Declaring an Easement to Convey Fuel Oil Acquired Over Land for the Generation of Electricity (Substation) In Blocks XII and XVI, Puketapu Survey District and Block IV, Heretaunga Survey District, Hawke's Bay County and Napier City

PURSUANT to section 20 of the Public Works Act 1981, the Minister of Works and Development declares that agreements having been entered into with the owners and lessees (called the grantor) of the land described in the First Schedule hereto (called the land) an easement in gross for ever (subject to clause 8) is hereby acquired for generation of electricity (substation) vesting in the Crown or its successors (called the Crown) on the 20th day of November 1986 the right to convey fuel oil through that part of the land described in the Second Schedule hereto (called the servient land) by means of a pipeline together with the licence from time to time for the Crown, its agents, servants, contractors or employees, with or without vehicles, machinery or necessary equipment to enter the land along a route agreed to with the grantor to

(a) dig, construct and lay the pipeline through the servient land; and

(b) inspect, repair, cleanse, dig up, alter, enlarge, renew or replace the pipeline provided that:

1. The Crown shall give the grantor reasonable notice of its intention to exercise the rights so granted. In an emergency prior notice need not be given; notice shall be given to the grantor as soon as is reasonably practicable.

2. The Crown at its expense shall make good any damage caused to the land, crops, stock, fences or buildings as a result of the exercise of the rights so granted. Alternatively, at the option of the grantor it shall compensate the owner for such damage.

3. The pipeline is to be buried to a minimum depth of 1.25 metres below the surface of the land. Any replacement pipeline is to be buried to a similar depth.

4. The Crown shall indemnify the grantor against all actions, proceedings, claims and demands made against the grantor in respect of any damage arising out of the exercise of the rights so granted except where such damage results from the negligent or wilful act or omission of the grantor.

5. The Crown during the continuation of these rights will keep the pipeline in proper order and condition.

6. The grantor may work the surface of the servient land to a depth of 1 metre. If the grantor wishes to work the soil to a depth greater than 1 metre it shall first obtain the Crown's consent (through the manager, New Zealand Electricity, Napier).

7. The grantor will not erect or permit to be erected any building or structure nor plant or permit to be planted any tree on the servient land. This prohibition does not include the planting of shrubs or the erection of fences.

8. Should:

(i) the Crown no longer require the pipeline; or

(ii) Lots 1 and 2, D.P. 4361 cease to be used for the generation of electricity; or

(iii) Lots 1 and 2, D.P. 4361 cease to be vested in the Crown then the Crown will forthwith surrender the rights herein by notice in the Gazette. Prior to the surrender the Crown may remove the pipeline or any part thereof making good any damage resulting from such removal. If the Crown does not so remove the pipeline then it shall become the property of the grantor.

This is a proposed New Zealand Amendment to BS 4472:1969, which is declared as NZS 8601:1977. The draft Amendment incorporates technical changes which align with the revised British Standard (BS 6473:1984) to improve the protectiveness of skull caps. DZ 8602 Protective hats for horse and pony riders. $4.00 (incl. G.S.T.)

This draft Standard has been prepared to replace NZS 2259 which is a British Standard (BS 3686). BS 3686 has been withdrawn in Britain. The proposed Standard specifies requirements for protective hats to be worn by horse and pony riders. Manufacturing requirements are specified for the construction and finish of the hats, and for the materials to be used for the shell and other components.

Approval for Construction, Maintenance and Operation of Gas Installations in Accordance with the System Description Entitled "Flexigas"

PURSUANT to section 61 of the Gas Act 1982 and to regulation 37 of the Gas Industry Regulations 1984 approval is hereby given for the construction, maintenance and operation of gas installations in accordance with the system description entitled "Flexigas" and issued by the Auckland Gas Company on 3 November 1986 subject to the following conditions:

The work is carried out under a valid gasfitting permit issued by the Auckland Gas Company.

The property in which the work is carried out is a single-unit dwelling or an attached dwelling but not an accommodation dwelling. For the purposes of this condition "single-unit dwelling", "attached dwelling" and "accommodation dwelling" are as defined in Schedule 1.

The person uplifting the permit has completed, to the satisfaction of the Auckland Gas Company, a familiarity course in the Flexigas system.

SCHEDULE 1: INTERPRETATION

In the approval:

"Dwelling" means a building or part of a building designed for or occupied exclusively as a residence of one household.

"Single-unit dwelling" means a dwelling which is structurally separated from other dwellings.

"Attached dwelling" means a dwelling which is separated from other dwellings by fire walls each of which has a 4 hour fire resistance rating.

"Accommodation dwelling" means a residential building in which accommodation is, or is intended to be, provided for 5 or more guests, boarders, lodgers, patients, or inmates and includes a boardinghouse, hostel, hotel, hospital, home orphanage, boarding school, barracks, lodging house, or similar building and includes a portion of a building or combination of 2 or more buildings or parts thereof.

Dated at Wellington this 7th day of November 1986.

D. J. GREEN, Chief Inspecting Engineer.

DECISION

THIS complaint arises from a statement about Islam in "News Review", Television New Zealand's weekly news programme for hearing-impaired viewers.

The Programme

"News Review" on Saturday, 30 November 1985 carried an extended item on terrorism and aircraft hijackings. According to the apparently incomplete script supplied to the Tribunal (the BCNZ said that a recording of the programme was no longer available) the item dealt first with an attack by Egyptian commandos to end the hijacking of an Egyptian airliner at Malta. The script said that the hijackers, when they realised they were being attacked, threw three hand grenades at the passengers: 10 minutes later, 59 people were dead and 27 were injured.

The item went on to review other recent hijackings and terrorist incidents dating back to the assassination of Egyptian President Anwar Sadat. It propounded a common thread of Moslem fundamentalism connecting several of these events. It then focussed on Moslem fundamentalist opposition to western trends in the Egyptian Government. At this point the script said:

"Islam speaks of violence and bloodshed in the name of religion."

The item ended less than a minute later, having indicated that Moslem fundamentalism was gaining support in Egypt but that journalists there believed that change would be slow.

The Complaint

Mr Frey complained in writing to the BCNZ 3 weeks later, on 20 December 1985. His letter also complained of another item broadcast on 8 December but he has not referred that second complaint to the Tribunal.

His objection to the 30 November programme was directed at the general statement about Islam. He said that the statement was biased. He said it could be argued that Christianity and Judaism are at least equally violent when one looks at the Old Testament or the Torah but it is not claimed that those religions "speak of violence and bloodshed in the name of religion."

Mr Frey felt that the statement did not conform to the requirements of Television Programme Rule 5.1 (b) of objectivity, impartiality and accuracy.

The Corporation's Reply

The BCNZ Board considered the complaint on 26 February 1986 and the secretary of the corporation, Mr Ian McLean, wrote to Mr Frey on behalf of the board on 5 March. The thrust of the corporation's reply was that the statement was made in context of an item about Moslem fundamentalism. The intent, Mr McLean said, was to make the point that, for the violent fringe of the fundamentalist movement, Islam was interpreted as providing justification and support for their actions. He said that the association between the statement and the group of Moslem fundamentalists was made by implication and it was apparent that the comment was part of a description of the extremist fundamentalist movement.

Reference to the Tribunal

Mr Frey was not satisfied. In his formal complaint to the Tribunal he argued that there is a difference between making a statement about some Moslem fundamentalists and about all of Islam. He described the statement as an extreme generalisation which lacked accuracy, objectivity or impartiality, added nothing to the rest of the item and was an attempt to defame Islam.

The corporation in reply submitted that, because the programme is for the hearing-impaired, it is necessarily a very much abbreviated form of the previous week's major news developments world wide. The corporation expanded on the "context" argument, saying that one could reasonably infer from the rest of the item that it was the extreme terrorist fundamentalist that was being singled out: The statement was not derogatory about Islam in general but about the faction which was referred to right throughout the item. The corporation submitted that Mr Frey's interpretation of the item as defaming Islam and by implication all those who practised that religion was rather extreme.

Finally, the corporation noted that the words "fundamentalist" or "fundamentalism" were used 11 times within 3 pages of the transcript and that this could leave no fair-minded viewer in any doubt that it was a faction of the religious movement that was being identified.

Mr Frey submitted that the fair-minded viewer would take the statement to be referring to Islam in general. He suggested that the average fair minded viewer has not met a Moslem, has never lived in a Moslem country, has never looked at the Koran and knows little about Islam. He thought that such a person would take the statement to be referring to Islam in general.

Mr Frey said that anti-Islam bigotry cannot be excused by claiming that the item was a summary: Summaries must also be impartial, objective and accurate.

Decision

The Tribunal accepts that the script writer did not intend to defame Islam or its adherents. Nor does the statement in our view amount to a display of bigotry. The corporation's own submissions are open to the interpretation that what was said was not what was intended and we consider that this was probably the case.

Nevertheless, the statement that "Islam speaks of violence and bloodshed in the name of religion" was too broad. It was capable of meaning, and may have been taken to mean, that violence is a theme of Islam. The Corporation argued that it was saved by the context—that in an item about fundamentalists, the meaning of "Islam" would be narrowed by implication to cover only those who interpreted their religion as calling for violence and bloodshed.

We do not think that the context necessarily narrowed the meaning in the manner suggested. The statement came after a long pause in the script. It stood out from the context and therefore has to be judged on its plain meaning. "Islam" is not synonymous with fundamentalism. Five dictionaries which we consulted give it a broad primary meaning of "the Moslem religion." Two give an expressly all-embracing secondary meaning—"all Moslem believers and their civilization (Heineman NZ 1979) and "Moslems collectively and their civilization" (New Collins Concise NZ 1982). The breadth of the meaning of the statement, although unintended, is inescapable. A small change would have saved the situation. For example, "To the fundamentalists, Islam speaks of violence and bloodshed in the name of religion," or "The fundamentalists speak of violence and bloodshed in the name of religion," would have been beyond criticism. A fair-minded and informed viewer might well have been able to work out what the script was meant to say. But that is not what it said. And the impact of the statement may have been intensified by the usual practice of showing the full script of this programme in captions and narrating the voice-over in a careful, deliberate manner.

Mr Frey touched on one point which the corporation did not take: It is possible that the statement in its most literal sense is true. The scriptures of some major religions contain violent passages. For example, the Christian precept that "... if thy right hand offend thee, cut it off ..." (Matthew 5:30) surely involves violence and bloodshed. If there are similar sayings in the Koran, we could imagine the statement being unexceptionable in, for example, a discussion programme about the range of interpretations of Islam. But that was not the setting in which the statement was made here.

The complaint is upheld.

Co-opted Members

The Tribunal co-opted Messrs B. W. Stephenson and A. H. Kocabas as persons whose qualifications or experience were likely to be of assistance in dealing with the complaint. They took part in the deliberations of the Tribunal but the decision is that of the permanent members.

Decision: 13 November 1986.

Appearances: No appearance of importer, Mr K. Wild for Comptroller of Customs.

DECISION

THIS magazine was privately imported through the port of Auckland by parcel post in December 1985. The magazine was seized and the importer subsequently disputed seizure. The magazine has been referred to the Tribunal by the Comptroller of Customs for classification prior to the commencement of condemnation proceedings pursuant to the Customs Act 1966.

The Tribunal has previously considered the publication Hustler and in its decision No. 1032 of 7 October 1982 found Vol. 8, No. 10 of that publication to be unconditionally indecent.

In his submission to the Tribunal the Comptroller points out that there is one particular sequence under the title 15½—The Dark Bros. Devil in Miss Jones, which contains a high degree of intimacy between 2 female models and 1 male model with such sexual acts as fellatio, cunnilingus and intercourse clearly depicted.

The Tribunal is unanimous that the publication offends against the tripartite test to such a degree that it must be classified as unconditionally indecent. It so classifies it.

Decision: 13 November 1986.

Appearances: Mr G. Ellis for importer Gordon & Gotch (NZ) Ltd., Mr K. Wild for Comptroller of Customs.

DECISION

THIS magazine was commercially imported by Gordon & Gotch (NZ) Ltd. as an advance copy through the port of Auckland. At the request of the importer the Comptroller of Customs considered it advisable to refer the publication to the Tribunal for classification.

The magazine consists almost entirely of photographic portfolios of 7 nude or partly clad females many of whom have apparently featured in Penthouse magazine over the last 3 years.

The Comptroller submitted that although the magazine lacked the multiple model scenes that have caused concern to the Tribunal when considering Penthouse magazines in the past that there was nevertheless such emphasis placed on genitalia in this magazine as to warrant at least a restriction to those persons who are over the age restriction of 18 years.

Mr Ellis in his submission on behalf of the importer submitted that the publication did not offend against the tripartite test as formulated by the Tribunal in its previous decisions. In particular Mr Ellis submitted that there was no evidence of the kind contemplated by the Court of Appeal in Howell v. Lawrence Publishing Company Ltd., CA 77/84 which would support a contention that this publication was injurious to the public good.

The Tribunal by a majority of 3 to 2 finds that the publication requires a classification that it is indecent in the hands of persons under the age of 18 years.

The 2 members of the Tribunal who are in the minority in this decision would find that the publication requires a classification as indecent for the same reasons which are set out in detail in Decision No. 10/86 in respect of the publications Fiesta and Knave.

In the matter of an application by the Comptroller of Customs for decision in respect of the following publications: Australian Playgirl For Men Monthly, No. 48, 49, 50, 52. Published by the Federal Publishing Co. Ltd.:

Chairman: Judge R. R. Kearney.

Members: Mrs H. B. Dick, Mrs R. Barrington, Mr A. J. Graham and Ms K. Hume.

Hearing: 11 June 1986, Wellington.

Decision: 13 November 1986.

Appearances: Mr G. Ellis for importer Gordon & Gotch (NZ) Ltd., Mr Eglington for Comptroller of Customs.

DECISION

In the records of the Indecent Publications Tribunal Australian Playgirl For Men Monthly, No. 48, 49 and 50 are covered by the reference 17/86 and No. 52 by the reference 16/86 but for obvious reasons all 4 magazines are dealt with in a single decision.

Issues No. 48 and 52 of Australian Playgirl For Men were imported through the port of Auckland in April and May 1986. Those issues were seized and the importers disputed forfeiture. Issues No. 49 and 50 were referred to the Tribunal by the Comptroller of Customs in order that all 4 issues of this publication could be considered collectively with a view to a restriction order being imposed upon Australian Playgirl For Men under the provisions of section 15A of the Indecent Publications Act 1963.

These 4 issues of Playgirl magazine are all very consistent in their presentation. Each issue is largely comprised of pictorial portfolios of single female models and 4 articles. The remainder of each magazine is taken up with stories, jokes, film reviews and snippets of news.

The bulk of the photographic content of the 4 magazines consists of photographs of single female models. It is that feature of the presentation of those models which concerns the Comptroller of Customs and his submission to the Tribunal was that a large number of the photographs depicted models in contrived and unnatural poses of a kind which justified some form of age restriction being placed upon these magazines rather than a decision of unconditionally indecent.

The Comptroller of Customs also expressed his concern with a short story contained in each magazine. As pointed out by the Comptroller these stories are of explicitly described sexual encounters.

Mr Ellis on behalf of the importer advised the Tribunal that these publications had been available in New Zealand for approximately 4 years without any question having been raised as to their indecency or as to any age restriction being placed upon their availability. Mr Ellis advised the Tribunal that the seizure of some of the publications and the presentation of all to the Tribunal for determination resulted from uncertainty in the market place. That uncertainty occurred earlier this year following statements made at Tribunal hearings by me as chairman of the Tribunal. In those statements I sought to draw the attention of publishers and importers to a concern which some members of the Tribunal had expressed that publishers seemed to be presenting much more sexually explicit material for New Zealand readers and that they ran the risk of having their publications declared unconditionally indecent. Since those statements were made the decision of the Court of Appeal in Howell v. Lawrence Publishing Company Ltd. CA 77/84 has been delivered and as set out in detail in Decision No. 10/86 in relation to the publications Knave and Fiesta the Tribunal has found by a majority of 3 to 2 that it is unable to make classifications of unconditionally indecent in respect of material which does not fall within the clear guidelines as set out in the tripartite test propounded by the Tribunal unless there is clear evidence that the publication under review is or is likely to be injurious to the public good. There is no such evidence before the Tribunal in respect of these publications but the Tribunal does find in terms of many of its previous decisions that they merit a restricted classification. Accordingly the Tribunal finds that these publications are indecent in the hands of persons under the age of 16 years.

In terms of section 15A a restriction order is made in respect of Australian Playgirl For Men Monthly as being indecent in the hands of persons under the age of 16 years.

Decision: 13 November 1986.

Appearances: No appearance of Importer Waverley International Ltd., Mr K. Wild for Comptroller of Customs.

DECISION

THESE publications were part of a commercial shipment imported by air mail through the port of Auckland in December 1985. The publications were checked and then seized by the Collector of Customs at Auckland as being indecent. The commercial importer having disputed forfeiture they were referred to the Tribunal for classification.

In the submission made to the Tribunal on behalf of the Comptroller of Customs no attempt was made to categorise the publications or to particularise those features which might be objectionable in terms of the legislation. The Comptroller simply submitted that all of the books came within the category of cheap tawdry works which were produced solely to arouse prurient interest. In addition, the Comptroller submitted that none of the publications had any merit whatsoever and that many were made worse by evidencing an infatuation with fetishes such as underwear, spanking, or large breasts.

Written representations were received from Waverley Publishing Company Ltd., an associate company of the importer on behalf of the importer.

A separate submission was made in writing in respect of the publications listed above as No. 4, 5, 6, 10, 11, 12, 13 and 14. The company conceded that most of these titles do not pretend to contain anything of social artistic or literary importance but submit nevertheless that they are unlikely to corrupt an adult. The company advises the Tribunal that at the time those particular publications were seized the Customs authorities indicated that an age restriction would be required in respect of them.

In respect of the publication Bronze Beauties (No. 7 in the list of books for consideration) the importer submitted that the decision of the Tribunal No. 962 was relevant and that at worst a similar classification as was imposed in respect of the publications the subject of that decision would be appropriate.

The final written submission from the importer was in respect of the publication Lovers Sex Guide. The publisher submitted that the publication which is a black and white representation of a male and female engaged in sexual activities was similar to publications which had received restricted classifications from the Tribunal.

The publication which caused the Tribunal the most concern was Victorian Erotica, Vol. 1, No. 1 (No. 1 on the list of books in respect of this decision). This is a small cardboard backed publication of 66 pages first published in London in 1974. The publication has a great deal of text together with a large number of pictures of naked and partly dressed females, most of which would appear to be photographs taken many years ago, and some black and white line drawings. There are some more recent photographs presumably of the era of the publication in 1974 most of which display sequential scenes of a male administering spankings or whippings to the naked posterior of a female.

A great deal of the text concentrates on the prudent aspects of violence to females and some of this being purportedly reprinted material from much earlier publications. Whatever the origin of the material might be the Tribunal is satisfied that the element of violence against females and particularly young females as portrayed justifies a classification of unconditionally indecent. When added to that we have the other cheap and tawdry content it makes the publication one which falls well outside the bounds of those which can receive a restricted classification.

In respect of the remaining titles from No. 2 to 14 inclusive the Tribunal classifies these as indecent in the hands of persons under the age of 18 years.

All of those publications to which the Tribunal has given the R18 classification are indeed as the Comptroller of Customs has said in his submission cheap and tawdry and in many cases pandering to an infatuation with fetishism but none of them are of a nature as to require other than the restricted classification which has been given to them.

We find therefore as confirmed herein that the publication Victorian Erotica, Vol. 1, No. 1, Spanking Special is unconditionally indecent and the remaining titles No. 2 to 14 as scheduled are classified as indecent in the hands of persons under the age of 18 years.

Dated at Wellington this 13th day of November 1986.

5BX PLAN

ROYAL CANADIAN AIR FORCE

112 pp. 1986. Fourth Edition. $5.95 plus $1.50 p & p

The five basic exercises (5BX) Plan is designed to show how to develop and hold a high level of physical fitness. The scheme is not dependent on elaborate facilities or equipment. The exercises require only eleven minutes a day and can be done in the house or office. The Plan is scientifically designed to develop personal fitness at a rate set by yourself, to your required level, without getting stiff or sore muscles. It is self measuring with charts for age groupings, along with graduated standards for checking progress. The programmes are designed for varying age groups of males.

ELECTRICITY FOR MOTOR MECHANICS

N.Z. TECHNICAL CORRESPONDENCE INSTITUTE

256 p. 1986 reprint. Illustrated. $15.00 plus $2.00 p & p

Now in paper-back, this popular publication provides a basis for the study of automotive electricity for apprentice motor mechanics. Car owners, too, and persons interested in the general maintenance of motor engines will find the book a reliable guide to the detection and remedy of minor electrical faults.

VISUAL WAYS

By Geoff Moss

46 p. 1982. Illustrated. $5.75 plus $1.50 p & p

Too often people find themselves having to speak in public, to train new employees, to teach various skills, or to give advice on arranging displays and exhibits without having had any relevant basic training. If you are such a person, this book was written to help in getting a message across more effectively by using visual aids.

WHERE TO START

By Vincent Burke

DEPARTMENT OF INTERNAL AFFAIRS

61 p. 1982. Illustrated. $5.95 plus $1.50 p & p

This publication has been designed to help New Zealanders in the initial stages of getting a club, group, or organisation off the ground. The information it contains will be of assistance to a wide variety of different community groups, sporting, cultural, and recreational clubs. Included are suggestions for various administrative frameworks; legal structure, meetings, public relations, finance, and the constitution of the organisation.

NEW ZEALAND OFFICIAL YEARBOOK

The Yearbook is the standard New Zealand encyclopaedic annual which has a place in every home, school, and office. Not only does it present a comprehensive statistical survey of the economy and population in New Zealand but it is also a very useful fact book for use in the home. In addition to the statistical facts supplied, the Yearbook also provides a background and historical perspective on each of the subjects covered.

(Customers may place their name on the Standing Order Service for this annual at the nearest Government Bookshop. A pre-payment form to cover the cost of the publication plus post and packing will be forwarded when the publication is printed.)

NEW ZEALAND POCKET DIGEST OF STATISTICS

$4.95 plus 80c p & p

Statistics are presented in an easily accessible form. It contains the more significant statistical series bearing on the country's social and economic life. The New Zealand Pocket Digest of Statistics is consistently one of the most popular annuals sold by the Government Printer.

(Customers may place their name on the Standing Order Service for this annual at the nearest Government Bookshop. A pre-payment form to cover the cost of the publication plus post and packing will be forwarded when the publication is printed.)

TRUCK OPERATING COSTS

$4.50 plus 80c p & p

In the case of vehicles used for business purposes, especially trucks, it is essential that a record be kept of vehicle expenditure and performance. This annual will assist operators of motor vehicles ranging from 3.2 tonne petrol trucks to 45.0 tonne heavy articulated diesel trucks to identify and possibly reduce operating costs.

(Customers may place their name on the Standing Order Service for this annual at the nearest Government Bookshop. A pre-payment form to cover the cost of the publication plus post and packing will be forwarded when the publication is printed.)

CAR OPERATING COSTS

$4.50 plus 80c p & p

(Customers may place their name on the Standing Order Service for this annual at the nearest Government Bookshop. A pre-payment form to cover the cost of the publication plus post and packing will be forwarded when the publication is printed.)

EFFECTIVE MANAGEMENT: For Busy ManagersSTATE SERVICES COMMISSION

114p. 1974. $4.95 plus 80c p & p
Management has been described as "what managers do". But what is that? Getting things done? Getting other people to do them? Using resources economically? And what does the 'effective' manager do? This book looks at answers to such questions. It has been written as an introduction to the subject, especially for New Zealand managers who want to manage their organisation better.

PROFESSIONALLY SPEAKING

25p. 1983. $3.25 plus 80c p & p
"Speech is power; speech is to persuade, to convert, to compel", said Emerson. Ignorance is the biggest stumbling block in the path of the aspiring public speaker. Your purpose in speaking must be that you have something to say, rather than that you have to say something. This inexpensive booklet will help the person who has to speak professionally.
