Summary of Bills Introduced

Ozone Layer Protection Amendment

Miscellaneous amendments to the Ozone Layer Protection Act 1990 are contained in this bill. The effect of the amendments is to reflect the new articles inserted in, and the amendments to, the Montreal Protocol made in London in June 1990. The bill inserts a new Part IA setting out restrictions on the exportation of bulk controlled substances and amends the prohibition of some imports, the application for exemptions, and the offences and penalties. It also amends the definition of "aerosol".

Reserves and Other Lands Disposal

This bill contains miscellaneous provisions relating to specific areas of Crown land, reserves, and other land held for public and special purposes. The affected pieces of land are parts of the Ruakura Animal Research Station, the Pukeroa Domain in Rotorua, parts of the Urewera National Park, Westland National Park, Fiordland National Park, Abel Tasman National Park, and Mount Aspiring National Park, a harbour reserve area at the seaward end of the Kaikoura Peninsula, an area of land adjacent to the Marlborough Sounds foreshore, five pieces of land endowed to the University of Otago, the Pukaki Lagoon, and Te Ngae Mission Farm and the adjoining land.

Ship Registration

The bill establishes an independent New Zealand register of ships and replaces the provisions relating to ship registration in Part XII of the Shipping and Seamen Act 1952. The general object of the bill is to confer true nationality on ships registered in New Zealand and to continue provisions that provide proper evidence of title to a ship.

Takeovers

This bill provides for the establishment of a Takeovers Panel. The Panel is to consist of 7 members appointed by the Minister of Justice.

The principal function of the Panel is to formulate and recommend a takeovers code that, on its approval by the Governor-General by Order in Council, will apply to takeovers of listed public issuers.

The Panel is required to formulate a takeovers code that, so far as practicable,—

- (a) Encourages the efficient allocation of resources:
- (b) Encourages competition for corporate control:
- (c) Assists in ensuring that shareholders are treated fairly:
- (d) Promotes the international competitiveness of New Zealand's capital markets:
- (e) Recognises that ultimately it is for shareholders to determine the merits of a takeover offer:
- (f) Maintains a proper relation between the costs of compliance with the code and the benefits from it.

It is intended that the Panel will have a wide discretion in determining both the type of takeovers code it should recommend and the specific provisions of the code itself.

The bill specifies the matters the Panel must consider in formulating the code. It is required to consider whether the code should provide for—

- (a) Advance notice and publicity about a takeover:

- (b) The equal treatment of shareholders in a takeover:
- (c) Mandatory bids, equal pricing, and equal opportunity for acceptance:
- (d) Incremental acquisitions and partial bids:
- (e) Pricing rules and defensive tactics.

The Panel is required to give persons and organisations that wish to do so the opportunity to make submissions to it both as to the type of takeover code that should be formulated and as to the actual provisions of the proposed code.

On being approved by the Governor-General by Order in Council the recommended code will have the force of law.

The bill deems an Order in Council that approves the takeovers code to be a regulation for the purposes of—

- (a) The Acts and Regulations Publication Act 1989; and
- (b) The Regulations (Disallowance) Act 1989.

The bill authorises the making of regulations prescribing offences for contraventions of the code and conferring on the High Court the power to make orders in cases where shares in a public issuer have been acquired in contravention of the code.

On a date to be appointed by the Governor-General by Order in Council the provisions of Part I of the Companies Amendment Act 1963, which relates to company takeovers, will cease to apply to takeovers of listed companies.

District Courts Amendment (No. 3)

This bill, which is to come into force on 1 April 1992, makes a number of miscellaneous amendments to the District Courts Act 1947. The amendments are designed to align certain procedures of District Courts with the corresponding procedures of the High Court.

The bill provides for the removal of summary judgment application from the District Court to the High Court and allows for the District Court to order the removal into the High Court of any question of law to be argued.

The bill includes a number of discovery provisions which empower the District Court to order, prior to, and during the commencement of any action, the disclosure of documents relevant to a claim before the Court.

The bill also includes provisions relating to the duties and powers of Deputy Registrars and makes the necessary amendments to the District Court Rules.

Transport Safety

The bill implements new policies relating to the safety of road and rail transport. The principal changes are:

- (a) A new drink driving strategy is implemented in respect of drivers under 25 years of age;
- (b) Provision is made for the use of vehicle surveillance equipment (speed cameras) to assist in the detection of speeding offences;
- (c) The demerit points system is overhauled;
- (d) Owner liability is extended to certain traffic offences;
- (e) Random breath testing is expressly authorised;
- (f) A new railway safety regime is established;
- (g) Procedures under the Road User Charges Act 1977 and the Transport Services Licensing Act 1989 are streamlined; and
- (h) The jurisdiction of the Transport Accident Investigation Commission is extended to cover rail accidents.

Passports

This bill is to replace the Passports Act 1980. The principal differences between that Act and this bill are that the bill:

- (a) Facilitates the introduction of single identity passports by providing for the issue of separate passports to persons under the age of 16. Such passports will be valid for 5 years. At present, the Minister of Internal Affairs may, if requested to do so by a parent or guardian of a child, endorse the name of that child on the parent's or guardian's passport instead of issuing a separate passport. It is proposed that this practice be discontinued. The move towards a "one person, one passport" approach is required as a result of the proposed implementation of a machine readable passport system, since details of endorsements cannot be included on the machine readable zone of a passport. The implementation of a machine readable passport system conforms to a Recommended Practice on Facilitation which was adopted pursuant to Article 37 of the Convention on International Civil Aviation (Chicago, 1944), New Zealand is a party to the Convention;
- (b) Makes provision for emergency travel documents;
- (c) Makes provision for the Minister to require a person to surrender a passport held by the person where proceedings are commenced under the Citizenship Act 1977 to deprive the person of New Zealand citizenship. The person will be entitled to a short term passport pending conclusion of the proceedings;
- (d) Prevents the holder of a New Zealand passport or any other person from giving or accepting a New Zealand passport or certificate of identity or other like documents as a security, and provides that where this is done the security shall be void and of no effect;
- (e) Increases the level of fine for passport offences from the present maximum of $500 to $2,000;
- (f) Amends the current delegation provision to more accurately reflect section 41 of the State Sector Act 1988;
- (g) Authorises the disclosure of information from the Department of Internal Affairs to the Customs Department in relation to holders of New Zealand passports, certificates of identity, and emergency travel documents, for the purposes of facilitating the processing of passengers and border screening at international airports in New Zealand;
- (h) Authorises the disclosure of information from the Department of Internal Affairs to the Australian Department of Immigration, Local Government and Ethnic Affairs in relation to holders of New Zealand passports, certificates of identity, and emergency travel documents, for the purpose of facilitating the processing of such holders and border screening at international airports in Australia;
- (i) Rewrites provisions relating to the recall of passports and other documents, and carries forward into the Act some provisions that are currently contained in regulations.

The bill is also intended to improve passport administration and rectify aspects of the Passports Act 1980 that are currently giving rise to administrative difficulty.

Racing Amendment

This bill amends the Racing Act 1971 to:

- (a) Rename the New Zealand Racing Authority the New Zealand Racing Industry Board;
- (b) Provide for the Minister to appoint the members of the Board, three without nomination, and the remaining seven on the nomination of various racing industry bodies;
- (c) Provide for the Board to have functions not presently enjoyed by the New Zealand Racing Authority relating to bet types, the rates of deductions from betting, alteration to the rules of racing, marketing and promotion, and licensing;
- (d) Remove the restriction on the conduct of racing and the operation of betting on Sundays;
- (e) Revise the procedure for the allocation of totalisator licences;
- (f) Amend the provisions relating to the membership of and appointments to the Totalisator Agency Board along similar lines to those intended for the New Zealand Racing Industry Board;
- (g) Provide for the Totalisator Agency Board to operate fixed-odds betting; and
- (h) Lower the minimum legal age for the placing of bets from 18 to 16 years.

Health and Safety in Employment

The principal purpose of the bill is to provide for the prevention of harm to employees. The bill provides for employers to ensure the safety of their employees in the work place by providing information on results of the monitoring of their health or place of work. Employers are also required to provide training and adequate supervision to employees on health and safety procedures as well as hazard management.

This bill has 65 clauses and is in five parts.

Part I sets out the purpose of the bill, its interpretation and application to the Crown.

Part II relates to the duties with respect to safety and health in employment and particularly the duties of employers relating to hazard management, the provision of health information, and training and supervision in health and safety procedures.

Part III provides standards in relation to codes of practice and the making of regulations.

- (d) Takes away the power of regional councils to perform a wide range of permissive functions;
- (e) In the case of the Auckland region, provides for the transfer of specified service delivery functions and specified assets and liabilities to a new Auckland Regional Service Trust;
- (f) Establishes a formula for the use of any proceeds from the sale of port company shares and debt securities, which formula has, as its principal purpose, the retirement of local authority debt;
- (g) Reduces the membership of regional councils from a maximum of 30 members to a maximum of 14 members;
- (h) Prevents members of regional councils from being also members of territorial authorities within the same region; and
- (i) Provides that, as from the commencement of 1 July 1992, regional councils will no longer receive part of the proceeds of local authorities' petroleum tax.

Re-organisation proposals

- (d) For the inclusion of the Kaikoura District in the Canterbury Region.

Part IV: Amendments to Local Elections and Polls Act 1976

Part IV (which comes into force on the passing of the bill) makes miscellaneous amendments to the Local Elections and Polls Act 1976.

Part V: Amendments to Rating Powers Act 1988

Part V, which comes into force on 1 July 1992, makes miscellaneous amendments to the Rating Powers Act 1988.

The most significant amendment made in Part V is the amendment made by clause 161, which allows the remission or postponement of rates for land voluntarily protected for natural, historic, or cultural purposes.

Taxation Reform (No. 4)

This bill proposes amendments of a miscellaneous character to the following Acts:

This notice concerns a block containing 2.0830 hectares at Bint Road, Maungakaramea, being a former education reserve, and Maori claims under the Treaty of Waitangi Act 1975.

The land at Bint Road, Maungakaramea described in legal terms at 2.0830 hectares, being Section 1, Survey Office Plan 64162, certificate of title 78D/834, formerly known as Allotment E57 Maungakaramea Parish, being originally part of Maungakaramea No. 1 and No. 2 Blocks.
