Dated at Wellington this 21st day of February 2003,

STEVE MAHAREY, Minister of Social Services and Employment.

A m e n d m e n t

1. Title—(1) This amendment is the Ministerial Direction – Disability Allowance Amendment 2003.

(2) In this amendment, the Ministerial Direction – Disability Allowance is called “the direction”.

2. Commencement—This amendment comes into effect on 24 February 2003.

3 New clauses 5B to 5E inserted—The direction is amended by inserting, after clause 5A, the following clauses:

“5B In this clause and clauses 5C to 5E:

person means:

- (a) a person applying for a disability allowance for counselling costs on or after 24 February 2003; or
- (b) a person receiving a disability allowance for other expenses who applies on or after that date for the person’s disability allowance to be increased to include counselling costs; or
- (c) a person receiving an existing allowance

review means a review under section 81 of the Act, and reviewed and reviewing have corresponding meanings.

“5C Unless clause 5D applies or there are exceptional circumstances, you should not, on and after 24 February 2003:

- (a) consider granting a disability allowance to a person for the cost of more than 10 counselling sessions; or
- (b) consider increasing the amount of a person’s disability allowance for other expenses to include the cost of more than 10 counselling sessions; or “5D On the recommendation of a medical practitioner, you may, on or after 24 February 2003, consider:

- (a) granting a person a disability allowance for the cost of not more than 20 counselling sessions in addition to the number of sessions referred to in clause 5C (a); or
- (b) increasing the amount of a person’s disability allowance for other expenses to include the cost of not more than 20 counselling sessions in addition to the number of sessions referred to in clause 5C (b); or

“5E You should review all existing allowances within 12 months of 24 February 2003.”

Explanatory Note:

This note is not part of the amendment, but is intended to indicate its general effect.

This amendment places limits on the number of counselling sessions for which a disability allowance for counselling costs may be paid on and after 24 February 2003. The new limits apply to existing disability allowances for counselling costs only after they have been reviewed.
