Motor Vehicle Securities (Assignments) (Hon. W. P. Jeffries.)

Commerce and Marketing

Summary of Bill Introduced

Motor Vehicle Securities (Assignments) Bill

This Bill amends the Companies Act 1955 and the Chattels Transfer Act 1924. It is intended that the Bill will be broken up into 2 separate Acts.

The Bill relates to a small and technical area of commercial law, namely, assignments of hire purchase agreements over motor vehicles.

Part I amends the Companies Act 1955. Since 1931, assignments by way of mortgage of customary hire purchase agreements have been exempted from the registration requirements of the Companies Act 1955. This is due to section 2 (8) of the Chattels Transfer Amendment Act 1931. Assignments by way of mortgage of hire purchase agreements over motor vehicles will thus lose the benefit of that exemption as from 1 April 1990. The purpose of Part I of the Bill is to continue the exemption in respect of those assignments.

Part II of the Bill provides that both absolute assignments and assignments by way of mortgage of hire purchase agreements over motor vehicles are valid and effectual without registration under the Chattels Transfer Act 1924. This re-enacts the effect of section 57 (3) of the Chattels Transfer Act 1924 insofar as it applied to assignments of hire purchase agreements over motor vehicles.

Compliance and Approval of Electrical Apparatus and Materials

Pursuant to the provisions of section 2 of the New Zealand Electrical Code of Practice, NZECP3: Electrical Safety of Apparatus and Materials, as declared under the Electricity Act 1968, the following specifications are declared suitable for the purposes of this code, subject to the general conditions specified below.

General Conditions:

1. Where AS 3000 is referenced, add—"or the Electrical Wiring Regulations 1976.
2. Where AS 3145 is referenced replace with "the approved standard".

Australian Standards:

AS 1020 1984. The control of undesirable static electricity.

AS 1023.2 1989. Low voltage switchgear and control gear—protection of electric motors. Part 2. Current sensing protection devices for ac motors.

AS 1029.1 1985. Low voltage contactors. Part 1. Electromechanical—up to and including 1000V ac and 1200V dc.

AS 1029.2 1982. Low voltage contactors. Part 2. Semiconductor (solid state) up to and including 1000V ac and 1200V dc.

AS 1431.1 1989. Low voltage switchgear and control gear—control circuit devices and switching elements. Part 1. General requirements.

AS 1431.2 1989. Low voltage switchgear and control gear—control circuit devices and switching elements. Part 2. Additional requirements for push buttons and indication lights.

AS 1431.7 1989. Low voltage switchgear and control gear—control circuit devices and switching elements. Part 7. Additional requirements for control switches with positive-opening operation.

AS 1939 1986. Amendment 1, 2. Classification of degrees of protection provided by enclosures for electrical equipment.

AS 1977 1977. Flexible insulating sleeving for electrical purposes.

AS 2279: Parts 1 and 2 1979. Disturbances in mains supply networks. Part 1. Limitation of harmonics caused by household and similar electrical appliances. Part 2. Limitation of harmonics caused by industrial equipment.

AS 2279.3 1985. Disturbances in mains supply networks. Part 3. Limitation of voltage fluctuations caused by household and similar electrical appliances.

AS 2279.4 1985. Disturbances in mains supply networks. Part 4. Limitation of voltage fluctuations caused by industrial equipment.

AS 2285 1989. Space heating appliances—external temperature limits and primary guards.

AS 2286 1989. Space heating appliances—secondary guards.

AS 2380.1 1989. Electrical equipment for explosive atmospheres—explosion-protection techniques. Part 1. General retirements.

AS 2380.6 1988. Electrical equipment for explosive atmospheres—explosion-protection techniques. Part 6. Increased safety.

AS 2380.7 1987. Electrical equipment for explosive atmospheres—explosion-protection techniques. Part 7. Intrinsic safety i.

Authorising the Outboard Boating Club of Auckland Inc. to Reclaim Land in Whakatakataka Bay, Waitemata Harbour

PAUL REEVES, Governor-General

ORDER IN COUNCIL

At Wellington this 5th day of March 1990

Present:

HIS EXCELLENCY THE GOVERNOR-GENERAL IN COUNCIL

Pursuant to section 175 (3) of the Harbours Act 1950, His Excellency the Governor-General, acting on the recommendation of the Minister of Conservation and with the approval of the Minister of Transport and by and with the advice and consent of the Executive Council, hereby authorises the Outboard Boating Club of Auckland Inc. to reclaim an area of 3.34 hectares of land in Whakatakataka Bay, Waitemata Harbour, more particularly described in the Schedule below.

This authorisation is subject to the following conditions:

(a) All the environmental protection measures outlined in the EIA and supplementary information provided to the department are to be implemented, except where amended by conditions on the planning consent, water rights, or as expressly required as a condition of this authorisation.

(b) The construction of the reclamation shall be carried out in such a way as to avoid disturbance to areas outside the boundaries of the marina site. In particular, no dredged or other materials may be deposited on areas below mean high water spring which lie outside the area to be reclaimed, or the area designated as the marina basin.

(c) The applicant shall undertake a monitoring programme to determine the effects of the construction of the reclamation, and the dredging of fill material for the reclamation, on marine habitats in Whakatakataka Bay. The programme shall be designed and implemented to the satisfaction of the Regional Conservator, and shall include sampling before any construction work is undertaken, as well as during and subsequent to the construction of the reclamation. To the extent that the programme may overlap with any other monitoring required as a condition of other statutory consents, the applicant may, with the approval of the Regional Conservator, combine the requirements of the programme required under this condition with the other monitoring programmes.

The results of each survey shall be supplied to the Regional Conservator. If, as a result of any such survey, the construction of the reclamation is found to have an unacceptable impact on nearby marine habitats, the Regional Conservator may require construction to cease until methods for reducing the impact are implemented.

(d) The applicant shall ensure that the reclamation is designed to conform with the Auckland City Council requirements for the proposed south-eastern arterial road.

(e) The applicant shall supply to the department a comprehensive landscaping plan which provides for adequate screening of the reclamation and parking area as part of the section 178 application. All landscaping shall be carried out in accordance with the approved landscaping plan and to the satisfaction of the Regional Conservator, and implemented as soon as practicable following completion of the reclamation.

(f) The landscaping plan shall include an increased area of landscaping equivalent to the area which would otherwise have been used for car and trailer parking associated with the two additional boat ramps which were proposed for club use.

(g) The availability of two boat launching ramps and associated parking for public use shall be clearly identified by means of signs near the entrance of the marina development and on the site. Any charges for the use of these boat ramps shall conform with the fee schedule of the Auckland Regional Council harbour authority for public boat ramps in the Westhaven Marina.

(h) Public access to the reclamation shall be permitted at all reasonable times.

(i) The title to the reclamation shall remain vested in a public authority, or be vested in the Crown.

(j) The results of additional site investigations covering the following matters shall be provided with the section 178 application:

- Testing for the stability of the underlying layers of the area to be reclaimed.
- Likely consolidation of settlement rates and measures to accelerate the consolidation process.
- Any other investigation which the Regional Conservator considers are necessary before a section 178 consent can be granted.

(k) The applicant shall lodge a bond with the Director-General. That bond shall be used as necessary to ameliorate any adverse environmental impacts caused by the construction or separation of the marina, or to complete the landscaping programme if insufficient progress is made. The details of the bond are to set by the Director-General after consultation with the applicant. The amount of the bond shall be sufficient to undertake the landscaping programme proposed in the section 178 application and to rectify any environmental damage that the Regional Conservator may reasonably consider has a significant likelihood of occurring.

(l) This reclamation authorisation shall lapse 2 years after the date of the Order in Council, unless:

- (i) Effect has been given to this consent.
- (ii) The Minister of Conservation has, on an application made within 3 months after the expiry of that period by the Outboard Boating Club of Auckland (Inc.), determined that substantial progress has been made in the construction of the marina and that progress is continuing at a satisfactory rate, and has agreed to a further extension of not more than 2 years.

Schedule

All that parcel of land containing 3.34 hectares, more or less, situated in the North Auckland Land District and more particularly shown marked (A) on plan S.O. 63003, DOC (CM) AK 00140, sheet (1) of (1), deposited in the Auckland Conservancy Office of the Department of Conservation.

Finance

Reserve Bank of New Zealand Policy Targets Agreement

In terms of section 9 of the Reserve Bank of New Zealand Act 1989 (the Act), the Minister of Finance (the Minister) and the Governor of the Reserve Bank of New Zealand (the Governor) agree as follows:

1. Inflation Targets Consistent with section 8 of the Act, the Reserve Bank should formulate and implement monetary policy with the intention of achieving price stability by the year ending December 1992. An annual inflation rate in the range of 0 to 2 per cent will be taken to represent the achievement of price stability. The inflation rate should be kept within that range for the remainder of the Governor's current term of office, which ends on 31 August 1993, and conditions at that date should be consistent with the maintenance of sustained price stability thereafter. In pursuing this target, and subject to the caveats below, the Bank's implementation of monetary policy should be designed to achieve a steady reduction in the annual rate of inflation (exclusive of the direct impact of the July 1989 GST increase) throughout the period to December 1992. Each policy statement released by the Bank under section 15 of the Act should contain a projected path for inflation over the following five years.

2. Measurement of Inflation Section 8 of the Act requires the Bank to direct monetary policy towards the stabilisation of the "general level of prices". In pursuing this objective, the Bank will monitor price movements as measured by a range of price indices. However, it is considered that the primary measures of prices used to calculate the inflation rate for the purpose of these targets should relate to the prices of goods and services currently consumed by households. Unfortunately, the All Groups Consumers Price Index (CPI) is not an entirely suitable measure of these prices since it also incorporates prices and servicing costs of investment-related expenditures, notably in the housing field. The New Zealand CPI is unusual amongst OECD consumer price indices in including components for both the purchase price of dwellings and the cost of mortgage finance. For this reason, while the CPI will, for practical purposes, be the measure of inflation used in setting the targets, the Bank is to prepare an alternative measure of consumer prices based on an internationally comparable approach, so as to provide a basis for assessing the impact of investment-related housing costs on the CPI. In particular, the Bank's adjusted index will replace the current expenditure based measure of housing costs in the CPI with a measure based on imputed housing rentals. The Bank shall publish this index on a quarterly basis and is to ensure that the calculation of the index is verifiable by reputable external sources.

3. Variations to Targets

A. If an Order-in-Council comes into force under section 12 of the Act, the policy targets in this document cease to have effect and must be replaced by new targets within 30 days of the making of the order in accordance with section 12 (7) of the Act.

B. These targets may also be varied at any time by agreement between the Governor and the Minister in accordance with the provisions of section 9 (4) of the Act. The following specific instances will trigger a renegotiation of these targets in accordance with these provisions:

(i) The Bank shall notify the Minister if, in 1992 or 1993, there is, or is likely to be, a divergence of at least one half of one percentage point between the annual inflation rate of the CPI and of the Bank's internationally comparable measure of consumer prices. Within 30 days of this notification, the Governor may choose to renegotiate new policy targets so as to take account of the effect of the deficiencies in the construction of the CPI.

(ii) Any decrease or increase in GST, or any material change in other indirect taxes, will automatically lead to a renegotiation of these targets where the change is expected to impact directly on the 1992 or 1993 annual inflation rate. In general, a material change in indirect taxes will be interpreted as one which has a positive or negative impact on the price level of at least one half of a percentage point within a one year period. It is intended that the targets will be renegotiated on the basis of allowing the direct effect of the change to impact on the price level, with no accommodation of second round effects. Following a GST change, or following what the Bank estimates to be a material change in other indirect taxes, the Bank shall inform the Minister in writing of its estimate of the direct effect of the change on the price level. If necessary, new policy targets shall be set within 30 days of this estimate being received by the Minister.

(iii) A significant change in the terms of trade arising from an increase or decrease in either export prices or import prices will trigger a renegotiation of the policy targets, where the Bank indicates to the Minister in writing that it estimates the change will have a significant direct impact on the 1992 or 1993 annual inflation rate. In informing the Minister that a significant change has occurred, the Bank should provide an estimate of the direct price effects of the terms of trade change on the price level. Following the provision of this estimate, new policy targets shall be set within 30 days. The intention of this provision is to enable some or all of the direct price effect of a significant terms of trade change (whether positive or negative) to be accommodated but it is not intended to accommodate any second round influences. Thus it is intended that any terms of trade change will have, at most, only a transitory effect on the inflation rate.

(iv) In the case where some other crisis situation, such as a natural disaster or a major disease-induced fall in livestock numbers, is expected to have a significant impact on the price level, the same procedures should be followed as in the case of a terms of trade change.

C. It is intended that section 9 (4) of the Act will not be utilised to alter the policy targets in response to any domestically sourced inflationary shock other than the particular cases already considered. In particular, increases in wages or profit margins that are inconsistent with these targets will not be accommodated by the Bank and will not give grounds for automatic renegotiation of the policy targets.

4. Implementation Sections 10 and 14 of the Act set out certain considerations that the Bank must take into account when implementing monetary policy; provided, in accordance with section 13 of the Act, that these considerations do not limit the Bank's obligation to meet its monetary policy objectives. Within this context, considerations that the Bank should take into account when formulating and implementing monetary policy shall include the following:

A. The Bank must take into account the effects of its actions on the efficiency and soundness of the financial system. Where it considers that its actions may have a materially adverse effect on the efficiency or soundness of the system, it must inform the Minister. Following the provision of this advice to the Minister, the Governor and the Minister may review whether the existing policy targets remain appropriate, and may fix new policy targets in accordance with section 9 (4) of the Act.

B. Where the Bank considers that the actions of any other party (including the Government) may have an adverse effect on the achievement of the policy targets, or may increase the economic or social costs of achieving the policy targets, or may prejudice the efficiency or soundness of the financial system, the Bank shall consult with that party in an attempt to change that party's actions as necessary to reach the desired policy outcomes at minimum cost.

C. The policy targets are established on the basis of the current institutional structure of the financial sector, particularly in relation to the settlements process within the banking sector. If the Bank considers that the institutional structure has changed or is likely to change in a manner which will prejudice the Bank's ability to implement monetary policy, it shall inform the Minister. If the institutional changes continue to hamper the implementation of policy, the Minister and the Governor may set new policy targets in accordance with section 9 (4) of the Act.

Signed on Friday, the 2nd day of March 1990, by the Minister of Finance, the Hon. David Caygill, and the Governor of the Reserve Bank of New Zealand, Dr Donald T. Brash.

Broadcasting Act 1989

Broadcasting Standards Authority—Decision No. 3/90

Pursuant to section 15 (1) of the Broadcasting Act 1989, notice is hereby given that the Broadcasting Standards Authority has made a decision on a complaint concerning an advertisement broadcast by Television New Zealand Ltd.

In Decision No. 3/90, the Authority upheld a complaint by Dr Jane Ritchie concerning an advertisement for Bluebird Lite potato chips. It was held that the advertisements infringed the prohibition, contained in the advertising standards laid down in the Codes of Broadcasting Practice for Television, on the portrayal of women in a manner which uses sexual appeal simply to draw attention to an unrelated product. While declining to make an order under s. 13 (1) of the Broadcasting Act 1989, for the reason that none was appropriate to the breach that had occurred, the Authority's view was that the appropriate result of its decision would be for the advertisement not to be broadcast in future.

Copies of the Decision may be obtained by purchase from the Broadcasting Standards Authority, P.O. Box 9213, Wellington.

Decisions may be purchased at the price of $5.00 each or by annual subscription of $100.00.
