SHIP "SILISTRIA."

THE following Report is published for general information:—

Immigration Department,
21st April, 1863.

To his Honor the Superintendent.

SIR—I have the honor to report that the ship "Silistria," from the Clyde, arrived in port on the 19th instant, with 198 souls, of whom 121½ adults were assisted by the Agents of the Provincial Government. Of this number there are 95 single females; the remainder of the assisted being friends of parties in the colony, who have guaranteed their passages through this office.

The females appear to me to be very suitable for the colony, being composed of an equal number of town and country servants.

The Immigrants expressed themselves highly satisfied with the treatment they received on board. The provisions were of good quality, and abundant.

Mrs. Moir, who acted in the capacity of Matron on board, performed her duties most satisfactorily; and by her tact and good management proper order and discipline were maintained among the females.

There were no deaths on board during the voyage.

I have the honor to be,
Sir,

Your most obedient servant,

COLIN ALLAN,
Immigration Agent.

ERRATA.—In Gazette No. 237, page 136; and Gazette No. 238, page 140, for “Monday, 30th April,” read “Thursday, 30th April.”

(From New Zealand Gazette, March 13, 1863.)

Colonial Secretary's Office,
Auckland, 12th March, 1863.

THE following despatch from Her Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for the Colonies is published for general information.

READER WOOD,
In the absence of Mr. Domett.

Downing-street,
18th December, 1862.

SIR—A difficulty has been experienced in a recent case in apprehending in this country an offender who had absconded from one of Her Majesty's Colonies, taking with him public moneys. That difficulty arose from the omission to transmit to this country the document necessary to legalize his arrest in this country. I therefore thought it right to obtain from the Treasury Solicitors a statement which might serve as a guide to Colonial Governments in future cases, showing the nature of the documents which should be sent to England, and the course which should be pursued in order to secure the committal here of any persons who might have fled to this country from a British Colony, in order to escape from justice.

The Imperial Acts which bear upon this subject appear to be the Acts 6 and 7 Victoria, cap. 34, and the 16th and 17th Victoria, cap. 118, copies of which are enclosed, and from which it will be collected that under these Acts the following steps are proper and necessary to be observed.

1. A Warrant must have been issued against the offender by some person having lawful authority to issue it in that part of Her Majesty's dominions where the offence was committed.

2. This Warrant must be sent to England to be endorsed by the Secretary of State.

3. But the Secretary of State cannot endorse it until it is proved by Oath, or Affidavit, that the seal, or signature, is the seal or signature of the person having lawful authority to issue such Warrant (whose seal or signature the same purports to be).

It is necessary, therefore, to send witnesses, or affidavits, or both, sufficient for such proof.

4. The Warrant must have been issued upon depositions; and these depositions must be such as appear sufficient to warrant the committal of the offender for trial.

5. Sufficient evidence must be forthcoming in England before the Magistrate, to prove the criminality of the offender to an extent such as, if the offence had been committed in England, would have justified the Magistrate in committing the offender for trial in this country. But besides oral witnesses, the Act 6 and 7 Victoria, cap. 34, enables the Magistrates to receive, in evidence, copies of the depositions upon which the original Warrant issued, provided that they are certified under the hand of the person or persons who issued the Warrant, and are attested upon the Oath of the party producing them to be true copies of the original depositions.

If it is intended therefore to offer the depositions in evidence, instead of, or in addition to, oral testimony, they must be authenticated as above mentioned.

I have, &c.,
NEWCASTLE.

Governor Sir George Grey,
&c., &c., &c.
