Animal Health Board

Biosecurity Act 1993

Notice of Movement Controls for Bovine Tuberculosis

Pursuant to section 131 (2) of the Biosecurity Act 1993, the Animal Health Board declares New Zealand (with the exception of the Chatham Islands) to be an area that is controlled for the purpose of enabling the limitation of the spread of bovine tuberculosis.

Pursuant to section 131 (3) (a) of the Biosecurity Act 1993, the Animal Health Board gives notice that the movement of cattle and deer within the Controlled Area is restricted and regulated to the extent and subject to the conditions specified below.

1. Definitions

In this notice, unless the context otherwise requires:

“Herd” means—

(a) a group of cattle, or deer, or cattle and deer, that is managed as one unit;

(b) a group of cattle, or deer, or cattle and deer, that is kept within the same enclosure or behind the same fence:

“Herd of Origin” means the herd with which a cattle beast or a deer is, for the time being, grazing:

“Risk Area” means an area specified in the Schedule to this Notice:

“The Controlled Area” means New Zealand (with the exception of the Chatham Islands).

2. Declaration Cards

2.1 Every cattle beast or deer aged 30 days or more that is moved within the Controlled Area from—

(i) Its herd of origin; or

(ii) The place or establishment at which the animal is being kept,— to a place other than a place occupied by the owner or person in charge of the cattle beast or deer, must be accompanied throughout the movement by a completed Declaration Card relating to that animal, so that a person inspecting that animal may inspect the Declaration Card at the same time.

2.2 A completed Declaration Card must be signed and dated by the owner of the animal to which it relates or a person acting with the authority of the owner, and must contain the following information for each animal to which the card relates:

- (a) The breed, sex and age of the animal; and
- (b) Whether or not that animal was bred within the herd of origin or at the place or establishment at which the animal is being kept; and
- (c) The name and address of the owner of that animal; and
- (d) Whether or not that animal has been tested for bovine tuberculosis while in the possession of the person who signed the Declaration Card or on whose behalf the Declaration Card was signed; and
- (e) If that animal has been tested for bovine tuberculosis while in the possession of the person who signed the Declaration Card or on whose behalf the Declaration Card was signed, the date of the last test and whether or not tuberculosis was detected in respect to:
 - (i) The animal; and
 - (ii) The herd of origin; and
- (f) Whether that animal is being moved from a place within a Risk Area, and, if so, whether that animal had been tested for bovine tuberculosis within 60 days prior to movement; and
- (g) The bovine tuberculosis status of the animal, which shall be the status given to the animal or herd of origin by the Animal Health Board and shall be one of the following:
 - (i) “Infected (1...n)”, where the index following the status “Infected” represents the number of years the herd has had an infected status.
 - (ii) “Clear (1...10)”, where the index following the status “Clear”, represents the number of years (to a maximum of 10) the herd has had a clear status, except for those herds classified as “cattle dry stock”, “venison”, or “miscellaneous”. For these herds, the Clear index is capped at a maximum value of “1”.
 - (iii) “Suspended”, which refers to animals from a herd in which diagnosis of suspected tuberculosis awaits confirmation or a herd containing animals of unknown testing history (including feral animals), for which sufficient testing information to establish the herd status has yet to be accumulated.
 - (iv) “Works monitored”, which refers to animals from a herd not subject to on-farm testing under the operational plan of the Animal Health Board.

3. Testing Prior to Movement From or Within Risk Areas

- 3.1 No cattle beast or deer aged 90 days or more may be moved—
- (a) From any Risk Area to a place outside that Risk Area; or
 - (b) Within any Risk Area from its herd of origin, or the place or establishment at which the animal is being kept to a place other than a place occupied by the owner or person in charge of the cattle beast or deer—unless it has undergone, within 60 days prior to the date of movement, a negative test for bovine tuberculosis in accordance with the Biosecurity (National Bovine Tuberculosis Pest Management Strategy) Order 1998.
- 3.2 The restriction on movement in 3.1 does not apply where an animal is being moved directly to a place of slaughter.
- 3.3 Notwithstanding 3.1, an animal may be exempted from the requirement for a test in accordance with the Animal Health Board Tuberculosis Operational Plan.

Instructions	Commentary
Ballots
Planning for a ballot
1. By 1 September each year a board must determine how many places are likely to be available in the next year for students who live outside the home zone specified in the school's enrolment scheme.	The board will reach its decision after estimating the number of applications that it is likely to receive from students living within the home zone. The board must also allow for the possibility of late applications for enrolment from in-zone students and applications for enrolment from students who take up residence within the home zone in the following year or after the end of the pre-enrolment period. Both of these groups have an absolute right of enrolment under section 11D(1) of the Education Act 1989. Note that foreign fee-paying students (even those living in the home zone) must not fill places provided by the State for domestic students. In estimating how many students are likely to seek enrolment from within the home zone, schools should review historical patterns. Primary schools would find it helpful to contact early childhood providers in the area, while secondary and intermediate schools will be able to get information from their natural feeder schools.
2. By 1 September each year a board must decide how many pre-enrolment periods there will be for students seeking enrolment at the school during the following year.	Secondary and intermediate schools will be likely to opt for a single pre-enrolment period, which will be followed by a ballot for the out of zone places likely to be available in the following year. Primary schools on the other hand may prefer to run a pre-enrolment period once a term, or twice a year, or at other intervals. This is because in primary schools the new entrant intake occurs over the course of the whole year instead of just at the beginning of the year, as in secondary and intermediate schools.
3. By 1 September each year, a board must decide whether the ballot(s) that it will hold will cover the whole school or whether there will be separate ballots at different year levels within the school.	It will be acceptable if a board determines that places for out of zone students will be available only at a specific year level or levels within the school. Enrolment at other levels would therefore be available only to in-zone students and no ballots would be required at those levels.
4. If separate ballots are to be held at more than one year level, by 1 September each year a board must decide whether the ballot(s) for places at upper levels will be held on the same date as the ballot for places at new entrant, year 7 or year 9 level (as the case may be), or at a later date.	A board may think it prudent to delay holding a ballot for places at upper levels until the overall make up of the school roll is known. This may be as late as mid-January in schools which are not planning another pre-enrolment period relating to that year's intake.
5. By 15 September each year, by notice in a daily or community newspaper circulating in the area served by the school, a board must advise parents of the likely number of out of zone places that the board has determined will be available for the next year (in total or at particular year levels as the case may be).	The notice may indicate that this number is an estimate only and that the actual number of places will not be known until the pre-enrolment of in-zone students has been completed.
Schools planning a single pre-enrolment period
6. In relation to enrolment at the school in the following year, all boards in a city or region must agree, by majority decision if need be, on common dates for:	There is a likelihood that some students will apply for enrolment at more than one school. Co-ordination will ensure fairness for both applicants and schools. Note that the requirement to co-ordinate dates applies only to schools catering for the same range of students; dates for primary schools could be different from those for secondary schools.
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● the deadline by which applications for enrolment must be received. ● the date(s) of the ballot(s) for enrolment places.
A city or region is defined as a territorial local authority except in the case of the areas specified in the first schedule attached to these instructions.	The requirement to co-ordinate dates applies only to schools with enrolment schemes, but schools without enrolment schemes would no doubt appreciate being kept informed of the intentions of their neighbours.

7. The dates agreed on must be no later than:
- 15 October for the deadline for applications;
 - 30 October for the ballot (or for the ballot for places at new entrant, year 7 or year 9 level, as the case may be, if it has been decided to hold the ballot(s) for upper level places at a later date).
8. The notice required by 15 September must include:
- the agreed deadline date for applications;
 - the agreed date(s) of the ballot(s).

Schools planning multiple pre-enrolment periods

9. The notice required by 15 September must state:
- the number of pre-enrolment periods relating to the following year;
 - the dates for the application deadline and the ballot associated with each pre-enrolment period.
10. In relation to the first pre-enrolment period, all boards in a city or region must agree, by majority decision if need be, on common dates for:
- the deadline by which applications for enrolment must be received;
 - the date of the ballot for enrolment places.

A city or region is defined as a territorial local authority except in the case of the areas specified in the first schedule attached to these instructions.

11. In relation to the first pre-enrolment period, the dates agreed on must be no later than:
- 15 October for the deadline for applications;
 - 30 October for the ballot.
12. One calendar month before the application deadline associated with each pre-enrolment period subsequent to the first, a board must, by notice in a daily or community newspaper circulating in the area served by the school:
- confirm the already advertised dates for receipt of applications and for the holding of the ballot;
 - state the likely number of out of zone places that remain available.

Sorting the applications

13. Before proceeding to the ballot(s), the board must consider the number of applications for enrolment that have been received from in-zone students and confirm or, if necessary, revise its estimate of the number of places available for out of zone students (in total or at specific levels, as the case may be). This number must be provided to the supervisor before the ballot takes place.
14. In preparation for the ballot, applications should be sorted into the following five priority groupings specified in section 11F (1):
- applicants accepted for a special programme (see later section);
 - siblings of current students;
 - siblings of former students;
 - children of board employees;
 - all other applicants.
15. Each of the second, third, fourth and fifth priority groupings must be considered in turn. If the number of applicants within a particular priority grouping is less than the total number of remaining available places, all

There is a likelihood that some students will apply for enrolment at more than one school. Co-ordination will ensure fairness for both applicants and schools. Note that the requirement to co-ordinate dates applies only to schools catering for the same range of students; dates for primary schools could be different from those for secondary schools.

The requirement to co-ordinate dates applies only to schools with enrolment schemes, but schools without enrolment schemes would no doubt appreciate being kept informed of the intentions of their neighbours.

For each pre-enrolment period subsequent to the first, individual boards may set an application deadline which they consider appropriate. In cases where neighbouring boards operate the same pattern of multiple pre-enrolment periods, it would be helpful to parents and schools if pre-enrolment dates are co-ordinated.

It may well be that parents of a pre-school child will make an application for enrolment well in advance of their child's fifth birthday. The application should be held for inclusion in the ballot relating to the period during which the child becomes eligible for enrolment at the school. Parents should be informed of this action.

If a board is holding a ballot for places at upper levels at a later date than the ballot for places at the lowest level, before proceeding to the ballot for upper level places it must explicitly indicate to the supervisor the number of places to be balloted for at the upper levels.

A couple of examples may be helpful. Let us suppose that a secondary school determines that it has 40 spaces available at year 9 for out of zone students in the following year. Let us also suppose that of the 70 out of zone applications that it applicants within the grouping must be offered enrolment. Otherwise, a ballot will be required, and all applicants within the grouping must be included in the ballot.

16. If out of zone applications are received after the advertised deadline, they must be set aside, unless they are clearly postmarked with a date before the date of the advertised deadline.

Balloting procedures

17. All applications received by the pre-enrolment deadline, or clearly postmarked with a date before the date of the advertised deadline, must be included in any ballot that is necessary within a particular priority group
18. All ballots must be supervised by a Justice of the Peace, a practising lawyer, a sworn member of the Police, or a local government returning officer, provided that the person is not also a member of the school's board of trustees, or a person employed by the school's board of trustees, or a person with a family connection to a child whose name has been included in the ballot. At the conclusion of the ballot, this person must sign a statement certifying that a copy of the current Secretary's Instructions was sighted and that the ballot complied with those Instructions and was properly carried out. This statement must be retained by the board.
19. The supervisor must exercise such scrutiny and oversight over all equipment, processes and procedures associated with the particular form of balloting draw adopted by the board as is necessary to ensure the security and proper operation of the ballot.

receives, 6 are from siblings of present students. All of these must be enrolled. The next to be considered are siblings of former students, of which there are 9. All of these must be enrolled. Similarly the 2 children of board employees must also be enrolled. This leaves 53 other students, who must be balloted because only 23 places remain.

The situation in a primary school which has decided to hold a ballot twice a year is more complex. Suppose that the school has determined that it will have room for 80 new entrants in the following year. Let us also suppose that its research suggests that 55 places are likely to be filled by in-zone students who will start school at some time during the course of the year. In the pre-enrolment period for out of zone students who will seek enrolment at some stage during the first half year, let us suppose that it receives 20 applications, including 2 siblings of current students, 5 siblings of former students and 13 other students (none of whom are the children of board employees). All must be enrolled, because the limit of 25 available places has not been exceeded. At the time of the next pre-enrolment period for places in the second half year let us suppose that there are 23 applications, including 3 siblings of current students, 6 siblings of former students 1 child of a board employee, and 13 others. The 3 siblings of current students must all be enrolled, because 5 places still remain. The 6 siblings of former students, however, will have to go into a ballot for the 2 remaining places. The child of the board employee and the 13 other students will not be able to be enrolled.

Parents should be informed that the application arrived too late to be included in the ballot and they should be offered the opportunity to have their child's name included in the next ballot that will be held.

A check should be made to ensure that there is only one application in respect of each person seeking enrolment.

A sample "Supervisor's Completion Certificate" is provided in the draft notices which are attached as Appendix 2 to the Secretary's Guidelines for the Development and Operation of Enrolment Schemes.

From time to time the Secretary may amend these Instructions. Boards need to ensure that they are working from the current Instructions.

There are several balloting procedures which boards might consider appropriate. Three are described below:

- a The names of applicants are printed in a list which is then cut up so that one name appears on each identical piece of paper. The pieces of paper are then put into a receptacle from which they are drawn out blind and the order of drawing is noted. The supervisor must assure himself/herself that the total number of names on the list corresponds with the total number of actual applications.
- b A numbered list of applicants' names is prepared and numbered identical balls or marbles are placed in a receptacle, from which they are drawn out blind. The order of drawing is noted against each name on the list. The supervisor must assure himself/herself that the range of numbers on the marbles is the same as the range of numbers on the applications.
- c A numbered list of applicants' names is prepared. A corresponding range of numbers is generated by a

20. Names drawn in the ballot must be recorded in the order in which they are drawn, up to the limit of the number of places available (either in total or at a particular level, as the case may be). Beyond that point, names must be recorded on a waiting list in the order in which they are drawn in the ballot. A waiting list will remain current until the next ballot, whether that ballot has already been planned or whether it is arranged in accordance with Instructions 30-32.

Procedures Subsequent to Ballots

21. Within three school days of a ballot being held, the board must write to the parents of successful applicants to inform them of the outcome of the ballot.
22. At the same time, the board must write to the parents of unsuccessful applicants to inform them of the student's place on the waiting list.
23. The results of the ballot, including a copy of the waiting list, must be available for inspection at the school within three school days of the ballot being held.
24. If parents of successful applicants decline to accept the places offered, or fail to respond within the 14 day period, the board must offer the vacant places to unsuccessful applicants in the order in which their names are recorded on the waiting list. This process should continue until all available places (as specified by the board at the date of the ballot) have been filled or no names remain on the waiting list.

Special Programmes

25. The criteria on which students will be accepted into the special programme must be specified separately in the enrolment scheme. There must also be a statement of the procedures that will be used to determine which students will be enrolled if there are more applicants than places available. Students who meet the criteria for enrolment in the special programme and live within the home zone must be enrolled ahead of applicants from out of zone.
26. By 1 September each year, a board must determine how many places are likely to be available in the special programme in the next year for students who live outside the home zone specified in the school's enrolment scheme. The board will reach its decision after determining the number of places that will be filled by students living within the home zone.
27. In the notice required to be placed in a daily or community newspaper circulating in the area served by the school by 15 September, a board must advise parents of:
- the likely number of out of zone places in the special programme that the board has determined will be available for the next enrolment intake.
 - the date by which applications for enrolment in the special programme as an out of zone student must be received by the school.
28. Applications must be processed in terms of the criteria set out in the enrolment scheme.

software programme capable of producing random numbers. This new order is the order of acceptance. The supervisor must be the person who activates the computer programme.

Siblings at the same year level should be kept together for the purpose of the ballot, so that if one sibling's name is drawn, the other(s) is/are automatically successful also.

If there are no places available for any of the applicants within a particular priority group, a ballot of these applicants will still be needed in order to establish a waiting list, because vacant places may open up later.

If there have been separate ballots for places at upper and lower levels, there will be more than one waiting list. These waiting lists will operate independently, with places being progressively offered up to the limit specified at the time of the relevant ballot.

Parents should be asked to confirm their acceptance or rejection of the offered place within 14 days of the date on the letter.

A parent who has not replied within 14 days might subsequently contact the school, seeking to take up the place. The principal should refer to Instruction 24 when responding to the parent.

A similar response should be made to parents who have rejected an offered place but subsequently wish to change their mind.

The balloting requirements do not apply to students who seek enrolment in a special programme approved by the Secretary and run by the school. Some boards may, however, decide to choose a ballot as a method of selection among out of zone applicants who all meet the criteria for entry to the special programme.

The notice may indicate that this number is an estimate only and that the actual number of places will not be known until the pre-enrolment of in-zone students has been completed.

Applications for enrolment in a special programme run by the school should be kept separate from all other applications for out of zone places.

Applications Outside the Pre-Enrolment Period

29. Students who live within the home zone must be enrolled.
30. In the case of applications from students who live outside the home zone, such students cannot be enrolled unless a new ballot is arranged.

31. If a board determines part way through the year that it has vacant places and that it would like to fill them, it must offer them to students on the relevant current waiting list, if this exists. If places still remain after doing this, or if there is no current waiting list, the board must insert a notice in a daily or community newspaper circulating in the area served by the school stating:

- the likely number of available places, in total or at particular levels as the case may be;
- the deadline by which applications for enrolment must be received;
- the date of the ballot(s) for enrolment places.

32. Procedures in relation to this ballot are subject to Instructions 13-24.

Other Matters

33. A person whose home is outside the home zone specified in the school's enrolment scheme but who has been accepted as a boarder for any year at the school's hostel is deemed to be living within the school's home zone.
34. Foreign fee-paying students must not be included in any ballot for out of zone places.

These instructions are issued under section 11G (1) of the Education Act 1989.

Dated at Wellington this 24th day of July 2000.

HOWARD FANCY, Secretary for Education.

Schools are likely to receive applications for enrolment at any time during the year—often (but not always) from students who have just moved into the area.

They have an entitlement to enrolment under section 11D (1).

This is because enrolment at a school with an enrolment scheme is governed by the scheme, whose provisions are fixed by legislation. The board is not able to enrol a student simply because it has determined that there is spare capacity at the school. Only the board of a school without an enrolment scheme can operate in this way.

The board can, however, offer to place the student's name in the next planned ballot or in any ballot which might later be arranged in accordance with Instruction 31.

There is no compulsion on a board to fill vacant places. The board may decide that it needs flexibility to provide for the enrolment of students who might be new arrivals in its home zone.

The board may decide to hold separate ballots at different year levels, as provided for in Instruction 3.

This means that the person has absolute right of enrolment at the school under section 11D (1) of the Education Act 1989.

Under section 4 (3) of the Education Act 1989, foreign students cannot be enrolled ahead of domestic students.

New Zealand Overseas Investment Commission

Overseas Investment Act 1973

Notice of Government Overseas Investment Policy, Delegation and Criteria

6 July 2000

Received 21 July 2000

Chairman

Overseas Investment Commission

P.O. Box 2498

Wellington

Dear Mr Webb

Overseas Investment Policy, Delegation and Criteria

1. This letter conveys the Government's general policy approach to overseas investment and indicates the delegated authority for the Overseas Investment Commission ("the Commission") and its staff to determine applications and related matters as from the date of this letter.

2. The Government has decided to alter the previous letter issued on 19 November 1999 to ensure that there are no doubts that the Commission's responsibilities under its legislation should be exercised in a neutral manner. We have also decided that, due to the sensitive nature of overseas ownership of New Zealand fishing quota and the small number of applications in that field, all fishing quota applications should be dealt with by Ministers.
3. Please note that these changes are technical in nature and the Government remains committed to an open and facilitative overseas investment regime.

General Policy Approach

4. Section 9 (2) of the Overseas Investment Act 1973 ("the Act") requires the Commission to "comply with the general policy of the Government...transmitted in writing...by ...the Minister (Treasurer) and the Minister of Lands". We wish to convey the following general policy of the Government in relation to the exercise of the Commission's functions, powers and duties:

- (a) the Government recognises the need for overseas capital and welcomes and encourages investment which meets the tests set out in the legislation.
- (b) the Commission's operating procedures should be consistent with the Government's intention to facilitate positive investment. Accordingly, the Commission should:
 - (i) perform its functions and administer the legislation it has responsibility for in a timely, consistent and efficient manner;
 - (ii) seek to minimise the compliance and transactions costs to the private sector of the investment regime;
 - (iii) seek sufficient information from applicants for it to be assured about the accuracy of the information supplied;
 - (iv) seek sufficient evidence from applicants for it to be able to judge whether any national interest benefits claimed by them are likely to eventuate;
 - (v) when it considers it necessary to verify that information or that evidence, seek input from government agencies or others it considers have particular competence in relation to that application;
 - (vi) seek to recover its operating costs, through fees that must be approved by the Treasurer, from persons who use its services;
 - (vii) continue to advise Ministers on proposals with the presumption that the investment will be compatible with the policy of the Government relating to any other matter;
 - (viii) continue to monitor compliance with any conditions of approval, consent, permission, or exemption granted under the legislation with an approach that seeks a balance between the objectives of ensuring compliance with any conditions and providing the Commission with more accurate statistics on investment, and the desire to maintain a welcoming approach to investment; and

- (ix) continue the practice of the Commission's staff performing the Commission's day-to-day functions, with the Commission's role being primarily one of governance and overview.
5. We are aware that the Commission compiles information on investment in New Zealand in the course of performing its functions. To the extent that existing resources permit, the Commission, in conjunction with other relevant agencies, should:
- (a) disseminate information on investment in New Zealand; and
- (b) publicise and explain the nature of our regulatory regime to potential overseas investors and domestically.

Delegation

6. The Treasurer delegates to the Commission and its staff the power to determine all applications under Part II of the Overseas Investment Regulations 1995 ("the regulations").
7. The Treasurer and the Minister for Land Information ("the Ministers") delegate to the Commission and its staff, in relation to Part III of the regulations:
- (a) their powers to determine applications which do not involve "sensitive" land as described in the First Schedule to the Act and regulations under the headings of Islands, and Foreshore, lakes and reserves and Land over 0.4 hectares on certain islands;
- (b) notwithstanding (a) above, their powers to determine land applications:
- (i) that do not involve a freehold estate or other estate or interest in land equivalent to a freehold estate; or
- (ii) that are part of a purchasing programme previously approved by Ministers under the Overseas Investment Regulations 1985 and 1995 or the Land Settlement Promotion and Land Acquisition Act 1952, where each acquisition is consistent with any conditions established for the programme; or
- (iii) involving land that is "sensitive" solely because it includes or adjoins a marginal strip that extends along or abuts any river or stream.
8. The Ministers also delegate to the Commission and its staff the following related matters:
- (a) their powers under regulation 12 to specify information and particulars to be supplied by applicants;
- (b) their powers under regulation 14 in respect of applications:
- (i) which have been delegated in terms of paragraphs 6 and 7 above; or
- (ii) which have been initially considered by the Minister and that require an administrative amendment;

- (c) their powers under regulations 16 in respect of applications that have been delegated in terms of paragraphs 6 and 7 above;
- (d) their powers under regulations 16 in respect of adding entities to or deleting entities from the Schedules to the Overseas Investment Exemption Notice 1995;
- (e) their powers under regulation 17 in respect of any matter delegated;
- (f) their powers under section 15 of the Act in respect of applications that have been delegated; and
- (g) in each case where a power has been delegated, the power of delegation under section 16 of the Act.

Criteria

9. In considering any applications under the Overseas Investment Act 1973 under delegation, the Commission and its staff must take into account the matters provided for under section 14A of the Overseas Investment Act 1973.

Revocation of Existing Delegation

10. The existing delegation conferred on the Commission and its staff on 19 November 1999 is hereby revoked as from the date of this letter.

DR MICHAEL CULLEN, Treasurer.

TREVOR MALLARD, Acting Minister of Land Information.

PETE HODGSON, Minister of Fisheries.

These are converted to the New Zealand dollar rate at balance date with all realised and unrealised gains and losses being recognised in the statement of financial performance as income from managed funds.

Statement of cashflows

Cash comprises cash at bank and call deposits but does not include cash or deposits held by the Fund Managers.

11. Loan to Dunedin Community House Trust (Inc.)

During the year the Trust advanced the Dunedin Community House Trust (Inc.) an interest free loan of $250,000. The term of the loan is for 10 years and quarterly principal payments of $6,250 are to be made from December 22, 2000.

Chairperson's annual report:

Helping shape the future of Otago

The Community Trust of Otago has had a good year. The funds we hold in trust are safe and we obtained a fair return on those funds. We made a good level of donations that were well balanced and of high quality. But that is nothing more than should be routinely expected, and the work of the Trust does not feel merely routine. The Trust is an adolescent organisation still sensing what maturity could be like – how we can take part in shaping the future of our province, no less. There is a sense of anticipation, even excitement, in that.

Investment performance

The Trust's income for the year was $11.6 million, which is a 6.3% rate of return. This is not spectacular, but it is satisfactory. It reflects the level of risk we are prepared to take and the performance of world markets, in particular a setting in which the market value of fixed interest securities declined in response to rising interest rates. The rate of return is about what we expect on average. We will have better years than this and worse years than this.

Donations

The number of donations approved during the year was 1082. The total amount was $6.4 million, which is less than for each of the previous two years. The donations amount is not connected with the year's income level, because we have sufficient reserves that we do not need to make that connection. The lower amount did not result from any tightening up. At this stage we think it reflects only the lumpiness of our donations stream: whether a single $2 million donation falls at the end of one financial year or the beginning of the next will obviously affect comparisons between the years.

Where we are going

The Trust is still in the growing and developing stage. For the first six years of its existence, it received a small dividend from its ownership interest in Trustbank New Zealand and distributed this income in a reactive fashion.

With the exchange of its bank ownership interest for a balanced portfolio of investments – done in two steps – the trust entered the next stage of its development. We appointed a Chief Executive, obtained premises, changed our name. Donations have totalled $27 million over the last three years compared with $10 million over the previous three. And that $37 million over six years compares with $5 million for the first six.

The way I picture it, this physical growth has been accompanied by intellectual and emotional growth. The Trust has established a set of values and, to some degree, a reputation. We have become tentatively proactive, and we have learnt a lot.

We discover that we are, uniquely, an organisation that is Otago-wide, has a broad mandate, can be flexible and innovative, and has probably more discretionary spending power than anyone else. This means that we are uniquely placed to make strategic investments in Otago communities. We think we can provide leadership, in a modest style, by opening up possibilities.

These ideas are already taking effect. Two very recent examples are the inaugural Otago Festival of the Arts to be held later this year and current consideration of an Otago-wide economic development initiative. Both of these have not only been financially supported by the Trust but also started from discussions initiated by the Trust. Several more examples are currently in the thinking stage.

There are problems and dangers, of course.

An example of a problem is communication. Most people would be rather vague about who we are and what we do. I describe this as a problem because we hold public money on trust and we would like to be accountable, not just formally but also in reality.

We tell local news media what we are doing, of course, but they judge what is news and what we are doing mostly isn't. *

At this stage we are responding to this problem by building linkages with leaders in the arts and culture, sports and recreation, social services, and business communities.

A story will illustrate one possible danger.

Recently, an organisation approached us to almost completely pay for a particular project. Conversation revealed that the project was not thought important enough for the organisation's "own money". They had better uses for their money and so we found better uses for ours.

It is not just that supporting this project would have been an ineffective use of funds. A more subtle danger is that to have supported it would actually have taken something away from the organisation. Independence, self-reliance, and ownership: these qualities are to be found in a healthy community. We would do actual harm if, by being a soft touch, we compromised them.

But the problems and dangers are minor. There are some great things going on in our communities and there are more opportunities for the future. We will work in partnership with others to help shape that future. We are enthusiastic about the prospect and thankful for the opportunity to be involved.

Trustees and staff

This year I again acknowledge and thank fellow trustees for their commitment and their wisdom and the congenial way in which we are able to carry out our business.

And again I acknowledge similar qualities in the people who do the work: Chief Executive Keith Ellwood, Donations Assessor Carol Melville and office staff Fay Jackson and Lynley Stevenson. The Trust is fortunate to have these people, and so is the public.

*There is a typical example in the newspaper on the day I write this. A Government contribution of $50,000 to the Rail Trail is front-page news. Our $100,000 contribution to the Rail Trail was page 14 regional news.
