TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 16, 1864.

[No. V.]

PROCLAMATION.

WHEREAS by an Ordinance passed by the Superintendent and Provincial Council of Canterbury, intituled "The Sheep Ordinance Amendment Ordinance, 1861," it is enacted that it shall be lawful for sheep landed at the Port of Lyttelton to be driven to a distance not exceeding twenty miles from the said Port before being dressed, as provided by the said Ordinance, if they shall be so driven for the purpose of being dressed at some place specially appointed for the purpose by the Superintendent, by notice in the Provincial Government Gazette: Now, therefore, I, SAMUEL BEALEY, the Superintendent of the Province of Canterbury, do hereby, for the purpose aforesaid, proclaim and appoint the Sheep Dipping Apparatus and enclosure erected by Messrs. Burnell, Bennett, and Sprot, on the Riccarton Road, being a place within twenty miles from the said Port of Lyttelton, to be a place to which sheep landed in Lyttelton may be driven to be dressed, in accordance with the terms of the first clause of the above recited Ordinance.

Given under my hand at Christchurch, this Thirteenth day of February, One thousand eight hundred and sixty-four.

SHIP CANTERBURY.

THE Immigration Commissioners were much pleased with the cleanly and orderly condition of the ship Canterbury.

They recommend that the Master and Surgeon receive their gratuities.

The Commissioners draw the attention of the Provincial Government to the circumstance, that the Surgeon has twice previously had charge of immigrants to Canterbury, always eliciting the approbation of the Inspective Officers.
