Social Welfare

Social Security Act 1964

Direction by Minister of Social Welfare

In the matter of section 5 of the Social Security Act 1964:

To: The Director-General of Social Welfare

Pursuant to section 5 (2) of the Social Security Act 1964, ("the Act"), I, Roger Morrison Sowry, Minister of Social Welfare, give you the following direction.

Part 1

Grants of Special Benefit

In the exercise of your discretion to grant a special benefit under section 61C of the Act, and without derogating from your duty to have regard to the particular financial circumstances and commitments of the applicant, you must have regard to the following matters.

General Principles

1. That the intention of a special benefit under the Act is to alleviate financial hardship and that a special benefit should not be granted unless without the grant, the applicant or a person dependent upon the applicant would suffer financial hardship.

2. That a special benefit should not normally be granted unless the applicant's Deficiency of Income over his or her expenditure and commitments is reasonably substantial, and that Deficiency is likely to continue for a period that justifies special benefit being granted.

3. That a special benefit should be considered only in respect of costs of the applicant that are essential and not reasonably avoidable.

4. That in considering any application for special benefit, consideration should be given to—

- (a) The applicant's ability to meet the Deficiency from the applicant's own resources; and
- (b) The assistance that is or might be available to the applicant from other sources to meet the applicant's Deficiency.

In particular, when considering—

- (c) An application for a special benefit by a full-time student or the student's dependent spouse, you should take into account the availability of financial support during the academic year under the student allowance or student loan schemes; or
- (d) An application for special benefit for the costs of any essential health services or disability services (as those terms are defined in the Health and Disability Services Act 1993), you should take into account the assistance available under that Act,— and special benefit should not normally be considered for expenses normally covered by the assistance available under those schemes or that Act unless the applicant has extraordinary expenses and has exhausted his or her entitlements under those schemes or that Act.

Assessment Procedure

5. That subject to clauses 7 and 8, you should regard as justified the fixing of a special benefit at a rate that is the lesser of a and b if—

- (a) The applicant has cash assets of not more than—
 - (i) For a single person, $4 \times \text{sib}$; or
 - (ii) For a married person or a sole parent, $4 \times \text{mib}$; and
- (b) The applicant's Disposable Income is less than the applicant's Standard Costs.

Definitions for the Purposes of Clause 5

In this clause—

- a is the applicant's Standard Costs less the applicant's Disposable Income less c;
- b is 30% of the applicant's Allowable Costs;
- c is—
 - (i) $10 a week before 1 July 1997; and
 - (ii) $5 a week on and after 1 July 1997;
- mib is the maximum weekly rate of invalid's benefit payable to a married couple;
- sib is the maximum weekly rate of invalid's benefit payable to an unmarried person.

Example as at 1 July 1997

A single unemployment beneficiary with 2 dependent children, whose weekly chargeable income is $210.45 and whose weekly allowable costs are $94.30.

Special Benefit Calculation

|------------------------|----------|
| Chargeable income | $210.45 |
| less allowable costs | $ 94.30 |
| = Disposable income | $116.15 |
| Standard costs | $143.70 |
| less Disposable Income | $116.15 |
| = Deficiency | $ 27.55 |
| less c | $ 5.00 |
| = a | $ 22.55 |

b is 30% of allowable costs ($94.30) = $28.29

A special benefit that is the lesser of a and b is justified, i.e., $22.55, subject to paragraphs 7 and 8.

6. That subject to clauses 7 and 8, a special benefit should be considered justified in respect of a person receiving training benefit under the Act who incurs additional costs because he or she is undergoing training away from his or her usual home. The rate of the special benefit considered justified should be the lesser of—

- (a) The additional weekly Accommodation Costs incurred; and
- (b) $100 per week.

7. That upon completion of the appropriate calculation set out in clause 5 or clause 6, you shall consider whether there is justification for increasing or decreasing the rate of special benefit paid to the applicant, or to fix or decline to fix an entitlement to special benefit, having regard to the principles set out in clauses 1 to 4 and to the following matters:

- (a) Whether the applicant has any special or unusual financial expenditure compared to others in a similar general position to the applicant and the extent of any such expenditure;
- (b) Whether the applicant has any special or unusual reasons for any expenditure item that has caused or contributed to his or her Deficiency;
- (c) The nature of the financial difficulty, and the likely duration of the Deficiency;
- (d) The age and health of the applicant and his or her dependents and any special needs arising from that age or health;
- (e) The ability of the applicant to improve his or her financial situation;
- (f) The causes of the applicant's financial difficulty;
- (g) The extent to which the basic necessities of life for the applicant or his or her dependents would be at risk if a grant of special benefit at the rate calculated, or another rate, was not made;
- (h) Any other matters that in the circumstances of the particular case, you consider to be relevant.

8. That nothing in this Part requires you to grant a special benefit, or a special benefit at any particular rate, if, in your discretion, you determine that in the circumstances of the particular case, such grant ought not to be made.

Application of Direction

9. That this Direction should be applied to applications for special benefit made on or after the 1st day of April 1997, and in respect of any reviews of that benefit on or after that day.

Part 2

Administration of the Special Benefit Programme

1. In administering the programme of special benefits, you are to ensure that where practicable, persons receiving special benefit under the Act receive appropriate advice with the objective that wherever possible, their need for a special benefit is eliminated or reduced within 6 months after the later of—

- (a) The date of any grant of a special benefit after the date of this direction; or
- (b) Any review of a special benefit after the date of this direction.

2. Cases where special benefit is being paid at a rate of more than $50 a week should receive priority under clause 1.

Part 3

Definitions

In this direction, the following definitions are used:

Accommodation Costs has the meaning in section 61E of the Act;

Allowable Costs, in relation to an applicant and subject to section 68A of the Act, means any regular essential expenses reckoned on a weekly basis arising out of the special circumstances of the applicant and his or her spouse (if any) which cannot readily be avoided or varied, and include—
