Summary of Bills Introduced

Birdlings Flat Land Titles

This Private Bill will enable freehold land at Birdlings Flat, currently held in 57 individual undivided share certificates of title, to be divided into separate freehold titles.

Marlborough District Council Empowering

The object of the Bill is to release a piece of land held by the Council from trusts imposed by section 31 of the Reserves and Other Lands Sale, Disposal, and Enabling and Public Bodies Empowering Act 1901. The purpose of the release is to enable the Marlborough District Council to have flexibility in any redevelopment that may be considered necessary to better utilise the land.

Rodney District Council (Sewerage Charges Validating and Empowering)

The purpose of the Bill is to validate previous uniform annual charges that were made by the Council on each urinal in its district pursuant to the former section 162 (1) (b) of the Local Government Act 1974 and of section 30 (1) of the Rating Powers Act 1988. The basis of the charge has been that each 600 millimetres length of continuous wall-type urinal was regarded as the equivalent of one urinal stall. In so acting the Council had incorrectly assumed that it could adopt this division which is provided for in regulation 46 of the Drainage and Plumbing Regulations 1978.

The Bill also seeks to authorise the Council to impose these charges on the same basis for all future uniform annual charges for urinals.

Income Tax (Annual)

This Bill provides the annual confirmation rates of income tax and excess retention tax for the year commencing on 1 April 1990.

External Relations and Trade

New Zealand Trade Development Board Act 1988

Directions Under the New Zealand Trade Development Board Act 1988

Pursuant to section 7 of the New Zealand Trade Development Board Act 1988, I, Donald Charles McKinnon, Minister of External Relations and Trade, hereby give notice that I, together with the Minister of Trade Negotiations gave the following directions to the New Zealand Trade Development Board by a letter to the Chairperson of the Board dated 19 February 1991:

"The Government looks forward to working with you, and other members of the Trade Development Board, in the pursuit of the Board's function to foster the development and expansion of New Zealand's foreign exchange earnings.

In view of the recent review of the TDB, the new appointments made to the Board, and the expected appointment by the Board of a new Chief Executive, the Cabinet has decided that it would be appropriate, as provided for in section 7 of the New Zealand Trade Development Board Act 1988, to give you direction as to the Government's policy priorities in respect of the TDB. The Government recognises however that it is for the Board to determine how it will give effect to these priorities as it carries out its executive functions.

The Government's priorities for the TDB are for it to provide outputs in two core areas:

(a) cost-effective support and advisory services for New Zealand exporters of goods and services through the TDB's overseas operations and, domestically, through the Export Liaison Officer service; and

(b) catalytic work and projects with sector groups to increase the commitment and capability of firms to undertake successful exporting.

You will be aware that the recent Review Committee report on the TDB identified a number of shortcomings as well as strengths in the work and management of the organisation. The Government expects that the Board will give early and detailed consideration to the Review Committee's report with a view to consolidating the TDB's strengths (notably the sectoral projects including Joint Action Groups) and rectifying the problems. Specifically, the Government would welcome the Board developing initiatives to:

- (a) appoint a new Chief Executive for the TDB;
- (b) address the poor morale and sense of estrangement from Head Office which has become widespread among the TDB's Trade Commissioners;
- (c) build improved links within New Zealand with Business Development Boards, and with smaller committed exporters. While appreciating that the corporate strategy adopted by the TDB last year emphasises "the achievement of $ billions rather than $ tens of thousands in quality forex earnings" the Government does not wish to see smaller firms who are committed to exporting overlooked or excluded from the TDB's strategy and service delivery;
- (d) develop with the Ministry of External Relations and Trade increased co-operation particularly in those overseas markets where New Zealand's trade access, trade development and broader political and economic interests are closely intertwined. Such co-operation should also involve consideration of how best New Zealand government offices overseas can work to promote increased foreign investment in New Zealand.

We would appreciate receiving a progress report from you by 1 May on the steps being taken by the Board to address the problem areas identified in the Review Committee's report. The Cabinet would appreciate receiving, as part of this report, a paper from the Board outlining the Board's corporate strategy, including a Business Plan with an assessment of measures which the Board could take to increase the return from the cost-effectiveness of the Trade Commissioner service. The Board's views on the extent to which the TDB's operations could be placed on a more commercial footing would also be helpful. The Government is keen, as we are sure will be the Board, to gain an enhanced appreciation of the national return from the considerable appropriations which the Crown makes to the TDB. Your May report will be helpful to us in this context.

No doubt you, your Board colleagues and the TDB's new Chief Executive will wish to appraise the range of the TDB's corporate activities as you settle into your new positions. In this regard, it should be noted that the level of Crown Grant to the TDB for fiscal 1991/92 will be examined by the Cabinet Expenditure Control Committee as part of the Government's budgetary deliberations. Similarly, it is expected that a forthcoming review of the plethora of programmes and delivery agencies for enterprise assistance will take in the cost-effectiveness and funding level of the Business Excellence Programme which the TDB administers jointly with the Ministry of Commerce. Pending the outcome of these two reviews, which should be apparent by July 1991, the Board will no doubt exercise due prudence in committing the TDB to major new expenditures of funds which the TDB has yet to receive.

In addition to its sectoral work the TDB has played a helpful role in encouraging debate on national strategic planning issues through the 10 by 2010 report and the Porter Project. The Government agrees with the TDB Review Committee that national strategic planning should be a core responsibility of the Government. To this end, the Government will consider how best it should handle such questions, including follow-up to any policy implications of the Porter Project. The TDB may wish to contribute its perspectives to national strategic planning decisions from time to time but we would not see the provision of such advice as a major priority of the Board, which should focus primarily on the core activities of support to exporters and sectoral work and projects with groups of firms. Work on Porter Project findings at an industry level may, of course, continue to be an element in the Board's sectoral work.

Pending an amendment to the New Zealand Trade Development Board Act 1988 to appoint the Secretary of Commerce as an ex-officio Board member it would be helpful if the Secretary of Commerce could attend Board meetings in an observer capacity.

The Government wishes you and your Board colleagues well as you undertake your new responsibilities. We look forward to a close working relationship with the Trade Development Board as we pursue the shared and vital objective of facilitating the generation of increased foreign exchange earnings for New Zealand."

Dated at Wellington this 25th day of March 1991.

DON MCKINNON, Minister of External Relations and Trade.

Research, Science and Technology

Statement of Science Priorities for the 1991/92 Financial Year

To the Chairman of The Foundation for Research, Science and Technology.

I am required under the Foundation Act 1990 to "...advise the Foundation of the priorities that the Foundation shall adhere to in carrying out its functions..." in the allocation of funds for the production of public good science outputs.

I am conveying preliminary advice to you on science priorities by means of this letter and its 3 annexes. Complete advice will be provided when the overall level of the public good science pool has been determined.

Allocation of Funds across Outputs

The pool for funding public good science has been divided into 40 categories or 'outputs'. The Foundation is required to allocate funding to research organisations in 28 of these outputs and to non-Government department research organisations in the other 12 outputs. The allocation of funds to Government departments from these latter 12 outputs will be decided by the Cabinet; but I would like the Foundation to advise me on the merit of their research proposals.

Annex A lists the 40 outputs, shows the funding allocated to each of these outputs in the 1990/91 financial year in dollars and by percentage share, and the indicative percentage share of the pool I wish to see allocated to each output in 1991/92. It also shows the outputs for which the Foundation are entirely responsible. The total amount of funding in the pool is not decided yet for 1991/92, but I will advise you of this as soon as I can.

The Foundation will be allowed discretion in the allocation of funding to outputs, so that you will be able to fully recognise the quality of research proposals in your deliberations. The degree of this discretion will be advised to you in good time.

Depending on the size of the pool, the Government may also wish to alter funding levels in each output if allocations seem likely to damage the science infrastructure.

Priority Research Themes

I wish also to nominate priority research themes within single outputs and across several outputs. Themes within outputs 1, 3, 7, 9, 12, 13, 14, 19, 25, 26, 27, 28, 33 and 40 are listed in Annex B.

Themes in two broad areas of Government concern are listed in Annex C. These relate to Climate Change and the Control of Possoms and the threat of Bovine Tuberculosis.

The Government is nominating themes to indicate its view of high research relevance. Themes do not, however encompass everything that should be funded in an output and neither should themes be allowed to override the quality measure of individual research proposals.

Please ensure that this advice of science priorities is conveyed to potential research programme proposers so that is given maximum effect in the funding round.

- D. collaboration in developing and validating computer models for predicting regional scale changes; (output 33).
- E. trace gas budgets for radiatively active molecules and aerosols, including their sources and sinks in terrestrial and aquatic ecosystems and soil. (various outputs).

This work is a priority both nationally, regionally and globally, and priority should be given to those programmes which are part of larger efforts directed at increasing fundamental knowledge of climate change parameters, both locally and internationally. Fundamental climate knowledge is the basis for all climate change research.

2. Adaptation to Climate Change

- A. impact studies, including sensitivity and adaptive responses of natural and managed ecosystems and responses by the agricultural, horticultural and forestry sectors; (various sector specific outputs).
- B. assessment and mitigation of climatically influenced hazards. (various sector specific outputs).

Adaption and impact studies are listed as a second priority because it is necessary to understand the likely nature of climate change, based on a better understanding of climate process and the impacts of rising levels of greenhouse gases to define adaption and impact studies. Preference should be given to funding of broad, coordinated programmes aimed at increasing knowledge of the local situation.

II Control of Possums and the Threat of Bovine Tb

- A The epidemiology of Tb in farmed and feral animal species.

- B The ecology of possums and other feral animals which may be vectors for Tb

Explanatory Note

This note is not part of the notice, but is intended to indicate its general effect.

This notice sets out a procedure approved by the Securities Commission for dealing in the securities of public issuers by directors, company secretaries, and employees.

Section 7 of the Securities Amendment Act 1988 imposes liability on any insider who, in possession of inside information about the public issuer, deals in securities of the public issuer. Under section 8 of the Act a director, company secretary, or employee of a public issuer is not liable under section 7 if—

- (a) The securities are sold or purchased in that person's own name or in the name, or on behalf, of that person's spouse or child; and
- (b) In selling or buying the securities that person complies with a procedure operated by the public issuer for ensuring that no director, company secretary or employee uses inside information in selling or buying securities of the public issuer for personal gain; and
- (c) The procedure is approved by the Securities Commission by notice in the Gazette in relation to—
 - (i) Public issuers generally; or
 - (ii) Public issuers generally other than any specified public issuer; or
 - (iii) Any specified public issuer; and
- (d) The Securities Commission has not withdrawn that approval.

This notice approves, in relation to public issuers generally, the procedure set out in the Schedule to the notice for dealing in the securities of public issuers by directors, company secretaries, and employees.

Accordingly, a director, company secretary, or employee of a public issuer who has inside information about the public issuer and who sells or buys securities of the public issuer in his or her own name or in the name, or on behalf of his or her spouse or child and who, in doing so, complies with the procedure, is not liable in proceedings against him or her under section 7 of the Act as an insider.

A director, company secretary, or employee does not need to rely on the procedure set out in the notice if, in selling or buying securities of the public issuer, he or she is not in possession of inside information about the public issuer or (pursuant to section 8 (2) of the Act) purchases securities under a take-over offer made in accordance with section 4 of the Companies Amendment Act 1963.
