- (c) provided false or misleading information to the professional conduct committee in his letters dated 5 September 2006 and/or 10 October 2006 and/or 23 January 2007 and at his final determination on 8 February 2007 by stating that the tax returns were filed in February 2006 when he had previously advised the institute and his documentation indicates that they had not been filed as at 31 July 2006, in breach of Rule 21.30(g) of the Rules, and/or the fundamental principle of integrity; and Rule 2 of the Code of Ethics; and/or
- (d) failed to provide copies of completed tax returns to the complainants in a timely manner despite giving numerous assurances to the complainants that this would be done, in breach of the fundamental principle of integrity, and/or Rules 2 and/or 10 and/or 14 and/or paragraph 30 of the Code of Ethics; and/or
- (e) failed to respond and/or failed to respond in a timely manner to correspondence dated 7 April 2006 and/or 2 June 2006 and/or 24 July 2006 from the complainants, in breach of Rules 10 and/or 14 of the Code of Ethics.

Second set of charges

THAT in terms of the Institute of Chartered Accountants of New Zealand Act 1996, and the Rules made thereunder, and in particular Rule 21.30, the member is guilty of:

- (1) conduct unbecoming an accountant; and/or
- (2) negligence and/or incompetence in a professional capacity, and that this has been of such a degree or so frequent as to tend to bring the profession into disrepute; and/or
- (3) breaching the Rules (in particular, Rule 21.2) and/or the institute's Code of Ethics 2003 (in particular, the fundamental principles of quality performance and professional behaviour, and/or Rules 9 and/or 10 and/or 14); and/or
- (4) failing to respond promptly to communications from the institute to the member.

Second set of particulars

IN THAT being a chartered accountant in public practice, and in relation to a complaint, the member:

- (a) failed to meet his personal statutory obligations to the Inland Revenue Department and as a consequence, the Inland Revenue Department has applied to the High Court to adjudge him bankrupt and seek to recover a debt of approximately $360,000.00 in breach of the fundamental principles of quality performance and/or professional behaviour and/or Rules 9 and/or 10; and/or

- (b) failed to ensure the statutory obligations of his accountancy practice to the Inland Revenue Department were met and as a consequence, the Inland Revenue Department has applied to the High Court to put his practice into liquidation and seek to recover a debt of approximately $90,000.00, in breach of the fundamental principles of quality performance and/or professional behaviour and/or Rules 9 and/or 10; and/or
- (c) failed to respond and/or failed to respond in a timely manner to correspondence dated 26 March 2007 and/or 17 April 2007 and/or 26 April 2007 and/or 7 May 2007 from the complainant, in breach of Rule 21.2 of the Rules and/or Rule 10 and/or 14 of the Code of Ethics.

Reasons

The member has admitted particular (d) in the first set of particulars, and admitted particulars (a), (b) and (c) in the second set of particulars.

Particulars (a), (b), (c) and (e) in the first set of particulars have been found to be proven.

The member has pleaded guilty to charge (4) in the second set of charges and has been found guilty of charges (1), (2) and (3) in the first set of charges and charges (1), (2) and (3) in the second set of charges.

The essence of the charges and particulars are two-fold, whether the returns in question were filed in February 2006 or not until August 2006 and his persistent failure to respond to his clients and the professional conduct committee.

In his evidence, the member pointed to his post book record of the dispatch of the tax returns, the absence of any late filing fee, the fact that the accounts supplied by the Inland Revenue Department to the complainants contains a disclaimer dated February 2006 and that his time records record no time after January 2006.

The evidence of the three witnesses called by the professional conduct committee was logical, consistent and credible while the member's evidence was inconsistent to such a degree that the tribunal did not accept his version of events.

Accordingly, the tribunal found the member guilty of all charges and all particulars in the first set of charges and particulars.

In the second set of charges and particulars, the member has admitted all the particulars and pleaded guilty to charge (4).

Tax practitioners being publicly pursued for substantial income tax and GST tends to not only bring the profession into disrepute but also constitutes conduct unbecoming an accountant.

The member was therefore found guilty of all the charges in the second set of charges.

Orders of the Tribunal

- (a) Pursuant to Rule 21.31(b) of the Rules of the Institute of Chartered Accountants of New Zealand, the disciplinary tribunal ordered that Noel Donald Sulzberger be suspended from membership of the institute for three years.
- (b) Pursuant to Rule 21.31(c) of the Rules of the Institute of Chartered Accountants of New Zealand, the disciplinary tribunal ordered that Noel Donald Sulzberger pay a monetary penalty of $10,000.00.
- (c) Pursuant to Rule 21.31(d) of the Rules of the Institute of Chartered Accountants of New Zealand, the disciplinary tribunal ordered that the certificate of public practice held by Noel Donald Sulzberger be suspended for three years.

(d) Pursuant to Rule 21.33 of the Rules of the Institute of Chartered Accountants of New Zealand, the disciplinary tribunal ordered that Noel Donald Sulzberger pay to the institute the sum of $15,614.00 (inclusive of GST) in respect of the costs and expenses of the hearing before the disciplinary tribunal and the investigation by the professional conduct committee.

In accordance with Rule 21.35 of the Rules of the Institute of Chartered Accountants of New Zealand, the disciplinary tribunal directed that the decision of the tribunal be published in the Chartered Accountants Journal, the New Zealand Gazette, the Dominion Post and on the institute's website with mention of the member's name and locality.

The publicity in the Chartered Accountants Journal, the New Zealand Gazette and on the website will be the full version of the notice of decision, the version in the Dominion Post will be an abbreviated version of the notice of decision with reference to the full decision being on the institute's website.

Right of Appeal

Pursuant to Rule 21.41 of the Rules of the Institute of Chartered Accountants of New Zealand, which were in force at the time of the original notice of complaint, the member may, not later than 14 days after the notification of this tribunal to the member of the exercise of its powers, appeal in writing to the appeals council of the institute against the decision.

No decision other than the direction as to publicity shall take effect while the member remains entitled to appeal or while any such appeal by the member awaits determination by the appeals council.

NEW ZEALAND GALLANTRY AWARDS

The Queen has been pleased to approve the following New Zealand Gallantry Awards:

VICTORIA CROSS FOR NEW ZEALAND (VC)

To receive the Victoria Cross for New Zealand:

Corporal Bill Henry APIATA (M181550)
1st New Zealand Special Air Service Group

Citation

Lance Corporal (now Corporal) Apiata was, in 2004, part of a New Zealand Special Air Service (NZSAS) Troop on patrol in Afghanistan, which laid up in defensive formation for the night. At approximately 0315 hours, the Troop was attacked by a group of about 20 enemy fighters, who had approached by stealth using the cover of undulating ground in pitch darkness. Rocket-propelled grenades struck two of the Troop's vehicles, destroying one and immobilising the other. The opening strike was followed by dense and persistent machine gun and automatic rifle fire from close range. The attack then continued using further rocket-propelled grenades and machine gun and rifle fire. The initial attack was directed at the vehicle where Lance Corporal Apiata was stationed. He was blown off the bonnet by the impact of rocket propelled grenades striking the vehicle. He was dazed, but was not physically injured. The two other vehicle crew members had been wounded by shrapnel; one of them, Corporal A, was in a serious condition. Illuminated by the burning vehicle, and under sustained and accurate enemy fire directed at and around their position, the three soldiers immediately took what little cover was available. Corporal A was discovered to have sustained life-threatening wounds. The other two soldiers immediately began applying basic first aid. Lance Corporal Apiata assumed command of the situation, as he could see that his superior's condition was deteriorating rapidly.

By this time, however, Lance Corporal Apiata's exposed position, some 70 metres in front of the rest of the Troop, was coming under increasingly intense enemy fire. Corporal A was now suffering serious arterial bleeding and was lapsing in and out of consciousness.

Lance Corporal Apiata concluded that his comrade urgently required medical attention, or he would likely die. Pinned down by the enemy, in the direct line of fire between friend and foe, he also judged that there was almost no chance of such help reaching their position. As the enemy pressed its attack towards Lance Corporal Apiata's position, and without thought of abandoning his colleague to save himself, he took a decision in the highest order of personal courage under fire. Knowing the risks involved in moving to open ground, Lance Corporal Apiata decided to carry Corporal A single-handedly to the relative safety of the main Troop position, which afforded better cover and where medical treatment could be given. He ordered his other colleague, Trooper T, to make his own way back to the rear.

In total disregard of his own safety, Lance Corporal Apiata stood up and lifted his comrade bodily. He then carried him across the 70 metres of broken, rocky and fire swept ground, fully exposed in the glare of battle to heavy enemy fire and into the face of returning fire from the main Troop position. That neither he nor his colleague were hit is scarcely possible. Having delivered his wounded companion to relative shelter with the remainder of the patrol, Lance Corporal Apiata re-armed himself and rejoined the fight in counter-attack. By his actions, he removed the tactical complications of Corporal A's predicament from considerations of rescue.

The Troop could now concentrate entirely on prevailing in the battle itself. After an engagement lasting approximately 20 minutes, the assault was broken up and the numerically superior attackers were routed with significant casualties, with the Troop in pursuit. Lance Corporal Apiata had thereby contributed materially to the operational success of the engagement. A subsequent medical assessment confirmed that Corporal A would probably have died of blood loss and shock, had it not been for Lance Corporal Apiata's selflessly courageous act in carrying him back to the main Troop lines, to receive the immediate treatment that he needed.

1. Statement of Accounting Policies

1.1 Reporting Entity

Eastern and Central Community Trust Incorporated is a charitable trust incorporated in accordance with the provisions of the Community Trusts Act 1999.

The financial statements have been prepared in accordance with the Financial Reporting Act 1993.

1.2 Measurement Base

The measurement base applied is that of historical cost adjusted for the market valuation of investments.

1.3 Specific Accounting Policies

The following are the particular accounting policies, which have a material effect on the measurement of results and financial position:

1.3.1 Investment Income

Investment income is accounted for on an accruals basis recognising both realised and unrealised gains or losses in value.

1.3.2 Foreign Currency

Foreign currency balances are converted to NZD at the year end rate of exchange unless covered by a forward exchange contract. Where such contracts are in place, the contracted rate is adopted. Transactions completed during the year are converted at the rate applying at the approximate date of the transaction. Foreign exchange gains and losses are included within the statement of financial performance.

1.3.3 Investments

Investments are recorded at market value at year-end.

1.3.4 Cash

Cash comprises cash at bank, call deposits and short-term deposits but does not include cash held by fund managers. Cash flows from operations include withdrawals of income from managed funds.

1.3.5 Donations

Donations are recognised as a liability of the trust when they are approved by trustees and notified to applicants notwithstanding that the applicants may still have to fulfil some conditions.

1.3.6 Fixed Assets

Fixed assets are recorded at cost less accumulated depreciation.

1.3.7 Depreciation

Depreciation is provided on a straight line basis on all tangible fixed assets at rates calculated to allocate the assets' cost less estimated residual value over their estimated useful lives.

The depreciation periods are:

Computer equipment	three years
Furniture	ten years
Office equipment	five years

1.3.8 GST inclusive accounting has been adopted, as the trust is not registered for GST.

1.4 Changes in Accounting Policies

There have been no changes in accounting policies. All policies have been consistently applied.
