The overseer to muster his gang in going to and returning from work. To acquaint the Guard with each muster, morning, noon and afternoon. The overseers will prevent all unauthorised persons from holding any communication with any prisoners under their charge.

Duties of Guards.

Guards except when acting as overseers not to be allowed to hold any communication with prisoners except on matters of discipline.

Guards when on duty never to be allowed without arms, to consist of a musket, bayonet, and pistols, with twelve rounds of ball cartridge.

Guards when on duty not to allow any prisoner to approach nearer to them than ten paces, nor permit any prisoner to go beyond the prescribed limits without the overseer's order.

On any person passing or attempting to pass the prescribed bounds it is the duty of the Guard to challenge him by calling out "stand prisoner" with the prisoner's name or number. On this challenge being repeated and the prisoner neglecting or refusing to stand, then it will be lawful for the Guard or other officer to use force to prevent the prisoner from escaping and to fire upon him if it be impossible to prevent escape by other means.

On the escape of any prisoner the Guard shall give an alarm but on no account shall he leave the gang without the orders of the keeper.

On an alarm being heard all overseers and Guards are to turn out fully armed to await the orders of the officer in charge.

Guards are justified in using their arms to prevent prisoners from assaulting each other or any other person but not in using any unnecessary violence.

The Guards of each gang are to receive from the overseer in charge the number of the gang. They are to count the same at least every half hour. They are to report to the overseer any irregularity in the conduct of the prisoners.

The Bell for silence to be rung at nine o'clock p.m.

Correspondence.

All letters and communications (excepting as hereinafter specified) intended for any prisoner must be addressed to the care of and sent through the hands of the Warden, who is at liberty, if he think fit, to open such letters or communications.

All letters and communications from the legal adviser of any prisoner will be received and delivered sealed, provided such letter or communication is signed on the outside by such legal adviser.

Ministers of Religion may have access to prisoners separately in their cells, without the presence of third parties, if voluntarily desired by such prisoners.

In case of any complaint arising in reference to this rule the same to be referred to the Visiting Justices, whose decision on the matter shall be final.

Female Prisoners.

Female convicts, sentenced to penal servitude, shall be kept in the Gaol apart from male prisoners, and employed in some suitable labour therein.

Attempt to Escape.

Any prisoner leaving his allotted place while at work with intent to escape or otherwise making any attempt to escape will render himself liable to be shot by the Guard or other person in whose charge he may be and each prisoner is hereby cautioned that if he infringes this rule he does so at his own risk and peril.

Clothing.

Every prisoner will be supplied with the following articles of clothing, viz., two cotton shirts, two pairs of trowsers, one serge shirt, one pair of boots, one hat or cap, one rug and two blankets, the whole of which will be marked and numbered, with the prisoner's number, the Government's broad arrow (↗) brand, and the letters W.G.

RULES FOR DEBTORS' PRISONS.

NEW ZEALAND TO WIT.

20th May, A.D. 1859.

WHEREAS by "An Ordinance for the Regulation of Prisons," passed on the 15th day of October, A.D. 1846, sec. 6, the Judges of the Supreme Court are empowered to make rules and regulations for the management of such gaols as then were or might thereafter be used for the imprisonment of debtors, and for the control of the debtors therein;

And whereas, it is expedient that some such rules should be made; but it appears that the condition of the existing prisons of the Colony will not, at present, permit of a distinct and separate set of rules for debtors being enforced;

It is ordered by the Judges of the Supreme Court as follows:--

1. The debtors in any such gaol shall be kept, if possible, consistently with the resources of the gaol, quite separate from all felons and misdemeanants undergoing their sentences, and all persons waiting for trial, and all lunatics; and if such complete separation be impossible, the intercourse of such debtors with such criminals, persons waiting for trial, or lunatics, shall be prevented by the gaoler as much as possible.

2. In respect of diet, exercise, and prison discipline, debtors shall, in the meantime, be put on the same footing as first class misdemeanants; not sentenced to hard labour, in any gaol in the Province.

3. All such facilities shall be given by the gaoler for enabling debtors to work at any trade or employment with which they may be conversant, as the circumstances of the gaol will permit.

4. The gaoler shall forthwith transmit to the Judge of the Supreme Court, acting in the district within which the gaol is situated, any complaint or petition which any such debtor may wish to present to such Judge.

5. The Judge of the district within which any such gaol is situated, may make any special order as to all or any one of the debtors imprisoned in any such gaol, consistent with the condition and resources of the gaol, and not inconsistent with these rules, as he may think fit.

6. A copy of these rules, and of the rules respecting such first class misdemeanants as above mentioned, shall be posted in some part of the gaol where each debtor imprisoned in the same may be able to see them.
