Indecent Publications Act 1963

Decision No. 37/88

Reference No.: IND 29/88

Before the Indecent Publications Tribunal

In the matter of the Indecent Publications Act 1963, and in the matter of an application by the Comptroller of Customs for a decision in respect of the following publications: Drummer 116; Friction July '88; Colt Studio Presents No. 11:

Chairman: Judge R. R. Kearney.

Members: R. E. Barrington, A. J. Graham, and S. C. Middleton.

Hearing at Wellington on the 28th day of July 1988.

Appearances: M. J. Wotherspoon for Comptroller of Customs. No appearance on behalf of importer.

Decision

Although there was no appearance on behalf of the importer, the Tribunal received a letter from Mr Ireland, counsel for the importer, explaining why he was unable to make submissions on behalf of the importer in person, and accompanying that letter Mr Ireland provided the Tribunal with a memorandum of his submission on behalf of Lawrence Publishing Co of NZ Ltd. Those submissions were considered by the Tribunal, along with the submissions presented by Mr Wotherspoon on behalf of the Comptroller.

These magazines were commercially imported through parcels post at Auckland on 25 May 1988 and were seized by the Collector of Customs at Auckland. The importer has subsequently disputed forfeiture and the publications have been referred to the Tribunal for classification prior to the commencement of condemnation proceedings pursuant to the Customs Act 1966.

Drummer 116

The Comptroller of Customs, in his submission, draws to the attention of the Tribunal the numerous occasions in the past when a Drummer publication has been submitted for consideration and classification. In particular, the Comptroller draws the Tribunal's attention to the emphasis on bondage and sado-masochism as referred to by the Tribunal in its Decisions 20/87 and 19/88. Mr Wotherspoon, in his submission, invites the Tribunal to consider that this particular issue has throughout its articles and photographs which depict bondage and sado-masochism and submits to the Tribunal that this is also an issue which should be considered as unconditionally indecent. Mr Ireland in his memorandum of submissions refers the Tribunal to the submission presented by him on 12 April this year in respect of other issues of Drummer, and reminds the Tribunal that its Decision 20/87 in respect of Issue 104 of Drummer is presently the subject of an appeal, and that appeal has yet to be set down for hearing. In his memorandum of submissions Mr Ireland states:

"Lawrence Publishing has appealed Decision 20/87 (issue 104) since it feels the Tribunal has not given full and proper consideration as to how representations of sado-masochism or bondage are injurious to the public good. Drummer is a long-running news entertainment magazine "for the complete leatherman". It is published monthly.

In the April submission I quoted from "Men loving men" for the authors' view on S & M, in particular, their comment that "as usually practiced [it] is entirely voluntary and of equal pleasure and sharing for both partners". Other writers on gay sexuality have similar views. For example Dr Charles Silverstein and the acclaimed writer Edmund White note in their work "The joy of gay sex" that S & M and bondage is essentially a role playing exercise relating to tough guy, good versus bad fantasies. They say, like cowboy fantasies, and we might add current parallels of Rambo, Robocop, etc, few act them out, "most men who are into S & M are not into real violence". The writers conclude the whole leather, S & M, bondage scene for those so inclined is "an exciting arena for ritual and sensual ceremony".

I ask that the Tribunal reconsider its attitude to such issues. If the Tribunal feels inclined towards an unconditionally indecent classification again, I ask that along with a R18 restriction, you may feel less unease if circulation restrictions are also imposed, for example, not to be displayed for sale or that the publication be only available by mail order."

The Tribunal has given very careful consideration to Mr Ireland's submission, as it has on previous occasions, but it remains firm and unanimous in its view that the presentation of sado-masochism and bondage in this particular publication is clearly injurious to the public good. The Tribunal considered whether it should defer the classification of this particular volume until after the appeal decision in respect of Issue 104 had been delivered, but it was decided that it was more appropriate for this decision to be delivered at this time. In the event that the appeal decision is favourable to the appellant, then this issue of Drummer and any other issues which have been declared by the Tribunal to be unconditionally indecent can be referred back for reconsideration and classification.

Friction July '88

This publication contains mainly fictitious stories of homosexual encounters, along with a number of letters and advertisements. The pictorial sequences are largely of black and white sketches and photographs of single males. The Tribunal agrees with the submission of Mr Wotherspoon on behalf of the Comptroller of Customs that this particular publication is more carefully presented and there is a lack of genital manipulation or multiple model scenes which are frequently found in other homosexual publications. Mr Ireland in his submission advises the Tribunal that this particular monthly magazine, first published in April 1987, had not previously been before the Tribunal for consideration and classification. Both Mr Ireland and Mr Wotherspoon submit to the Tribunal that an age classification is appropriate, and the Tribunal is in agreement with those submissions. The Tribunal accordingly classifies this publication as indecent in the hands of persons under the age of 18 years.

Colt Studio Presents No. 11

Previous issues of this publication have been classified as indecent in the hands of persons under the age of 18 years and Mr Wotherspoon, in his submission draws the attention of the Tribunal to some of the photographs which show naked males with straps tightly bound around the genitals. There are also several photographs of models who have nipple or genital piercings displayed.

In his submission Mr Ireland advises the Tribunal that this particular publication retails for $25.00 in the Out Bookshop. Mr Ireland submits that this is a quality colour production and that all that is required in respect of it is an R18 classification. The Tribunal, whilst expressing once again its concern at the portrayal of males with their genitals strapped in the way described and genitals showing piercing, is satisfied that such depiction is not of a kind as to justify a totally indecent classification, as has in fact been applied to magazines which have a predominant display of such material.

The Tribunal accordingly is satisfied that this material is harmful to the younger reader and classifies this particular publication as indecent in the hands of persons under the age of 18 years. The Tribunal draws attention to the fact that in a decision issued simultaneously with this decision, in respect of a number of Colt Studio Presents publications, a serial restriction order of indecent in the hands of persons under the age of 18 years has been made.

Dated at Wellington this 18th day of October 1988.

Before the Indecent Publications Tribunal

In the matter of the Indecent Publications Act 1963, and in the matter of an application by the Comptroller of Customs for a decision in respect of the following publications: Penthouse Collection (Aust-Edition) 1987; Penthouse Collection (Aust-Edition) January, February, March, April 1988; Penthouse (Aust-Edition) May 1988; Penthouse (Aust-Edition) July 1988; Genesis March, April, May 1988; Gallery March, May 1988; Park Lane No. 17; Parade Issues 72, 73, 74, 75 and 76 1988; Glamour Girls Issues 11, 12 and 13; Mayfair Vol. 22, No. 8, Vol. 22, No. 11; The Best of Mayfair No. 7:

Chairman: Judge R. R. Kearney.

Members: R. E. Barrington, A. J. Graham, and S. C. Middleton.

Hearing at Wellington on the 28th day of July 1988.

Appearances: M. J. Wotherspoon for Comptroller of Customs. G. F. Ellis on behalf of publishers and on behalf of Gordon & Gotch (NZ) Ltd., the New Zealand importer and distributor.

Decision

All of these publications, with the exception of Australian Penthouse, July '88, Volume 9, No. 7, have previously been considered by the Tribunal and have been the subject of interim orders by me as Chairman of the Tribunal to which I will refer during the course of this decision.

The books under review are in fact the subject of 4 separate applications to the Tribunal, but for practical reasons we have incorporated all of them within this one decision.

All of these publications were commercially imported into New Zealand by Gordon & Gotch (NZ) Ltd. and have been referred to the Tribunal through the Comptroller of Customs for consideration and classification in terms of the Indecent Publications Act.

Mr G. F. Ellis, counsel on behalf of the publisher, importer and distributor, made detailed written submissions to the Tribunal, and these were further supported by oral submissions made by him to the Tribunal at the hearing. Both Mr Ellis and Mr Wotherspoon in their submissions invited the Tribunal to consider both the imposition of an age classification and the granting of a serial restriction order in respect of these publications were appropriate. Most, if not all, of these publications have previously been freely available in New Zealand subject, in most cases, to an age restriction and the Tribunal, after considering the submissions by Mr Wotherspoon and Mr Ellis, and after consideration of the various publications, has determined as follows.

That all of the Penthouse publications contain material which would clearly be injurious to younger readers, and that each is classified as indecent in the hands of persons under the age of 18 years. Further, that the Tribunal is satisfied that the material presented in the Penthouse publications is uniform and consistent, and that in respect of each of these publications it is appropriate that a serial restriction order should be made. Accordingly, the Tribunal orders the issue of a serial order in terms of section 15A of the Indecent Publications Act 1963 in respect of all Penthouse publications, the subject of these various applications before the Tribunal. That serial order will classify such publications as indecent in the hands of persons under the age of 18 years.

In so far as the Genesis publications are concerned, the Tribunal repeats its concern that there are elements contained in these publications which bring the publications very close to earning an unconditional indecent classification. The Tribunal is accordingly not prepared to make a serial restriction order in respect of this particular magazine, but has reached a unanimous conclusion that all that is required is an age restriction, and it accordingly classifies each as indecent in the hands of persons under the age of 18 years. The Tribunal wishes to bring to the attention of the publishers, importers and distributors that it would be prepared to consider making a serial order provided the publishers, importers and distributors were prepared to agree to conditions that the publication not be on public display and that it be shrink-wrapped and labelled with the age restriction classification.

In respect of the Gallery publications, the Tribunal is satisfied that these contain material which would be injurious to younger readers and classifies each as indecent in the hands of persons under the age of 18 years. The Tribunal is likewise satisfied that this publication is entitled to a serial restriction order and accordingly makes an order that these publications are subject to the issue of a serial restriction order in terms of section 15A of the Indecent Publications Act 1964, classifying each as indecent in the hands of persons under the age of 18 years.

The publication Park Lane, No. 17 contains material which would be injurious to younger readers, and that publication is classified as indecent in the hands of persons under the age of 18 years.

The publication Parade contains material which the Tribunal is satisfied would be injurious to younger readers, and it too is classified as indecent in the hands of persons under the age of 18 years. In the case of this publication, the Tribunal is satisfied that it is justified in issuing a serial restriction order, and accordingly such order is issued in terms of section 15A of the Indecent Publications Act 1963 classifying the publication Parade as indecent in the hands of persons under the age of 18 years.

In respect of the publication Glamour Girls, the Tribunal is satisfied that these magazines contain material which would be injurious to younger readers and classifies each as indecent in the hands of persons under the age of 18 years. The Tribunal is also satisfied that a serial restriction order is justified and makes such an order in terms of section 15A of the Indecent Publications Act 1963 classifying the publication Glamour Girls as indecent in the hands of persons under the age of 18 years.

In respect of the Mayfair publications, the Tribunal is satisfied that this publication contains material which is injurious to younger readers and classifies each as indecent in the hands of persons under the age of 18 years. In this publication there is a content which concerns the Tribunal, and it is not at this stage prepared to make a serial restriction order but would be so prepared if the publishers, importers and distributors agreed to a condition that the publication be shrink-wrapped.

As earlier mentioned, some of these publications have already been the subject of interim restriction orders, and these publications are as follows:

Decision No. 34/88

Reference No. 30/88

Before the Indecent Publications Tribunal

In the matter of the Indecent Publications Act 1963, and in the matter of an application by the Comptroller of Customs for a decision in respect of the following publications: Colt Studios Presents, Issues Nos. 2, 8 and 10; Colt Men Issue No. 11:

Chairman: Judge R. R. Kearney.

Members: R. E. Barrington, A. J. Graham, and S. C. Middleton.

Hearing at Wellington on the 28th day of July 1988.

Appearances: M. J. Wotherspoon for Comptroller of Customs. No appearance by or on behalf of importer.

Decision

Although there was no appearance by or on behalf of the importer, a detailed written submission was received from him, and this was taken into account by the Tribunal in its deliberations.

These publications were privately imported at Auckland in May 1988 and subsequently seized by the Collector of Customs at Auckland. The importer having disputed forfeiture of the publications, they have accordingly been referred to the Tribunal prior to the commencement of condemnation proceedings pursuant to the Customs Act 1966. In Decision No. 1/88 the Tribunal ruled that earlier copies of Colt Studio, consisting in the main of photographs of single male models with very little accompanying text, were indecent in the hands of persons under the age of 18 years.

Having considered Mr Hughes' submission and having measured the content of these particular publications, the Tribunal is satisfied that all that is required is an age classification, as each of these publications is likely to be injurious to younger readers. Accordingly, the Tribunal classifies each of these publications as indecent in the hands of persons under the age of 18 years. The Tribunal is further satisfied that the material presented in the Colt publications is of such a nature that a serial order in terms of section 15A of the Indecent Publications Act 1963 is justified. Accordingly, the Tribunal makes a serial order in terms of section 15A classifying all publications under the Colt Studio Presentation as indecent in the hands of persons under the age of 18 years.

Hearing at Wellington on the 28th day of July 1988.

Appearances: M. J. Wotherspoon for Comptroller of Customs. No appearance by or on behalf of importer.

Decision

These publications were imported privately at Auckland in December 1984 and subsequently seized by the Collector of Customs at Auckland. The importer at the time disputed forfeiture of the publications but unfortunately the publications sat in the Comptroller's Office at Auckland and it wasn't until recently that they came once again to notice. As far as the Tribunal is aware there has been no complaint by the importer relating to the delay in referring the publications to the Tribunal.

All of these publications are heterosexual magazines which depict both single model scenes and multiple model scenes of explicit sexual intimacy. Emphasis is placed on genital exposure and various aspects of sexual intercourse specifically oral, anal and lesbian.

The Tribunal is satisfied that the publications display no honest purpose nor is there any literary or artistic merit in respect of any of the publications. The Tribunal is satisfied that this type of publication is clearly injurious to the public good and classifies each as unconditionally indecent.

Hearing at Wellington on the 28th day of July 1988.

Appearances: M. J. Wotherspoon for Comptroller of Customs. G. F. Ellis on behalf of importer.

Decision

This publication was commercially imported by Gordon & Gotch Ltd. through the port of Auckland on 2 February 1988. A number of copies of the magazine in question were seized by the Collector of Customs at Auckland and as the importer has disputed forfeiture of the magazines they have been referred to the Tribunal prior to the commencement of condemnation proceedings pursuant to the Customs Act 1966.

The Tribunal finds that the magazine in question is largely unobjectionable from the point of view of the legislation consisting principally of photographs of nude or semi-nude female models, articles, cartoons, video reviews and the like. The Tribunal is satisfied that some of the material particularly some of the depictions of the single female nude is of such a nature as to be likely to be injurious to younger readers. Accordingly the Tribunal classifies this publication as indecent in the hands of persons under age of 18 years.

Chairman: Judge R. R. Kearney.

Members: R. E. Barrington, A. J. Graham, and S. C. Middleton.

Hearing at Wellington on the 28th day of July 1988.

Appearances: M. J. Wotherspoon for Comptroller of Customs. G. F. Ellis for Importer Gordon & Gotch (NZ) Ltd.

Decision

This magazine was commercially imported through Auckland Sea Freight on 25 March 1988 and was seized by the Collector of Customs. The importer having subsequently disputed forfeiture the publication has been referred to the Tribunal for classification prior to the commencement of condemnation proceedings pursuant to the Customs Act 1966.

Volume 1, No. 1 of High Society was considered by the Tribunal on 11 June 1986 and in Decision No. 11/86 the Tribunal found the publication to be indecent in the hands of persons under the age of 18 years and so classified it.

This particular issue of High Society contains photographs of single female models both naked and partially clothed with the great majority of the photographs of a non-objectionable nature. The written content of the magazine consists of interviews, readers letters and two articles of a non-sexual nature. The dominant effect on readers must of necessity relate more to its sexual content than to the serious articles contained therein. Mr Wotherspoon on behalf of the Comptroller of Customs submits to the Tribunal that this is a magazine which also justifies an age restriction.

Mr Ellis presented a written submission on behalf of the publisher and importer and presented to the Tribunal copies of information which is sent out to customers of the importer by way of magazine news and memoranda dealing with "restricted publications". The Tribunal is pleased to note the efforts made by this particular importer and distributor to notify its ultimate retailers and distributors of the importance of complying with the restrictive provisions of orders made by the Tribunal. On a number of occasions the Tribunal has had drawn to its attention the failure of many retailers to comply with the terms of an age restriction order. The offenders in question are usually of the corner dairy type who have on display a number of magazines sometimes including restricted publications. The complaint which is legitimately made to the Tribunal is that those restricted publications are placed within those shops in such a position that any person entering the shop including young children have ready access to these magazines which can be picked up and thumbed through by those curious enough to look into their contents.

In his very helpful submission Mr Ellis submits that this publication can now be fairly compared with "Australian Penthouse" or with "Club International" both of which are classified as R18 and both of which have a section 15A Serial Restriction Order placed upon them. The Tribunal has raised with Mr Ellis the question of having this particular publication both shrink wrapped and labelled with the age restriction to be imposed and have been advised by him that he will raise those matters with his publishers and importers.

In the meantime in respect of this publication the Tribunal is satisfied that it contains material which would be injurious to younger readers and classifies it as indecent in the hands of persons under the age of 18 years.

Decision No. 39/88
 Reference No.: IND 21/88

Before the Indecent Publications Tribunal

In the matter of the Indecent Publications Act 1963, and in the matter of an application by the Comptroller of Customs for a decision in respect of the following publications: Gay No. 145, November 1981; Levi Punks; Hardware; Very Uncut No. 1; Toy No. 30; Bound To Serve, A Servant's Error; Exciting No. 23; Private No. 74:

Chairman: Judge R. R. Kearney.

Members: R. E. Barrington, A. J. Graham, S. C. Middleton.

Hearing at Wellington on the 28th day of July 1988.

Appearances: M. J. Wotherspoon for Comptroller of Customs. No appearance by or on behalf of importer.

Decision

These publications were from a private shipment imported at Wellington International Airport on 18 November 1987. The magazines were seized by the Collector of Customs at Wellington and the importer having disputed forfeiture they have been referred to the Tribunal prior to commencement of condemnation proceedings pursuant to the Customs Act 1966.

Gay No. 145 November 1987, Hardware, Levi Punks

These are male homosexual magazines containing many explicit photographs of explicit homosexual intercourse including both anal and oral. In both the publications Gay and Hardware the text is most explicit and almost entirely sexually orientated. The Tribunal is satisfied that the explicit nature of the homosexual intercourse presented is of such a nature that these publications are injurious to the public good and are accordingly classified as unconditionally indecent.

Very Uncut No. 1

This publication is a male homosexual magazine depicting a considerable number of acts of anal and oral intercourse. The principle difference between this magazine and Gay, Hardware and Levi Punks is that it does not contain any written text. The Tribunal is satisfied that the explicit sexual activity depicted is injurious to the public good and classifies this publication as unconditionally indecent.

Toy and Bound to Serve, a Servant's Error

These are male homosexual magazines which contain a considerable emphasis on such topics as bondage, domination and sado-masochism. The Tribunal has in many recent decisions expressed its concern at magazines which contain items of either bondage, domination or sado-masochism. Some magazines which might otherwise be largely unobjectionable in terms of the indecent publications legislation have been classified as unconditionally indecent because of their inclusion of such content. In the case of the present magazines the inclusion of those topics of bondage, domination and sado-masochism is not just in an isolated instance but many examples can be found throughout each publication of that type of objectionable material. The publications can not claim for themselves any literary or artistic or social merit and the Tribunal is satisfied that their content is such as to make them injurious to the public good and classifies each as unconditionally indecent.

Private No. 74 and Exciting No. 23

These magazines depict expressive heterosexual activity and are very similar in nature to those magazines considered by the Tribunal in its Decision 19/86 where it said in relation to the publications Sweet Little and Private International that they were "plainly hardcore pornography". The Tribunal finds that there are many features of these two publications which are injurious to the public good and that there are no balancing features such as artistic merit or important literary content. The publications are coarse and offensive and clearly of a nature which in the Tribunal's view are injurious to the public good. The Tribunal classifies each of these publications as unconditionally indecent.

Before the Indecent Publications Tribunal

In the matter of the Indecent Publications Act 1963, and in the matter of an application by the Comptroller of Customs for a decision in respect of the following publications: Anna's Orgies, Orgy in Bali, Sally's Anal Punishment, Forbidden Desire.

Chairman: Judge R. R. Kearney.

Members: R. E. Barrington, A. J. Graham, and S. C. Middleton.

Hearing at Wellington on the 28th day of July 1988.

Appearances: M. J. Wotherspoon for Comptroller of Customs. No appearance by or on behalf of importer.

Decision

These publications were privately imported through Parcels Post at Nelson in May 1988. The books were seized by the Collector of Customs and the importer having subsequently disputed forfeiture the books have been referred to the Tribunal prior to the commencement of condemnation proceedings pursuant to the Customs Act 1966. The 4 publications are paperback novels each containing approximately 190 pages of text and they are very much the same kind of material that the Tribunal has considered in its Decision 15/87, 18/87 and 23/87 where those particular publications were found to be unconditionally indecent.

The particular publications before the Tribunal on this occasion are very cheaply produced on poor quality paper. The dominant effect of the publications is the presentation of sexual activity with monotonous regularity. Each of the so called novels contain little in the way of a plot and they are absolutely devoid of any literary artistic or social merit. The Tribunal is unanimous in its view that each of these publications is clearly injurious to the public good and classifies each as unconditionally indecent.

Decision No. 42/88

Reference No.: IND 19/88

Before the Indecent Publications Tribunal

In the matter of the Indecent Publications Act 1963, and in the matter of an application by the Comptroller of Customs for a decision in respect of the following publications: Bawdy No. 252, 253, 254 and 255:

Chairman: Judge R. R. Kearney.

Members: R. E. Barrington, A. J. Graham, and S. C. Middleton.

Hearing at Wellington on the 28th day of July 1988.

Appearances: M. J. Wotherspoon for Comptroller of Customs. No appearance by or on behalf of importer.

Decision

Although there was no appearance by or on behalf of the importer the Tribunal had before it a letter from the importer a private individual dated 18 July 1988. In his letter of submission the importer stated:

"You mentioned advertising directions and requirements or proof of same. I presume this will refer to advertisements to be used by the importer when we sell any allegedly indecent publications. This does not apply to the 4 copies of Bawdy that were ordered for my own research purposes only and will not be resold or shown to anyone not concerned with the research project—the aim of which is to evoke an attitude of loving respect to the now somewhat tarnished act of copulation."

These publications were privately imported at Hamilton in October 1986 and were seized by the Collector of Customs at Tauranga. The importer having disputed forfeiture of the magazines they have accordingly been referred to the Tribunal prior to the commencement of condemnation proceedings pursuant to Customs Act 1966.

The last occasion which the Tribunal can recall having had the publication Bawdy before it for consideration was in 1978 and in Decision No. 902 in respect of that particular issue which was number 12 it was described as being "devoted to the blatant exploitation of sex and entirely lacks any literary, artistic, social or other merit." The Tribunal classified that publication as unconditionally indecent.

The Tribunal finds the current issues of this magazine which it has before it for consideration to merit the same description as was given to issue number 12 back in 1978. The magazines deal in explicit detail with various forms of heterosexual activity both in the text and the photographs. The publications are considered by the Comptroller of Customs in Mr Wotherspoon's submission to "constitute hard core pornography" the Tribunal is satisfied that the contents of these publications are injurious to the public good and they are accordingly each classified as unconditionally indecent.
