Summary of Bills Introduced

Immigration Amendment

This Bill amends the Immigration Act 1987, which provides the legal framework for the operation of the Government's immigration policy. The Bill proposes a number of specific amendments in major areas including:

- (a) The promulgation of Government policy in relation to residence visas and permits, and the right to appeal to an independent Resident Appeal Authority where a decision to refuse a residence visa or permit is not in accordance with that policy;
- (b) A new removal order procedure to replace the current removal warrants, with the right of appeal to an independent Removal Review Authority to cancel a removal order;
- (c) The introduction of the new categories of limited visa and limited permit for persons coming to New Zealand for a limited short term purpose, and a new transit visa for transit passengers; and
- (d) Special procedures for persons whose security status cannot be immediately ascertained on their arrival in New Zealand.

There are also many general amendments to ensure that persons who have not complied with the basic requirements of the Act, cannot use legal proceedings provided under the Act for the purpose of delay rather than for the purpose of substantive consideration of their case.

Companies (Ancillary Provisions)

This Bill contains a number of measures relating to the reform of company law.

- (a) It seeks to amend the Companies Act 1955 and to apply a number of the reforms contained in the Companies Bill (such as those relating to directors' duties, liquidations and shareholder remedies) to existing companies and to align the provisions of both the Companies Bill and the 1955 Act on a number of matters such as name changes, the "indoor management rule", the formation of contracts, and the penalties for offences.

- (b) The Bill will require all existing companies to reregister under Part II of the Companies Bill by the end of the 3 year transition period and sets out the procedure to be followed in doing so.
- (c) The Bill contains a number of provisions dealing with receiverships and will apply to receiverships of existing companies, companies incorporated or registered under the new Companies Bill as well as to receiverships to other persons.
- (d) The Bill seeks to re-enact, with modifications, the present Part XIII of the 1955 Act relating to insurance companies. These provisions relate to minimum capital requirements, insurance proposals that contain applications for shares, the investigation of the affairs of insurance companies, and liquidation.
- (e) The Bill seeks to re-enact the provisions of the Companies Amendment Act 1964 relating to flat and office owning companies as an amendment to the Land Transfer Act 1952 and extends those provisions to companies incorporated or registered under the new Companies Bill.
- (f) It also seeks to re-enact the provisions of Part IV of the 1955 Act relating to the registration of company charges to companies incorporated or registered under the Companies Bill 1990.
- (g) Finally, the Bill provides for the repeal of the 1955 Act with effect from 31 December 1994. The 1955 Act will, however, continue to apply in respect of existing windings up and liquidations and to existing companies that have applied to be reregistered or that have had the time for applying to be reregistered extended.

Inland Revenue

Income Tax Act 1976

Accrual Determinations—Fee Setting

Background

Regulations 3(1) and 11(1) of the Income Tax (Determinations) Regulations 1987 require that fees be charged for accrual regime determinations made in terms of section 64E(1) of the Income Tax Act 1976. Under section 64E(1) the Commissioner is empowered to determine certain matters relating to financial arrangements. A taxpayer may wish to apply for a determination in order to ascertain the tax treatment for a particular financial arrangement.

The criteria for setting these fees are set out in Regulations 11(2) and 11(3). The Commissioner was not obliged to set fees for the first two years that the Regulations were in force. That time has now lapsed.

Policy—Announcement

For the year beginning 1 July 1991 the fees are as follows:

Application Fee (non-refundable) $100.

Processing Fee (per hour) (that is per hour spent directly processing the application) $90.

These fees are stated on a GST inclusive basis.

Regulation 13 does allow the Commissioner to waive fees, in exceptional circumstances, either in full or in part.

Applications for determinations should be made to:

The Manager, Technical Policy Development, Inland Revenue Department, P.O. Box 2198, Wellington.

The information required for applications is set out in Regulations 3(1).
