Third Schedule

Terms and Conditions of Right of Way Easement

Definitions and Interpretation

"Easement land" is the land described in the First Schedule.

"Servient land" means part Runs 346 and 346D, Glenorchy and Skippers Creek Survey District, and being a pastoral lease under the Land Act 1948 over land administered for the Crown by Land Information New Zealand and incorporated in the Register as OT1C/1038.

"Grantors" means the Crown and the lessee of the servient land and includes their respective successors and assignees.

"Grantee" means the Crown for telecommunication purposes and includes its successors and assignees.

Right of Way Easement

The grantee together with its servants contractors, agents, tenants, workmen and licensees shall have full free, uninterrupted and unrestricted access without charge over and along the easement land in common with the grantor and other persons authorised by the grantor without obstruction or restriction with or without vehicles for all purposes necessary or convenient to the exercise by the grantee of its rights granted herein, and the grantee shall have the rights and powers implied in easements of right of way as set out in the Seventh Schedule of the Land Transfer Act 1952, but those set out in the Ninth Schedule of the Property Law Act 1952 shall not apply.

Terms and Conditions

1. The grantee shall have the right to construct a five metre wide accessway sufficient to allow vehicular access over and along the easement land, such accessway to be constructed and maintained by the grantee at no cost to the grantor.
2. The grantee shall have the right to keep the easement land cleared of any vegetation encroaching on or overhanging the easement land which may impede the grantee's access over and along the easement land.
3. The grantee will repair and make good all damages to fences, gates and structures upon the easement land directly caused by the grantee undertaking any works in terms of the foregoing provisions.
4. The grantee shall not be required to fence any of the easement land unless it is required as a condition of the grantors' consent when granting any consent under this easement.
5. The grantors will not grow or permit to be grown any trees, shrubs or bushes of any description on the easement land which will interfere with the rights granted by this easement.

6. The grantee may take such measures as it reasonably thinks necessary for the safety of persons or property on the easement land including without limitation the right to erect fences, signs and notices warning of any danger.

7. The grantee may assign all or any part of its estate or interest granted by this easement to any person.
