to hold such an inquiry into frequencies.

2. The Tribunal has never decided that all applications would be dealt with at the same time or concurrently or in a continuous series of hearings.

3. The Tribunal's indication of an intention to look at all applications was an expression of an intention to see what applications were contemplated in order that it could give some order and tidiness to the procedure. It was not necessary that the applications be filed for this to be done.

It would, in the opinion of the Tribunal, be most undesirable to hear all applications relating to Auckland radio concurrently, or in a continuous series of hearings. In its experience the result would be lengthy hearings with many parties, all obliged to argue for or against all the possible combinations of grants and refusals of warrants. It would be expensive to parties, a bad use of resources and cause complications, delays and unexpected effects because of appeals. The Act and Regulations allow the Tribunal to settle such a procedure.

It is desirable for the Tribunal to consider whether some work on frequencies for AM stations might be carried out in order to make satisfactory long-term assignment of MF frequencies. It would be desirable to know what MF frequencies are to be available for AM stations from the finite number at present assigned to Auckland and whether it is possible that, on a complete analysis, it may be feasible to assign further AM frequencies to Auckland. That work, which would have to be undertaken by the New Zealand Post Office, is complex and would take some months.

In relation to the FM situation, the Tribunal is satisfied from its knowledge of the frequency assignments that it will be possible to make a decision to grant up to three more full power stations in Auckland in the reasonably near future in addition to existing stations. It will also be possible before very long to make assignments of a substantial number of additional frequencies for FM if that were considered desirable. In other words, in terms of the likelihood of available Tribunal sittings, decisions and appeals, no prejudice will be experienced by any party because of the unavailability of VHF frequencies by the Tribunal proceeding in the manner it has proposed.

We are satisfied that it would be completely unsatisfactory to adopt the course proposed by the parties. The Tribunal's procedure does however protect the parties.

What has happened is that Tribunal has invited interested people to notify their interest in making applications, either in relation to a change of frequency or to convert from AM to the FM band and to make new applications. Some of those applications are for AM and some for FM and the notice from Mr Shale's client is for either an AM or FM warrant.

We are not aware how many MF frequencies will be available until a decision is made as to the present application and as to the application by Hauraki Enterprises Ltd. and possibly as a result of further work to be done by the Post Office. It therefore seems logical to the Tribunal to deal with conversions to FM first so that it would then be in a position to decide what existing frequencies might be generally available for assignment in the MF band for AM stations.

The news release issued by the Tribunal indicated no more than that it would be prepared to review the needs for frequencies in Auckland and that was done by asking the parties to indicate their intentions. In its news release the Tribunal said that the matters were interrelated and such applications as might be made to it would be dealt with in 1986 so that weight could be given to the best use of frequencies. There is no statement that the Tribunal would have a concurrent or continuous series of hearings.

In reviewing the list of intended applications it was doing no more than looking at what it might have to deal with, so it could deal with them in a reasonable order.

The Tribunal stated that it considered it best to consider applications for conversions first and the one available when time for hearings became available to the Tribunal was the applications of the BCNZ which had been at that stage lodged pursuant to a Ministerial direction for 3 or 4 months.

There have been suggestions of some pressure brought on the Tribunal because of the Ministerial notice and direction.

That is incorrect. The Tribunal only made a decision in December as to the hearing date at the end of January when it had been able to clarify hearing dates for television hearings. There was no other factor involved in the fixing of the dates and no other application of any kind was suitable for hearing by this date.

The parties did not refer to (but could not have been ignorant of) the fact that the Tribunal is likely to be engaged for some time in television hearings and the Tribunal is aware that the result of an adjournment could well be to delay for several months these applications by the BCNZ.

The Tribunal can hear some of the arguments that are now raised for not proceeding with a hearing as reasons for not granting the present applications or for deferring a decision until other proposals are heard.

The parties will have the opportunity of putting forward the arguments that they have applications which ought to be considered before this application is granted. If we wrongly declined to accept those arguments, there is a right of appeal. Otherwise we could only ever decide one application if we heard all the others—maybe 17 of them. That is plainly silly.

The Tribunal is well aware of the difference between written directions under section 68 with which the Tribunal must comply and statements of Government policy to which it must have regard. It is surprised that a submission should be made that the Tribunal was in error in interpreting the notifications published in the Gazette as the Tribunal has, in previous decisions, made quite clear its understanding of the status of statements of general policy of the Government and specific directions with which the Tribunal must comply. The weight to be given has been dealt with also in an appeal by the administrative division of the High Court.

The Chairman made clear to Mr Shale that the Tribunal had not set the BCNZ applications down for hearing because of the Minister's notices and directions, but of its own motion. (Indeed, if it were reacting to the Minister's notices, it had certainly not done so immediately as nearly 4 months elapsed before it set down the applications.)

The use of the term 'directions' in referring to the Ministerial statements, is perhaps a loose use of a shorthand expression which is fully understood in hearings before the Tribunal.

The Tribunal has however taken into account that the BCNZ was directed by the Minister to lodge the application and all parties have been made aware, or should have been aware, of the Government policy if they were interested in the applications themselves. It is Government policy to facilitate change from AM to FM in certain circumstances. We do not therefore accept Mr Shale's claim that he and others may have been unaware that the BCNZ was likely to be making the present applications. They were not only flagged clearly in the Ministerial notice but in general publicity given before and later.

Mr Shale was also unaware that the BCNZ had already obtained a decision of the Tribunal authorising the establishment of the FM Concert Programme in Auckland and a number of other locations in 1984.

No party has been prejudiced by not having filed an application. The only other party with an application for conversion lodged during this month, is Hauraki Enterprises Ltd. which has not applied for either of the BCNZ applications to be adjourned and opposes only the recommercialisation of 1ZM, not its switch to FM.

In terms of dealing with applications and applying the factors to them, the Tribunal is satisfied that it would be better for both the 1ZM and then later the Hauraki application to be dealt with ahead of applications for new warrants and to changes of frequency. Applications can then be called for and made in the knowledge of what stations are broadcasting on AM and FM respectively.

Depending on several factors the Tribunal may call for and deal with applications for FM stations first.

Southern Country Radio Ltd. indicated on 27 September 1985 that it will apply in the alternative for AM or FM. It is, in the opinion of the Tribunal, crucial to know whether or not any existing stations are changing to FM.

The Tribunal obviously has not decided that the BCNZ's 1ZM applications should be granted. The Tribunal will hear the case and the objectors and act judicially on the evidence and having regard to section 80 and to the extent that it may be required by law to Government policy. Those matters will all be subject to submissions from the parties.

The Tribunal is aware that some parties have interpreted statements and letters from the Registrar in a particular way. However, we cannot see that any prejudice has occurred because the Tribunal would not now be dealing with other types of applications ahead of this application, even if they had been lodged.

The Tribunal emphasises that the period of the notice to the parties was occasioned simply by the time becoming available for hearings when it was decided not to sit in January for the TV applications and had nothing to do with any Ministerial notice or Government policy. It is surprising that this argument should be put forward when 3 or 4 months had elapsed before setting the matters down.

The Tribunal will not be influenced by threats to take action in the High Court to prevent hearings, which Mr Sorrell revealed had been considered.

The Tribunal has given a patient and considerate further hearing to a request for adjournment and has taken considerable time to give its reasons in writing when it had set out its earlier view in writing.

We are disappointed that the argument before the Tribunal largely seemed to proceed as if the Tribunal had little knowledge of the industry, little understanding of the problems of applicants, no knowledge of the Auckland market and no ability to sort out in its own way the logical and sensible approach to dealing with the aims and ambitions of those who wished to make applications in respect of Auckland radio. The Tribunal is experienced in dealing with radio applications and knows what is involved and has always striven to accommodate as far as possible, all procedural requests from interested parties.

In relation to Mr Impey's submissions, no priority at all is being given to the application by the BCNZ because it is the BCNZ. It is not adopting an unplanned approach. As for the news release—possibly because of misreporting and by leaping to conclusions, some parties may have expected a collective hearing. That was never intended. A review of the needs for frequencies was conducted by asking what applications were intended.

The Tribunal repeats that arguments that are put forward for the adjournment can well be put to the Tribunal as reasons for not granting one or other or both of the applications. To suggest that the Tribunal should await the filing of a succession of applications and then hear this application and up to a dozen more applications in massive hearings in which all parties would want to participate, is to suggest a recipe for lengthy and complicated applications, hearings and appeals which would do little to achieve the ambitions of anyone.

It has always been Government policy that existing stations should be able to apply to move from AM to FM and special provisions in the Act and Regulations have been made to facilitate such applications.

In Auckland it is appropriate that those applicants be dealt with first with rights to other parties to have their objections heard. That we have done.

The requests for adjournment were declined.

Dated the 30th day of January 1986.

Signed for the Tribunal.

B. H. SLANE, Chairman.
