Summary of Bills Introduced

Building Bill

The primary purpose of the Building Bill is to implement the major recommendations contained in the report of the Building Industry Commission.

The main aspects of the Bill are—

- (a) The introduction of a national focus for the control of building in New Zealand:
- (b) The establishment of a central agency (the Building Industry Authority) to act as one source of referral and review for building-control and occupancy-control systems within the framework of the National building code:
- (c) The detailing of distinct roles for the major policy and regulatory groups (the Minister of Internal Affairs, the Building Industry Authority, and territorial local authorities) in relation to building control and occupancy control:
- (d) With some minor exceptions, the binding of the Crown on building control and occupancy control matters:
- (e) The establishment of a legal basis for the making of a performance-based National building code to replace a variety of existing central government and local government building controls:
- (f) The introduction of provisions for the Building Industry Authority to undertake reviews of the operation of individual territorial authorities and building certifiers in relating to their control functions and providing for the Building Industry Authority to settle differences between property owners and territorial authorities relating to building control and occupancy control in terms of the National building code:
- (g) The introduction of a system of building and occupancy consents for new buildings and some existing buildings:
- (h) Making provision for the issue of certificates by the Building Industry Authority to building certifiers. A building certifier will be able to certify that building plans comply with the Building Act and code. A territorial authority will be required to accept such a certificate in its consideration of an application for building approval:
- (i) The introduction of an accreditation system to allow for innovation of new building products and processes:
- (j) The introduction of new procedures for the maintenance of buildings (other than dwelling units) and placing requirements on owners to ensure that standards are maintained in regard to those buildings.

Companies Bill

This Bill, intended when enacted to replace the Companies Act 1955, deals with the following matters:

- (a) The incorporation of companies.
- (b) Company names and name changes.
- (c) Company constitutions.
- (d) Reforms relating to shares.
- (e) Shareholders and their rights and obligations.
- (f) The meaning of "director" and "directors' powers and duties".
- (g) Measures relating to the enforcement of proceedings by or against companies.
- (h) The administration of companies.

- (i) Accounting records and financial statements.
- (j) Disclosure by companies by way of annual reports to shareholders and annual returns to the Registrar of Companies.
- (k) Amalgamation.
- (l) Compromises with creditors.
- (m) Liquidations.
- (n) Removal from the New Zealand Register of Companies.
- (o) Overseas companies and the registration of overseas companies as companies under this Act.
- (p) Registrar of Companies.
- (q) Offences and penalties.

Courts Amendment Bill

This Bill makes various changes to the jurisdiction of the Courts. In particular, the Bill does the following:

- (a) It establishes within the Court of Appeal a Criminal Appeal Division which will hear almost all criminal appeals to that Court.
- (b) It abolishes the Administrative Division of the High Court. In general, the jurisdiction presently exercised by that Division will be exercised by the High Court itself.
- (c) It increases the range of indictable offences that may be tried in a District Court that is presided over by a Judge appointed to exercise that jurisdiction under Part IIA of the District Courts Act 1947.
- (d) It removes the requirement for leave to appeal to the Court of Appeal in those criminal cases where leave is presently required.
- (e) It increases the general civil jurisdiction of District Courts.
- (f) It gives Family Courts jurisdiction concurrent with the High Court in proceedings under the Law Reform (Testamentary Promises) Act 1949 and the Family Protection Act 1955.
- (g) It gives Family Courts limited jurisdiction in the nature of wardship where it is necessary to protect the interests of the child pending the completion of complex or protracted proceedings relating to custody or access.
- (h) It gives Registrars of District Courts certain powers to transfer, or to adjourn, proceedings.
- (i) It requires at least 2 Judges of the High Court to hear and determine appeals against final decisions of a Family Court or of the Planning Tribunal, or questions stated by a Family Court or by that Tribunal.

Dairy Board Amendment Bill

The Bill alters the Board's constitution in relation to the appointment of directors and the exercise of its powers and privileges. The power of the Board to control the export of certain mixtures of dairy produce is removed, and in its place exporters can apply to the Board for permission to export independently. The power to make regulations regarding the marketing of bobby calfs and vells is also removed. Changes made by the Board in relation to the development of dairy calf and bobby calf industries and the development of the orderly marketing of bobby calfs and vells, will be subject to approval by the dairy industry. Miscellaneous provisions provide for the Board's financial statements to show additional information regarding its subsidiaries; statements to be audited by an Auditor appointed by the Board (not the Audit Office); efficiency reviews must be completed every 5 years; and removal of the Board from the control of the Higher Salaries Commission.

Driftnet Prohibition Bill

This Bill prohibits driftnet fishing and related activities in accordance with the requirements of the Convention for the Prohibition of Fishing with Long Driftnets in the South Pacific.

Harbour Boards Dry Land Endowment Revesting Bill

This Bill is a companion measure to the Foreshore and Seabed Endowment Revesting Bill and provides for certain former Harbour Board dry land endowments to be revested in the Crown for conservation or other purposes or held under the Reserves Act 1977.

Health Commissioner Bill

This Bill provides for the appointment of a Health Commissioner who will investigate complaints against persons or bodies that provide health care, and who will have general functions in relation to the protection of the rights of health consumers. The Bill also provides for the establishment of a Health Consumer Advocacy Service, and for the promulgation of a code of Health Consumers' Rights.

The Bill implements, in part, the recommendations contained in the "Report of the Committee of Inquiry into Allegations Concerning the Treatment of Cervical Cancer at National Women's Hospital and into Other Related Matters (1988)", otherwise known as the "Cartwright Report".

Human Rights Commission Amendment Bill

This Bill seeks to replace Part II of the Human Rights Commission Act 1977. Part II relates to unlawful discrimination. The number of grounds on which discrimination is prohibited is increased. New prohibited grounds of discrimination are: Health status; Age; Sexual orientation; Pregnancy; Political opinion; Trade Union involvement; Employment status; Family status; Identity of partner or relative.

Each of the grounds specified in the new Part II of the principal Act is a prohibited ground of discrimination, for the purposes of that Act, if—

- (a) It pertains to a person or to a relative or associate of a person; and
- (b) It currently exists or has in the past existed; and

(c) It—

- (i) Exists in fact; or
- (ii) Is suspected or assumed or believed to exist by the person alleged to have discriminated.

The creation of new prohibited grounds of discrimination has required the creation of new exceptions. These new exceptions are set out in the new Part II.

Museum of New Zealand Bill

This Bill, which comes into force on 1 July 1991,—

- (a) Establishes the Museum of New Zealand; and
- (b) Constitutes the Museum of New Zealand Board, and defines the Board's functions and powers; and
- (c) Dissolves the Board of Trustees of the National Art Gallery, the National Museum, and the National War Memorial; and
- (d) Provides for the control and maintenance of the National War Memorial; and
- (e) Repeals the National Art Gallery, Museum, and War Memorial Act 1972.

The Museum of New Zealand is to be a repository for national treasures relating to our cultural heritage, history, and natural environment.

The new complex is to be located on the Wellington waterfront, and will incorporate the existing National Art Gallery and National Museum in Buckle Street, Wellington.

In place of the present Board of Trustees, the Bill constitutes the Museum of New Zealand Board, which will own the Museum site and administer the Museum. The functions and powers of the Board are defined in the body of the Bill, and the First Schedule details procedural and incidental matters relating to the Board.

The existing National War Memorial, and the land upon which it is situated, are to vest in the Crown. The Secretary for Internal Affairs will be responsible for the control and maintenance of the Memorial, and will administer the Memorial in conjunction with a council constituted by the Bill, to be known as the National War Memorial Advisory Council.

Orakei Bill

The Bill provides for the recognition of rights of the Ngati Whatua of Orakei in relation to the Orakei Block. It repeals the Orakei Block (Vesting and Use) Act 1978 and provides for the re-vesting of further portions of the Orakei Block in the Ngati Whatua o Orakei Maori Trust Board, and for the extension of the Trust Board's functions and powers.

The Bill sets aside other land as reserves, to be jointly administered by the Auckland City Council and the Trust Board, and protects land vested in the Trust Board by imposing certain restrictions on the disposal of land.

The Bill also grants exemptions to the Trust Board in relation to rates, reserves, contributions, land tax and other charges.

Proceeds of Crime Bill

This Bill makes provision for depriving persons convicted of serious offences of the proceeds of, and the benefits derived from, their offending.

The principal features of the Bill are as follows:

- (a) The Bill provides for the commencement of confiscation proceedings in respect of a person who is convicted on indictment of an offence punishable by imprisonment for a term of 5 years or more. Special provision is made for persons who are charged with such an offence but who abscond before conviction.

Two kinds of order may be sought in confiscation proceedings. Forfeiture orders provide for the forfeiture to the Crown of identifiable property. Pecuniary penalty orders provide for the imposition of a monetary penalty as a measure of the benefits gained by a person from an offence.

In the context of drug-dealing offences, a special rule applies in respect of calculating the benefits derived from drug-dealing. All the property of the defendant at the time of the confiscation proceedings and any property that has passed through the defendant's hands in the previous 2 years is presumed to have been derived from the drug offences on which the proceedings are based. It is for the defendant to show that the property is not derived from that source:

- (b) The Bill provides for the issue of search warrants authorising the search for and seizure of property that may be liable to forfeiture under the Bill or may be required to satisfy a pecuniary penalty order. The Commissioner of Police is to hold seized property until it is dealt with under the Bill:
- (c) The Bill provides for the making of restraining orders in relation to property that may be subject to a forfeiture order or a pecuniary penalty order. The effect of a restraining order is that the property may not be disposed of or dealt with except as permitted by the Court.

The Official Assignee may be directed to administer the property while it remains subject to the restraining order, and where a forfeiture order or a pecuniary penalty order is made in respect of the property, to discharge that order out of the property:

- (d) The Bill provides special powers to enable property gained from drug-dealing offences to be traced.

Production orders may be granted by a Court requiring any person to produce or make available to a police officer any document relevant to identifying, locating, or quantifying property that may be subject to confiscation proceedings under the Bill.

Monitoring orders may be granted by a Court requiring a financial institution to supply to the Police information about financial transactions conducted through that institution.

Protected Areas (Prohibition on Mining) Bill

This Bill prohibits mining in certain protected areas such as protected national parks and reserves, areas established under the Conservation Act 1987, the Wildlife Act 1953, the Reserves Act 1977 and in the Ross Dependency or Antarctica.

Rehabilitation and Incapacity Bill

This Bill relates to the provision of rehabilitation services in New Zealand and the system of benefits payable for incapacity.

Part I, Applications, deals with extent of cover, time limits, age limits, and general rights.

Part II contains provisions relating to rehabilitation programmes and conditions applied to rehabilitation, assessment, and re-employment of rehabilitated persons.

Part III, Weekly Benefits, provides for benefits in respect of earners and non-earners, provides for disability allowances, and sets out provisions relating to weekly earnings.

Part IV, Other Benefits, relates to the payment of funeral benefits, grants to surviving spouses, payment of benefits to surviving spouses and dependants; health care, attendant care, and household care costs.

Part V, Funding, relates to levies to be paid by employers, by the self-employed, and on motor vehicles, and provides for the funding of the Rehabilitation and Incapacity Corporation.

Parts VII and VIII set out provisions relating to applications, reviews and appeals.

Part IX contains miscellaneous provisions relating to benefits, such as overpayments and penalties, cancellation of benefits in certain circumstances and unclaimed benefits.

Part X concerns the relationship of benefits and other remedies.

Part XI constitutes the Accident Compensation Corporation as the Rehabilitation and Disability Corporation and defines its functions and composition.

Parts XII and XIV relate to transitional provisions and miscellaneous provisions.

Social Welfare Bill (No. 2)

This Bill is intended to consolidate and amend various Acts relating to social welfare and to provide for the introduction of a universal benefit.

Part I contains provisions relating to guaranteed retirement income and veterans' pensions, universal benefit, youth benefits, family assistance, accommodation benefit, special needs supplement, disability assistance, supplementary welfare programmes, lump sum payments on death, residential requirements, payment overseas of GRI and veterans' pensions, reciprocity agreements, fixing of rates of benefits, general provisions, provisions relating to overpayment of benefits, functions and powers of the Director-General, rights of review and appeal, and regulations.

Part II relates to liable parent contributions.

Part III contains provisions relating to community welfare and disability assistance services.

Part IV re-enacts, with minor amendments, those provisions of the Disabled Persons Community Welfare Act 1975 relating to the registration of homes for people with disabilities.

Part V re-enacts, with minor amendments, those provisions of the Disabled Persons Community Welfare Act 1975 relating to access to premises for people with disabilities.

Part VI re-enacts the current provisions relating to the Social Welfare Commission, District Executive Committees and Area Welfare Executive Committees, advisory committees, district review committees, the Social Security Appeal Authority, the New Zealand Artificial Limb Board, and the delegation of functions and powers by the Director-General.

Part VII contains miscellaneous and transitional provisions.

Part VIII provides for consequential amendments to the Income Tax Act 1976.

Trade in Endangered Species Amendment Bill

This Bill increases significantly the penalties for offences against the Trade in Endangered Species Act 1989 and insets into that Act new enforcement provisions, including the power to arrest without a warrant.
