Video Recordings Act 1987

Video Recordings Board of Review

Inches

1. A review was sought of the Video Recordings Authority's classification of the video Inches by the Society for the Promotion of Community Standards (the applicant) pursuant to section 36 of the Video Recordings Act 1987 (the Act).

2. The Video Recordings Board of Review (the board) has re-examined the video in accordance with section 48 of the Act. The board reached its decision without having to consult with the applicant or the authority.

3. The video tells the story of what Doug, the central character of the video film, does following the breakdown of his 3-year old homosexual relationship with Lee. He seeks solace in a casual encounter with a hitchhiker, a visit to the "Bull-Pen" (a night club for homosexual males), and in an interlude with Tony the photographer. Tony's exhibition of photographs provocatively named Inches gives title to the film.

4. A large part of the video concentrates visually on male genitalia and anal areas. The dialogue contains some coarse language and is difficult to hear. None of it is memorable. The plot of the video is a thin disguise for the portrayal of explicit sexual activities of homosexual males. The film begins with a prolonged masturbation sequence by Doug on the bed, while Lee his partner masturbates in the shower. It progresses from masturbation to ejaculation, to fellatio, anal exploration and licking and anal intercourse to a scene in the night club where one man urinates on another's naked body. The scenes are detailed and prolonged. Some are filmed as if they are part of Doug's dreams or nightmares where Lee is portrayed as sexually servicing a group. Others portray in detail sexual activities between pairs. The scene in the night club which is called the "Bull-Pen" portrays anonymous multiple and random sexual activity.

The film is entirely homosexual. No woman is seen during its running. Only one female voice is briefly heard in a background song.

5. The board considers that:

- The dominant effect of the video is the depiction of homosexual sexual activities for private viewing by homosexual males.
- The video recording has little or no artistic, social or cultural merit. It attempts to comment upon the desirability of long-term loving relationships between pairs of homosexual males in contrast to the undesirability of short term fleeting encounters.

(c) The video recording is likely to be viewed by adult homosexual males and adult heterosexuals who are curious about homosexual activities.

(d) The board finds that the video contains no cruelty, horror, violence or crime. The video does not denigrate any class of persons. The explicit sexual acts displayed are between consenting adults. There are caring sequences and an underlying concern is expressed to establish caring relationships.

(e) The particular purpose for which the video is to be used was agreed by the board to be entertainment.

6. The board considers that because sexual preference and orientation is established earlier in life the video would not damage the sexuality of anyone if it was labelled R 18. It was thought that heterosexual viewers would regard much of the film as alien.

However, the board expresses great concern over two matters:

(i) The scenes of explicit sexual activity shown in the video are seen as unsafe by today's standards. There is a rising public awareness of the dangers of indulging in sexual intercourse with more than one partner without taking prophylactic measures. The visual portrayal of acts which are part of people's life-style may not be indecent, but the problem of sexually transmitted diseases including AIDS adds a whole new dimension.

The board is aware that prophylactics are freely available to adults. If videos such as Inches which show sexually explicit scenes are to be available for adult viewing then it ought to be able to be assumed that adults will take proper precautions. Despite this, the board sees value in some sort of health warning being issued with the video. It has recently reviewed a video which began with a promotion for safe sex and which recommended that condoms be used. The board is aware that neither it nor the authority has the power to make additions to videos by issuing health warnings. The board sees this as a deficiency in the Act which should be remedied.

(ii) If the video Inches can be seen to have any social message at all the message is about permanent caring relationships. The bar scene in the "Bull-Pen" negates the message. The scene portrays multiple anonymous random sexual encounters in a semi-public place. No precautions are taken against disease. No adverse comment is made about the deviant and dangerous practices that are taking place. The board found the scenes in the "Bull-Pen" to be indecent.

If certain cuts were made in the bar scene sequence the board unanimously agrees that it would classify the video to be indecent in the hands of persons under the age of 18 years with the description CONTAINS EXPLICIT SEXUAL MATERIAL.

7. The board is of the unanimous view that without the cuts and for the reasons outlined above that the video Inches is injurious to the public good and should be classified as indecent.

Video Recordings Board of Review

Hot Rackets

1. A review was sought of the Video Recordings Authority's classification of the video Hot Rackets by the Society for the Promotion of Community Standards (the applicant) pursuant to section 36 of the Video Recordings Act 1987 (the Act).

2. The Video Recordings Board of Review (the board) has re-examined the video in accordance with section 38 of the Act. The board reached its decision without having to consult with the applicant or the authority.

3. The plot is about a married couple Liz and Herb Adam whose marriage does not appear to be sexually satisfactory. Herb, the husband spends a lot of time at a tennis club and Liz goes to the club to see what the attraction is. She finds more sexual activity than tennis at the club. The activities of Liz and Herb's maid and the chauffeur provide a sub-plot for the sexual fantasies portrayed. In the opening scene of the film the maid services Herb in the shower after he has been rejected by his wife. While Liz and Herb are at the tennis club indulging in sexual activities the maid and the chauffeur engage in similar activities at home and in a greenhouse on the way home from the supermarket.

4. The plot is no more than a flimsy vehicle for detailed and prolonged displays of various types of sexual activity. Apart from a lesbian sequence between Liz and Kelly, the tennis club's masseuse, and a brief close-up of Liz masturbating using a vibrator, the activities depicted are on a one man/one woman basis. There is one scene at the end of the film which shows group sexual activity at a swimming pool party. The activities portrayed include fellatio, cunnilingus, vaginal sex, and vaginal sex with rear entry. There is a brief scene where a man ejaculates over a woman's face. When ejaculation takes place for the most part it is portrayed as being over a woman's belly.

In some of the scenes there are crude attempts at humour where the camera shows breasts and penises popping out of clothing during tennis games. Some of the action is farcical and much of it is silly.

The dialogue contains coarse language and often is difficult to hear. The sound track is of poor quality and in places drowned out by noise of a jacuzzi, a generator in the greenhouse and an aeroplane.

5. The board considers that:

- The dominant effect of the video is a sexual fantasy which attempts to titillate heterosexual viewers.
- The video recording has no artistic, social or cultural merit.
- The video recording is likely to be viewed by adults.
- The board finds that the video contains no bondage, horror, violence or crime. The explicit sexual acts displayed are between consenting adults. The video contains offensive language.

There is a particular scene which the board regards as extremely cruel. The maid and the chauffeur are shown having sexual intercourse in a greenhouse. A blind man approaches and thinks they are in trouble or pain. He fumbles around outside the glass and finally manages to enter the greenhouse. He trips and collides with the naked chauffeur and then with the naked maid. She strips him and performs an act of oral sex. The blind man in climax calls out "I can see". The board regards the cruel mockery of a person's disability in this manner as being beyond merely tasteless. It is indecent.

(e) The board agrees that the particular purpose for which the video is to be used is private viewing for entertainment.

(f) The board considers that parts of the video could denigrate women by reinforcing sexual stereotyping attitudes that the role of women is to sexually service the male. In one scene a young woman is paid for sex. The masseuse is depicted as working full time at giving sexual satisfaction. The maid who dresses in a short frilly uniform reminiscent of the French farce has the principal role of sexually servicing the men in her life.

6. Once again the board is aware of the public health concerns. The public is becoming more conscious of sexually transmitted diseases and in particular AIDS. When sexual activities with multiple partners take place the danger increases. There was not a condom in sight in this video.

The board is aware that prophylactics are freely available to adults. If videos such as Hot Rackets which show sexually explicit scenes are to be available for adult viewing then it ought to be able to be assumed that adults will take proper precautions. Despite this, the board sees value in some sort of health warning being issued with the video. It has recently reviewed a video which began with a promotion for safe sex and which recommended that condoms be used. The board is aware that neither it nor the authority has the power to make additions to videos by issuing health warnings. The board sees this as a deficiency in the Act which should be remedied.

7. The board considers that if certain cuts were made in the scene that takes place in the greenhouse with the blind man it would classify the video to be indecent in the hands of persons under the age of 18 years with the description CONTAINS EXPLICIT SEXUAL MATERIAL.

8. The board is of the unanimous view that without the cuts and for the reasons outlined above that the video Hot Rackets is injurious to the public good and should be classified as indecent.
