Pursuant to section 124 (1) (d) of the Social Security Act 1964, the Minister for Social Development and Employment makes the following amendment to the Training Incentive Allowance Programme* (as established and approved on 30 November 1998).

Dated at Wellington this 27th day of November 2006.

DAVID BENSON-POPE, Minister for Social Development and Employment.

A m e n d m e n t

1. Title—This amendment is the Training Incentive Allowance Amendment (No 2) 2006.

2. Commencement—This amendment comes into effect on 1 January 2007.

3. Programme amended—This amendment amends the Training Incentive Allowance Programme.

- 4. Allowances—Clause 5 of the programme is amended:
- (a) by revoking paragraph (b) of subclause 5.1.1 and substituting the following paragraph:
- “(b) is enrolled (or is enrolled subject to the payment of tuition fees) in an employment-related training course—
- (i) for which the course provider receives funding under section 159ZC of the Education Act 1989; or
 - (ii) for which the course provider receives other government funding that the chief executive considers is analogous to funding under section 159ZC of the Education Act 1989; or
 - (iii) which is of a kind that the chief executive considers is analogous to a course that is funded under section 159ZC of the Education Act 1989”;
- (b) by revoking paragraph (a) of subclause 5.2.2.

5. Savings—Where a person has been granted an allowance in respect of a particular course of study under the programme before 1 January 2007, his or her entitlement to receive payments of that allowance must, until the close of 31 December 2009, be determined as if the amendment made by clause 4 (a) had not been made.

Explanatory Note

This note is not part of the amendment, but is intended to indicate its general effect.

This amendment to the Training Incentive Allowance Programme, which comes into effect on 1 January 2007, limits the kinds of courses for which payments of training incentive allowances can be made to those that meet quality and relevance standards set by the Tertiary Education Commission.

Recipients of allowances for existing courses can continue to receive payments until 31 December 2009 or the earlier end of their courses.

Food Standards Australia New Zealand

Food Standards Australia New Zealand Act 1991

Australia New Zealand Food Standards Code – Amendment No. 90 – 2006

Food Standards Australia New Zealand Act 1991

Preamble

The variations set forth in the Schedule below are variations to Standards in the Australia New Zealand Food Standards Code published by the National Health and Medical Research Council in the Commonwealth of Australia Gazette, No. P 27, on 27 August 1987, which have been varied from time to time.

These variations are published pursuant to section 23A of the Food Standards Australia New Zealand Act 1991.

Citation

These variations may be collectively known as the Australia New Zealand Food Standards Code – Amendment No. 90 – 2006.

Commencement

These variations commence on Gazettal.

SCHEDULE

[1] Standard 1.2.11 is varied by –

[1.1] omitting subclause 2(3), substituting –

(3) Where the food listed in Column 1 to the Table to subclause 2(2) is displayed for retail sale other than in a package, and the requirements of Column 2 are being met by a label in connection with the display of the food, in addition to the requirements of Standard 1.2.9 –

(a) the size of type on the label must be at least 9 mm; or

(b) where the food is in an assisted service refrigerated display cabinet, the size of type on the label must be at least 5 mm.

(4) For the purposes of paragraph 2(3)(b), an assisted service refrigerated display cabinet means a refrigerated enclosed or semi-enclosed display cabinet which requires a person to serve the food as requested by the purchaser.

[1.2] omitting the Editorial note following subclause 2(3), substituting –

Editorial note:

Subclause 2(2) governs the country of origin requirements for fresh and processed unpackaged produce, or fresh produce that is packaged in such a way that the nature or quality of the food is not obscured, such as in a plastic or mesh bag, that is currently available on the market.

Generally, retailers will have two options. They may label the individual commodities, such as with a sticker, as is a common practice with apples, oranges and lemons etc. Alternatively, they may place a label on a sign in association with the food in at least 9 mm type stating the country or countries of origin of the produce or make a 'qualified claim' that the foods are a mix of local and/or imported foods as the case may be. This would commonly be the case with soup mixes of whole vegetables that are displayed for retail sale in a plastic bag.

However, where the food is displayed in refrigerated glass display cabinets, such as in delicatessens, butchers or fish shops, the label placed in association with the food must be at least 5 mm type.

If the mix comprises Australian produce and produce from other countries, the retailer can either declare each country of origin, or that the food is a mix of local and imported produce.

If the mix comprises produce from other countries, the retailer may either declare the individual countries of origin, or declare that the food is made up of imported produce.

This subclause also applies to unpackaged fish, fruit and vegetables that have undergone some form of processing. In the case of fruit and vegetables, the subclause applies to food products such as olives that have been soaked in salt water or vinegar, sun-dried tomatoes in olive oil or tofu. Where those products have been mixed with other foods not regulated by the subclause, such as pasta, the country of origin provisions do not apply.

Standard 1.2.9 provides that each word, statement, expression or design prescribed to be contained, written or set out in a label must, wherever occurring, be so contained, written or set out legibly and prominently such as to afford a distinct contrast to the background, and in the English language.

Fruit and vegetables are defined in Standard 2.3.1, and that definition includes nuts.

[2] Standard 1.3.3 is varied by –

[2.1] inserting in the Table to clause 17, for the enzyme Lipase, triacylglycerol EC [3.1.1.3], the source – Hansenula polymorpha, containing the gene for Lipase, triacylglycerol isolated from Fusarium heterosporum

[2.2] inserting in the Editorial note following the Table to clause 17 –

Hansenula polymorpha is also known as Pichia angusta.

[3] Standard 1.4.2 is varied by –

[3.1] omitting from Schedule 1, the commodity name for the chemicals appearing in Column 1 of the Table to this sub-item, substituting the commodity name in Column 2 –
