HIS EXCELLENCY THE GOVERNOR IN COUNCIL.

WHEREAS by "The Marine Act, 1867," it is enacted that the Governor shall, from time to time, as occasion may require, make and issue Quarantine Regulations to be in force within any part or parts of the Colony, and that the Governor in Council may, from time to time, make, publish, alter, modify, annul, or repeal such bye-laws or regulations as to him shall seem meet for carrying into effect and enforcing the general powers and duties by the said Act vested in and imposed on the said Governor:

And whereas by an Order in Council, dated the twenty-fifth day of June, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-eight, certain Quarantine Regulations for the several Ports and Harbours for the Colony of New Zealand were made and promulgated:

And whereas it is desirable to modify the said Regulations, and to make the additional Regulations herein contained:

REGULATIONS.

1. In the event of there being any sickness on board of any vessel arriving from any Port in the Australian Colonies or New Zealand, or in the event of there having been any sickness on board any vessel so arriving during her voyage from any such Australian or New Zealand Port, the Master of such vessel shall hoist the Health Officer's flag mentioned in the Quarantine Regulations already in force, and otherwise act in the

2. No vessel which is bound by the foregoing regulation, or by the Quarantine Regulations already in force, to hoist the Health Officer's flag, is to bring up in the usual anchorage, even in the event of there being delay in communicating with her, from any cause whatsoever; and every vessel so bound to hoist the Health Officer's flag as aforesaid, which may enter any New Zealand Port by night, shall be brought up clear of the shipping, and the Master of such vessel shall hoist a bright light at the main, in addition to the usual anchor light, as if such vessel were actually in quarantine, until she has been communicated with as provided by the Quarantine Regulations; and the Master shall be in all cases responsible for any breach of this regulation by or on board such vessel, whether done or caused by his directions or neglect or not.

3. Until such vessel has been communicated with by the Health Officer, or officer acting for him, the Master shall not allow any person to go on board; but in the event of any person going on board, the Master shall keep him or her on board until the health Officer has declared the vessel clean.

CULTURE OF SILK.

[Republished from the New Zealand Gazette No. 55, dated 20th September, 1869, page 493.]

Colonial Secretary's Office,
Wellington, 18th September, 1869.

THE following letter, with enclosure, from Mr. T. C. Batchelor, of Nelson, on the subject of the Culture of Silkworms, is published for general information.

W. GISBORNE.

Nelson, 27th August, 1869.

SIR,—In consequence of the steps taken by the Silk Society of Great Britain for the encouragement of Sericulture in the Colonies, has induced me to forward the enclosed circular of my proceedings in Sericulture for general information; and should you consider the culture of Silk of any worth to New Zealand, I should feel most happy to render any information in my power as to silkworms and mulberry trees, the more especially as per next mail I shall be in direct communication with the above Society.

I remain, &c.,

T. C. BATCHELOR.

The Hon. W. Fox.

CULTURE OF SILK.

Wakapuaka, 17th March, 1869.

SIR,—I will thank you to bring under the notice of the Acclimatisation Society the following particulars concerning my attempt at cultivating the silkworm in this Province, which I have reasons for believing possesses some interest. Of my previous labour little need be said, beyond that for three seasons my cocoons have all been obtained from worms fed upon the broad-leaved Tuscan mulberry.

I commenced hatching the worms last season on the 1st November, and the greater portion were in cocoons by the end of January, which was from ten to fifteen days over the proper time. The number of worms hatched was above 3,000, and the time occupied in feeding and otherwise attending to them I estimate at two hours daily. Were a person during the season to devote his whole time to sericulture, after a little experience and with proper appliances, the number of worms he could attend to would be almost incredible.

Through ignorance of the quantity of food the worms would consume I did not attempt a succession of hatchings, but I found my trees would have fed a second lot; and with a greater number of trees, four if not five hatchings of worms might be fed in a season. In Persia, it is not uncommon to raise eight, or even ten lots of worms in a summer; in Italy and the South of France, the number is five or six; and in St. Petersburg, short as the summer is, four hatchings of worms have been obtained. As the mulberry flourishes remarkably well here, I see no reason why sericulture should not be quite as successful in Nelson as in France or Italy; and, as the worms are fed indoors, artificial heat could be supplied if necessary. In several of the States of America sericulture is becoming a common industry, one person keeping a million worms, and purposing to double the number as soon as he can raise sufficient food for the increase.

In a communication I made some time ago to one of the local newspapers, I over-estimated the number of trees required to feed a given number of worms. I have now twenty mulberry trees five years old, and from the manner they stood stripping this past season, I am satisfied I could have fed three times the number of worms I did, by extending time and labour. I had also stated that after the trees had been planted three years, £15 per annum might be netted for every acre of ground planted with the mulberry. This was taking the price of raw silk at 20s. per lb., but the price has since risen to 70s. per lb., so that something like £50 a year might be got from an acre of mulberry trees. Once the trees are planted they require little trouble, and each year their value increases, as the silk improves with the age of the trees the worms are fed upon.

A parcel of cocoons, weighing two pounds, raised by me last season, will be taken to England by J. R. Dodson, Esq., who will hand it to J. Morrison, Esq., London Agent for New Zealand. A letter from his Honor the Superintendent will accompany the parcel, requesting Mr. Morrison to submit the cocoons to the trade, ascertain the value of the silk, and transmit back to his Honor all the information he can obtain concerning sericulture in general, and the best kind of worms to be used.

I may observe that I have kept a stock for supplying me with eggs next summer.

I remain, &c.,

T. C. BATCHELOR.

Hon Secretary of the Nelson Acclimatisation Society.
