Broadcasting

Broadcasting Act 1976

Direction to the Broadcasting Tribunal in Relation to the Consideration of Applications for Amendments to Warrants under the Broadcasting Act 1976

To the Broadcasting Tribunal:

Whereas by direction dated the 12th day of April 1989 and published in the Gazette of 20 April 1989 I gave you notice of aspects of the general policy of the Government in relation to broadcasting:

And whereas pursuant to that policy I directed that you shall hear and determine certain applications for warrants under the

Broadcasting Act 1976, and accept, hear, and determine certain further applications for warrants and short term broadcasting authorisations under that Act:

And whereas the Government considers it desirable that certain applications for amendments to warrants be accepted, heard and determined:

Now therefore I, Jonathan Lucas Hunt, Minister of Broadcasting, acting pursuant to section 68 (1) of the Broadcasting Act 1976, in pursuance of the policy of the Government in relation to broadcasting set out in the direction dated the 12th day of April 1989, direct that you shall, in addition to accepting, hearing and determining applications pursuant to that direction, hear and determine applications for amendments to broadcasting warrants that you consider, having regard to all the circumstances of the application, and having regard to paragraph (1) (b) of the direction dated the 12th day of April 1989, should be heard and determined, with a view to determining such applications as soon as is practicable consistent with your statutory responsibilities.

Dated at Wellington this 29th day of May 1989.

JONATHAN HUNT, Minister of Broadcasting.
