Gentlemen, I will lose no time in taking the necessary steps for the initiation of the public works which you have determined upon.

It is a matter of great satisfaction to me that you have decided that immigration shall be carried on concurrently with these works, and that you have seen fit to make such provision for the purpose as will enable the English Agent to make engagements during the present financial year which will take effect in the year ensuing upon it.

It only remains for me to thank you for the attention you have devoted to the business which has been brought before you.

I now declare this Council prorogued till Tuesday, the 4th day of January, 1870.
