Government Bill

(Minister/Member in Charge shown in parenthesis)

26 May 1994

Finance (Rt Hon W. F. Birch)

Referred to Select Committee

Finance and Expenditure

Summary of Bills Presented

Finance

- Amends the Fishing Industry Board Act 1963 to provide for a special levy to fund the industry's contribution to the toxic shellfish monitoring programme;
- Amends the Privacy Act 1993 to permit the incorporation, in a code of practice issued under that Act, of an information privacy principle in an unmodified form;
- Provides for the exemption of certain agreements relating to pharmaceuticals from Part II of the Commerce Act 1986;
- Validates a payment from the Crown Bank Account to the Accident Rehabilitation and Compensation Insurance Corporation and provides for a payment from the Corporation to the Crown;
- Omits GCS Limited from the Stated Owned Enterprises Act 1986 and makes consequential amendments, on a date to be appointed by the Governor-General by Order in Council; and
- Rectifies a technical error in the Health Reforms (Transitional Provisions) Act 1993.

This section contains a précis of all bills presented to the House this week. Not all bills presented are introduced. The introduction of a bill requires the agreement of the House.

Government Bills*Imprest Supply*

Provides for the issue and application of a total not exceeding in the aggregate the sum of $150,000,000 of public money towards the service of the year ending 30 June 1994, and authorises expenses to be incurred in that year.

(Rt Hon W F Birch/Not referred (S.O. 217 (4)))

Appropriation

Provides for the issue and supply of certain sums of public money, and authorises expenses to be incurred in relation to certain classes of outputs and categories of other expenses for the year ending 30 June 1994.

(Rt Hon W F Birch/Not referred (S.O. 217 (4)))

Taxation Reform (Companies And Other Matters)

Provides for the tax consequences of the company law reform package enacted in the Companies Act 1993 and related legislation. To that end it amends the various Taxation Acts, and also the Companies Act 1993.

Also proposes a number of miscellaneous amendments of a mainly minor or technical nature to the Taxation Acts. These appear in Part II and clause 106 of the Bill, and deal mainly with the international tax and provisional tax regimes. They also include anti-avoidance provisions in relation to tax credits. Part VIII contains a tax-related amendment to the Diplomatic Privileges and Immunities Act 1968.

(Hon Wyatt Creech/Finance and Expenditure)

Private Members' Bills*Reserve Bank of New Zealand Amendment*

Seeks to amend the Reserve Bank of New Zealand Act 1989 by repealing and replacing section 8 so as to make it a primary function of the bank to formulate and implement monetary policy that is directed to achieving and maintaining full employment and stability in the general level of prices.

(Hon Winston Peters/Introduction denied)

Technology and Crimes Reform

Provides for the Office of Film and Literature Classification to examine and classify images, sounds and live shows produced for pecuniary gain. The bill seeks to create offences and impose penalties for those images, sounds and live shows produced for pecuniary gain that are deemed to be objectionable (as defined by section 3 of the Films, Videos, and Publications Classifications Act 1993).

The bill also seeks to amend the Telecommunications Act 1987 to create offences relating to objectionable telephone services and broadcasts transmitted for pecuniary gain. Also contained are provisions to prohibit telecommunication services with foreign telecommunication services whose programmes contain objectionable images or sounds, and for those satellite services to be proscribed by Order in Council.

(Trevor Rogers/Introduction debate interrupted)

Health

Health and Disability Services Act 1993

Notice to the Northern Regional Health Authority of the Crown's Objectives

Pursuant to section 8 (1) of the Health and Disability Services Act 1993, I, Jennifer Mary Shipley, hereby give the Northern Regional Health Authority notice of the Crown's objectives in respect of the following matters:

(a) The Health Status of the Communities Served by the Northern Regional Health Authority

The Crown's objectives are to:

(1) improve the health status and promote the independence of people in the communities of the region for which the Northern Regional Health Authority is responsible having regard to:

(i) what is reasonably achievable in 1994/95 within the funding available to the Northern Regional Health Authority; and

(ii) the particular characteristics and related health status concerns of the communities for which the Northern Regional Health Authority is responsible.

In particular the Crown's objective is to improve health status in the health gain priority areas:

- (i) Child Health;
- (ii) Maori Health; and
- (iii) Mental Health;

(2) encourage co-operation between the Northern Regional Health Authority and the Public Health Commission in relation to:

(i) the health gain priority areas, including Physical Environmental Health which is the responsibility of the Public Health Commission; and

(ii) the purchase of services promoting the public health.

(b) The Health Services and Disability Services to be Purchased by the Northern Regional Health Authority

The Crown's objective is that the Northern Regional Health Authority, in accordance with, and to the extent enabled by, its funding agreement and having regard to the Crown's objectives in relation to health status and the principles of equity, effectiveness, efficiency, safety, acceptability and risk management, purchase or arrange for the purchase of the following range of services:

- (1) Primary Care Services;
- (2) Pregnancy and Childbirth Services;
- (3) Dental Health Services;
- (4) Primary Diagnostic and Therapeutic Support Services;
- (5) Secondary and Tertiary Medical services;
- (6) Secondary and Tertiary Surgical services;
- (7) Mental Health and Drug and Alcohol Services;
- (8) Disability Support Services.

(c) The Terms of Access to those Services and the Assessment and Review Procedures to be used in Determining Access

The Crown's objectives in terms of access to those health and disability services are that:

(1) access to health and disability services be improved overall for eligible persons in terms of waiting times, geographical accessibility and affordability;

(2) to the greatest extent possible, all eligible persons should have fair and reasonable access to co-ordinated, effective, efficient and appropriate services, within the range of health and disability services purchased, having regard to the needs and cultural values of the eligible persons concerned;

(3) assessment and review procedures for determining access to services are further developed, especially in relation to secondary and tertiary medical and surgical services. Assessment and review procedures should comply with established ethical, professional and legal requirements, as well as national standards where these are developed.

(d) The Standard of those Services

The Crown's objectives in relation to the standard of health and disability services are that the Northern Regional Health Authority purchases health and disability services:

(1) in a way that improves the quality and effectiveness of those services;

(2) which comply with all requisite legal, ethical and safety requirements relating to the provision and standard of health and disability services;

(3) in a manner that ensures that the service provision is culturally appropriate to the eligible persons and communities served by the Northern Regional Health Authority.

(e) The Special Needs of Maori and other Particular Communities of People for those Services

The Crown's objective is that the Northern Regional Health Authority should:

(1) have regard to the Crown's policy direction for Maori expressed in the document Whaia te ora mo te iwi;

(2) seek to improve the health status of Maori so that they will enjoy the same level of health as non-Maori;

(3) purchase services that to the greatest extent possible recognise the special needs and cultural values of the eligible persons concerned, in particular Maori, Pacific Island people, and people with disabilities.

Dated at Wellington this 19th day of May 1994.

J. M. SHIPLEY, Minister of Health.

Assessment and review procedures should comply with established ethical, professional and legal requirements, as well as national standards where these are developed.

(d) The Standard of those Services

The Crown's objectives in relation to the standard of health and disability services are that the Central Regional Health Authority purchases health and disability services:

(1) in a way that improves the quality and effectiveness of those services;

(2) which comply with all requisite legal, ethical and safety requirements relating to the provision and standard of health and disability services;

(3) in a manner that ensures that the service provision is culturally appropriate to the eligible persons and communities served by the Central Regional Health Authority.

(e) The Special Needs of Maori and other Particular Communities of People for those Services

The Crown's objective is that the Central Regional Health Authority should:

(1) have regard to the Crown's policy direction for Maori expressed in the document Whaia te ora mo te iwi;

(2) seek to improve the health status of Maori so that they will enjoy the same level of health as non-Maori;

(3) purchase services that to the greatest extent possible recognise the special needs and cultural values of the eligible persons concerned, in particular Maori, Pacific Island people, and people with disabilities.

Notice to the Southern Regional Health Authority of the Crown's Objectives

Pursuant to section 8 (1) of the Health and Disability Services Act 1993, I, Jennifer Mary Shipley, hereby give the Southern Regional Health Authority notice of the Crown's objectives in respect of the following matters:

(a) The Health Status of the Communities Served by the Southern Regional Health Authority

The Crown's objectives are to:

(1) improve the health status and promote the independence of people in the communities of the region for which the Southern Regional Health Authority is responsible having regard to:

(i) what is reasonably achievable in 1994/95 within the funding available to the Southern Regional Health Authority; and

(ii) the particular characteristics and related health status concerns of the communities for which the Southern Regional Health Authority is responsible.

In particular the Crown's objective is to improve health status in the health gain priority areas:

(i) Child Health;

(ii) Maori Health; and

(iii) Mental Health;

(2) encourage co-operation between the Southern Regional Health Authority and the Public Health Commission in relation to:

(i) the health gain priority areas, including Physical Environmental Health which is the responsibility of the Public Health Commission; and

(ii) the purchase of services promoting the public health.

(b) The Health Services and Disability Services to be Purchased by the Southern Regional Health Authority

The Crown's objective is that the Southern Regional Health Authority, in accordance with, and to the extent enabled by, its funding agreement and having regard to the Crown's objectives in relation to health status and the principles of equity, effectiveness, efficiency, safety, acceptability and risk management, purchase or arrange for the purchase of the following range of services:

(1) Primary Care Services;

(2) Pregnancy and Childbirth Services;

(3) Dental Health Services;

(4) Primary Diagnostic and Therapeutic Support Services;

(5) Secondary and Tertiary Medical services;

(6) Secondary and Tertiary Surgical services;

(7) Mental Health and Drug and Alcohol Services;

(8) Disability Support Services.

(c) The Terms of Access to those Services and the Assessment and Review Procedures to be used in Determining Access

The Crown's objectives in terms of access to those health and disability services are that:

(1) access to health and disability services be improved overall for eligible persons in terms of waiting times, geographical accessibility and affordability;

(2) to the greatest extent possible, all eligible persons should have fair and reasonable access to co-ordinated, effective, efficient and appropriate services, within the range of health and disability services purchased, having regard to the needs and cultural values of the eligible persons concerned;

(3) assessment and review procedures for determining access to services are further developed, especially in relation to secondary and tertiary medical and surgical services. Assessment and review procedures should comply with established ethical, professional and legal requirements, as well as national standards where these are developed.

(d) The Standard of those Services

The Crown's objectives in relation to the standard of health and disability services are that the Southern Regional Health Authority purchases health and disability services:

(1) in a way that improves the quality and effectiveness of those services;

(2) which comply with all requisite legal, ethical and safety requirements relating to the provision and standard of health and disability services;

(3) in a manner that ensures that the service provision is culturally appropriate to the eligible persons and communities served by the Southern Regional Health Authority.

(e) The Special Needs of Maori and other Particular Communities of People for those Services

The Crown's objective is that the Southern Regional Health Authority should:

(1) have regard to the Crown's policy direction for Maori expressed in the document Whaia te ora mo te iwi;

(2) seek to improve the health status of Maori so that they will enjoy the same level of health as non-Maori;

(3) purchase services that to the greatest extent possible recognise the special needs and cultural values of the eligible persons concerned, in particular Maori, Pacific Island people, and people with disabilities.

Notice to the Public Health Commission of the Crown's Objectives in Relation to Public Health

Pursuant to section 8 (2) of the Health and Disability Services Act 1993, I, Jennifer Mary Shipley, hereby give the Public Health Commission notice of the Crown's objectives in relation to Public Health namely:

The Health Status of the Communities Served by the Public Health Commission

The Crown's objectives are to:

(1) improve the health status and promote the independence of all New Zealanders and protect the public health having regard to what is reasonably achievable in 1994/95 within the funding available to the Public Health Commission.

In particular the Crown's objective is to improve the health status in the health gain priority areas:

- (i) Child Health;
- (ii) Maori Health;
- (iii) Mental Health; and
- (iv) Physical Environmental Health

(2) encourage co-operation between the (name RHA) and the Public Health Commission in relation to:

(i) the health gain priority areas, including Physical Environmental Health which is the responsibility of the Public Health Commission; and

(ii) the purchase of services promoting the public health.

The Public Health Services to be Purchased by the Public Health Commission

The Crown's objectives are:

(1) that the Public Health Commission, in accordance with, and to the extent enabled by, its funding agreement and having regard to the Crown's objectives in relation to health status and the principles of equity, effectiveness, efficiency, safety, acceptability and risk management, purchase or arrange for the purchase of a range of public health services for disease prevention and control, and health promotion services, including health education, in the service obligations areas:

(i) Social and physical environment : environmental health;

(ii) Social and physical environment : food, nutrition and exercise;

(iii) Social and physical environment : prevention and control of communicable disease;

(iv) Maori;

(v) Children;

(vi) Young people;

(vii) Adults;

(viii) Older people; and

(2) to encourage co-operation between the Public Health Commission and the Ministry of Health in the Public Health Commission's purchase of public health regulatory services on behalf of the Director General of Health.

Coverage of the Public Health Services

The Crown's objective in relation to the coverage of public health services is that services provided to the whole population of New Zealand or to any specific sub-population be of a consistent level, except where specified services are to be purchased for specified target populations. These target populations may be defined by geography, age, culture or a range of other factors related to identified health need. The Crown envisages that public health services may be:

(1) nationally planned and delivered services;

(2) nationally planned and locally delivered services;

(3) locally planned and delivered services;

(4) health education resources.

The Standard of the Public Health Services

The Crown's objectives in relation to the standard of those public health services are that the Public Health Commission purchases public health services:

(1) in a way that improves the quality and effectiveness of those services;

(2) which comply with all requisite legal, ethical and safety requirements relating to the provision and standard of public health services;

(3) in a manner that ensures that the service provision is culturally appropriate to the populations served by the Public Health Commission.

Analysis and Monitoring

The Crown's objective in relation to analysis and monitoring is that the Public Health Commission should:

(1) identify public health needs;

(2) identify emerging public health issues.

Policy Advice

The Crown's objective is that the Public Health Commission should provide advice which:

(1) is practicable and takes into account the Government's planning, contracting and funding cycle with all health sector agencies;

(2) assists the Government, the Ministry of Health, RHAs and other agencies to achieve progress on the four health gain priority areas and other objectives achievable through interventions in the health sector;

(3) indicates the relative priorities of recommendations, and considers implementation, purchase planning, and resource implications;

(4) is developed in collaboration with the Ministry of Health as well as Regional Health Authorities, Te Puni Kokiri, Women's Affairs, ACC and other government agencies or Crown entities with an interest in public health.

The Special Needs of Maori and other Particular Communities of People

The Crown's objective is that the Public Health Commission should:

- (1) have regard to the Crown's policy direction for Maori expressed in the document Whaia te ora mo te iwi;
- (2) seek to improve the health status of Maori so that they will enjoy the same level of health as non-Maori;

(3) purchase services that to the greatest extent possible recognise the special needs and cultural values of the eligible persons concerned, in particular Maori, Pacific Island people, and people with disabilities.
