Initiation of Dumping Investigation: Plasterboard from Indonesia

Notice is hereby given that, acting pursuant to section 10 (1) of the Dumping and Countervailing Duties Act 1988, and under delegated authority from the Secretary of Commerce, I have initiated an investigation to determine both the existence and effect of the alleged dumping of the goods described in the Schedule to this notice, originating from Indonesia, being satisfied that sufficient evidence has been provided that:

(a) The goods imported or intended to be imported into New Zealand are being dumped; and

(b) By reason thereof material injury to an industry is being threatened, and also being satisfied that the collective output of those New Zealand producers who have, in writing, expressed support for the application constitutes:

(a) Twenty-five percent or more of total New Zealand production of like goods produced for domestic consumption (assessed during the most recent representative period, being not less than 6 months); and

(b) More than 50 percent of the total production of like goods produced for domestic consumption (as so assessed) by those New Zealand producers who have, in writing, expressed support for or opposition to the application.

Schedule

Description of Goods

Standard plasterboard of a thickness between 8.75 mm to 10.25 mm, of any length or width.

The goods are currently classified under Tariff Item 6809.11.00 and Statistical Key 10D of the Tariff of New Zealand, which classification is provided for convenience and Customs purposes only, the written description being dispositive.

Dated at Wellington this 13th day of October 1998.

Mental Health Act 1969

Notice of Extension of Licence of Ashburn Hall to Keep Mentally Disordered Persons

The University of Otago (“the licensee”) is the current holder of a licence under section 9 of the Mental Health Act 1969 to keep mentally disordered persons at the premises of Ashburn Hall, 496 Taieri Road, Halfway Bush, Dunedin (“the licence”). This licence was continued by section 138 (1) of the Mental Health (Compulsory Assessment and Treatment) Act 1992 (“the Act”).

I am satisfied that the licensee is taking steps to enable the premises at Ashburn Hall to be registered as a private hospital under the Hospitals Act 1957, and so, pursuant to section 138 (4) of the Act and in respect of the licence, I extend the period specified in section 138 (2) of the Act until the close of 31 October 1999.

Dated this 1st day of October 1998.

SIMON WILLIAM ENGLISH, Minister of Health.

Explanatory Note

This note is not part of the notice but is intended to indicate its general effect.

The licence in respect of Ashburn Hall was originally granted on 15 April 1911. It was continued by successive pieces of legislation (section 45 (3) of the Mental Health Act 1911, section 129 (10) of the Mental Health Act 1969, and section 138 (2) of the Mental Health (Compulsory Assessment and Treatment) Act 1992).

Under section 138 (2) of the Mental Health (Compulsory Assessment and Treatment) Act 1992, the licence continued in force until 31 October 1997. Provision is also made in subsections (3)–(6) of section 138 of that Act to extend the licence for three further 1 year periods if the Minister of Health is satisfied that the licensee is taking steps to enable the premises to which the licence relates to be registered as a private hospital under the Hospitals Act 1957.

Being so satisfied, the Minister of Health extended the licence until the close of 31 October 1998, and is now extending the licence for the second of the three 1 year periods until the close of 31 October 1999.

Direction

Grants of Emergency Benefits, and Grants of Community Wage on the Ground of Hardship

This direction applies when you are considering whether to grant—

- (a) An emergency benefit under section 61 of the Act; or
- (b) A community wage under section 89 of the Act pursuant to section 90 of the Act,— on and after 8 October 1998, and also applies when you are, after that date, reviewing an emergency benefit (whether granted before or after that date), or a community wage so granted. Without limiting the discretion available to you under section 61 or section 90 of the Act, you must have regard to the following matters:

1. Definitions

In this direction, unless the context otherwise requires,—

“the Act” means the Social Security Act 1964:

“Cash assets”, in relation to any person, means the assets of that person and his or her spouse (if any) that can be readily converted into cash and include—

- (a) Shares, stocks, debentures, bonus bonds, and other bonds;
- (b) Bank accounts, including fixed and term deposits with any bank, friendly society, credit union, or building society;
- (c) Money invested with or lent to any bank or other financial institution;

- (d) The net equity held in any property or land not used as the person's home;
- (e) Building society shares;
- (f) Mortgage investments and other long term loans;
- (g) Bills of exchange or promissory notes;
- (h) The applicant's share in any partnership;—
but do not include—
- (i) The motor vehicle principally used by the applicant for his or her personal use;
- (j) A caravan, boat, or other vehicle—
 - (i) The net equity in which is less than $2,000; or
 - (ii) Which is used by the person or a member of his or her family for day to day accommodation;
- (k) The personal effects of the person and his or her spouse (if any):

“Course” means a full-time course within the meaning of the Student Allowances Regulations 1998:

“Gross amount”, in relation to a benefit, means the amount of that benefit before the deduction of income tax:

“Student Allowance” means a basic grant or an independent circumstances grant under the Student Allowances Regulations 1998;—

and terms otherwise defined in section 3 (1) of the Act have the meanings so defined.

2. Hardship: general criteria

Where an applicant who is not a full-time student—

- (a) Has cash assets of or less than—
 - (i) $4,300, where the applicant is unmarried; or
 - (ii) $7,464, where the applicant is married or is unmarried with at least 1 dependent child; and
- (b) Has no other means to support himself or herself or his or her dependent spouse or dependent children,— you may consider that applicant to be suffering hardship.

3. Hardship: full-time students

Where an applicant who is a full-time student—

- (a) Has cash assets of or less than—
 - (i) $4,300, where the applicant is unmarried; or
 - (ii) $7,464, where the applicant is married or is unmarried with at least 1 dependent child; and
- (b) Has no other means to support himself or herself or his or her dependent spouse or dependent children; and
- (c) Either—
 - (i) Has been receiving a student allowance during the academic year; or
 - (ii) At the time of the application is entitled to a student allowance or would be entitled to a student allowance but for the fact the course he or she intends to enrol in or has enrolled in has not commenced,— you may consider the applicant to be suffering hardship.

4. Hardship: full-time students: further criteria

Where clause 3 (a) and (b) apply to an applicant who is a full-time student, but the applicant—

- (a) Has not received a student allowance during the academic year; or
- (b) At the time of the application for the benefit, is not entitled to a student allowance, or would not be entitled to a student allowance if he or she was attending a course,— the applicant should not be considered to be suffering hardship unless, having regard to the following matters, you believe that such a determination is justified:

- (c) The sources of money for living costs which have been or are available to the applicant to support himself or herself, including a student loan;
- (d) Any decision by the applicant not to access any source of money available to him or her for living costs, including a student loan;
- (e) The reasons why the applicant is not entitled to a student allowance;
- (f) Where the applicant would not be eligible for a student allowance because of parental income, his or her parents' financial circumstances;
- (g) The causes of the applicants hardship (if hardship exists);
- (h) The nature and likely duration of that hardship;
- (i) The health of the applicant;
- (j) The ability of the applicant to improve his or her financial situation; and
- (k) Any other matters that in the particular case you consider to be relevant.

5. Emergency benefits for people aged 16 or 17 attending social rehabilitation programmes

Where clause 2 (a) and (b) apply to an applicant who is—

- (a) Aged 16 or 17 years; and
- (b) Not qualified to receive an invalid's benefit under section 40 of the Act; and
- (c) Attending a social rehabilitation programme approved by you,—

you may grant an emergency benefit to the applicant.

6. Emergency benefits for people aged 16 or 17 who are pregnant or sole parents

Where clause 2 (a) and (b) apply to an applicant—

- (a) Who is aged 16 or 17 years; and
- (b) Who is—
 - (i) Pregnant; or
 - (ii) A sole parent; and
- (c) Whose parent or parents are unable to support the applicant because the parent's or parents' income would only be sufficient to qualify for the receipt of family support under the Income Tax Act 1994,—

you may grant an emergency benefit to the applicant.

7. Rates of emergency benefit for certain people who are 16 or 17

The rate of an emergency benefit granted under clause 5 or clause 6 must not, in the absence of exceptional circumstances, be more than:

- (a) For a person granted the benefit under clause 5, the rate in clause 1 of the Twenty-sixth Schedule of the Act.
- (b) For a person granted the benefit under clause 6—
 - (i) If that person is living with a parent (as that term is defined in section 3 (1) of the Act), 80 percent of the rate in clause 1 of the Twenty-sixth Schedule of the Act; or
 - (ii) For any other person, the rate in clause 1 of that Schedule.

8. Emergency benefits for care of patients

Where clause 2 (a) and (b) apply to an applicant for an emergency benefit to care for a sick or infirm person (a "patient") to enable the patient to remain in his or her home—

- (a) You should not, in the exercise of your discretion under section 61, consider granting that applicant an emergency benefit if the patient has the ability to pay for his or her care; and
- (b) You should consider that the patient has that ability if the patient's income exceeds by $2,600 or more—
 - (i) If the patient receives New Zealand superannuation, the gross rate of New Zealand superannuation that is payable to the patient and his or her spouse (if any); or
 - (ii) In any other case, the gross rate of an invalid's benefit that is or would be payable to the patient and his or her spouse (if any) if the patient qualified for that benefit.

9. Patient's income defined

- (a) In clause 8, "income" means income within the meaning of section 3 (1) of the Act modified in accordance with paragraphs (b) to (d):
- (b) The income of a patient includes the gross amount of the New Zealand superannuation or other benefit (being a community wage, emergency benefit, invalid's benefit, or domestic purposes benefit under section 27G of the Act) payable to the patient and his or her spouse (if any);
- (c) The income of a patient includes an assessed income of—
 - (i) Subject to paragraph (d), for an unmarried person, $5.20 per annum for each $10 of the patient's cash assets in excess of $2,700;
 - (ii) For a married person, $5.20 per annum for each $10 of the cash assets of the patient and his or her spouse in excess of $5,400;
- (d) If the applicant is applying for the emergency benefit to care for 2 unmarried patients, the income of each patient includes $2.60 per annum for each $10 of the combined cash assets of the patients in excess of $5,400:

(e) In paragraphs (c) and (d), cash assets do not include—

- (i) Any interest in a policy of life insurance offered or entered into by a life insurer (within the meaning of either section OB 1 or OE 1 or OE 2 (1) of the Income Tax Act 1994); or
- (ii) The capital value of any annuity owned beneficially by the patient or his or her spouse. For the avoidance of doubt, the annual value of any annuity is included in the income of the patient.

10. Cash assets may be disregarded in exceptional circumstances

In calculating a person's cash assets for the purpose of this direction, you may disregard some or all of the cash assets of that person and his or spouse (if any) if, in your opinion, exceptional circumstances exist having regard to the following matters:

- (a) Whether a refusal to grant an emergency benefit or community wage on hardship grounds to the applicant will—
 - (i) Increase the expenditure of the Crown directly or indirectly; or
 - (ii) Have a serious adverse effect on a person's health or welfare:
- (b) Whether the applicant is able to realise his or her cash assets for more than the appropriate cash asset limit:
- (c) Whether the need for the emergency benefit or community wage is temporary:
- (d) The amount of the person's total assets, including assets that are not cash assets:
- (e) Any other matters you consider are relevant to determining whether hardship would exist.

11. General discretion

Nothing in this direction requires you to grant an emergency benefit, or a community wage on the grounds of hardship, if, in your discretion, you determine such grant ought not to be made.

Matters at Full Assessment

The authority has prepared the following proposals and will now make full assessments of them:

Milk, Cream, Fermented Milks and Related Products (P185). A proposal to review regulations in Australia and New Zealand for these products.

Cheese, Butter and Edible Oil Spreads (P186). A proposal to review regulations in Australia and New Zealand for cheese, butter and edible oil spreads.

Matters at Inquiry

The authority will conduct inquiries into the draft standards or variations to standards prepared at full assessment of the following:

Representational Issues – Claims about Food (P169).

A proposal to review the regulations in Australia and New Zealand which regulate claims made about food.

Fruit and Vegetables (P187). A proposal to review the regulations in Australia and New Zealand for fruit and vegetables (including nuts, spices, herbs, fungi, legumes and seeds). With respect to this proposal the authority is satisfied it raises issues of minor significance and complexity and that to omit to invite public submissions prior to making a full assessment will not have a significant adverse effect on the interests of any person or body. The authority has therefore decided to omit to invite public submissions prior to making a full assessment.

You are invited to present written submissions to the authority on the above matters, including the potential regulatory impact on consumers, industry and government, by 30 November 1998. The information papers on these matters provide further information, including advice on the authority's policy regarding submissions.

Matters Before Council

The authority has made recommendations to the Australia New Zealand Food Standards Council relating to the following matters that variations be adopted into the Food Standards Code:

Maximum Residue Limits (A331). The authority has completed an inquiry into the variations to standards prepared at full assessment of an application from the National Registration Authority to amend current maximum residue limits (MRLs) in Standard A14. In accordance with the transitional arrangements for food standards between Australia and New Zealand, individual country MRLs for agricultural and veterinary chemicals continue to apply for these standards and this application proposes changes for MRLs for food sold in Australia, whether imported or domestically produced.

Folate/Neural Tube Defect (NTD) Health Claims (P184). The authority has undertaken a full assessment of a proposal to list products on the register of approved products to carry a folate/NTD health claim and to provide for changes to the amendment to Standard A1(19) previously made under Proposal P170.

The authority has prepared draft variations to the standard, is satisfied that a recommendation should be made to council as a matter of urgency and therefore decided to omit to invite public submissions prior to making a full assessment and recommendation to council. If council accepts the authority's recommendation a further notice will be published by the authority inviting public submissions as part of its inquiry into the variation to the Food Standards Code which the authority will be obliged to do as soon as practicable after the adoption of the draft variations.

Folate Health Claims

The authority invites companies and industry associations to participate in a health claims pilot project to test the use of a health claim and its associated management framework. The pilot involves the use of a health claim that makes the link between increased maternal folate consumption and a reduction in the incidence of neural tube defects (NTD) such as spina bifida.

The authority has completed its assessment of the first list of products recommended to be on the register of approved products to carry a folate/NTD health claim (see notice below - Proposal P184). It is anticipated that approved products will be available for public sale in Australia from mid November 1998.

Further applications are now sought for other products to use an approved folate/NTD health claim and in order to meet the pilot's assessment and legislative timetable, should be received by the authority by 30 October 1998. Later applications will be accepted at any time and will be processed by the authority in a rolling program of assessments and recommendations.

The conditions for participating as a food industry partner in the pilot and the application form to participate are contained in an application package available from the authority's information officer. Further information about the health claims pilot should be directed to Dr Hugh Baber on (04) 473 9942.

Food Hygiene Standards

The authority has produced a discussion paper Industry Guidelines for Australian Food Businesses. The paper outlines the development of sectoral food industry guidelines and their role in providing assistance to food businesses in complying with the requirements of the proposed Food Hygiene Standards. Copies of the discussion paper are available from the authority's information officer. You are invited to present written submissions to the authority on this matter by 12 November 1998.

The authority also plans to release a discussion paper Development of a National Food Business Notification System by 23 October 1998. Copies of this discussion paper will be available from the authority's information officer from that date.
