Reference to the Court of Appeal of the Question of the Conviction of Dean Hugh Te Kohu William Wickliffe for the Murder of Paul Andre Miet

PAUL REEVES, Governor-General

At Wellington this 19th day of May 1986

Present:

HIS EXCELLENCY THE GOVERNOR-GENERAL IN COUNCIL

WHEREAS on the 3rd day of May 1972 Dean Hugh Te Kohu William Wickliffe was convicted in the Supreme Court at Wellington on a charge of murdering Paul Andre Miet and was sentenced to imprisonment for life: And whereas an application has been made for the exercise of the mercy of the Crown in respect of that conviction upon the grounds—

- That at the time of his trial a Police job sheet existed which was not available to Dean Hugh Te Kohu William Wickliffe, or his counsel, at his trial and which contained a record of what a witness said shortly after the shooting of Paul Andre Miet; and
- That what the witness is recorded as having said was in conflict with the evidence given by that witness at the trial of Dean Hugh Te Kohu William Wickliffe; and
- That the contents of the job sheet support the contention of Dean Hugh Te Kohu William Wickliffe (which contention was given in evidence by him at his trial) that the firearm held by the said Dean Hugh Te Kohu William Wickliffe was accidentally discharged and that that accidental discharge was caused by his being propelled into a door frame by Paul Andre Miet; and
- That, having regard to the evidence given at the trial and to the contents of the job sheet, the said Dean Hugh Te Kohu William Wickliffe ought not to have been convicted of murder:

And whereas, if the contents of the job sheet are an accurate account of what the witness said, that could be evidence relevant to the question of whether the fatal shot was a deliberate act or a reckless act on the part of Dean Hugh Te Kohu William Wickliffe or was the result of an accidental discharge of the firearm:

Now therefore, pursuant to section 406 (a) of the Crimes Act 1961, His Excellency the Governor-General, acting by and with the advice and consent of the Executive Council, hereby refers to the Court of Appeal for hearing and determining the question of the conviction of Dean Hugh Te Kohu William Wickliffe for the murder of Paul Andre Miet.

P. G. MILLEN,
Clerk of the Executive Council.

The Standards Act 1965—Draft New Zealand Amendments Available for Comment

PURSUANT to subsection (3) of section 23 of the Standards Act 1965, notice is hereby given that the following draft amendments are being circulated.

Number and Title of Specification

DZ 198/A3 Draft Amendment No. 3 to NZS 198:1967 3-pin flat-pin plugs, plug sockets, tap-ons and cord extension sockets with 10-ampere, 250-volt (maximum) rating. Gratis.

This draft amendment is issued as an interim updating measure pending the preparation of a full revision. (The draft revision DZ 6209 circulated in November 1982 has since been deferred to allow further development of new safety features in co-operation with the Standards Association of Australia in their revision of AS 3112:1981). This draft amendment will establish closer alignment with the current edition of AS 3112, mainly in respect of dimensions and tolerances, and will therefore remove some of the impediments to trans-Tasman trade. Another feature is the proposal to abolish the distinction between "light duty" and "heavy duty" accessories by requiring all models to have the full cord-anchorage provision. Provision is also added for cord-extension sockets to be moulded on to a 10-ampere cord.

Metrication is a mixture of soft and hard conversions. Some dimensions or tolerances have been altered in order to align more closely with AS 3112 (and DZ 6209), or at least to eliminate conflict by allowing an overlap. These cases may be recognised (in figs. 1 to 4) by an entry under "Equivalent", showing where the new metric value to be substituted differs from the old value being deleted.

DZ 2147/A2 Draft Amendment No. 2 to NZS 2147:1967 2-pin flat-pin moulded-on plugs with 10-ampere, 250-volt (maximum) rating, for use in 3-pin sockets. Gratis.

Details as above but for figs. 1 to 4 refer to figs. 1 and 2. (The full revision will combine NZS 2147 and NZS 198).

All persons who may be affected by these publications and who desire to comment thereon may obtain copies from the Standards Association of New Zealand, Wellington Trade Centre, 181-187 Victoria Street (formerly known as 15-23 Sturdee Street) (or Private Bag), Wellington.

The closing date for receipt of comment is 16 August 1986.

The Standards Act 1965—Draft New Zealand Amendment Available for Comment

PURSUANT to subsection (3) of section 23 of the Standards Act 1965, notice is hereby given that the following draft amendment is being circulated.

Number and Title of Specification

DZ 3122/A2 Draft Amendment No. 2 to NZS 3122:1974 Specification for Portland cement (ordinary, rapid hardening and modified). $10.00

The inherent deficiencies of NZS 3122:1974 as an effective working document are well recognised by cement producers and major cement users alike. Amendment No. 2:1986 does not seek to remedy all of these deficiencies. Its release is an interim measure pending a full revision in the relatively near future.

For the most part Amendment No. 2 addresses editorial shortcomings and other anomalies which render the original specification either inoperative or unduly onerous in the light of current circumstances. With a view to what might follow, Amendment No. 2 also embodies innovative changes, such as the removal of Type M (Modified) cement and the introduction of two would-be replacements in the "special" cement category: Type LH (Low Heat) and Type SR (Sulphate Resisting). The SANZ Amendment No. 2 Committee was of the opinion that the hybrid character of the Type M specification (part low heat and part sulphate resisting) was incompatible with its performing either role in a satisfactory manner.

Another notable feature of Amendment No. 2 is the introduction of a standard sand for the determination of cement strength via the preparation and testing of concrete cylinders. It is thus hoped to reduce the variations in the use of sands having different material characteristics.

All persons who may be affected by this publication and who desire to comment thereon, may obtain copies from the Standards Association of New Zealand, Wellington Trade Centre, 181-187 Victoria Street (formerly known as 15-23 Sturdee Street) (or Private Bag), Wellington.

Decision No. 6/86
Reference No. 24/85

Before the Indecent Publications Tribunal

IN the matter of the Indecent Publications Act 1963, and in the matter of an application by the Comptroller of Customs for a decision in respect of the following publications:

X Letters Vol. 3 No. 1.

Best of Genesis Friends and Lovers Spring 1986

Buf Pictorial Vol. 18 No. 1

Gem Vol. 27 No. 4

Chairman: Judge R. R. Kearney.

Members: Mrs R. Barrington, A. J. Graham and Ms K. Hulme.

Hearing: Wellington, 25 March 1986.

Appearances: No appearance for importer of X Letters Vol. No. 1 J. B. M. Smith on behalf of the importer of Gem and Buf and Best of Genesis Friends and Lovers Spring 1986 K. Wild for Comptroller of Customs.

DECISION

THESE publications were imported as sample copies through the port of Auckland in November 1985. They were seized by the Comptroller of Customs and the importer has subsequently disputed forfeiture. The publications have been referred to the Tribunal for classification prior to the commencement of condemnation proceedings pursuant to the Customs Act 1976.

Mr Smith appeared for the importer in respect of the publications Gem and Buf and Best of Genesis Friends and Lovers and in addition to oral submissions he provided the Tribunal with written submissions in relation to each publication.

The publication X Letters is comprised of a collection of letters supposedly written by members of the public and in which they relate their sexual fantasies or experiences. The letters are crude and coarse and cover such subjects as incest, male homosexuality, sado/masochism and anal sex. In the finding of the Tribunal there is nothing of literary merit in the publication and the Tribunal classifies this publication as indecent.

The magazines Gem and Buf have similar content in most respects. The pictorial concentration in Gem is on females with large breasts while that of Buf is principally centred on female models with much fuller figures than those usually found in magazines depicting the nude female form. Whilst the Tribunal does not consider that the content would be injurious to adults nor that the content contravenes the tripartite test as set out in decisions 1053 and 1054 of the Tribunal it does note that the publications would seem to cater for a limited interest group whose interest might best be described as being a fetish.

The publishers have gone to some trouble to cover out the genital area of many of the models and such little written material as is contained in the publications is largely unobjectionable. The Tribunal is satisfied that an age restriction is all that is required in respect of the publications Gem and Buf which are accordingly classified as indecent in the hands of persons under the age of 18. The fourth publication in this series is Best of Genesis Friends and Lovers Spring 1986 and largely comprises a collection of photographs from the Amateur Erotic Photo Contest which features each month in Genesis magazine. Such a contest also features in the magazine Gallery under the title The Girl Next Door. Both Genesis and Gallery magazines have previously received R18 restrictions from the Tribunal.

The such small amount of written material contained in this publication although having no literary merit is largely unobjectionable. The Tribunal is satisfied that the magazine does not require an indecent classification but that an age restriction is appropriate and accordingly it classifies this publication as indecent in the hands of persons under the age of 18.

Judge R. R. KEARNEY, Chairman.

Indecent Publications Tribunal.

Decision No. 5/86
Reference No. 25/85

Before the Indecent Publications Tribunal

IN the matter of the Indecent Publications Act 1963, and in the matter of a reference from the District Court Auckland for a decision in respect of the following publications:

Cruiser Magazine Vol. 4, Nos. 6, 7 and 8:

Chairman: Judge R. R. Kearney.

Members: Mrs R. Barrington, A. J. Graham and Ms K. Hulme.

Hearing: at Wellington on the 25th day of March 1986.

Appearances: No appearance on the part of the importer The Lawrence Publishing Company (NZ) Ltd. No appearance by the Comptroller of Customs.

DECISION

THESE three magazines are apparently representative copies of a fortnightly magazine printed by Cruiser Publications Inc., Liverpool, Sydney. They are expressed to be on their cover page a "Sydney after dark entertainment guide". These publications first came to the notice of the Comptroller of Customs at Auckland following The Lawrence Publishing Company (NZ) Ltd. the publisher of Out magazine importing into New Zealand a single copy of Volume 8 of Cruiser. That single copy was seized by a Customs officer on 22 March 1985 on the grounds that the Comptroller of Customs at Auckland had reasonable and probable cause to suspect that it was an item to be forfeited to Her Majesty the Queen pursuant to section 48 of that Customs Act 1966 as being a document within the meaning of the Indecent Publications Act 1963.

The Comptroller of Customs also alleged that the importation of the magazine was prohibited in terms of section 48 (1) of the Customs Act 1966 and that such importation was an offence against section 48 (7) of that Act. Forfeiture to the Crown was sought by the Comptroller of Customs at Auckland in terms of section 48 (11) of the Customs Act 1966.

Notice in respect of an Information In Rem in respect of this magazine was duly given to The Lawrence Publishing Company (NZ) Ltd. and in terms of that notice The Lawrence Publishing Company (NZ) Ltd. filed a statement of defence. The proceedings before the Auckland District Court have the file reference M.A. No. 529/85.

The presiding Judge in respect of the Information In Rem made an order by consent pursuant to section 12 of the Indecent Publications Act 1963 referring the question of the classification of the publication to this Tribunal for decision and report.

When the matter came before the Tribunal there were two additional copies to that originally before the District Court namely Volume 4, Nos. 6 and 7 and the Tribunal has made a determination in respect of all three volumes of the magazine.

As indicated above there were no appearances by either party at the hearing before the Tribunal but the Tribunal received and considered a detailed submission on behalf of the importer signed by Tony Katavich the publisher of Out magazine. Mr Katavich's submission strongly urged the Tribunal to find that the publications are not indecent and he also raised certain legal matters which in the outcome the Tribunal finds that it should not deal with.

That submission is to the effect that the publications were seized as "master copies" as distinct from "for sale" copies and as the publisher Mr Katavich did not have those publications for a possible offence against, as he cites it, "(ba) of section 21" they should not be declared indecent by the Tribunal.

Each of the magazines contains a substantial amount of advertising. A significant proportion of that advertising is unobjectionable and of a kind which one would find in a cross section of magazines available in Sydney bookstores. The bulk of the advertising however is clearly directed towards the male homosexual reader and Volume 8 in particular contains quite a significant number of advertisements, most in pictorial form, of what are homosexual sexual activity aids.

Each of the magazines contains a large number of photographs of males many of these being portrayals of a single male but a number showing two or more males in various stages of undress. The bulk of the foregoing material, in the Tribunal's view is not such as would individually or perhaps even collectively justify an indecent classification.

This judgement is expressed in this way because in the end result the Tribunal did not have to give a close consideration to those aspects of the publication for it was unanimous that it was an aspect of the written material in each publication which clearly calls for each of the three volumes to be classified as unconditionally indecent and we so classify those publications.

Each of the volumes which the Tribunal had to consider contain one detailed story of a male homosexual relationship. Not one of the three accounts in these magazines could claim any literary merit and in the recounting of the homosexual activity between the persons they are blatantly obscene, well past the point where they might be considered as not being offensive to commonly held public standards of decency. As indicated it is in each case the graphic, lurid and obscene portrayal of activities in the homosexual encounter of males which earns the classification of indecent.

Dated at Wellington this 30th day of April 1986.

Decision No.
Reference (1) IND 5/86; (2) IND 6/86
Memorandum

IN the matter of the Indecent Publications Act 1963, and in the matter of an application by the Comptroller of Customs for a decision in respect of the following publications:

(1) Fiesta Volume 19, No. 12, Volume 20, Nos. 1 and 2

(2) Knave Volume 17, Nos. 11, 12, Volume 18, No. 1. All published by Galaxy Publications Ltd.

THESE matters came on for hearing before the Tribunal on 29 March 1985 at Wellington with the publishers represented by Justin Smith and the Comptroller of Customs represented by K. Wild. Evidence was given before the Tribunal by David Halliday the managing director of Galaxy Publications Ltd. Mr Halliday was questioned by members of the Tribunal following which a detailed submission was presented by Mr Smith. Mr Wild informed the Tribunal that he had only had a brief opportunity of perusing and considering the four publications and as a result of that his submissions on behalf of the Comptroller of Customs were not detailed and in fact were quite brief.

Prior to the Tribunal hearing the publications had been circulated amongst its members. The Tribunal being aware that senior counsel from England had indicated that he would be appearing for the publishers had hoped that the Comptroller would have likewise been represented by senior counsel.

At the formal hearing I notified the parties that the Tribunal's decision would be reserved and following the formal hearing the four members who were present met and gave further consideration to the evidence and submissions which they had heard. The Tribunal believes that its decision in respect of these particular publications will be an important one and there are some aspects of the publications which the members of the Tribunal at this stage have not been able to reach a clear decision on.

Accordingly the Tribunal's decision cannot be issued at this stage and because of the importance of the matter the Tribunal is to reconvene in June 1986 to further consider the matter and reach its decision. It is hoped that the decision will be delivered shortly after that meeting.

Dated at Wellington this 2nd day of May 1986.
